MORTGAGE SALE.

[First publication April 3d, 1890.]

DEFAULT HAVING BEEN MADE IN THE payment of the sum of eighty-three and 60-100 dollars, ($83.60), which is claimed to be due at the date of this notice upon a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by John C. Johnson, a single man, to Albert W. Mott, bearing date the 2d day of August, A. D. 1888, and, with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the county of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 25th day of August, A. D. 1888, at 1 o'clock p. m., in book "T" of mortgages, on page 497, and no action or proceeding having been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, Notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz: Lot numbered twelve, (12), of block numbered five, (5) in the Townsite of Fertile, Polk County, Minnesota, according to the certified plat of said townsite, on file in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said Polk County, Minnesota, in Polk County and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances; which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court House in the city of Crookston, in said county and state, on the 17th day of May, A. D. 1890, at 10 o'clock a. m. of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and twenty-five dollars attorney's fees, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

Dated March 28th, A. D. 1890.

Notice of Mortgage Foreclosure Sale

(First publication April 3d, 1890.)

DEFAULT HAVING BEEN MADE IN THE payment of the sum of one hundred and twenty-five dollars, installment of interest which became due and payable the 5th day of March, 1889, and a further default having been made in the payment of the sum of one hundred and twenty-five dollars, installment of interest, which became due and payable on the 5th day of March, A. D. 1890, upon a certain mortgage, made, executed and delivered by Charles Netzer an unmarried man, Rosalia J. Netzer and Joseph Netzer, her husband, and Johanna Netzer, a widow, all of Crookston, Polk County, Minnesota, mortgagors, to the Netherlands American Land Company, of Amsterdam, Holland, mortgagee, bearing date the 5th day of March, A. D. 1887, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the county of Polk, and State of Minnesota, on the 8th day of March, 1887, at 3:55 o'clock p. m., in book "20" of mortgages, at pages 233 to 236.

And, whereas, a further default has been made in the conditions of said mortgage by the mortgagors failing and neglecting to pay the taxes assessed against, and levied upon said premises covered by said mortgage, prior to the date of the sale of lands for the payment of taxes, and the mortgagee, to protect the lien of its said mortgage, was compelled to pay and prior to the date of this notice did pay, in satisfaction of the taxes then due and delinquent on the said premises, the sum of three hundred and twenty and 83-100 ($320.83) dollars; and the said defaults having each continued for a period of more than thirty days, the whole sum secured by said mortgage is hereby declared to be due and payable, as stipulated in said mortgage in case of a failure to comply with the conditions thereof; and by reason of such defaults and declaration, there is claimed to be due, and there is due and payable on said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of seventeen hundred thirty-one and 95-100 ($1731.95) dollars, and no action or proceedings at law or otherwise have been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and by virtue of the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed, and the premises described in and conveyed thereby, viz: Lot one (1) of block three (3) in the original townsite of Crookston, according to the recorded plat in the office of the Register of Deeds of Polk County, Minnesota; lot fifteen, (15), sixteen, (16), and seventeen, (17), of block two (2) in Hurlbut's Addition to Crookston, according to the recorded plat in the office of the Register of Deeds of Polk County, Minnesota, and the north part of lot fifteen (15), block five (5) in L. Fletcher's Addition to Crookston, as recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Polk County, Minnesota, being twenty-five (25) feet in width fronting on Oak street, (now called Broadway) and twenty (20) feet in width on the rear end of said lot, together with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt, interest, taxes and seventy-five dollars as attorney's fees, stipulated in said mortgage to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; which sale will be made at the front door of the Court House, in Crookston, county of Polk and State of Minnesota, by the Sheriff of Polk County, at the hour of two o'clock p. m., on the 17th day of May, A. D. 1890, subject to redemption at any time within one year, in manner provided by law.

DEFAULT HAVING BEEN MADE IN THE payment of the sum of twenty-five dollars, installment of interest, which became due and payable the 22d day of May, A. D. 1889, upon a certain mortgage, made, executed and delivered by Henry Cook and Annie Cook, his wife, of Polk County, Minnesota, mortgagors, to The Netherlands American Land Company, of Amsterdam, Holland, mortgagees, bearing date the 20th day of May, A. D. 1886, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the county of Polk, State of Minnesota, on the 24th day of May, A. D. 1886, at 9 o'clock a. m., in book "24" of mortgages, at pages 510 to 513.

And, whereas, a further default has been made in the conditions of said mortgage by the mortgagors failing and neglecting to pay the taxes assessed against and levied upon said premises, covered by said mortgage, prior to the date of the sale of lands for the payment of taxes, and the mortgagee, to protect the lien of its said mortgage, was compelled to pay, and on the 4th day of May, A. D. 1889, did pay, in satisfaction of the taxes then due and delinquent on the said premises the sum of eighteen and 91-100 ($18.91) dollars; and the said defaults having each continued for a period of more than thirty days, the whole sum secured by said mortgage is hereby declared to be due and payable, as stipulated in said mortgage in case of a failure to comply with the conditions thereof; and that by reason of such defaults and declaration, there is claimed to be due and payable, and there is due and payable on said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of three hundred eighteen and 61-100 ($318.61) dollars, and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and by virtue of the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed and the premises described in and conveyed thereby, viz: The southeast quarter (se¼) of Section twenty, (20), Township one hundred and fifty-four, (154), Range forty-three, (43), containing one hundred and sixty (160) acres more or less, according to the United States government survey thereof, together with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt, interest and taxes, and twenty-five dollars as attorney's fees, stipulated in said mortgage to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; which sale will be made at the front door of the Court House, in Crookston, in the county of Polk, State of Minnesota, by the Sheriff of said county of Polk, at the hour of two o'clock p. m., on the 17th day of May, A. NEWSPAPER LAW.

1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for the payment.
2. If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscriptions, the suit may be instituted where the paper is published.
4. The Courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers or periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid for, is prima facie evidence of intention to defraud.

Feb. 1, 1890. The St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba Railway and Branches became the Great Northern Railway LINE.

With its 3,300 miles of steel track, it runs through 63 counties in Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota and Montana, reaching all principal points from St. Paul, Minneapolis, West Superior and Duluth.

It furnishes through close connections, the best and cheapest route to all points in Idaho, Utah, California, Oregon, Washington, British Columbia, Alaska, the Canadian Northwest and Manitoba.

It is the only American line west of Chicago having a track laid with 75 pound steel rail and owning its entire magnificent equipment of elegant Dining and Sleeping Cars, Handsome Day Coaches and Free Colonist Sleepers.

It is the only line running through the great Milk River Reservation, with solid trains without change to Chinook, Benton, Great Falls, Helena and Butte.

It reaches more points in Minnesota and North Dakota than any other line.

It runs three lines through the Red River Valley.

IT IS THE DIRECT LINE FROM CROOKSTON TO

GRAND FORKS AND THE WEST,
And to ST. PAUL AND THE EAST.

It gives choice of two routes to the Pacific Coast with tickets $5.00 and $10.00 cheaper than by any other line.

I has the new and short route to Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas and the Southwest, via the Sioux City and Northern.

Fifth District Alliance.

Notice is hereby given that the Annual Meeting of the Fifth Congressional District Farmer's Alliance will be held at Fergus Falls, on Thursday, the 12th day of June, 1890, at 10 o'clock a. m. Each subordinate and County Farmer's Alliance in good standing will be entitled to one delegate and one alternate. The alternate to have the right to the floor at such meeting and to vote in the absence of the regular delegate.

It is expected that the hotels of Fergus Falls will give reduced rates for board to Alliance members, and it is believed that the railroads will give reduced passenger fare to those attending the meeting. Should they do so, notice will be given through the newspapers.

Wm. W. Erwin, of St. Paul, has promised to address the meeting. S. M. Owen, of the Farm, Stock and Home, will also speak. His subject will be "National Monopolies, and How to Control Them." Other speakers are expected. Appearances indicate that this will be the largest meeting of Farmers ever held in the Fifth district.

Farmers of the Northwest, do not fail to attend this meeting!

Come whether you are a delegate or not!

All farmers are cordially invited.

Officers and members of the Alliance: Call a meeting of your Alliance and elect your delegates!

Never before in the history of the Nation has there been a greater need of a closer union among the farmers than at present. Every intelligent farmer sees the necessity of a powerful organization composed of the tillers of the soil, well knowing that the unorganized masses will be the helpless prey of the organized combinations of wealth.

There must be something radically wrong in the conditions of trade and commerce, when but little or no profit is realized by the farmers who raised the 40,000,000 bushels of wheat in Minnesota the last year, while all along the line from Minnesota to Liverpool, countless of men and corporations have been made rich (some of them millionaires) by handling and manipulating this same product.

There must be something radically wrong in the conditions of our popular Government, when its Supreme Court virtually reverses its own decisions of twenty years standing (as in the Minnesota railroad cases), a decision upon which the whole fabric of State and Interstate Commerce has been built and operated. While the farmers have remained passive, in the fond hope that the laws would be enforced and that the Courts would remain a bulwark of defense for the weak against the strong and for the right against the strong, the great monied interests of the country have been organizing and combining their forces for the purpose of not only controling every route of transportation, and every avenue of trade in the interests of the rich and powerful, but for the purpose of controling and manipulating the Legislative, Executive and Judical bodies in the State and National Governments, in the interest of combine capital.

How long will the great mass of farmers remain passive spectators and see the beautiful farms of this country taxed out of their hands by a system of taxation, which, unorganized, they are helpless to combat? How long shall we remain passive and see the products of our farm so manipulated that the profits are absorbed by combinations, trusts and monopolies? "In union there is strength," and our only safety lies in a thorough organization of the farmers We ask only for our rights. Let us demand them with such numbers and determination that they will be heeded.

R. J. HALL, President.
E. H. ATWOOD, Secretary,
Fifth Congressional District Alliance.
ST. CLOUD, Minn., April 28, 1890.

Government Falsehood.

The Great West.

Some wonderful things emanate from this republic of ours—from the government. That it is run, or managed, by less than one thousand men, through a banking association and its committee, is as sure as that the Bankers' Association exists.

The New York Tribune stated clearly, but a few days ago, that "The time is near at hand when they (the banks) will feel called upon to 'act strongly.' Meanwhile a very good thing has been done. The machinery is furnished by which in an emergency the financial corporations of the east can act together at a single day's notice with such power that no act of congress can overcome or resist their decision.'

But this little trifling item is nothing. The whole history of the creation of the great millionaires has been a record of the robbery of labor.

The government is used by the plutocrats—not in the abstract, or vapory sense—but in a concrete, actual, practical manner. For instance, the wheat ring want to down the price of wheat until they get it into their hands—the government statistician publishes abroad a wheat report millions in excess of the actual crop. Then wheat tumbles. January options are closed, May deliveries are coming—the wheat is "in store," the estimates are knocked under—and up goes the price.

But some journal like the Great West,

THROWS A BOMB

under the transportation business—showing up a fraud in wheat alone, for the northwestern states, of

TWENTY MILLION DOLLARS!

So the plutocrats want some government reports on freightage—and the great Dodge brings out a Grain and Cattle Report.

In that report the cost of shipping grain from New York to Liverpool is shown up as 10 to 12c. a bushel, by four great lines—for February and March.

What are the facts—there has not been a wheat charter made from January 1st to date for as much as 10c. All during March the rate was six cents.

Again, we find the government quoting flour freights by ocean, New York to Liverpool, at 72c. per barrel.

And yet it costs only 82c. a barrel to ship flour from Minneapolis, 12 to 1500 miles by rail, and ocean too, over to Liverpool. So it costs only 10c. a barrel to ship flour from Minneapolis to New York! Is that so? Well, scarcely.

If the United States government is going to be entered in the race for liars, hadn't the ordinary politicians better take a back seat?

We have looked through Dodge's Reports for January and February, and for March, and they are a compilation of falsehoods.

It gives the freight rates by the Chi. & Northw., Omaha to Chicago, as follows:

Flour (class freight) per 100 lbs.	.25
Wheat (bulk)	.25

That is to say, a producer loads a car himself, and pays for the unloading, in bulk, and is taxed the same as a manufacturer for a class freight!

The Illinois Central freight is given the same.

The Wabash road actually charges more for wheat than flour!

There are various other points in these remarkable reports which demand attention. It is a heavily weighted protection document, and preaches its fallacies unblushingly.

They preach the decayed and illegitimate doctrine of overproduction—a doctrine as false as it is pernicious. Every political economist in the world knows that there

IS NO OVERPRODUCTION.

We have a population of 65 million of people. Sixty of them should consume flour. The total wheat crop of the United States only yielded 230 pounds of flour for each of this population for an entire year. As a matter of fact we have a flour eating population of 60 millions. That allows but for each person for an entire year!—less than ten ounces per head per day, after taking out non-bread eating infants, not allowing for seed wheat, etc.—much less than the ration allowed a soldier. And yet we know that there is wheat too poor to manufacture into flour. It is perfectly reasonable to estimate the flour consuming of the people of this country at not over for those old enough to eat bread.

If, now, you give the millions who never enjoy the luxury of white bread, and those who eat too little—the vast basement population—only two ounces per day more of flour it would require 7,500,000 pounds per day more flour, or about

SIXTY MILLION BUSHELS OF WHEAT.

There is not wheat enough raised in this country to feed its population when its three million tramps and ten million poor people have enough to eat.

The same relation exists as to beef—only that it is immensely more startling.

We will further state that statistics show that the people of the United States consumed 8 ounces of flour per capita in 1880-3, and in 1889 only 6¼ ounces! [These figures were ascertained after the above was in type.]

The doctrine of over production is a myth.

The Sub-treasury Bill.

The Great West.

Friends of the Sub-treasury plan have been met with the assertion that its practical application would produce the widest inflation of currency at certain dates each season, and a corresponding contraction at others, which materially injure business. One of the prime objects of this plan is to increase the volume of currency among the people, and not in the vaults of the banks. That it will do so, there is no doubt, but as to the extent of this increase only an approximate calculation can be made. To assume that all the grain, cotton and tobacco would be warehoused at one time each year is an absurdity. The forced consumption continually taking place would to a large extent prevent such a condition. The average amount of grain held in store during the months of November, December and January was less than 100,000,000 bushels, the cash value of which was not to exceed $43,000,000. Applying the same rule to the cotton and tobacco product would give about $75,000,000 additional, or a total of $118,000,000. Suppose this amount is multiplied by three, which would be far in excess of any probably demand, and it amounts to only $354,000,000, or less than $6 per capita. There can be no great danger in this, and if there is, it simply threatens the present conditions, which give to money its "power to oppress."—Economist.

An Example of What an Alliance can Do.

The Great West.

At Grand Meadow, Mower Co., is an alliance which has been in existence for several years. It is composed of thoughtful farmers who look at the robberies perpetrated against the producer in a practical manner. It was the Grand Meadow Alliance which interviewed the Alliances throughout the state to the formation of the Farm and Labor party, which nominated Ignatius Donnelly for Governor, in 1888.

This alliance had passed through all the tribulations in regard to shipping grain that other farmers experienced, and it finally resolved to move forward in the line of independence.

They raised a stock company, and contributed only $35—$5 shares. They rented a grainhouse 60x30 feet, put in a hand mill, and secured Mr. Paddock to "operate." They then fixed the following schedule of charges:

Wheat, 1c.
Timothy and clover, 1½c.
Barley, 1c.
Oats, ½c.
Flax, 1½c.

Their charge included use of warehouse, scales tools, salary of Mr. Paddock, etc., etc. The warehouse man cared for the property, loaded, and acted as agent, transacting the business and making returns.

The cleanings or screenings were taken by the farmers, and often ground up for feed and taken home. The screenings usually paid for cleaning—generally more than paid for it.

The result was very satisfactory. On one car load of seeds they cleared $127 above the highest offers at the elevators, and we saw four or five there, three of them in full blast. Mower County is not a wheat county now, but these farmers shipped from 40,000 to 50,000 bushels of grain and seeds last season.

How did they come out? Mr. Pillsbury should read this, because it

HITS HIS FIVE CENTS VERY HARD.

They only had $35 invested, but they paid all expenses including rent, carried $2,000 insurance, paid back all the stockholders their investment, and declared a

FIFTY PER CENT DIVIDEND!

They have now enlarged their company and bought a warehouse.

This is but one instance. We know of a wheat house in Dakota, which cost $2,700—which cleared a net of $1,000 in one year, on 1c. a bushel for wheat—The fact is these plutes want the whole earth, and if they can't have that they will take all they can get!

DULUTH Minn., April 29, 1890.

ED. JOURNAL:

After passing the winter amongst my friends in the old country, I returned to Duluth on Friday last. I found my English buyers eminently satisfied with the quality of the wheat I shipped last fall from Duluth. They all fully realize the importance of direct relations for purchasing the fine wheat of the Red River Valley, which they readily acknowledge to be the finest in the world. All express their desire for a continued supply of pure straight shipped wheat. I return to Duluth fully realizing the great mutual value of direct relations between your growers and English millers, and feel animated with the certainty of being able to secure the result so long desired, especially after the liberal support I received last season. I have been fortunate in securing the cooperation of Mr. Herbert R. Walker, a son of the late Alderman John Walker of the city of London, who was the chief pioneer in the introduction of American grain to the United Kingdom. This gentlemen has had a lengthened experience and has acquired valuable connections in this branch of the business.

I inclose official circular on this subject and remain,

Yours faithfully,
GAUTIER DE STE. CROIX.

DULUTH, Minn., May 1st, 1890.

Dear Sir:

I beg to inform you I have this day admitted into partnership Mr. Herbert R. Walker, who has for a number of years been actively associated in England with the London Grain Trade. The style of the firm will henceforth be

GAUTIER DE STE. CROIX, WALKER & Co.

I remain yours Faithfully,
GAUTIER DE STE. CROIX

P. S.—We shall continue to give our special attention to the direct shipment of wheat to our English friends. Our connections with the leading buyers in the old country place us in the best possible position to handle farmers' consignment to the best advantage, to which we shall, as in the past, devote our careful supervision.

Money to Loan

On More Reasonable and Better Terms than Ever Before Offered to the Northwest.

We are now prepared to loan money in any amount from $250 up to $10,000 on well improved farms where title has been perfected, and U. S. patent is on record or has been issued.

Our terms are 8 per cent. interest, with a small commission to cover expenses and cost of making the loan.

Where the security is satisfactory we can make loans for five or any greater number of years, interest payable annually on the first day of January, and will allow the borrower, after two years, to pay any part of the principal, in sums of $100 or upwards on any interest day named in his notes. So much for straight loans.

We are the agents for the Union Central Life Insurance Company, of Cincinnati, Ohio, a company of great strength, and a public record for probity and fair dealing unsurpassed; and can write life insurance in connection with loans with great profit and advantage to the borrower, which, taken in connection with the loan for ten years, pays the loan by yearly payments, which is more full shown by the following statement: A aged 25 years, of sound health, applies for a loan of $1,000 on his farm, at the same time he applies for $1,000 insurance on the 10 years annual payment stock-endowment plan. He pays as follows:

Each year on his insurance........$88 44
Each year on his loan for interest.................... 80 00
Total yearly payments...$ 168 44
Total for ten years..........1684 40

which pays up for the insurance, and the insurance pays the loan in full.

If the borrower dies during the ten years his insurance becomes payable and due at once and pays his loan in full, leaving his farm clear and free of all encumbrances, for his family.

NOTE THE DIFFERENCE.

If the borrower effects a loan of $1,000 on the plan usually followed, he must pay interest at the rate of ten per cent. and may be stated as follows:

$1,000 for five years, annual interest...........................$ 100 00
At the end of the loan he pays interest in the sum of.......... 500 00
When the loan is due he pays.. 1000 00
Principal and interest paid in 5 years.................................. 1500 00

As much within $184.40 as he pays in ten years with insurance with us.

If he makes such a loan for ten years he pays:

Interest..................................$1000 00
Principal at end of 10 years..... 1000 00
Total.......................................$2000 00

or $315.60 more than he would pay with us; besides on the 10 per cent. plan he is not insured against death, and if he dies during the life of the loan the "Old Detestable Mortgage" still hangs over the heads of his defenceless wife and children.

"A Bunch of Keys" was put on at the Opera House on Saturday evening. It was fairly well rendered to a small audience who laughed at the droll situations some. After the Bill Nye fiasco our people are prepared to laugh at anything.

D. D. Williams has purchased a farm and wishes us to remark that he is elligible to admittance to the ranks of ye horny handed granger. We shall take that latter statement with a grain of salt until we see him riding a broncho or a bicycle.

Larson Bros open out this week at the old stand of Holmboe & Larson. They are good honest boys and deserve bushels of success. Try the boys when you need groceries or crockery. For cash they can surprise you. We wish them the success they deserve.

On Wednesday, April 30th, Dan O'Connor, Jr., led to the altar Miss Carrie Twombley, a former resident of this city. The marriage ceremony was performed at the Sacred Heart church in Duluth. It is said that the happy couple will make this city their future home.

T. M. Nelson was up from Fertile last Thursday, chatting with old friends. T. M. is a thorough alliance man, ready to do anything and everything necessary to obtain a free and open wheat market. He reports the good doctrine rapidly spreading and many being added to the fold at every meeting.

D. Jacobus, Dave Robinson, Doc Dunlop, Will and Henry Peterson, left for a trip to Red Lake on Tuesday. At Fosston they were to be joined by W. J Hilligess and two others whom they take along for ballast—to preserve the equilibrium as it were and anticipate worlds of fun with the funny tribe and other wild game.

Geo. W. Tice, one of the early settlers at Maple Lake died on Sunday morning. He had been ailing for sometime with cancer in the stomach it is thought but was not supposed to be in immediate danger. He is said to have been about 56 years old and a native of Canada. He leaves a wife but no children to mourn his loss.

Sheriff Paulsrud went down to Duluth on Thursday last to arrest one Agnes Gaboriau, charged by her husband with eloping with Frank Perrie and taking in her flight various and sundry household goods. The Sheriff was successful and returned on Saturday morning with his prisoners. After an interview with his wife Mr. G. settled the costs and the case was dismissed.

Geo. Holt was the lucky man at Saake's weekly gold watch drawing on Saturday night. We are more than pleased at this as Geo. is one of the old veterans and gets a splendid gold watch for only two dollars. These old vets deserve the best the shop affords and nothing it too rich for their blood. George now walks as high as a Shanghai rooster on hot corn. Good boy.

On Wednesday evening, April 30th, Mr. W. E. Walker was united for life to Miss Carrie T. Mix, youngest daughter of Major C. H. Mix, of this city. Mr. Walker is one of Crookston's rising young business men and his charming bride has grown from a child in our midst. THE JOURNAL acknowledges a generous supply of wedding cake and wishes the happy couple a long and prosperous life.

At last the line of the C., D. & N. R. R. has been deffinitely located through the city and active work has been commenced upon the construction. The following persons have sold their residences and other property: John McLean, Frank Pelletier, John Paterson, K. D. Chase, S. L. Dobson, Rudy Burkhardt, R. J. Montague, J. G. McGrew, O. H. Lucken, Johnson, H. Steenerson, E. P. Pierce, one of the D. H. Beecher houses, C. H. Mix and L. D. Marshall. The road will go through the old McDonald brickyard property and Clements' addition.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Alexander departed on Tuesday night via the old pioneer line to Glyndon where they take the Northern Pacific for their new home at Tacoma. They were accompanied to the depot by hosts of friends who went down to say farewell and wish them bon voyge. Mr. A. is one of the oldest conductors on the old pioneer line, coming to Crookston when this city was a hamlet of a few souls and he has regarded this city as his home ever since. Here he met his fate, at that time a reigning society belle and here since their marriage they have lived and made hosts of friends who while they sorely regret to see them go have nothing but the sincerest wishes for their further prosperity. Conductor Alexander is one of the genial, large hearted men who always make friends wherever they go. Almost the last words he said were: "When I make my fortune I am coming back to Polk County to spend it for in all my travels I never saw a better climate than Minnesota has nor do I ever expect to find a better."

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

At a special meeting of the City Council of the city of Crookston, held May 1st, 1890, for the purpose of receiving the report of the committee on sewers, and also to consider and take action in relation to the crossing of Bridge and Robert street, in Jerome's addition to the city of Crookston, and certain other streets crossed by the Duluth, Crookston and Northern Railroad Company, and also to consider the application of Mr. Frear for a liquor license.

Meeting called to order at 2:30 o'clock by Wm. Watts, President of the Council. Aldermen present, Childs, Morrisey, Steenerson, Bjoin, McLaren, Schmidt, Jerome and Jennings.

Moved by Alderman Morrisey, seconded by Alderman Buhn, that M. E. Kirsch be appointed as city clerk pro tem, during the absence of John Paterson, city clerk. Carried.

Moved by Alderman Morrisey, seconded by Alderman Jerome, that the application of James Frear for liquor license be allowed, and that the necessary legal notice be published. Carried.

The committee on sewers reported as follows: We have corresponded with Mr. Starkey, a practical civil engineer of St. Paul, and that he was present and had looked over the location of the city and prepared a report, which your committee herewith offer. On motion of Alderman Steenerson the report was referred back to the committee.

Moved by Alderman Childs, seconded by Alderman Bjoin, that the resolution passed April 8th, 1890, by which a committee of three was appointed to prepare plans for a system of sewerage for the city be so amended that $600 be placed at the disposal of said committee, instead of $500, and that the committee then be instructed to complete their labors. The amendment was put to a vote with the following result:

Yeas—Aldermen Childs, Morrisey, Bjoin, Schmidt, Jerome and Watts.

Nays—Alderman Jennings.

Not voting—Steenerson, Buhn and McLaren.

The amendment was declared carried.

On motion of Alderman Steenerson, Mr. Starkey, civil engineer, of St. Paul, and Mr. O. L. Hamery, city engineer, were invited to give their opinions and views on the proposed system of sewers. Both of these gentlemen responded by giving their views and ideas in brief.

On motion of Alderman Steenerson, Mr. Long, of the Duluth, Crookston and Northern Railroad was invited to explain and answer such questions as the members of the City Council might wish to ask him in reference to the erection and building of the railroad bridge and to construct trestles across Robert and Bridge streets in Jerome's addition to the city of Crookston.

R. J. Montague, vice-president of said Duluth, Crookston and Northern Railroad Company, then submitted plans and specifications of said Robert and Bridge streets, in Jerome's addition to the city of Crookston.

A motion to take a recess of twenty minutes was carried, to give members of the council time to view the proposed location of said railroad bridge and trestle work crossing Robert and Bridge streets.

Time of recess having passed, council re-assembled, President Watts in the chair.

Aldermen present—Childs, Morrisey, Steenerson, Bjoin, McLaren, Schmidt, Jerome and Jennings.

Aldermen absent—Lally and Buhn.

Alderman Steenerson offered the following resolution, which was seconded by Alderman Morrisey: It is hereby

Resolved by the City Council of the city of Crookston, That the Duluth, Crookston and Northern Railroad Company shall have, and the right is hereby granted to said company to construct and maintain its railroad tracks and run its trains thereon over and across Bridge street and Robert street, in Jerome's addition to the city of Crookston, at the place and in the manner designated on the annexed drawings as amended and modified, which drawings are hereby made a part hereof. That all pilings used shall be of good oak timber of sufficient size and strength to be secure; that the right herein granted shall be to said company and its assigns; that said company and to its asigns shall at their own expense perpetually maintain said crossing in a good, safe and convenient manner; that the Mayor and City Clery of the city of Crookston are hereby directed and authorized to make and execute, and cause to be made, a contract with said company in accordance with this resolution; that said company shall have all sidewalks on said streets in good condition and while driving their piling thereon and constructing such railroad crossing; shall use all possible care not to obstruct or hinder public travel thereon.

The resolution was put a vote.

Yeas—Childs, Morrisey, Steenerson, Bjoin, McLaren, Schmidt, Jerome, Jennings and Watts.

Nays—None.

The resolution was declared carried.

A statement in the shape of a resolution was read by R. J. Montague asking for the right of crossing all streets by the D., C. & N. R. R. Co. north of the Red Lake River, which was referred to the Aldermen of the 3d ward with instructions to report on same at the next meeting of the City Council.

On motion council adjourned.

What's In a Name?

Last week we saw in a New York dispatch to the daily papers that "P. J. McGuire" was to address a big meeting of red handed anarchists—while everybody here knows that the gentle gazelle-eyed Mac is not that kind of a fighter. Again, it was commonly reported that "John Copeland" was running for alderman in St. Paul, while everybody who knows John knows he is devoted heart and soul to the interests of the Great Northern Railway—and theology. Furthermore we saw in the list of arrivals at the Ryan Hotel "John McLean and wife!" This is the unkindest cut of all, for it is proverbial hereabouts that Mac with his innate modesty never registers in that reckless manner, but the climax is reached in the statement that "J. M. Palmer was hung in New York last week." Ain't it singular how such reports will get in circulation?

Pay That Debt.

An exchange has the following good advice: Pay that debt! It is a small one, to be sure, and apparently not worth a single thought. Then why not pay it? Why suffer the mortification of a dun? Why not take that little thorn out of your finger at once? It will fester if allowed to remain, and will cause ten times the trouble. Why not relieve your conscience of that little load? You will feel the better for it by so doing. You contracted the debt knowingly and willingly. Did you not mean to pay it? Certainly you did. Then why not pay it at once. Every day's delay increases morally the amount of the obligation. Remember, too, that your little debt and another man's little debt, and a thousand of other men's little debts make a little fortune for your creditor, for they enable him to pay his larger debts, feed his workmen or his clerks, and keep his business moving right along in times like these. Don't you see how it is? Well, then balance the account at once; and to-night the ghost of that debt will not trouble your dreams.

Stock Farm for Sale.

Consisting of 600 acres, lying on Maple Lake, in the town of Godfrey, includes the old townsite of Maple Bay 80 acres fenced for pasture; 160 acres under the plow, balance hay land and timber; house, barn, granary and good well; one of the best located farms for stock in the famous Maple Lake region. Also 50 acres heavily wooded timber land within 4 miles. Will sell with all my stock and farm machinery if so desired. For full particulars call on W. N. Godfrey, Maple Bay, or JOURNAL office, Crookston. [7-tf]

Call and Settle!

As I intend to leave for Seattle on or about April 15th, I desire to have all my accounts settled before that date, either by cash or note. All who know themselves indebted to me will please call at my office (in rear of drug store of M. Van Dyke & Co.,) and settle up. I do not wish to be obliged to leave unsettled accounts in the hands of a lawyer or any other man.

Millinery.

Ladies, you will consult your best interest by calling at Mrs. E. E. Bangs' and examining her stock of spring and summer millinery in the latest styles of the art. Remember, a purchase to the amount of $3.50 entitles you to a ticket for a gold watch and chain which somebody will get July 1st, 1890.

An interesting letter from a Liberty alliance man arrived too late for attention this week.

The Farmer and the Railroads.

The Great West.

The popular uprising of the agricultural class now going on all over the Southern and Western States, is phenomenal. Nothing like it has been witnessed before in the history of our country. The excitement which accompanied the formation of the Grange, or Patrons of Husbandry, was mild in comparison with this. It lacked the intensity of the present movement; it was better natured, men were not so much in earnest then as now. They ran more to picnics and pass-words and sashes and "sich." It was play; this is over. Farming was more prosperous then and the farmer did not take such a grim view of things as is now forced upon him. In other words, the pressure has increased. Money has been rising in value and all other forms of property have been sinking. The "defensive movement of the farmers," as one of our magazines call it, is part of a general movement going on all over the world. We read that the young Emperor of Germany is trying to perpetuate his Empire by placing it en rapport with the cause of German labor. The Czar is half crazy with fear of the Nihilists; John Burns disturbs the sleep of the British capitalists, and Irish peasants are striving to obtain the ownership of the fields they till. What does it all mean? Wealth is squeezing poverty and intelligence is trying to devise means whereby those who produce shall keep the fruit of their own toil. It is against all our ideas of justice that one man should work while three men steal what he creates. We cannot altogether stop the stealing, but we can so change the conditions that the thieves will not take everything.

The farmer says to the capitalist: "I have got to have my crops hauled to market or they are of no value to me, and this steam traction, or iron rails, is the very thing I want. Now if you will build me a railroad I will agree that you shall charge me a good rate of interest on the actual cost of the road, and all expenses and I will foot the bill cheerfully." "Agreed," says the capitalist. But there is a third party to the transaction; a sharp knave with no money, but lots of gall and cheek. He says to the farmer: "Here I will look after the details of the work, you can't possibly attend to them yourself." And to the capitalist he says: "You don't want all the bother of buying up the right of way, ties, iron, etc. I will attend to that and give you bonds on the road for what you advance." "Allright," says the capitalist, "go ahead and pay yourself a reasonable compensation for your trouble." "Agreed," says the farmer.

Now the cunning go-between builds the road for about $10,000 or $12,000 per mile, and then issues bonds and stock upon it for $30,000 to 50,000 per mile. He gives enough of the bonds to cover the advance of the capitalist, and salts down the rest in his breeches pocket. What next? If the road had been bonded and stocked for what it really cost, the rates of transportation would have to be large enough to pay the interest on the sum and expenses. But as it is they are mortgaged for two or three or four times as much as they should be. That is to say, the farmer on everything he buys and everything he sells, is compelled to pay three or four times as much freight as he should. If he sells wheat, barley, corn, oats or meat the price he gets is the price in the nearest largest market by the transportation thither. If he buys groceries, dry-goods, hardware, machinery, etc., the price he pays is the price in the nearest large market plus the transportation thence. Every dollar therefore, taken out of his pocket to pay interest on watered stock by increased cost of transportion, leaves him that much poorer. And as he buys or sells something nearly every day, the leak is a perpetual one. The candle burns at both ends and the eventual result is poverty. Now, as there are about five billion of watered stock on the railroads of the United States, bearing, we will say, six per cent on the average, the producers of the country pay $3000,000,000 annually for which they receive no equivalent whatever. It is three hundred millions thrown into the sea. Nay it is worse than that, for it is put into pockets of men who lend it out again to the farmers who mortgage their farms, and thus draw interest upon the stolen interest. And when the farming class are all improverished, as they will be if these conditions continue, we will find that we have created a vast aristocracy, that holds republican institutions in contempt, that hankers after nobility and royalty; and that are ready to turn back the wheel of time and destroy the public.

And yet the correction of all these evils is in the hands of the people, and our forefathers furnished us all the machinery; in court, legislature and ballot boxes; to stop the robbery and undo these wrongs. If we don't use that machinery it is our own fault. It is because we have not brain-power enough to defend ourselves. It is because we are not fitted for self-government. It is because we have the heads and hearts of serfs. IGNATIUS DONNELLY.

Always on Time.

There is no line so handsomely equipped for Through Passenger Service as "The Northwestern Line"—C. St. P., M. & O. R'y—and the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Chicago trains over this line have a better record for reaching either end of their run "on time" than those of any other line in the country.

THE

All well posted travelers between the Twin Cities and Chicago take this line—particularly favoring the "Vestibule Limited," which carries the finest sleeping cars and coaches ever built, and also all classes of passengers, without extra fares. On the Lake Superior portion of the line, between Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth, and St. Paul and Ashland, Pullman sleepers are run on night trains, and parlor cars on day trains.

NORTHWESTERN

Pullman sleepers are also run through between Duluth, Superior and Chicago. Fast through trains are also run between Minneapolis, St. Paul and Kansas City via Sioux City, with through Pullman sleepers St. Paul to Omaha and Kansas City. Dining cars are run on all through trains over this line between Minnesota is, St. Paul and Chicago, and between St. Paul and Kansas City. Besides being the best

A. D. STEPHENS, Crookston, Minn.

Constable Holt sold a horse under chattel mortgage on Monday for the magnificent sum of $15. Some poor granger paid a tax on an assessment of $100 on that animal a few days since—and yet with all of these evidences of prosperity about them some of our farmers are not happy! C. L. Smith should come up here and preach a sermon on how to farm properly!

It has been said that our grain inspection system was established for the benefit of the farming community. If this be true it could be demonstrated in no way better than by sending an inspector into the Red River Valley to inspect the oats that have been sent in here for seed—many of them, it is said, being thoroughly seasoned with wild oats. Many of our farmers never having had any use for "wild oats" do not know them when they seed them and thus become innocent victims. Had an inspector been sent out earlier in the season and been kept in the field during the season much good would have been accomplished.

Mr. Pillsbury says the condition of our market is the result of bucket shop gambling in wheat, that the price of our wheat is governed by wheat gambling. So? Well, if this is so why did not our markets respond when "Old Hutch" was selling wheat in Chicago at $2 per bushel? Why is it now that with May wheat selling at $1 the price here does not advance proportionately? It is a very peculiar fact that however high wheat goes in the speculative markets, the producer never seems to get the benefit. Wheat in the speculative markets has gone up 35 or 40 cents; in this market not over 10 cents AND NO WHEAT TO SELL. If we had any wheat to sell they would not be so reckless.

Oh, Don't Call It "A Steal!"

The present system of State Inspection is but a thin disguise to protect the buyer. The grades are not intended to determine the milling qualities of wheat but are simply a basis to establish a price. The "double dockage system" is a sleek little way to entice the festive money out of the farmers pocket-book into that of the wheat buyers. "Double dockage?" How do you make that out? Well what else can you call it? They dock your wheat from 2 to as many pounds per bushel as you will stand "FOR DIRT" they tell you. Well that SHOULD make clean wheat should it not and you SHOULD get a clean wheat price for the residue should you not? Do you? Oh, no! They tell you "your wheat is dirty" therefore down goes "McGinty to the bottom of the say" on GRADE. If that is not DOUBLE DOCKAGE what is it!

Why Farmers Kick.

Mr. A. N. Hixson informs THE JOURNAL that the best price he was offered in our market last fall for his wheat was forty cents per bushel. The wheat here was graded rejected. He shipped it himself and it netted him

SIXTY-TWO CENTS PER BUSHEL.

The State Inspectors graded it rejected just the same as the buyers here had done, but the returns that Mr. Hixson got showed a dockage of two or three pounds per bushel. This in face of the fact that the rules do not permit dockage of rejected wheat. Peter Cornelius was offered for his wheat 50 cents per bushel as rejected in this market. Peter promptly "rejected" the magnificent "offer," and shipped his wheat to a commission firm in Minneapolis. It netted him 60 cents per bushel, and this price he "accepted." Now, in those two cases of rejected wheat the parties received more for their wheat than any man in this market did for the best grade this market would give, and yet some "WONDER" why the farmers are such inveterate "KICKERS!" In the light of these facts what earthly good does the system of State Inspection that costs the farmer so much, do him? Is it not about time for farmers to pay a little attention to their own business and find out why these things are thusly?

"What shall we do to maintain interest in the alliance work?" writes an earnest alliance man to THE JOURNAL this week. If the fact that every man who raises wheat is cheated out of from 25 to 60 cents per bushel is not enough to keep the interest up to fever heat, then we have not a true apprehension of the existing state of affairs. The alliance aims to change the deal and enable the producer to get that 25 to 60 cents that he has earned, and it is now the work of the alliance to devise a way to do it. If there is a farmer in Polk County who does not know to what extent he is annually robbed, he should at once subscribe for the Great West and, if he don't find out enough of the injustices of the system under which farmers are trying to do business exposed in every issue, then (if he is an intelligent man) he may have our head for a foot-ball. For years our farmers have been trying to solve the oleagineous sophistries of Mr. C. A. Pillsbury, but in vain, for what Mr. Pillsbury don't know about the present system of wheat buyers us little fellows need not try to find out. He will so completely mix the ordinary mortal that when he says, "behold the moon is made of green cheese, and here are the BOOKS and the FIGURES to prove it," lo the o. m. straightway swallows the statement, hook, bob and sinker. The Great West had the audacity to question that statement, so Mr. P. says: "Hello, what manner of Fish is this who dares to investigate this matter and to question what I say? Verily I will bait my hook for this minnow and add him to my string of suckers!" So he got him into his gilded carriage and rode over to the office of the Great West and invited the editor to ride to Minneapolis and he opened up the great books in child like glee, showed all the wonderful simplicity of "the system," showed the wealth of the city made by honest (?) toil, saying: "Lo, all of these things will I share with thee if thou wilt accept the "green cheese" racket and publish the same in thy paper." But the fish would not, for he was a whale and not the kind that is commonly taken with a silver hook, and he lashed the water so furiously that friend Pillsbury was fain to try some other racket. And he took to writing long letters full of tender sympathy for the "poor farmer" and the more he wrote into deeper water did the whale take him until he had not a peg left whereon to hang the remnant of the green cheese racket. And lo, these things are a matter of record in the Great West that every farmer may read if he will send for copies thereof. Every issue of the Great West since its first issue is well worth the price for one year, and if any of our friends find themselves getting lonesome in this great warfare, we would advise them to subscribe for that paper. We cannot expect to get interested in a subject we know nothing about, and the constant changes of the situation needs the services of just such a faithful mentor as is the Great West. Every farmer should have it in his house, but the next best thing is for some member of the alliance to read from it at each meeting. If this course does not keep up the interest of farmers, why they have all died pretty dead, that's all we can say.

The Pioneer Press gives a list of those who made fortunes in the late bulge in wheat. Mr. P-P. your patrons in the Northwest were robbed of that money—or the most of it. That money by rights belongs to the farmers of the Northwest. Isnt that consoling to you?

That Wheat Question.

Mr. Pillsbury in the issue of the Great West for April 25th, says:

"One would infer from your remarks that I said it cost 5 cts. per bushel simply to purchase wheat in Crookston. What I did say was that the cost of buying, handling, cleaning and shipping wheat at Crookston, including taxes and insurance, had been 5 cts. per bushel during the last three years. As a matter of fact it was considerably more than this figure, and I am prepared to substantiate the fact to any one. This expense was so large on account of the small amount of wheat that we handled at that station, but unfortunately our company has forty or fifty elevators where the amount handled is no larger than at Crookston. You say that your correspondent informs you that our elevator at the point in question handled over forty or fifty thousand bushels on the last crop. Now I will give you the exact figures as to the amount handled there on the last three crops, and you will see it makes quite a difference in the expense per bushel:

Crop ending Aug. 1888, 18,874 bushels.
On present crop to Apr. 1, 19,889 "

But what Mr. Pillsbury DID NOT say seems to us fully as significant as what he did say, and should be taken into the account. What he NEGLECTS to say is that the elevator at Crookston is used as a STORAGE ELEVATOR, and we are told that during the winter of '88-'89 it was full to its utmost capacity, which they claim is 50,000 bushels, a small item of $1,500 or such a matter that Mr. Pillsbury is strangely silent about. If the "fifty stations" Mr. Pillsbury alludes to as being similar, that makes a small item of $75,000 unaccounted for, "small leaks" that sink the farmer's ship in the sea of speculation. We have not been to the "books" to find it out, but we have it on good authority that the Crookston elevator "has held its end up and made as much money for its owners as any one in the system." And that remark was made by one who has the means of knowing the facts. These little discrepancies in the system in connection with those unearthed by the Great West show where the shoe pinches the farmer and why it is imperative that there should be a change in the deal. They show that while the man who does the labor necessary to produce the wheat is raising wheat at an absolute loss, the man who simply handles it is guaranteed a certain per cent. of profit. In a free and open market he would be obliged to take his chances with the farmer, and this is all we ask and it is no more than just and right. Mr. Pillsbury's theory that the millers at Minneapolis for the next four years will grind more dollar wheat than any other, cuts no figure, for that same unjust per cent. of profit would still go to the man who manipulates the wheat—money that the farmers toil hard to earn and which belongs to them. No, we will not be satisfied with your sophistries, Mr. Pillsbury; give us a free and open market and equal chance with elevator men and then you will have no occasion to mourn because the farmers cannot see that your interests are mutual. A free and open market we must and will have.

The Future of Wheat.

The Minneapolis Journal.

In an interview in the Minneapolis Evening Journal Chas. A. Pillsbury says:

"A great deal has been said about the enormous increase of the world's wheat acreage. But in this country the maximum development was reached during the five years ending in 1880, and the increase was about 44 per cent. During the next four years the increase was less than four per cent, and in 1889 there was a decrease of the acreage of 8.4 per cent. There is a steady decrease of wheat acreage in the Eastern and Middle states; the shrinkage is heavy in the Missouri valley, south of the Dakotas, and there has been only a slight increase in the Southern states. In the Pacific States, the increase, since 1884, has been less than 1 per cent, and there has been a decrease in the acreage of the Dakotas, while the wheat lands of the North Pacific States, largely in forest, present a future possibility when they are needed. In the rapid settlement of Minnesota and the Dakotas wheat has been the only crop grown on land broken up from the prairie, and this accounts for the boom wheat years between 1875 and 1880. Between 1870 and 1880 the population of this country increased from 38,553,371 to 50,155,783. During the five years ending in 1884, the average annual consumption of wheat was about 324,000,000 bushels, and the average export 140,000,000 bushels. As the production has declined, and if it does not increase much during the next five years, there will not be over 45,000,000 to 50,000,000 bushels for export in 1895. This fact, with the absence of any decided increase in the world's acreage, except in Russia, during the last five or six years, makes it certain that the increased demand of the world for wheat will send prices up to a remunerative standard."

Mr. Pillsbury referred again to day to the fact that the world's demand for wheat flour is increasing pari passu with the betterment of the social conditions of the people. "The advance in civilization," he said, "creates a greater demand for better food. Black bread gives away to wheat bread. This is the case the world over. In European countries the process is going on. Thus the demand for wheat will continually increase. The world has been eating its surplus wheat for some years, and it has now approached close to the exhaustion of the great surplus. In this country our consumption is increasing about 8,000,000 to 10,000,000 bushels annually, and the demand is obviously against a diminishing supply. That supply is what is called the visible supply, of the market reports; the invisible supply—an unknown quantity in farmers' hands, and what may be called a visible-invisible supply—that known approximately to flour men, but not appearing in the reports. These supplies foot up considerable in the aggregate, but they are drawn upon increasingly by domestic and shipping requirements." As to India, Mr. Pillsbury does not regard that country as a menacing competitor of this country. India, owing to climate conditions and frequent famines, is a very uncertain source of supply. India sent 1,400,000 quarters to England in 1877 and two years after the shipments fell to 240,000 quarters. Since 1880 the shipment averaged 1,600,000 quarters until the [illegible] fallen off and the wheat acreage has decreased to less than 27,000,000 acres. The low exchange value of the silver rupee only has enabled exporters to offer enough for wheat to pay cultivators' expenses.

As to Russia, Mr. Pillsbury admitted that she has the advantage in freights and cost of labor over us and with her large area of black soil and the adoption of modern agricultural machinery and American elevators she may be considered our most formidable competitor. Russia is the only great wheat exporting country of Europe, Austria-Hungary presenting no material competition. In Australasia, including Australia, the maximum wheat acreage was reached in 1884, since which there has been a decrease in every colony. As for Chili and the Argentine Republic, where the bulk of South American wheat is raised, the largest quantities of wheat received in England from the latter country was 77,000 quarters in 1885, and that is not a days consumption in Great Britain. Chili has shown little development in the last 10 years in wheat culture and Brazil does not export wheat. The wheat crop of the Argentine Republic last year was less than 25,000,000 bushels, against the 490,560,000 bushels harvested in the United States in 1889. Under these circumstances Mr. Pillsbury thinks, that the world, having about disposed of the harvests resulting from the enormous increase of the wheat acreage during the 10 or 12 years preceding 1884, will hereafter require more wheat with a corresponding betterment of prices, chiefly because the consumption of wheat flour is demonstrably increasing.

Mr. Pillsbury said he did not consider that the limit of wheat lands had been absolutely reached in this country, of course, for Minnesota and the Dakotas could produce in their areas double the amount of wheat they have heretofore produced. The conversion of arid areas into crop lands by artesian well irrigation in the Dakotas was an experiment which might result favorably; but absolute dependence could not be placed upon it. There was no doubt, he thought that wheat had reached the bottom figures the last year. The increase of population here and throughout the world, with the increased demand for wheat flour and the exhaustion of the surplus or former years made firmer prices possible. He believed that, in the next five years, the mills in Minneapolis would grind more flour from wheat at $1 a bushel than under that figure.

Cultivating Wheat.

Grand Forks Daily Plaindealer.

Hon. Walter Muir, of Hunter, state lecturer of the Farmers' alliance, is a progressive farmer as well as a G. A. R. veteran and lecturer. To a Plaindealer representative yesterday he partially unfolded his plan of cultivating wheat. Said Mr. Muir:

"A man should practice what he preaches, and I've been telling the farmers for two or three years that we ought to cultivate wheat instead of raising it as we do now, and this season I am going to try my cultivation theory on a quarter section of land."

"How do you propose to proceed, Mr. Muir? Will you use special machinery for seeding?"

"No, I propose to take an ordinary four horse drill and remove some of the teeth closing up the apertures. I shall sow about one-half bushel to the acre. When the wheat is up I intend to thoroughly cultivate it just as you would corn, and I expect to get double the yield we do now.

I have seen cultivated oats which yielded 100 bushels. If we can make a go of this cultivated wheat—and I know of no reason in the world why we should not—we shall double the value of our farms by raising just as much wheat on half the ground, and can sell off the other half.

It is my belief that this will solve the irrigation problem to a large extent. How? Why, by cutting the wheat at some distance from the ground, the stubble will hold the snow which falls during the winter. You know that our fields which are plowed in the fall do not hold the snow, but allow it to drift so that it does but little good. The plowing could all be done in the spring, and with better results I am sure. There is another thing. Wheat, grass and other similarly grown crops, like corn for instance, flourish wonderfully well. Burleigh county raised 360,000 bushels of corn last year. But its wheat didn't amount to anything. The frequent stirring of the soil by cultivation takes the place of rainfall to a large extent.

MORTGAGE SALE.

[First publication May 1st, 1890.]

WHEREAS CHARLES H. BROSSARD AND Sarah J. Brossard, his wife, of Polk County, Minnesota, as mortgagors, did, on the fifteenth day of September, A. D. 1883, duly execute and deliver to the New England Mortgage Security Company, of the County of Windham, State of Connecticut, as mortgagee, their mortgage, bearing date of September 14th, A. D. 1883, whereby they mortgaged to said mortgagee the following described lands situated in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, to-wit:

The southwest quarter of section twenty-seven, (27) Township one hundred and fifty-two, (152) Range forty-two (42) west, containing 160 acres, to secure the payment of the sum of four hundred dollars with interest thereon, according to the conditions of one certain promissory note, with interest coupons attached, bearing even date with said mortgage, and made by said mortgagors to said mortgagee, or order, which said mortgage was, on the 18th day of September, A. D. 1883, at 12 o'clock m., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Polk, in book 27 of mortgages, on page one; and

Whereas, default has been made in the payment of the sum of thirty-two dollars due as interest upon said mortgage on the first day of January, A. D. 1889, and the further sum of thirty-two dollars due as interest thereon on the first day of January, A. D. 1890, and the said interest is still unpaid and due; and

Whereas, it was stipulated and agreed by and between the parties to said mortgage that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants therein contained on the part of the mortgagors to be kept and performed, that then and from thenceforth it shall be lawful for said mortgagee, or its assigns, to consider the whole sum thereby secured as immediately due and payable without notice to said mortgagors or any other party; and

Whereas, The New England Mortgage Security Company, mortgagee, has exercised its option to consider and declare, and does hereby declare the whole sum of money secured by said mortgage to be due and payable; and

Whereas, there is now due and claimed to be due upon said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of four hundred seventy-eight 25-100 dollars, and no proceedings have been instituted at law or otherwise to recover the same or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale in said mortgage contained and therewith recorded, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the land therein described, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of Polk County at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Crookston, in said County and State, on the 14th day of June, A. D. 1890, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash to pay the sum due on said mortgage, together with taxes, if any, on said premises and twenty-five dollars attorney's fees therein stipulated to be paid in case of foreclosure and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as provided by law.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, COUNTY OF POLK—ss. In Probate Court, special term, April 30th, 1890.

In the matter of the estate of Edwin Benjamin, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of Ruth Ann Benjamin, administratrix of said estate, setting forth the amount of personal estate that has come into her hands, the disposition thereof, and how much remains undisposed of; the amount of debts outstanding against said deceased, as far as the same can be ascertained; the legacies unpaid, and a description of all the real estate, excepting the homestead, of which said deceased died seized, and the condition and value of the respective portions or lots thereof; the persons interested in said estate, with their residences; and praying that license be to her granted to sell the southeast quarter Sec. 13, Tp. 149, R. 43, at private sale. And it appearing by said petition that there is not sufficient personal estate in the hands of said administratrix to pay said debts, the legacies or expenses of administration, and that it is necessary for the payment of such debts, legacies or expenses to sell all of said real estate.

It is therefore ordered, that all persons interested in said estate appear before this Court on Monday, the 25th day of June, A. D. 1890, at 2 o'clock p. m., at the Probate office in Crookston, in said county, then and there to show cause (if any there be) why license should not be granted to said administratrix to sell so much of the real estate of said deceased as shall be necessary to pay such debts, legacies and expenses.

And it is further ordered, that this Order shall be published once in each week, for three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing, in The Polk County Journal, a weekly newspaper printed and published at Crookston, in said county.

Dated at Crookston, the 30th day of April, A. D. 1890.

By the Court: C. O. Christianson,
[3-5] Judge of Probate.

Sale of State Lands.

STATE OF MINNESOTA,
Land Office,
St. Paul, April 9th, 1890.

Notice is hereby given that I will offer at public sale, at the County auditor's office, in Crookston, on Friday, June 6th, 1890, at 10 o'clock a. m. on the terms prescribed by law, the State Lands in Polk County that have been appraised and are unsold, or that have been sold and forfeited by reason of failure to pay interest for two or more years.

Lists of the lands to be offered may be seen at the Auditor's office for ten days prior to the sale.

W. W. BRADEN,
[52-6] Commissioner of the State Land Office.

MORTGAGE SALE.

[First publication April 3d, 1890.]

DEFAULT HAVING BEEN MADE IN THE payment of the sum of eighty-three and 60-100 dollars, ($83.60), which is claimed to be due at the date of this notice upon a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by John C. Johnson, a single man, to Albert W. Mott, bearing date the 23d day of August, A. D. 1888, and, with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the county of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 25th day of August, A. D. 1888, at 1 o'clock p. m., in book "T" of mortgages, on page 497, and no action or proceeding having been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, Notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz: Lot numbered twelve, (12), of block numbered five, (5), in the Townsite of Fertile, Polk County, Minnesota, according to the certified plat of said townsite, on file in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said Polk County, Minnesota, in Polk County and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances; which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court House in the city of Crookston, in said county and state, on the 17th day of May, A. D. 1890, at 10 o'clock a. m. of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and twenty-five dollars attorney's fees, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

Dated March 28th, A. D. 1890.

Notice of Mortgage Foreclosure Sale.

(First publication April 3d, 1890.)

DEFAULT HAVING BEEN MADE IN THE payment of the sum of one hundred and twenty-five dollars, installment of interest which became due and payable the 5th day of March, 1889, and a further default having been made in the payment of the sum of one hundred and twenty-five dollars, installment of interest, which became due and payable on the 5th day of March, A. D. 1890, upon a certain mortgage, made, executed and delivered by Charles Netzer an unmarried man, Rosalia J. Netzer and Joseph Netzer, her husband, and Johanna Netzer, a widow, all of Crookston, Polk County, Minnesota, mortgagors, to the Netherlands American Land Company, of Amsterdam, Holland, mortgagee, bearing date the 5th day of March, A. D. 1887, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the county of Polk, and State of Minnesota, on the 8th day of March, 1887, at 2:35 o'clock p. m., in book "20" of mortgages, at pages 233 to 236.

And, whereas, a further default has been made in the conditions of said mortgage by the mortgagors failing and neglecting to pay the taxes assessed against, and levied upon said premises covered by said mortgage, prior to the date of the sale of lands for the payment of taxes, and the mortgagee, to protect the lien of its said mortgage, was compelled to pay and prior to the date of this notice did pay, in satisfaction of the taxes then due and delinquent on the said premises, the sum of three hundred and twenty and 83-100 ($320.83) dollars; and the said defaults having each continued for a period of more than thirty days, the whole sum secured by said mortgage is hereby declared to be due and payable, as stipulated in said mortgage in case of a failure to comply with the conditions thereof; and by reason of such defaults and declaration, there is claimed to be due, and there is due and payable on said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of seventeen hundred thirty-one and 95-100 ($1731.95) dollars, and no action or proceedings at law or otherwise have been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and by virtue of the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed, and the premises described in and conveyed thereby, viz: Lot one (1) of block three (3) in the original townsite of Crookston, according to the recorded plat in the office of the Register of Deeds of Polk County, Minnesota; lot fifteen, (15), sixteen, (16), and seventeen, (17), of block two (2) in Hurlbut's Addition to Crookston, according to the recorded plat in the office of the Register of Deeds of Polk County, Minnesota, and the north part of lot fifteen (15), block five (5) in L. Fletcher's Addition to Crookston, as recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Polk County, Minnesota, being twenty-five (25) feet in width fronting on Oak street, (now called Broadway) and twenty (20) feet in width on the rear end of said lot, together with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt, interest, taxes and seventy-five dollars as attorney's fees, stipulated in said mortgage to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; which sale will be made at the front door of the Court House, in Crookston, county of Polk and State of Minnesota, by the Sheriff of Polk County, at the hour of two o'clock p. m., on the 17th day of May, A. D. 1890, subject to redemption at any time within one year, in manner provided by law.

NEWSPAPER LAW.

1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for the payment.
2. If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscriptions, the suit may be instituted where the paper is published.
4. The Courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers or periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid for, is prima facie evidence of intention to defraud.

Feb. 1, 1890. The St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba Railway and Branches became the Great Northern Railway LINE.

With its 3,800 miles of steel track, it runs through 62 counties in Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota and Montana, reaching all principal points from St. Paul, Minneapolis, West Superior and Duluth.

It furnishes through close connections, the best and cheapest route to all points in Idaho, Utah, California, Oregon, Washington, British Columbia, Alaska, the Canadian Northwest and Manitoba.

It is the only American line west of Chicago having a track laid with 75 pound steel rail and owning its entire magnificent equipment of elegant Dining and Sleeping Cars, Handsome Day Coaches and Free Colonist Sleepers.

It is the only line running through the great Milk River Reservation, with solid trains without change to Chinook, Benton, Great Falls, Helena and Butte.

It reaches more points in Minnesota and North Dakota than any other line.

It runs three lines through the Red River Valley.

IT IS THE DIRECT LINE FROM CROOKSTON TO

GRAND FORKS AND THE WEST,
And to ST. PAUL AND THE EAST.

It gives choice of two routes to the Pacific Coast with tikets $5.00 and $10.00 cheaper than by any other line.

RELIGIOUS LIBERTY.

THE CIVIL SABBATH DISCUSSED BY A. F. BALLENGER.

The advocates of Sunday legislation are making vigorous efforts to convince the country that they are working only for a civil rest day in the interest of the laboring man, and are disavowing all attempts at religious legislation. Without questioning their sincerity in making the denial, we will endeavor to show that it is religious legislation and as dangerous to religious liberty as though it was asked for in the name of religion.

First, the Sabbath is the Lord's day, and God has commanded man to keep it holy. The duty to keep a Sabbath is therefore a duty we owe to God. Said Christ, "Render therefore unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's; and unto God the things that are God's." For the government to demand that we render to it the duty which God demands of us, is to require us to render to Caesar that which belongs to God. It is argued that the Sabbath is two-fold, having a religious and a civil side, the latter being within the jurisdiction of civil government.

Without stopping to discuss this position, we will apply it to the first and second precepts of the decalogue. It will be admitted at once that the worship of idols is degrading, and has a tendency to degrade men physically; but who will say that the Government should pass laws defining who the true God is, and demanding his worship on physical or sanitary grounds? Should we admit that there is a sanitary as well as a religious phase to the Sabbath, that does not make it a proper subject for legislation. Man needs sleep, but the Government does not retire its subjects at 9:30 p. m., and awaken them at five in the morning.

It is necessary for man's physical well-being that he has food, but the Government does not say how much or when he shall take it. At this point in the discussion it is stated that man has a right to rest during one-seventh part of time, and that one man's right to rest demands a law compelling all to rest. According to this reasoning one man's right to marry demands a law compelling all to marry. The position, to say the least, is absurd.

Let us next notice whether the demands for Sunday legislation are in harmony with the statement that only a civil Sabbath for the benefit of the working man is contemplated. Why, if this be true, do they purpose to close the libraries on Sunday? Why close the theatres and other places of amusement? Why stop the running of excursions so much patronized by the working man? These measures are manifestly in the interests of the religious idea of the day. The Fourth of July is a civil rest day in the true sense of the term. All can rest if they choose, but such a rest as this is the farthest from their idea of a civil Sabbath, and betray the motive which actuates these so-called reformers. In one breath they declare for a civil Sabbath, and in the next deplore the sin of Sabbath-breaking and the tendency toward secularizing the day. Who are behind this movement is a fair question to ask to determine its character. Not the working man, for there is not an organization in the country that is active in support of the measure. The fact that there are organizations among them to remove almost every grievance, both real and imaginary, except the rest day, is indirect proof, at least, that it is not considered by them as a grievance of importance. Some are opposed to it, fearing the religious aspect which we have mentioned. This is shown from the appearance of Millard F. Hobbs, Master-workman of the Knights of Labor, of the District of Columbia, before the committee having in charge the Breckenridge Sunday bill, and his speech against it. The fact that this civil-Sabbath legislation is being urged by the American Sabbath Union and other religious bodies, gives us reason to doubt its civil nature. "Do men gather grapes from thistles?" Nor can we expect to reap a civil Sabbath from the agitation of the American Sabbath Union based on the following conditions:

Art. 2 Basis.—The basis of this American Sabbath Union is the DIVINE RIGHT and perpetual OBLIGATION of the Sabbath," etc.

Granting, for the sake of argument, that it is a civil Sabbath that is desired, the difference is realized with them by a simple change in the name of the measure. The changes which transformed the Blair Sunday bill from a religious measure as introduced in the Fiftieth Congress, to the one now before that body which they insist on calling a civil measure, were changes made in the title and terms used in designating the day, the prohibitions and the penalties remaining the same. It would not greatly console a man who was behind the bars for doing honest labor in violation of such a law, to tell him he was not suffering from religious legislation, as the title of the bill had been changed.

Such a law would work hardship in the case of one who observed another day, although it were a civil enactment. To compel a man to rest on another day besides the one he believes God requires him to observe, is to rob him of one-sixth of his God-given time,—time which he needs to employ in providing for himself and his family. To say that the law in most cases exempts such persons, does not remove the objection, as the exemption generally admits of such private work only as will not disturb others, and must to a certain extent operate against the individual.

There is, however, in these exemptions one of the strongest proofs that the measure is religious in character. If laboring on Sunday is made a crime, how can the crime be changed into a virtue, as in the case of an exemption, simply on the ground of religious convictions? Other laws are not placed on this basis. Laws against polygamy do not exempt because of religious convictions. On no other than a religious basis can it be argued that what is considered a crime in one individual is lawful in another.

In one particular there is a striking parallel between this movement and the one which crucified our Savior. The charges made against him before the Sandhedrim were all of a religious nature; blasphemy, claiming himself to be the Son of God, and speaking against the temple; but when his accusers appeared before Pilate, knowing that he would not listen to these charges, they placed their accusations on a civil basis, declaring him to be an enemy of Caesar in stirring up the people and refusing to pay tribute. These advocates of Sabbath legislation hate the civil Sabbath, that is, a Sabbath devoted to reading the Sunday newspapers and pleasure-seeking, as badly as the Jews hated Caesar; but knowing the opposition of the people of the United States to religious legislation, they come to Congress, asking civil support for a day which in their constitution they declare based wholly on "Divine authority."

We would not be understood to be opposed to the Sabbath or to Sabbath reform; on the contrary we are in favor of both. But we believe the reform must come by agitation based on moral swasion, instead of an appeal to civil law which is dangerous to both civil and religious liberty.

Are Farmers Prosperous?

The Editor of a Minnesota exchange sends to Farm, Stock and Home a couple of clippings from his paper, and writes a note, marked "private," which says:

"Why don't you publish a few articles like the enclosed. Why present the dark side of the picture all the time? You are sowing the seeds of discontent which is driving our settlers to other countries and off their farms. Our farmers are not slaves and paupers by any means; they are prospering fully as well as towns people. I will admit that everything is not going just right—that the tariff is too high, the trusts iniquitous, and the railway corporations grasping—but there is a proper way to work out the reforms without hoisting the red flag or indulging in talk that tends to discourage and stir up an unpatriotic feeling against the government and country."

One of the clippings referred to gives a list of prices of farm products. "One hundred and thirty-six miles from Chicago in 1860 and 1861." Wheat was said to be 45 cents, oats 10 to 12 cents, corn the same, dressed hogs 2½ cents a pound, butter 8 to 10 cents, eggs 5 to 6 cents, etc., etc. The other describes a farmer who came to town riding in a good buggy, drawn by a nice pair of horses, of his own raising, and having by his side a well dressed, happy, contented looking wife; and surrounding the whole outfit was a pleasing air of thrift and prosperity. The object of the articles was to show that farmers had seen lower prices for farm products than now prevail, and that farming is a profitable avocation in spite of croakings and fault-finding.

It is strange that to find a time when prices of farm products were possibly lower than now there had to be selected a period in our history when an on-coming cloud of war had paralyzed every industry in the land; when trade was rotting in its marts, and a dead calm pervaded our commercial world. It is strange, too, that one well dressed well equipped farmer coming into town should be a novelty worthy of lengthy newspaper mention. If the prosperity of farmers is general such spectacles should be too common to excite notice or comment.

But neither of these incidents prove anything pertinent to the situation. A report of the national department of agriculture, of December last—which surely could not have been made for political effect—said that the average prices of farm products of the United States were the lowest ever known in that month.

The United States census is our authority for saying that farm, farm implements and live stock values increased from 1850 to 1860 101 per cent; from 1860 to '70, 29 per cent., and from 1870 to '80, 9 per cent. In the mean time the general wealth of the country is said to have increased almost fabulously.

Isolated cases of prosperous farmers, that is, prosperous as farmers—for be it remembered that the annual net income of the most prosperous farmer in the land would not pay 4 per cent. interest on the ordinary family expenses of any one of myriads of our wealthy men—prove nothing. Some banks, factories and merchants survive and even make money during financial panics that ruin thousands of their fellows; such survival no more proves that there was no panic than an occasional successful farmer proves that there is now no depression in agriculture.

Farmers of the United States are equipped for money making as are no other farmers in this world. Skill, industry, energy, machinery, virgin soil, wondrous fertility, generally favoring climatic conditions, marvelous facilities for moving their crops and getting supplies are among the American husbandmen's hand-maidens; then why do they complain? And they do complain most bitterly; complain in the East and West, the North and South; complain where the best known methods of agriculture are practiced, and where "diversification," "rotation" and all the panaceas for agricultural distress are intelligently administered. Then why do they complain? Is it not because farmers are not getting what is justly due them? Are not getting their share of fun out of the golden carnival of prosperity which it is said this country is now enjoying? Some men will succeed on the farm in spite of adverse conditions—it is believed that in the "wreck of empire and crash of worlds" a few will come out on top—but in an almost universal sense the farmer succumbs to those artificial conditions which have been built up around him by the unholiest greed the world ever saw.

Our farmers are not slaves (unless to partizianship,) nor paupers, but that is because they are fortified to resist tyranny, and are enabled by natural conditions to obtain an existence in spite of it.

Our journalistic friend sees and admits some of the causes; but he, unlike Farm, Stock and Home, would say nothing about them; or would rather treat them differently than we do, though he unkindly fails to suggest his better method. Our counsel is calculated to discourage, distract, and "drive out of the country." But where will they go? They are not leaving the United States, and in them where will they go to do better than in the great Northwest, where they have got the most of that which they must most rely upon: the natural heritage of the best possible soil, and of as good climate as is vouchsafed to man? It is silly to tell the farmer everything is all right, he knows better. We had all better turn in and help him secure the fruits of his toil, and see that he gets a fair share of his natural inheritance, which lies concealed in the soil he tills. Reference to the red flag we can afford to pardon. Readers of this journal know it to be law-abiding at all times. It never counseled rebellion against anything but machine politics and partisan prejudice. But such counsel may be deemed treason by some.

The Bright Side.

The Western Rural.

It is never advisable to lose sight of any of the dangers that beset us. To shut our eyes to dangers and fancy that there is peace when there is no peace; to attempt to persuade ourselves that matters will somehow come out all right though all indications point in the opposite direction, is foolish in the extreme. Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty, and we should not only watch for dangers and evils, but should attack them boldly and persistently until they are conquered. The Western Rural has never hesitated to point out existing dangers that threaten the welfare of its constituency. It fully recognizes the fact that agriculture is in very bad shape, and that there must be a turn in the affairs of the farmer or utter ruin will be the final result. It is aware that the farmer knows this very well, and while it is his duty to know it, naturally the knowledge plunges him into considerable despair. But it is also our duty to draw our eyes away from the shadows of any dark picture occasionally and fix them upon its lights, if it has any. It is a comfort to know that a picture is seldom so dark but that it has some bright spots in it.

There is in the dark piture of agricultural adversity a finger of light pointing to better times and the enthronement of justice. We have never lost sight of that finger pointing into a future that will be brilliant. At no moment of these long years of cruel injustice that the farmer has suffered have we ever had the slightest doubt that the time would come when the producer would have his rights. The character of our institutions encourages us to cherish this firm belief. An intelligent free people cannot be enslaved; they cannot be forever wronged. The rapid gathering of farmers in association clearly points to the coming peaceful revolution in this country which will break the grip of greed upon our farms, and make all men what the Declaration of Independence declares them to be—"equal" before the law. It is a mistake not to see this beautiful, brilliant indication upon the generally dark picture that has hung before us so long.

It is a comforting thought, too, to know that we are still free, and that we can lose our freedom only by our consent. While it is true that false conditions have been permitted to develop in our civilization, and made us temporarily less free than we might be, it is still a fact that it is within our power to assert the soverignty of a free American citizen, and record our protest against the wrongs we suffer, at the great bulwark of freedom, the ballot box. As we organize, and stand together for the protection of our rights, this fact becomes more and more real and inspires us with a brilliant hope for the future. So while the picture is a pretty dark one just now it has some very beautiful and inspiring features which not to see is enmity to ourselves.

Coming.--Important to Farmers.

"How I tie up wool and get two cents a pound more for it," illustrated, by W. M. Corbitt, Mower Co., Minn. "How I made a four horse evener," illustrated, by F. G. Smith, Stevens Co., Minn. "How I fed two common cows and got 828 pounds of butter in ten months," by J. S. Harris, Houston Co., Minn. "How I built a cheap silo and grew the crop to fill it," illustrated, by John Gould, Ohio. "How I built a cheap portable fence," illustrated, by Theo. Lewis, Wis.; and much other information of value to farmers will soon appear in Farm, Stock & Home of Minneapolis, a first-class farm paper at only 50 cents a year, or we will furnish it in connection with the POLK COUNTY JOURNAL one year for $1.50.

Pillsbury And His Wheat.

Duluth Evening Herald.

MINNEAPOLIS, May 7.—The Pillsbury company has made a big stake on wheat at present prices, but the profit depends on the price when the wheat gets into flour. There is a difference of opinion among the millers as to the amount of wheat in Pillsbury's hands. Some put it as high as 5,000,000 bushels, while others are more conservative and say 4,000,000 is the top notch, but for a definite statement it may be stated that last week Mr. Pillsbury received and paid for 2,000,000 bushels of wheat. One check in payment was for $400,000, and the balance went out in another check for over 1,000,000 bushels. Some of the millers say that Mr. Pillsbury can fix the price of wheat in this market so long as the supply does not fall under the demand for home consumption, and outside wheat does not come in to compete with him. Several years ago wheat was imported to this country, but it is not anticipated that it will happen again. For that reason there are a number of millers willing to concede that if Mr. Pillsbury wants $1 wheat next fall there is nothing that can prevent that being the ruling price, and in any case there is a unanimous opinion that the Northwestern farmer will fare better next fall than last fall, whether the crop is large or small. Wheat is going up is now the cry.

St. Paul Dispatch.

Among the guests at the Merchants to-day was Hon. Halvor Steenerson, of Crookston, one of the most brilliant and leading Norwegians of this state. Upon being questioned to-day by a Dispatch reporter as to whether there was any stir in politics in his district, he replied: "Yes, there is something new. The Norwegians of this state have a candidate for state treasurer next fall, and his name is O. H. Lucken, of Crookston. The Swedes are well represented in the state house, but the Norwegians have not a man. We are going to demand that we be recognized, and we have a candidate in Mr. Lucken for the position mentioned. He is a popular man and would carry the entire Northern district. In reference to Mr. Lucken I will say that he is an old soldier, having served with the Fifteenth Wisconsin. His record is a splendid one. His experience of ten years as treasurer of Polk county well prepares him for the position. I do not think that there will be any opposition to Gov. Merriam worth mentioning. He will surely be nominated by the republicans and re-elected. The chances for Gov. Rice are very slim."

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

CROOKSTON, MINNESOTA, MAY 15, 1890.

Round Home.

Wheat 1 Hard 76, 1 Northern 75.

Rev. O. H. Elmer has gone east on a visit.

Will Aftix was down from Mentor last week.

Senator Burkhardt is in the city for a visit of a few days.

H. F. Brown took a trip to Minneapolis and St. Paul last week.

A little rain last week caused some excitement in the wheat market.

T. K. Torgerson was in the city last week on his usual round. T. K. is a rustler.

The engagement of Mr. Jack T. Hammond to Miss Fannie Miller, of St. Paul, is announced.

E. M. Walsh has returned from his visit abroad. We haven't had a chance to interview him yet.

Olaf Paulsrud arrived on Monday morning to attend the funeral of his father. Sheriff Paulsrud.

Mrs. M. Mullan, of Cresco, Iowa, is visiting her daughters, Mrs. J. F. Creamer and Miss Nellie Mullan.

Nup Christianson was down from McIntosh last week to see the boys and his many friends in the city.

Wolfred Page was the lucky man at Saako's regular Saturday evening watch drawing. A gold watch at $3 is cheap.

We are a firm believer in the idea that this country will get good crops and obtain good prices therefor next fall.

Hon. H. Steenerson went to St. Paul last week to see about getting Barney Wahl out of limbo on a writ of habeas corpus.

John E. Tice writes us from Mentor on May 13th: "It counts one for the alliance as it is a boy this time and come to stay." Here's Ho, John.

Charlie Lowe has now more horses than dogs. Fifteen head of good work mares and horses at your own price. Cheap on time, cheaper for cash.

Jos. Laframboise started for Missoula, Montana, on Saturday with a carload of good blooded horses and cattle for sale. He expects to be gone some weeks.

V. D. Carruth returned to civilization on Sunday morning. He has been weighing mail west of Minot. Says he stopped off to visit that new grandson—Lynn's boy.

On Saturday last N. H. Fulton was summoned home by telegraph on account of the illness of Mrs. F., arriving Sunday morning. He returned to his field of labor on Monday evening.

Hogs handled and meats cured and smoked all through the summer months at reasonable rates. Also parties having hogs to sell can find a purchaser by applying at the packing house until August 1st.

[4-15] ROBERT STANTON.

A fine body of snow greeted the early riser on Wednesday morning, and the elements seemed disposed to make up for the contrariness of the past few weeks Everybody was tickled to death to witness the congealed moisture.

J. G. McGrew talks of going west soon. His wife will go to Vermont to visit relatives. Miss Edith goes to Benson and the house is to be moved to make way for the new railroad. Whether Mr. McGrew returns to Crookston to live or not depends on how he finds business in the west.

Levi Myers was up from the west end last week. Levi is very much interested in the cause of the farmers and does not neglect an opportunity to speak a good word for the alliance. He says he has any quantity of lumber that he can sell at way down figures to farmers. His post office address is Meos, Polk County.

Sundet Bros. have their new hotel, the Canada House, re-painted inside and out, and refurnished throughout, as far as the second story and will soon have the third completed. They have put in electric lights and take water from the mains and are now ready to entertain the weary traveller to the best the land affords at very reasonable figures—from $1.00 to $1.50. Mr. A. A. Olds did the painting and a neat job it is, too. The boys can take care of 100 guests nicely. Good stabling for 40 horses. Call at the new Canada House.

A call at the packing house last week revealed to our reporter a tempting array of nicely cured hams and bacon which would tempt the appetite of an epicure. The rich mahogany color of the meats made us long to sample the lot right there and then. One gets something of an idea of the business done at this establishment when he sees the long rows of large barrels or vats in which the meat is curing for the smoke house. Mr. Stanton informs us that he is prepared to cure meats in any style desired and that he can furnish a market for hogs for those desiring to sell nice fat hogs. He has cured lots of pork for Dakota parties as well as attending to the home trade. Any farmer who desires to have his pork attended to nicely can be accommodated at the packing house cheaper than he can do it himself.

Sudden Death.

On Thursday morning of last week Sheriff Paulsrud returned from a trip to the Thirteen Towns and at once went to bed—a very sick man. Dr. Bahnsen was summoned who did all that he could for him and on Saturday a physician was summoned from Grand Forks but to no avail. Mr. Paulsrud continued to grow steadily worse and passed away about 1 o'clock on Sunday. His disease was inflammation of the bowels complicated by heart failure. He was conscious up to within two hours of death and talked calmly and naturally with his friends. On Monday a large concourse of his friends and neighbors gathered at the Norwegian Lutheran Conference Church, on Ash Street to pay the last sad tribute of respect to Sheriff Paulsrud. The services were conducted by the Rev. C. Saugstad, assisted by Rev. C. F. Sharpe. Before he died Mr. Paulsrud requested his friends to bury him on the old farm in the town of Hubbard and in accordance with that wish the body was taken to his old home on Tuesday morning.

Nels O. Paulsrud was born in Norway, July 22d, 1847, where he received a good education and in 1868 was married to Miss Betsy Amundson one year before emigrating to America. He was for three years a resident of Zumbrota then removed to Wilkin County, and in the spring of '72 he came to Polk County settling in the town of Hubbard where he resided until his election to the office of sheriff of Polk County in 1886, when he came to this city where he has since resided. Mr. Paulsrud was a very prominent man very popular with his people a very large hearted man generous to a fault. He leaves a wife and eight children, four boys and four girls to mourn the loss of a kind father, an affectionate husband. He was a strong, rugged man, apparently the picture of health and yet suddenly and almost without warning he was cut down in the prime of life illustrating how true it is that in life we are in death, how thin the veil that separates time from eternity.

Together with Monsieur E. Lanctot the writer had the pleasure of a trip to Terrebonne last week to attend a grand alliance rally. Enroute may be seen hundreds of acres of wheat and the farmers were busy seeding oats or preparing the ground for barley. The further east one goes the more apparent becomes the need of rain. We arrived at the residence of Joseph Terrien, Esq. about 5 o'clock. Here we found a nice roomy farm house and a fine farm of 480 acres in excellent condition. Mr. Terrien was a former resident of Crookston. He built the Canada House here and for several years successfully operated it, until he sold it to Mr. Beaupre and went out to Terrebonne, where he settled upon his present fine farm, then a wilderness of brush. He has now a comfortable house, a good barn and granary, a machine shed, substantial hog house and hen house, and everything about the place indicates thrift. Hardly a straw can be seen about the house and grounds, and the same air of neatness prevailing outside is noticeable within, as Madame Terrien, though having no hired girl, manages in some way to do all her work and keep her home as neat as wax. That she does not neglect the culinary department in the cause of neatness, we are prepared to vouch from actual experience. Mr. Terrien has about 200 acres sowed to wheat and it was put in in a manner to confuse those who claim that the "farmer does not half cultivate his land." The same rules governing this farm seems to apply everywhere in Terrebonne; in fact there seems to be a genuine rivalry among the farmers here, everybody striving to do his work a little better than his neighbor, and the premises around every farm house is as neat as wax. This community gives the lie direct to those who say that the reason farmers do not prosper is that they are a shiftless, careless lot, for here the very best methods of farming are studied and carefully practiced, and men are very careful not to run in debt extravagantly. If the theory that the farmer by his careless methods is to blame because he makes nothing, is true, then this community ought to be as rich and independent as kings, for they have good soil, they work hard and raise good crops; but the fact that the man who speculates in grain reaps all the profit, leaves these hard-working farmers the bare cost of raising wheat, if that. Mr. Pillsbury says if it was not for bucket shop gambling these farmers would have got one dollar per bushel for their wheat in their home market last fall, while the fact is that their wheat did not average over 45 cents per bushel—a loss to the farmer and to this county of 55 cents per bushel, is it not? Under such circumstances it is not a matter of wonder that the alliance mass meeting was attended by hundreds of earnest farmers who are determined if such a thing be possible to establish a market wherein they may obtain their due portion of this grain business. They realize the fact that their only chance to obtain justice in this market is to elect a farmer legislature and enact such laws as are necessary to prevent the wholesale robbery now going on. They know that the only way to accomplish this is by uniting in the alliance and acting as a unit upon that question. They will demand the legislative offices and will be satisfied with that. This reasonable demand we think all, or nearly all are prepared to concede the farmers. We found the crops in this town very much in need of rain but on Sunday refreshing showers fell which did an immense amount of good. With a favorable season Terrebonne will raise a grand crop and if they can get a good price they will be all right.

Hurlburt's Horses.

Van Wert News: Prof. Hurlburt has been delighting our people with his wonderful horses and dogs the past two days. At the matinee yesterday afternoon the Pavilion was crowded by old and young, and a more delighted audience never assembled in our town. The horses and dogs are well up to their tricks, and created much merriment. It has been many days since an attraction equal to the one presented by Prof. Hurlburt was seen here; in fact it has no superior and few equals. We hope he may find it convenient to give Van Wert another date soon. Opera House Wednesday and Thursday, May 14th and 15th. Matinee Thursday 4 p. m. Night prices 35 and 50 cts.

Dr. M. Van Dyke left on Saturday morning for his new home in Seattle. Dr. Van Dyke came to Crookston in 1878 and had built up a large practice but through an unfortunate visit to the coast last winter he contracted the western fever—got it bad and it has carried him off—to the coast. He leaves here many friends who would fain see him remain but who will unite with us in the most genuine wishes for his future success. No one doubts his ability to achieve this as he is one of the best physicians and surgeons in the Northwest and if there is any business in his line to be done out there he is fully competent to do it. If the report that that country is so healthy that they had to kill a man to start a graveyard, is true, we fear that the doctor business will not be lively.

On Friday night about 11 o'clock, Mr. C. Snyder was awakened by the shrieks of somebody outside. Upon going to the door he saw a chap who wanted to know if Snyder had "seen anything of Warren round this neighborhood lately." Mr. S. informed him no and tried to instruct him as to the best method to find Warren, but the chap didn't tumble worth a cent, so Snyder went with him out to the road which leads there, but the fellow was so mixed up that he declared that he did not know the points of the compass and asked Snyder if he could keep him over night. Mr. S. told him he was welcome to sleep in the barn, to which the chap gladly consented. The trouble was that the chap had tarried too long at the wine, and was decidedly mixed and hunting for a road in the dark proved too much for him. In the morning he told Mr. S. that he had been to Crookston after a doctor to see his sick wife.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

Pursuant to a call from the Mayor, a special meeting of the City Council was held May 6th, 1890, for the purpose of considering the application of John O. Sundit & Bro. for a liquor license, and also to consider the matter of streets crossed by the Duluth, Crookston and Northern Railroad, north of the Red Lake River, in the city.

President Watts in the chair.

Members Present—Aldermen: Morrisey, Steenerson, Bjoin, Jerome, Buhn, Jennings and Schmidt.

Alderman Steenerson offered the following resolution, which was seconded by Alderman Morrisey:

Resolved by the City Council of the City of Crookston, That the Duluth, Crookston and Northern Railroad Company, and its assigns, are hereby authorized and empowered to build, construct, maintain and operate their railroad over and across the streets and alleys hereafter mentioned, and indicated upon the annexed plat; it being understood that the line indicated upon the annexed plat is the centre line of the track of said railroad as projected, and that the same may be subject to a change of not exceeding two hundred (200) feet, providing that all the crossings of streets shall be at grade, or as near to grade as practicable and as indicated upon said plat, and that whenever any street is crossed above or below grade, that said company shall grade or fill such street, so as to make a convenient and suitable crossing in such a manner as may be prescribed by the Mayor and City Engineer of said city; and that while said line is being so constructed across said street, the same shall be obstructed as little as practicable and shall not unnecessarily impede public travel on said streets; and be it further

Resolved, That the Mayor and City Clerk are hereby authorized and directed to enter into and execute proper contracts with said Railroad Company for the perpetual maintenance and repairing of such crossings; and, provided further, that this grant is made upon the condition that said company will within a reasonable time after being requested so to do by the Mayor and City Clerk, execute suitable and proper contracts, undertaking to so maintain and keep in repair such crossings and to properly grade the streets affected by the construction of said line of railroad across the same. The following are the streets across which the right of way of said line of railroad is hereby granted upon the above condition, to-wit: Fifth street, in Ross' Addition, Fourth and Maple streets, original townsite, Manitoba street, McDonald avenue, in McDonald's Addition, Albert street, Central avenue, Ross street, William street, James street, Jemima street and Fourth street in Clement's addition; and be it further

Resolved, That in case it may be deemed consistent with the public utility, and welfare to vacate any of the following named streets or any part thereof, then in that event the Mayor and City Clerk are hereby authorized to negotiate with said company for a substitute and new line of outlet for the property holders abutting upon such streets, so vacated, and upon the reporting of such negotiations and the same being approved by the Council, such streets may be vacated or altered as the case may require, upon the application of said company.

Aldermen voting in the affirmative—Morrisey, Steenerson, Bjoin, Jerome, Buhn, Jennings and Watts.

Aldermen voting in the negative—none.

Upon this vote the resolution was declared carried by the President of the Council.

Passed this 6th day of May, 1890.

WM. WATTS,
President of Council.

Approved May 8th, 1890.

ALEX. MCKINNON, Mayor.

Attest: JOHN PATERSON,
City Clerk.

The liquor license bond of John O. Sundit and T. O. Sundit, Felix Fournet and Elias Steenerson as sureties, was presented.

Moved by Alderman Morrisey, seconded by Alderman Steenerson, that the bond be approved and accepted and that the liquor license be granted. Carried unanimously.

On motion Council adjourned.

JOHN PATERSON,
City Clerk.

Grand Opera-House.

La Fayette, Ind.: Prof. Hurlburt's horse and dog show, or "Hypocynogan," as he calls it, at the Grand last night, had a large audience. Those who were present were delighted, and are not backward in expressing their appreciation. The show is entirely different from what is usually seen upon the boards, or under canvass and much superior to any that has ever appeared here. Those who witnessed it last night will go again and urge their friends to do likewise. At the Opera House Wednesday and Thursday, May 14th and 15th. Matinee Thursday 4 p. m. Night prices 35 and 50cts.

A. D. STEPHENS, Crookston, Minn.

The late municipal election in St. Paul develops the fact that Roche and Reis still fashionable in that city.

The Dakota Ruralist, which is now a regular and welcome visitor to our table, is a grand alliance paper and is doing a noble work in the cause of justice to the farmer.

The Duluth Tribune comes out in a long editorial intended to prove why a convention in June would bring peace and prosperity to the suffering farmers of the Northwest. "Get on to the collar!"

Of all the ridiculous blunders we have heard of lately is the effort to forestall public opinion by calling a State convention at this early date. That is altogether too previous for any use. Don't get rattled, boys; the old boat is all right.

The Republican State Central Committee has been summoned to meet at St. Paul on Wednesday, for the purpose, it is said, of considering the propriety of calling a State Convention at an early date either in June or early in July. The campaign is generally long enough in all conscience' name and we believe the Republican party will make a serious blunder if it inflicts a four or five months campaign on the people. We sincerely trust that the schemes of a few wily politicians to call an early convention will be frustrated. An early convention is surely against the best interests of the people of the State and if the object is to bolster up the political fortunes of one man it would result in his defeat—either in convention or at the polls as it would richly deserve to. The first of September is plenty early enough for that convention.

The discussion that has been going on through the columns of the Great West has clearly proven that a great wrong exists in our market system, showing clearly that those who handle our wheat receive an undue share of the profits, and shows us clearly that the system should be changed in order to insure prosperity. It is a difficult matter to estimate the exact number of bushels of wheat that was raised in Polk County last year, because nearly all the wheat raised along the entire west side finds a market in Dakota, and that along the north end in Marshall County. Grand Forks County claims a yield of 4,000,000 bushels, and Polk County certainly produced one-half of that amount, which would be 2,000,000. This we do not think is far out of the way. Taking this amount as a basis, it is easy to calculate what the loss of a grade means, what the loss by undue dockage. Only one cent per bushel less than our grain is actually worth means a loss to the farmers and business men of our county of $20,000! Is there a man among us who will pretend to say that the loss has not been at least ten times that amount, or $200,000? If Mr. Pillsbury's statement is correct, $2,000,00 is not one-half the amount that the system exacted! And yet there are men who seem to be filled with astonishment that the farmers complain of injustice, and that they desire to see a market wherein they may have a chance to get what the markets of the world will warrant them. Think of this: Wheat in Liverpool was worth $1.20 per bushel when in Polk County they would pay but 60 cents per bushel for No. 1 Hard (and no No. 1 Hard allowed!) Mr. Pillsbury claims that it costs 24 cents per bushel to get the wheat to Liverpool, including all costs for freight, insurance, profits and everything else. Well, allowing that, (which is at least 4 cents too much) you have a balance of 96 cents that the producer should have received, but did he? Oh, no! The average price paid for all the wheat in Polk County during the last season would not exceed 45 cents! Where has that 51 cents per bushel gone to? It belonged to the farmers who did the work necessary to raise the wheat, it belonged to the business of the county; it means only $1,020,000 less in the county than we were entitled to. This estimate supposes every bushel to have been No. 1 Hard, but shows no greater difference between what we got and what we should have got than has been made in the grades they have allowed us. The amount per bushel that we lose is practically the same on every grade, so that while lower grades made showed a less sum total, our losses and here is where the shoe pinches. The farmer has to take his chances on the kind of a crop he will get. He has no system that will insure him a positive per cent. of gain, and here is all of the difference between him and the buyer. Under the system, if there is any wheat at all the buyer is absolutely certain of a large per cent. of gain. We object to that. We say that it is wrong and that it is ruining this country, and it must be changed. We demand a market wherein independent buyers may freely exercise their judgment as to the quality of our wheat, and if then we see no change in the condition of the farmers, we will frankly admit that we were wholly mistaken in our views. Under such a system at least the farmer will have no good reason to complain if he does not get justice. Mr. Pillsbury's estimate of 24 cents includes all of the exborbitant freight charges occasioned by watered stock and this must be squeezed out. Give us a free and open market, with reasonable transportation charges, Mr. Pillsbury, and we will see that you are not worried any more by the "senseless grumblings" of the farmers. Give us a free and open market!

Cheap Binding Twine.

No Question About Being Able to Get It Hereafter.

The Minneapolis Journal.

Farm, Stock and Home, agricultural paper of this city, is in receipt of an unofficial report from one of the committee recently sent East to reinvestigate the subject of manufacturing binding twine at the state prison. It will be remembered that R. J. Hall, president of the state Farmers' Alliance, recently asserted that a plant capable of making 2,500 pounds of twine daily could be placed in the prison for less than $20,000, that there was plenty of room and power there for the accommodation and operation, and an abundance of labor sufficiently intelligent and skilfull to perform the necessary manual labor. This claim differed so radically from the report of the commissioners appointed by the Governor last summer, which was that it would require from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000 to erect the plant, and it would then be a question whether the state could furnish the twine at a lower price than private manufacturers were doing it. The new committee has now been East some two weeks, and the following letter from one of its members is the first news received from it.

PATERSON, N. J., May 9, 1890.—Editor of the Farm, Stock and Home—We have caught our rabbit, and will proceed to cook it when we get back home. We find that Mr. Todd has got just the machinery we have been looking for, and we have seen it in operation. Yesterday we visited his works at Paterson, N. J., and saw him take the common Canada tow and make it into binding twine. I have a ball of the twine in my possession which I watched from the first process to the finished article. I send you by express another ball which I saw made, so that you can show it to all who are interested in the matter. The "trust" is now in session in this city, and I think are trying to "catch on" to our racket, but we have got too much light to be hoodwinked at this stage of the game.

The tow of which this twine is made cost, at Paterson, 4 cents, and it can be manufactured into twine for 1½ cents, so it might be furnished at Stillwater at a cost not to exceed 6 cents a pound. Freight to any part of Minnesota or Dakota of 1 cent makes it not more than 7 cents. The sample sent runs about 500 feet to the pound, but is considerably heavier than is necessary.

Peterson for June is unusually rich with excellent illustrations. "Her Seventh Birthday," "A June Twilight" and "His Mother's Message," are all charming and totally unlike in subject and treatment. The opening story "Frank Raymond's Faith," is capitally illustrated. The mammoth fashion-plate, with other illustrations of Summer dresses, and the needlework designs cannot fail to interest the ladies. Miss Ella Higginson's novelet "A Love and a Passion," is full of interest and power, and Miss Alice Bowman's "Story of Dagma," is ahead of any of her previous serials. "When Did Uncle Philbroke Die," is an original as it is interesting. "Some Hardy Plants," by Joyce Ray will be welcome and useful to every possessor of a garden, and Miss Scovil's paper on "Asphyxia" is exceedingly useful. The July number begins a new volume, and the list of contents gives promise of great brilliancy. Terms, two dollars a year. One dollar for six months. Sample copy, five cents. Address, Peterson's Magazine, Philadelphia.

Different Plans.

The Western Rural.

The general unrest of the people is giving the professional writers a fine opportunity to leap into fame and fortune. The time is unquestionably here when any lively written book that will point out any sort of a plan, that has the slightest earmarks of possible practicability for the improvement of the condition of the masses, will find a ready sale. Bellamy's Nationalism has gone like hot cakes. Cæsar's Column—a new book which pictures ultimate anarchy as the result of present social conditions—is creating something of an excitement, a fact which shows that people are willing to read anything that pictures any sort of an end to present conditions. These books and the interest they awaken may result in good as a means of agitating, for any book that attempts to define any sort of an ultimate outcome, must necessarily describe present conditions and that is useful. But in reading a book like Bellamy's, we are impressed with the fact that the people are looking too far ahead, even if they think that anything like his plan is feasible. It requires a long time to radically change a civilization. It requires a very long time to establish popular government on this continent. It was in the process of birth from the time that the Pilgrims landed on Plymouth Rock. Finally the beginning of the end came, and it took some years to reach the end from that time. The Rural is quite willing and even anxious to welcome any agitation or suggestion that may possibly prove of ultimate good to the human race. It certainly cannot be charged with opposing plans that have even looked foolish. But while it is desirable to labor and look for more permanent relief than could possibly come to us at once, it is equally desirable to get some measure of relief at once.

We cannot go on as we have been going. We cannot produce farm crops at a loss for another two or three years. We cannot stand with our arms folded while farmers are being turned into the roads, for no fault of theirs, but simply as a result of unnatural conditions that have been favored by law, government and custom. We must turn short about with regard to some things. Rings and monopolies and trusts must be legislated out of existence; government must stop legislating and generally favoring the rich and throwing its influence against the masses. We can put the railroads under strict government control; we can legislate the watered stock out of existence; we can stop the organization of trusts; we can put a muzzle on the money loaning Shylock and government can come to the direct relief of the farmer, as it has fecquently come to the direct relief of the manufacturer, the merchant and even of Wall street. The farmer has been a hundred years without any legislation in his interest or government patronage, except that the Department of Agriculture has sent him an occasional package of seed that was good for nothing. He has been utterly neglected while every other class has been favored. Give us a change. Neglect the other classes awhile and give some attention to the farmer, and let us all try to center upon one plan, even if it is not the most perfect.

Carlton College is situated at Northfield, Minn., a pleasant and healthful location, with good railroad facilities, and well adapted to the purpose of an educational institution. It is Christian, but not sectarian, and is open to both ladies and gentlemen. Its Collegiate Department offers three courses, adapted to the various needs and tastes of its students. It has also a Preparatory Department, to fit students for College; an English Academy Department for those who wish a shorter course; a Musical Department, with regular courses of study in vocal and instrumental music, and provision for competent instruction in drawing, painting, stenography, type-writing, and military drill. Its total enrollment for the year is about 300. The increased attendance in the Collegiate Department is especially gratifying. Among the current signs of progress may be noted considerable additions to the library, the increase in the number of elective studies, arrangements for additional teaching, and the completion of the equipment of the observatory, including the purchase of a fine fifteen-thousand-dollar telescope. The President, Rev. James W. Strong, D. D., has been relieved of his class-room duties, that he may devote himself exclusively to the general interests of the College.

The Fifth District Politician Makes a Few Corrections.

To the Editor of the Globe.

Your article in yesterday's edition entitled "Halvor's bad break," based, I presume, upon an alleged interview published in Thursday's Dispatch, does me great injustice. In the first place, said interview was not correct, for I only stated as a matter of news to the Dispatch reporter that O. M. Lucken, of Crookston, was a candidate for state treasurer. When asked about him, I further stated that he had served a long time as county treasurer of Polk county, was an old soldier and popular in the district, and that, as it was generally conceded that the Norwegians were entitled to a representative on the state ticket, in the event of the retirement of Gov. Rice, no better man than Mr. L. could be found. This is all I said, and that I will stand by, but the rest of the interview is invention. I never mentioned any other nationality, and I will say that your statement that I have set out to do up the Swedish as well as the German Republicans is false. I have not set out to do up any nationality or individual, politically or otherwise. I will say, further, that Collector Marcus Johnson, Col. Hans Mattson and Col. Bobleter are all my personal friends, and I never thought of them at all when I mentioned Mr. Lucken's name for treaurer. I do not know now that the two last-named gentlemen, who so creditably have filled their respective offices for two terms, are candidates for a third. In fact, I supposed they were not. By publishing this you will much oblige "The Great Defeated."

Money to Loan

On More Reasonable and Better Terms than Ever Before Offered in the Northwest.

We are now prepared to loan money in any amount from $250 up to $10,000 on well improved farms where title has been perfected, and U. S. patent is on record or has been issued.

Our terms are 8 per cent. interest, with a small commission to cover expenses and cost of making the loan.

Where the security is satisfactory we can make loans for five or any greater number of years, interest payable annually on the first day of January, and will allow the borrower, after two years, to pay any part of the principal, in sums of $100 or upwards on any interest day named in his notes. So much for straight loans.

We are the agents for the Union Central Life Insurance Company, of Cincinati, Ohio, a company of great strength, and a public record for probity and fair dealing unsurpassed; and can write life insurance in connection with loans with great profit and advantage to the borrower, which, taken in connection with the loan for ten years, pays the loan by yearly payments, which is more fully shown by the following statement: A, aged 25 years, of sound health, applies for a loan of $1,000 on his farm, at the same time he applies for $1,000 insurance on the 10 years annual payment stock-endowment plan. He pays as follows:

Each year on his insurance........$88 44
Each year on his loan for interest........80 00
Total yearly payments...$168 44
Total for ten years........1684 40

which pays up for the insurance, and the insurance pays the loan in full.

If the borrower dies during the ten years his insurance becomes payable and due at once and pays his loan in full, leaving his farm clear and free of all encumbrances, for his family.

NOTE THE DIFFERENCE.

If the borrower effects a loan of $1,000 on the plan usually followed, he must pay interest at the rate of ten per cent. and may be stated as follows:

$1,000 for five years, annual interest........$ 100 00
At the end of the loan he pays interest in the sum of........500 00
When the loan is due he pays..1000 00
Principal and interest paid in 5 years........1500 00

As much within $184 40 as he pays in ten years with insurance with us.

If he makes such a loan for ten years he pays:

Interest........$1000 00
Principal at end of 10 years.....1000 00
Total........$2000 00

or $315.60 more than he would pay with us; besides on the 10 per cent. plan he is not insured against death, and if he dies during the life of the loan the "Old Detestable Mortgage" still hangs over the heads of his defenceless wife and children.

FERTILE, May 5th, 1890.

ED. JOURNAL:—It was a large assemblage of intelligent farmers which gathered at the alliance meeting in the town of Liberty, and there exchanged thoughts and discussed ways and means. If no other good results from our meeting than what we derived from our sociability, we are well paid for our time. We are wide awake for business. The name of every farmer residing in our town, and some in adjoining towns, who was not already a member of the alliance, was presented for membership. After transacting our regular business, members who were appointed at our former meeting for the good of the order, were called on. Mr. Nels Muss delivered a speech which for thought and delivery deserves mention. He showed our farmers the benefits to be derived by our sub-treasury, how it would not only benefit the farmer but also the merchant. He cautioned the farmer to go slow and not expect to revolutionize the whole country at once; and also, in reference to our trade, he is not in favor of trying to run stores, but says when we get our sub-treasury law, then we will have cash, and that cash will regulate prices. The merchant is far better satisfied to do business with a profit of 5 to 20 per cent. where he receives his cash than to have 75 per cent. on time. With cash he can do business with less capital, handle the money several times where he handles it once on the time system. Altogether our meeting was a success, and we advise our neighboring alliances to appoint at least three members at each meeting for speeches, essays or reading for the good of the order. Mr. A. Boddy, Mr. S. Refsdall and Nels Muss were appointed delegates to the County Alliance. Yours, J. S. N.

Died,

Fertile Journal.

On Tuesday, May 6, 1890, Mrs. T. H. Nesseth, aged 22 years and 4 months.

Again the Journal is called upon to chronicle the sad news of the death of an estimate lady, the wife of our respected friend, T. H. Nesseth. Although quite sick her dangerous condition was not realized until shortly before death occurred. The exact nature of the complaint from which she suffered the attending physicians were hardly able to determine, although it closely resembled typhoid fever.

The funeral services will take place to-morrow, (Friday) Rev. A. Ofstedal officiating. The remains will be interred at the Little Norway cemetery.

The Journal, in common with the many friends of the afflicted husband, desires to express its heartfelt sympathy.

"Where Lies the Fault."

The Dakota Ruralist.

Brother Cook asks some very pertinent questions in last week's Ruralist under the above coption. He says the question is often asked of me "What benefit do I or will I derive from connection with the alliance," and wishes our views. In answer will say that depends; if you stand back and wait for somebody else to think and act for you; if you refuse to do anything yourself and grumble when somebody else tries; if you object to putting a dollar a year into the treasury of the Alliance to pay for lectures to keep you waked up; if you decline to pay one dollar for your Alliance newspaper that is battling discouraging odds for you, while you support half a dozen other papers that are owned and controlled by your oppressors; if you meet in your local, county and state Alliances and pass earnest resolutions denouncing the extortions of trusts, monopolies, usurers, railroads, etc., and when election time comes step briskly to the polls and to the music of the party lash, or the gileful politicians voice, vote for the man selected by those very interests, and you know and admit it. If you ignore your own purchasing agents who are honestly and earnestly striving to secure lower prices for you, and could if you generally patronized them, and buy of the same old dealers that have charged exorbitant rates all these years and have combined to keep up prices instead of endeavoring to reduce them, if you ship your grain to Van Dusen & Co., or Pillsbury & Co., instead of to your own Alliance Elevator Co., that gives you better treatment and could help you tenfold more if properly patronized, who is to blame?

But if you will each and every one of you stiffen your spinal column and pledge yourselves anew to stand by each other and what your common sense tells you is right, if you will stand by your own institutions, whether the almighty dollar is in sight at all times or not, we necessarily make many mistakes and failures—who doesn't?

If you will insure in the Alliance Hail Association, that you all concede is by far the cheapest and safest company in the state, instead of patronizing half a dozen other companies for no other reason (unless it is a total deprivity) than because the agents of the other companies whom you pay 3 or 4 cents an acre more for taking your application than in your own company urges you to; if you would insure in the Alliance Fire and Life companies, and pay what it necessarily costs to keep your money at home, instead of sending it to New York to be returned at high rates of interest as loans on our farms.

If you would club together and dig artesian wells and farm irrigation companies of your own, utilize the power to run your own mills and have your state agents arrange to ship the Alliance brand of flour to our K. of L. and union allies in the east, if you would build co-operative cheese and butter factories and slaughter houses and dispose of the products in a similar manner, if you would start Alliance stores or concentrate your orders upon one or two stores in each village and if you will turn out and listen to and heed what the Alliance lecturers teach, you would not have to ask, "Where lies the fault?" or "What benefit will I derive?" Finally, vote never again for any man who does not represent you in fact as well as in theory, not lawyers, bankers, loan agents or unknown agents of monopoly, enough of those classes will get there without the assistance of the Alliance. If you would have your measures and demands crystalized into laws for your benefit you must send Alliance men to do it. We have tried the other for lo! these many years and they have shamefully betrayed us.

Clark County Democrat.

The ring organs are trying their best to make a break in the Farmers Alliance by a vigorous cracking of the party whip. They sing the same old song and haven't even changed the tune. We believe the farmers are too thoroughly arroused to their needs and too much in earnest in the movement to even for a moment seriously consider such trash. They realize the fact that for the past twenty-five years they have stuck to "party" through thick and thin and their condition has become more deplorable every year. Now they are going to let "our party" look out for itself for awhile and turn their attention to their own interests. The bankers' papers will have to make a different tack and start out on a new line if they expect to accomplish their purpose. Everybody knows that you would "gladly lend a helping hand to any movement that will tend to place the farmers of South Dakota on a better financial footing" but as "any movement" that will benefit the farmers would be in opposition to the interests of the men who own you, you are compelled to follow in the path marked out for you and leave the farmers' movement to take care of itself.

MORTGAGE SALE.

[First publication May 8th, 1890.]

DEFAULT HAVING BEEN MADE IN THE conditions of a certain indenture of mortgage, dated November 17th, A. D. 1888, made by Clara M. Howes and Joseph W. Howes, her husband, to Willford and Northway Manufacturing Company, a domestic corporation, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Polk County, Minnesota, on the 7th day of December, A. D. 1888, in book 41 of mortgages, pages 65 and 68, conveying and mortgaging the following described premises situated in said county of Polk, to-wit: Lots seven (7), eight (8), and nine (9), block fifty-nine (59), in original townsite of Thief River Falls, Polk County, Minnesota, as it appears upon the recorded plat thereof in the office of said Register of Deeds, on which there is claimed to be due and unpaid and is due and unpaid at the date hereof $2,105, for interest and principal secured by said mortgage and for attorney's and solicitor's fees as therein conditioned. And default having been made in the payment of the principal sum at maturity, with interest at the rate of ten per centum per annum; and said mortgage containing a power, therewith recorded, authorising a foreclosure of, said mortgage in case of said default, and no proceedings at law or equity having been instituted to recover said debt or any part thereof. Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of said power of sale and foreclosure now having become operative, and pursuant to statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of said mortgaged premises at public auction, at the front door of the Court House in Crookston in said county, on Friday, the 20th day of June, A. D. 1890, at 10 o'clock a. m. of that day to satisfy the sum herein claimed due, together with all the costs and charges of foreclosure.

Notice of Mortgage Foreclosure Sale.

(First publication April 3d, 1890.)

DEFAULT HAVING BEEN MADE IN THE payment of the sum of one hundred and twenty-five dollars, installment of interest which became due and payable the 5th day of March, 1889, and a further default having been made in the payment of the sum of one hundred and twenty-five dollars, installment of interest, which became due and payable on the 5th day of March, A. D. 1890, upon a certain mortgage, made, executed and delivered by Charles Netzer an unmarried man, Rosalia J. Netzer and Joseph Netzer, her husband, and Johanna Netzer, a widow, all of Crookston, Polk County, Minnesota, mortgagors, to the Netherlands American Land Company, of Amsterdam, Holland, mortgagee, bearing date the 5th day of March, A. D. 1887, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the county of Polk, and State of Minnesota, on the 8th day of March, 1887, at 2:55 o'clock p. m., in book "29" of mortgages, at pages 232 to 236.

And, whereas, a further default has been made in the conditions of said mortgage by the mortgagors failing and neglecting to pay the taxes assessed against, and levied upon said premises covered by said mortgage, prior to the date of the sale of lands for the payment of taxes, and the mortgagee, to protect the lien of its said mortgage, was compelled to pay and prior to the date of this notice did pay, in satisfaction of the taxes then due and delinquent on the said premises, the sum of three hundred and twenty and 83-100 ($320.83) dollars; and the said defaults having each continued for a period of more than thirty days, the whole sum secured by said mortgage is hereby declared to be due and payable, as stipulated in said mortgage in case of a failure to comply with the conditions thereof; and by reason of such defaults and declaration, there is claimed to be due, and there is due and payable on said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of seventeen hundred thirty-one and 95-100 ($1731.95) dollars, and no action or proceedings at law or otherwise have been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and by virtue of the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed, and the premises described in and conveyed thereby, viz: Lot one (1) of block three (3) in the original townsite of Crookston, according to the recorded plat in the office of the Register of Deeds of Polk County, Minnesota; lot fifteen, (15), sixteen, (16), and seventeen, (17), of block two (2) in Hurlbut's Addition to Crookston, according to the recorded plat in the office of the Register of Deeds of Polk County, Minnesota, and the north part of lot fifteen (15), block five (5) in L. Fletcher's Addition to Crookston, as recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Polk County, Minnesota, being twenty-five (25) feet in width fronting on Oak street, (now called Broadway) and twenty (20) feet in width on the rear end of said lot, together with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt, interest, taxes and seventy-five dollars as attorney's fees, stipulated in said mortgage to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; which sale will be made at the front door of the Court House, in Crookston, county of Polk and State of Minnesota, by the Sheriff of Polk County, at the hour of two o'clock p. m., on the 17th day of May, A. D. 1890, subject to redemption at any time within one year, in manner provided by law.

MORTGAGE SALE.

WHEREAS, LOUIS HINCE AND ANNA Hince, his wife, of Polk County, State of Minnesota, as mortgagors, did, on the 3d day of April, A. D. 1886, duly execute and deliver to The New England Mortgage Security Company, of the County of Windham, State of Connecticut, their mortgage bearing date of March 23d, A. D. 1886, whereby they mortgaged to said mortgagee the following described lands situated in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, to-wit: The fractional northeast quarter of Section 2, Township 151, Range 46 west, containing 166 and 25-100 acres, to secure the payment of the sum of six hundred and fifty dollars, with interest thereon, according to the conditions of one certain promissory note, with interest coupons attached, bearing even date with said mortgage and made by said mortgagors to said mortgagee, or order, which said mortgage was, on the 12th day of April, A. D. 1886, at 9 o'clock a. m., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Polk, in book 27 of mortgages, on page 137; and

Whereas, default has been made in the payment of the sum of fifty-two dollars, due as interest upon said mortgage on the first day of January, A. D. 1890, and the said interest is still unpaid and due; and

Whereas, it was stipulated by and between the parties to said mortgage, that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants therein contained on the part of the mortgagors to be kept and performed, that then and from thenceforth it shall be lawful for the said mortgagee, or its assigns, to consider and declare the whole sum secured thereby as immediately due and payable without notice to said mortgagors or any other party; and

Whereas, The New England mortgage Security Company, has exercised its option to consider and declare, and does hereby consider and declare the whole sum of money secured by said mortgage to be due and payable; and

Whereas, there is now due, and claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of seven hundred nineteen and 18-100 dollars, and no proceedings have been instituted at law or otherwise to recover the same or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained and therewith recorded, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the land therein described, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Crookston, in said County and State, on the 14th day of June, A. D. 1890, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash; to pay the sum due on said mortgage, together with taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty dollars attorney's fees therein stipulated to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as provided by law.

Dated May 2d, A. D. 1890.

WILKINSON & O'BRIEN,
Attorneys for Mortgagee,
[30-4] Crookston, Minn.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, COUNTY OF POLK—ss. In Probate Court, special term, April 30th, 1890.

In the matter of the estate of Edwin Benjamin, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of Ruth Ann Benjamin, administratrix of said estate, setting forth the amount of personal estate that has come into her hands, the disposition thereof, and how much remains undisposed of; the amount of debts outstanding against said deceased, as far as the same can be ascertained; the legacies unpaid, and a description of all the real estate, excepting the homestead, of which said deceased died seized, and the condition and value of the respective portions or lots thereof; the persons interested in said estate, with their residences; and praying that license be to her granted to sell the southeast quarter Sec. 13, Tp. 149, R. 43, at private sale. And it appearing by said petition that there is not sufficient personal estate in the hands of said administratrix to pay said debts, the legacies or expenses of administration, and that it is necessary for the payment of such debts, legacies or expenses to sell all of said real estate.

It is therefore ordered, that all persons interested in said estate appear before this Court on Monday, the 25th day of June, A. D. 1890, at 2 o'clock p. m., at the Probate office in Crookston, in said county, then and there to show cause (if any there be) why license should not be granted to said administratrix to sell so much of the real estate of said deceased as shall be necessary to pay such debts, legacies and expenses.

And it is further ordered, that this Order shall be published once in each week, for three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing, in THE POLK COUNTY JOURNAL, a weekly newspaper printed and published at Crookston, in said county.

Dated at Crookston, the 30th day of April, A. D. 1890.

By the Court: C. O. CHRISTIANSON,
Judge of Probate.

Notice of Mortgage Foreclosure Sale.

[First publication April 3d, 1890.]

DEFAULT HAVING BEEN MADE IN THE payment of the sum of twenty-five dollars, installment of interest, which became due and payable the 22d day of May, A. D. 1889, upon a certain mortgage, made, executed and delivered by Henry Cook and Annie Cook, his wife, of Polk County, Minnesota, mortgagors, to The Netherlands American Land Company, of Amsterdam, Holland, mortgagees, bearing date the 20th day of May, A. D. 1886, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the county of Polk, State of Minnesota, on the 24th day of May, A. D. 1886, at 9 o'clock a. m., in book "24" of mortgages, at pages 510 to 513.

And, whereas, a further default has been made in the conditions of said mortgage by the mortgagors failing and neglecting to pay the taxes assessed against and levied upon said premises, covered by said mortgage, prior to the date of the sale of lands for the payment of taxes, and the mortgagee, to protect the lien of its said mortgage, was compelled to pay, and on the 4th day of May, A. D. 1889, did pay, in satisfaction of the taxes then due and delinquent on the said premises the sum of eighteen and 91-100 ($18.91) dollars; and the said defaults having each continued for a period of more than thirty days, the whole sum secured by said mortgage is hereby declared to be due and payable, as stipulated in said mortgage in case of a failure to comply with the conditions thereof; and that by reason of such defaults and declaration, there is claimed to be due and payable, and there is due and payable on said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of three hundred eighteen and 61-100 ($318.61) dollars, and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and by virtue of the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed and the premises described in and conveyed thereby, viz: The southeast quarter (se¼) of Section twenty, (20), Township one hundred and fifty-four, (154), Range forty-three, (43), containing one hundred and sixty (160) acres more or less, according to the United States government survey thereof, together with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt, interest and taxes, and twenty-five dollars as attorney's fees, stipulated in said mortgage to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; which sale will be made at the front door of the Court House, in Crookston, in the county of Polk, State of Minnesota, by the Sheriff of said county of Polk, at the hour of two o'clock p. m., on the 17th day of May, A. D. 1890, subject to redemption at any time within one year, in manner provided by law.

NEWSPAPER LAW.

1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for the payment.
2. If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscriptions, the suit may be instituted where the paper is published.
4. The Courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers or periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid for, is prima facie evidence of intention to defraud.

AN ALLIANCE VICTORY.

The Supreme Court of Nebraska Decides the Elmwood Elevator Case.

THE RIGHT OF WAY CAN BE USED.

The Power of the State Board of Transportation in Cases of the Kind Is Affirmed.

LINCOLN, Neb., May 14.—The supreme court has decided the celebrated Elmwood elevator case. Something like a year ago the Farmers' Alliance at Elmwood appealed to the Missouri Pacific for the right to erect an elevator on the right of way at that place, and was refused. It then carried the case to the state board of transportation and secured an order on the company to comply with the request. The company refused to obey and Atty.-Gen. Luse, on behalf of the board and the alliance, applied to the supreme court for a writ of mandamus to compel the railroad company to respect the orders of the board. The court granted the writ, thus sustaining the action of the board. This decision is regarded as an important one, as it settles the question of the power and jurisdiction of the board of transportation over this class of cases. It also settles the right of the people to erect elevators at the company's stations and be accorded equal shipping facilities with all others. This was a test case on which the fate of fully a dozen other cases in various parts of the state depended.

FARMERS ASK JUSTICE.

They Want Subtreasuries All Over the Country.

The St. Paul Daily Globe.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—A delegation representing the Farmers' alliance appeared before the ways and means committee this morning to advocate the passage of the Pickler bill to create subtreasuries in different parts of the country for the reception of staple crops produced by farmers. The spokesman was C. W. Macune, chairman of the legislative committee of the alliance and editor of the National Economist. He said they did not ask the enactment of any unconstitutional measure, but as a grand debtor class, as the men who had gone out into the West after the war and laid the soil under contribution with borrowed money, they protested against the contraction of the currency at a time when their debts became due, and asked that the conditions be restored to what they were when the money was borrowed. They asked justice, pure and simple. Mr. Macune will continue his argument to-morrow.

Kansas City's Lack

Badly Behind in Parks—Minneapolis Far Ahead of Her.

Dr. C. E. Dampier, a well known physician of northern Minnesota, accompanied by ex-Mayor E. M. Walsh, of Crookston, in that state, is visiting friends in this city, after an extended trip throughout the entire West.

"This is my first visit to Kansas City" said Dr. Dampier, this morning, to a reporter for the Star, "and having been here but a few days, perhaps it is hardly fair for me to express an opinion, but I am surprised to find the city so far behind all the other cities we have visited in the matter of drives and parks. Minneapolis is laying out a beautiful and comprehensive park system and has employed the best landscape artist in the United States to plan and arrange it. Chicago has a splendid boulevard system and the park commissioners there would make a boulevard of every available street if they acceded to the requests of the property owners. And the property owners pay the entire cost of the construction, too, as they do in all cities we visited that have boulevards. When the boulevards are turned over to the park commissioners the commissioners maintain them perpetually without cost to the abutting property. Take outlying property there worth $30 to $40 a foot. The day the boulevard is constructed it is worth $175 to $200. At least they tell me that has always been the result. Even if it didn't advance in value a cent, that being perpetually freed from all charges for the care and maintenance of the street converted into a boulevard is regarded as being alone well worth the cost.

"San Francisco has a magnificent park and splendid boulevards, and nearly all the more enterprising and larger cities of the West either have parks already or are working to secure them."

Leaders Wanted.

The masses are greatly in need of bold leaders, men of good judgment, sound convictions and with the courage of their convictions. All great reforms have been inaugurated and carried to a successful ending by just such men. But the man who becomes a leader in the work of reform must be a man of peculiar construction. He must be endowed first of all with an almost incredible degree of patience, for without that virtue he will never be able to bear the stupidity with which he will come in contact, the misconstruction of his notions, and the warfare which those whose interests are being affected by his advocacy of reform will wage upon him. He must be influenced by higher motives than the hope of pecuniary gain. True reforms do not make much money, for capital is never on the side of reform. It is too conservative and selfish; too prone to create evils which must be battled against, and too self-satisfied to make much effort even if it may sometimes see the necessity of reform in certain directions. Reforms never originate among what we call the higher or the lower classes. It is among the middling classes that reforms are born and it is from those classes that reforms secure their support.

But there are leaders in all reforms, some one may say. That is hardly true. Some reforms have no one who can by the greatest stretch of imagination be called a leader. It is true some men may be conspicuous in them, but utterly lack the qualifications which men must possess to qualify them for leadership. Other reforms have leaders but they are not supported as they should be. No general can fight the battles of a war. He must have a harmonious corps of officers who will act with him, and when he has these he can properly marshal his army and it will do the fighting. A great hindrance to the advancement of those reforms in which we as farmers are interested is the fact that those who have led have not been properly supported by others who should have come out as leaders. Affairs are left to drift as they will; and yet there is not a farming school district in the entire West or indeed in the entire country in which there is not some one who could step to the front and become a leader of influence. It is not a difficult work to do either, not nearly as difficult as farmers sometimes think. Over the entire country there is practically a unanimous sentiment among farmers that something ought to be done and that something must be done. These people are just waiting for some man to take the lead; some one to lead in the organization of an Alliance; some one to lead in revolt against partisan ring methods; some one simply to say: Come on boys, we will go together and stand together for our rights. Who will do this in your community, reader? Who will take the first step toward inviting farmers to meet at the school house or elsewhere to form an Alliance or some other farmers' organization? Who will lift his voice for right and justice to the farmer?

Want It Amended.

Minnesota Congressman Are Not Pleased With the Tariff Bill in Its Present Shape.

Congressman Comstock Wants Free Twine and No Increase on Woolen Goods.

Farmers' Alliance Representatives Speak in Favor of Pickler's Sub-Treasury Bill.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—The congressman from Minnesota have decided that they will try to secure amendment to the tariff bill. Congressman Comstock said that when the schedules affecting the Western states were reached, the Minnesota delegation would have some amendments to offer, provided that other members did not come to the front with the same class of amendments. Mr. Comstock says Minnesota wants free binding twine and no increase of duty on woolen goods. He also wants the duty on metals reduced from the schedule fixed in the bill. Mr. Snider will support the free binding twine amendment and will ask to have the duty on steel rails, fixed at $13 by the committee, reduced to $10. He will also offer an amendment to have the iron ore schedule reduced from 75 cents to 50 cents per ton, and will also present an amendment reducing the duty on certain brands of tobacco. Mr. Dunnell also wants certain changes in the schedules.

Polk County Journal.

W. G. COOKE, Publisher.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

CROOKSTON, MINNESOTA, MAY 22, 1890.

Dr. Fish

Editor of The Great West will address the Farmers of Norman County on THURSDAY MAY 29th

at Ada.

And the farmers of Polk County on Friday, May 30th, at Fertile, and

SATURDAY MAY 31st

AT CROOKSTON.

Every farmer in Polk County should turn out and listen to this able advocate of the principles of the Farmers Alliance.

Round Home.

Wheat was quoted at 77cents on Monday.

The weather this week has been very favorable for crops.

Dr. C. E. Dampier arrived home on Wednesday morning.

Don't forget that Dr. Fish speaks in Crookston on Saturday, May 31st.

I. I. Hillestad came down on the train from Fosston on Tuesday evening.

Dr. M. Watts has taken possession of Dr. M. Van Dyke's old office on Second St.

Upon the whole the day was well enjoyed by the participants in the proceedings.

Tell your neighbors that Dr. Fish will speak at Crookston on Saturday, May 31st.

A. Paradis came in from Poplar River this week to see how things are running in the big city.

K. O. Gigstad and Erick Hoff came down from St. Hilaire on Monday to enjoy metropolitan life for a few days.

Senator H. Burkhardt has disposed of his interests in the brewery to his former partner Mr. August Walters.

I. K. Messe't came in from Winger on Tuesday's train. It is said that I. K. is a candidate for Clerk of the Court.

Not to be behindhand, Mason & Robinson have started up their soda fountain business. It is nice, these hot days.

Jorgenson's building grows skyward apace. The first floor is on and the work of bricklaying goes briskly forward.

Charlie Rapp was in from St. Hilaire over Sunday. Came down on Friday with the good-looking editor of the Spectator.

The county board met on Wednesday morning and in a few minutes appointed John Paterson sheriff vice N. O. Paulsrud deceased.

Work on the new railroad is being pushed as rapidly as circumstances will permit. At this rate it will be ready for operation in six weeks.

Lew Freeman was over from the Forks on Tuesday. He was exhibiting a handsome English shire colt upon our streets from his Fisher farm.

The past week has been a good one for grain so far as moisture is concerned but the weather has been extremely cold—some think too cold.

The willow-wielders of McIntosh tried conclusions with the Crookston club on Friday last being left by a large majority. Our club is getting ready to tackle St. Paul or some other poor club in the league.

Photographer Francis has sold his gallery and leaves this week to see about getting his car ready to take the road. Mr. F. is one of the best photographers Crookston ever had—and she has had some pretty good ones.

Mrs. I. U. Jenning's has just received a large and new stock of children's hats ranging in prices from 15 cts. to three dollars, also a large assortment of summer flowers. [5-6]

Our genial city treasurer, Capt. Couverette was the lucky man at Saake's drawing on Saturday evening last and now wears a $50 gold watch at a cost of only $4. With all this sudden wealth thrust upon him by the hand of fate, as it were, the Capt. is not too proud to associate with us common fellows.

Anhaug Gestenson, a single woman aged about 50 years was found dead in the brush near Erskine on Friday morning. The coroner was notified but owing to his duties in the sheriff's office could not go so he empowered A. Gilmour, of McIntosh to hold an inquest. The jury decided that the woman came to her death from the effects of alcohol.

Mine host, J. E. Mitton, of the Wahpeton house was in the city on Monday shaking hands with his many old-time friends here. It will be remembered that a few years since J. E. kept hotel in this city going from here to Park River, where his hotel was destroyed by fire just as he had got it paid for. He says he is doing a fine business at Wahpeton where he has a full house all of the time.

Prof. Hurlburt's "Hippocynagon" is a wonderful institution, name and all. That [illegible] horses could never be so highly trained as his are seems incredible, [illegible] beyond belief, yet it is so as all who saw the performances can testify. They seem to understand thoroughly [illegible] to them and [illegible] to obey. The dogs were [illegible] intelligent. The [illegible] by their droll actions [illegible] compliments [illegible]

Prices lower than the lowest. Goods can't be beat. Call at Mrs. E. E. Bangs' fashionable millinery parlors on Second street.

J. G. McGrew departed for Nashville, Tenn., last week for the purpose of looking for a place in which to locate. If he is not suited there he will take a trip throughout the south land and may return to Crookston to abide. His friends all hope this may be the result.

Charlie Lowe has now more horses than dogs. Fifteen head of good work mares and horses at your own price. Cheap on time, cheaper for cash.

Our genial fellow-townsman, J. B. Ford has struck it rich at last. He has taken an agency for a patent electric business needed in every hotel and has supplied several hotels in Grand Forks. We sincerely hope he has the bonanza as he thinks it as he deserves good luck.

Hogs handled and meats cured and smoked all through the summer months at reasonable rates. Also parties having hogs to sell can find a purchaser by applying at the packing house until August 1st.

[4-15] ROBERT STANTON.

Last week as Mrs. Ed. Barrette, formerly of this city, was coming from her home in Terrebonne her horse took fright and ran away, throwing the lady and her children from the buggy. One of the children, an infant, was killed and Mrs. B. injured somewhat though not so much as to prevent her walking to Gentilly and carrying the body of the infant.

Don't forget that Dr. Fish will speak in this city on Saturday, May 31st. The doctor is the man that runs that stalwart paper, the Great West that has done so much to put life into the Alliance work since it started last October. The doctor will tell us who has made the money in wheat during the last five years in this county—we already know who has not.

$100,000 to loan.

JOHN MCLEAN.

Nels Muus, secretary of Liberty Alliance No. 818, was in the city on Thursday last. Mr. M. is an earnest worker and is doing much good in the cause. Elsewhere he announces that he will be a candidate for county treasurer. Mr. Muus is an energetic young man, a man of good education and should he be the choice of the people would discharge the duties of the office acceptably.

Owing to the rain on the 17th the parade had to be omitted and the speeches were made in the opera house. H. Messor delivered an address in Norwegian and Col. W. C. Plummer in English. In the evening the play "American Fancies" was presented by home talent to a large and appreciative audience. A ball was also given in the old Grand Army Hall which was largely attended and pronounced a fine affair.

Crookston theatre goers are promised a rare treat for the 29th, 30th and 31st. The McLean & Prescott Company will appear on those dates in Shakspearean plays such as "Othello," "The Winters Tale," "As You Like It," &c. This company is highly spoken of by the press and will no doubt furnish our people a high class of entertainments. They have just finished a three weeks engagement at Winnipeg, where they are highly spoken of.

Cunningham Bros. lost a valuable mare on Friday the 16th. The animal was at the trough drinking when she suddenly commenced backing, turned her head to the left side and fell, expiring immediately. The animal was insured in the Fergus Falls Company but as they lost one last summer that was so insured and as yet have received no money, it seems to be somewhat of a question whether they get pay for this animal. What is the matter with that company anyhow? Is it insolvent?

THE JOURNAL is informed that the N. P. intends to build a line of road from Moorhead north, paralelling the Moorhead Northern to Fisher, thence to Keystone and thence to Argyle crossing at that point they will parallel the Great Northern to St. Vincent. The change in the line through Crookston would seem to give color to this statement, also their actions at and around Fisher recently. The Stephen Leader confidently asserts that the N. P. will be in there this summer and the Hallock Enterprise is just as confident that it will be at Hallock also.

The county board, having failed to agree when a candidate for sheriff agreed to choose a committee of five, the democratic members to choose two, the republican members two and the four thus selected to choose the fifth. Wm. Anglim, T. A. Dunlava, John Cromb and A. D. Stephens were chosen but after wrestling with the problem awhile they failed to agree and gave it up in disgust. It seems to us that the interests of the county would be better subserved by an appointment even though it should be a democrat, and on the other hand it would appear to be for the best interests of the county that one of the deputies should be appointed as they have the run of the business and could better administer the affairs of the office than some inexperienced man. We are told that there are many tax warrants yet to serve and as this must be done before June 1st the Board should come to some agreement at its session which began yesterday or should be held responsible for their neglect by the people. Politics should not be allowed to rule this matter to the detriment of the public good. Come to some understanding, gentlemen, and let us have a sheriff appointed.

THE GREAT WEST MAN,

Dr. E. W. Fish,

Will address the farmers of Polk County on Friday, May 30th,

AT FERTILE,

And on Saturday, May 31st, at

MENTOR, May 20, 1890.

ED. JOURNAL: Mentor Alliance, No. 594, of Polk County, met at the school house in Dist. No. 81, Grove Park. The meeting was called to order by president E. E. Abbott, who made some well chosen remarks; also remarks by G. M. Swift, president of county alliance. A general discussion was then indulged in for some time among members of the alliance in regard to the purchasing of our binding twine. W. W. Attix was elected delegate to the convention to be held at Fergus Falls June 13th, 1890, with G. M. Swift, alternate. The alliance voted in favor of holding a convention at an early date to nominate candidates for legislative and county officers. Adjourned to meet in two weeks at the school house in Dist. No. 60. G. H. TRIPP, Sec.

I have received a large amount of money to loan on City property in amounts to suit the borrower. Call on,

ALEX MCKINNON.

TERREBONNE, May 10, 1890.

ED. JOURNAL: The charter for "Terrebonne Alliance, No. 822," has come at last, and we called a meeting for last Saturday, the 11th inst., and elected the following permanent officers: President, John Desforges, P. O., Red Lake Falls; vice-president, Giles Lizee, P. O. Terrebonne; secretary, J. L. Cossette, P. O., Terrebonne; treasurer, Louis Perreault, P. O., Terrebonne; delegates to county alliance, Thos. Grompe, Jr., John Clement and Cyrille Beaudin, all of Terrebonne; delegate to the fifth Congressional District Alliance, John Desforges, P. O., Red Lake Falls. We had a little speech from Mr. Demers and then adjourned till the 31st inst., at 2 p. m. J. L. COSSETTE, Sec.

For County Treasurer.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the position of county treasurer subject to the approval of the republican county convention. NELS MUUS, Sec. Liberty Alliance No. 818.

Farmers, the Great West has proved that you sustain a loss of 20 cents per bushel on No. 1 Hard wheat and you know that your greatest losses occurred on lesser grades last fall. Is not this matter worth looking into and correcting if possible? If you do not who is going to take any interest in this matter and try to correct it? While it is true that all business men are vitally interested yet it is also true that your only salvation depends upon correcting this evil and thus you are most vitally interested. You can by uniting control the situation. Is it not worth an effort? Will you fold your arms and calmly see your homes broken up and your families reduced to pauperism, or will you arise in your might and demand your rights like free men? Unite, combine with your brethren who are now already in the field and then, should you fail you will have the proud consciousness of having done your best. But you would not fail for you are powerful enough to control just as soon as you unite in the effort.

If the developments in the wheat buying system brought to light by the Great West recently mean anything they furnish a reason why the alliance should become more firmly united than ever in the effort to obtain a free and open wheat market. Dr. Fish asks Mr. Pillsbury what becomes of that margin of 20 cents per bushel that he has shown to exist between our market in Crookston and the Liverpool market and in reply Mr. P. withdraws this offer of $20,000 to the man who would prove that statement. More than significant is it not? Now all of this controversy has been upon a basis of No. 1 Hard wheat and does not figure in the thousands of bushels of wheat that has been taken out of this county at less grades than it actually was worth. It does not figure in the losses by excessive dockage, or by the difference of from 14 to 19 cents per bushel made between rejected and No. 3 in this market while the same grades sold on sample in the Minneapolis market even up all through the season. On a basis of 2,000,000 bushel, Dr. Fish shows a loss to Polk County of $400,000 while the facts if they could all be gathered would very nearly raise that figure to over good round dollars! Does that figure mean anything to the business interests of Polk County? If so does it not furnish a sufficient inducement for farmers to unite in the effort to prevent the perpetuation of a system that exacts it every year? Are your homes and the welfare of your families worth an effort to save? Is there any question of more vital importance now before farmers of Polk County? Do not these developments, suspected before but never before proved so clearly, emphasize the vital importance of your making your whole fight for the control of the coming legislature, leaving all lesser questions to the future to settle? We think so and we submit this question to every sub-alliance for discussion. If you take hold of this matter in earnest you can secure the legislature and that is the only remedy we HAVE at present.

Fisher Bulletin: Information received in Fisher on Wednesday, reports Mr. Hugh Thompson, as having slightly improvd. His ailment has finally developed into an Abcess of the Kidneys. This portends that his full recovery to health will be slow. Lulu, his daughter has been quite sick for several days but is now better.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

Proceedings of a regular meeting of the City Council of the city of Crookston, held May 13th, 1890.

President Watts in the chair.

Meeting called to order.

Members present—Aldermen Childs, Morrisey, Bjoin, Jerome, Buhn, Jennings, McLaren.

Absent—Alderman Steenerson and Schmidt.

The minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

Moved by Alderman Morrisey that the report of the finance committee with reference to transferring funds be ordered filed. Carried.

The communication from C. Jenney with reference to building a grist mill, was referred to the ways and means committee.

Moved by Alderman Childs, seconded by Alderman Buhn, that the matter of purchasing a dumping ground for the city be referred to the ways and means committee. Carried.

A petition was presented signed by Mossefin & Lindell and others, asking permission to build a sidewalk crossing Robert street, between Main street and Broadway.

Moved by Alderman Jennings, seconded by Alderman Buhn, that the petition be granted, and that the work be constructed under the supervision of the street commissioner. Carried.

Moved by Alderman Jerome, seconded by Alderman Morrisey, that the bid of T. Rejombal for constructing sidewalk in Jerome's Addition be accepted. Carried.

Moved by Alderman Jennings, seconded by Alderman Buhn, that the street commissioner be instructed to build sidewalks where the assessment has been made. Carried.

Moved by Alderman Morrisey, seconded by Alderman Jennings, that the president and vice-president of the council be requested to confer with the city attorney with reference to the legality of the sewer assessment.

Moved by Alderman Childs, seconded by Alderman Bjoin, that the clerk be instructed to publish the treasurer's report. Carried.

Moved by Alderman Childs, seconded by Alderman Morrisey, that the report on the city funds be referred to the comptroller and financial committee to report at next meeting. Carried.

Moved by Alderman McLaren, seconded by Alderman Childs, that there be appropriated out of the general fund the sum of $150, or so much thereof as may be necessary, for the purpose of placing a water tank at the public well in the 5th ward for the purpose of a supply of water in case of fire.

Ayes—Aldermen Childs, Bjoin, Morrisey, McLaren, Jerome.

Nays—Jennings and Watts.

Moved by Alderman Jennings, seconded by Alderman Morrisey, that the purchasing agent be instructed to purchase a hose cart for the fire department. Carried.

Moved by Alderman Morrisey, seconded by Alderman Jerome, that the comptroller and clerk be authorized to purchase suitable desks for their offices at a sum not to exceed $75 for both. Carried.

The committee on poor fund recommended that the chief of police act as superintendent of poor and that all orders for money or aid fund shall be signed by the chairman and at least one member of the committee, and request the Council to authorize them to pay cash instead of orders where the committee considers best. Carried.

Moved by Alderman Jennings, seconded by Alderman Buhn, that the purchasing agent be instructed to purchase 500 feet of hose for the Crookston fire department. Carried.

Moved by Alderman Morrisey, seconded by Alderman Jennings, that the Aldermen of the Second ward be requested to correspond with the Great Northern Railroad Company, with reference to widening Sixth street in said ward. Carried.

The bids for the city printing were laid over until next adjourned meeting.

At a regular meeting of the City Council of the city of Crookston, held the 13th day of May, 1890, Alderman Morrisey offered the following resolution, which was seconded by Alderman Jennings:

Resolved, That the City Engineer perform the same duties as he performed last year and at the same salary, to-wit: the sum of six hundred dollars per annum.

Upon call of Ayes and nays the vote stood as follows:

Aldermen voting in the affirmative—Childs, Bjoin, Morrisey, Jerome, Buhn, Jennings.

Aldermen voting in the negative—McLaren.

Upon this vote the resolution was declared carried by the President of the Council.

Passed this 13th day of May, 1890.

WM. WATTS,
President of the Council.

Approved this 16th day of May, 1890.

ALEX. MCKINNON,
Mayor.

Attest: JOHN PATERSON,
Clerk.

At a regular meeting of the City Council of the city of Crookston, held the 13th day of May, 1890, Alderman Morrisey offered the following resolution, which was seconded by Alderman Jennings:

Resolved, That as that part of the Great Northern round house which projects upon Robert street in this city, is a very serious inconvenience to the traveling public and naturally interferes with the fire protection of that part of the city or its vicinity, we would request said Railway Company to remove the same from said Robert street as soon as they can do so, and we ask the Mayor to have the same done as soon as possible.

Upon the call of ayes and nays the vote stood as follows:

Aldermen voting in the affirmative—Childs, Bjoin, Morrisey, Jerome, Buhn, Jennings and McLaren.

Aldermen voting in the negative—none.

Upon this vote the resolution was declared carried by the President of the Council.

Passed this 13th day of May, 1890.

WM. WATTS,
President of Council.

Approved this 16th day of May 1890.

ALEX. MCKINNON, Mayor.

Attest: JOHN PATERSON,
City Clerk.

At a regular meeting of the City Council of the city of Crookston, held the 13th day of May, 1890, Alderman Jerome offered the following resolution, which was seconded by Alderman Morrisey.

Resolved, That it is the sense of this council that the Duluth, Crookston and Northern Railroad Company should not be permitted to raise the railroad grade where it crosses Washington avenue in Jerome's Addition to Crookston, until they have acquired the legal right to do so, and the Mayor is hereby requested to enforce the ordinance of the city with regard to keeping any additional obstruction from said avenue.

Upon the call of ayes and nays, the vote stood as follows:

Aldermen voting in the affirmative. Childs, Bjoin, Morrisey, Jerome, Buhn Jennings and McLaren.

Aldermen voting in the negative—none.

Upon this vote the resolution was declared carried by the President of the Council.

WM. WATTS,
President of the Council.

Approved this 16th day of May, 1890.

ALEX. MCKINNON,
Mayor.

Attest: JOHN PATERSON,
Clerk.

Minneapolis Journal: Through the tariff debate has been devoid of excitement, Congressman Comstock, of Minnesota, has listened to its from the beginning up to the present time. In this respect Mr. Comsock has distinguished himself. No other member of the house has such a record. Mr. Comstock is always in his seat at 11 o'clock and remains until the close of the day's proceedings. I asked Mr. Comstock the other day why he was so attentive upon the tariff discussion.

"It is great question," he replied. "I am a new member and don't claim to be thoroughly posted. I am here to learn. It is, in some respects a dry topic, but my constituents have sent me here to look out for their interests. I can serve them by listening to the consideration of this bill. This is the only reason why I stick to my seat so closely."

It can be stated to the credit of Mr. Comstock that he has not been absent from the house a single day since the opening of the session. In this respect he leads all his colleagues. No other man in congress, perhaps, can point to such a record. Certainly no Northwestern member can. Mr. Comstock says he does not propose to take any vacation until adjournment comes.

Cigars and Dimonds,

A Fargo Man Buys Them and Is Adjudged Insane.

Minneapolis Journal

Fargo, May 20.—Saturday Capt F. S. Demers, receiver of the Fargo United States land office, bought $250 worth of diamonds, besides large bills of dry goods, pictures, frames and boxes of expensive cigars. The latter he distributed freely, but only a few were aware that he was mildly insane at the time. That evening Keene gave a perfromance at the opera house. Demers was present and went about showing his diamonds to the people in the audince and to actors behind the scenes. His friends persuaded him to go home. Late yesterday afternoon he was adjudged insane by the board of insanity commissioners. He claims to be fabulously wealthy and to have organized a timber culture trust with Grover Cleveland persident and himself vice president. The trust company is backed by millions of dollars. He has invented a process to make trees grow, he says. He desired to attend the reception given Bishop Shanley last night, as he declared he was to make a speech, and when his friends objected he became violently insane. Finally he was told a man wanted to buy some land, and was taken to the county jail where Deputy Sheriff Barnes and Jailor McQuestian were locked in with him. He became very violent at times, but finally subsided when Dr. Darrow came up to the window of the jail and told him the reception had been postponed on his account. He was taken to the Jamestown asylum this morning. his condition was telegraphed to Washington last night and the office will probable be closed till his successor is appointed. It is feared that he is hopelessly insane.

DULUTH & WINNIPEG.

Contracts Let Yesterday for the Construction of the Remainder of the Road.

Track-Laying to be Finished by December and Trains Running by June, 1891.

ST. PAUL, May 13.—It is announced to-day that the contracts for the construction of the remainder of the Duluth & Winnipeg road have been let to Grant & Ross, and Foley Bros. & Guthrie. The laying of the track is to be completed by December 15, 1890. Determination is expressed to build a road which shall be first class in every respect. As an illustration of the work done, it is stated that 3,000 ties per mile are being laid, while ordinarily the number used on other roads is 2,640. Also sixty-two pounds of steel to the yard, as against fifty-six pounds generally placed. The minimum grade is to be fifteen feet in a mile. When the track is completely ballasted passenger trains will run from Winnipeg to Duluth in ten hours. The officers and directors of the road are now in Winnipeg to make arrangements by which the company will be enabled to commence work at once at Winnipeg and under its Manitoba charter. It is hoped that the entire line will be constructed and that trains will be running by the first of June, 1891. The company look for encouragement from the City of Winnipeg, which, they think, should provide them with terminal property as their efforts and expenditure will be directed to the building up of that city. They also expect subsidy from the government.

Terre Haute Gazette: Marie Prescott has no superior on the stage. In feature and figure, in voice, expression, intonation, action, she is all that could be desired. No wonder Orlando was in love with the fair Rosalind and placarded the forest of Arden with poetic expressions of his burning passion. It was no merit in him. Anybody would have done the same. The only wonder is that the cynical Jacques didn't forget his cynicism. This is commendation in the superlative degree, but it is deserved. Marie Prescott essayed to play the part of a lovely and lovable woman and she did it to the King's taste. We are the King.

There is no better company any where. There is only one Marie Prescott. At Crookston opera house May 29th, 30th and 31st.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, COUNTY OF POLK—ss. In Probate Court, Special Term, May 16th, 1890.

In the matter of the estate of George W. Tice, deceased.

Whereas, an instrument in writing purporting to be the last will and testament of George W. Tice, deceased, late of said county, has been delivered to this court.

And whereas, Ann M. Tice has filed therewith her petition, representing among other things that said George W. Tice died in said county, on the 4th day of May, 1890, testate, and that said petitioner is one of the executors named in said last will and testament, and praying that the said instrument may be admitted to probate, and that letters testamentary be issued thereon to the executors named in said last will and testament.

It is ordered, that the proofs of said instrument, and the said petition be heard before this court, at the Probate Office in said county, on the 25th day June, A. D. 1890, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, when all persons interested may appear for, or contest the probate of said instrument.

And it is further ordered, that notice of the time and place of said hearing be given to all persons interested, by publishing this order once in each week, for three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing, in THE POLK COUNTY JOURNAL, a weekly newspaper printed and published at Crookston, in said county.

Dated at Crookston, the 16th day of May, A. D. 1890.

By the Court: C. O. CHRISTIANSON,
Judge of Probate.

In the Great West--A Remarkable Offer---Read It.

Akron, Colorado, has probably within the past three years experienced the most rapid as well as the most healthy growth of any city in the west. It is surrounded by a country unsurpassed by any on earth for the richness and fertility of its soil and the beauties of its climate. Any, and everything that can be raised in Iowa, Illinois, Indiana or Ohio can here be grown in the greatest profusion. Wheat grown in the near vicinity of Akron, took a diploma for being the best grain of the kind exhibited at the Nebraska State fair, held at Lincoln, in September, 1889. And all crops grown in this latitude can be raised here as successfully as anywhere on earth.

GOVERNMENT LAND.

There are yet thousands of acres of government land vacant, which can be taken under the homestead, pre-emption and timber culture acts, which a person can have for the taking. A bountiful government will make you independent in a few years if you will but act now. The surface of the country is nearly a perfect level, but still sloping enough to afford good drainage. No breaks or draws such as ruin or deface so many western farms. No protracted struggle with rocks. Your first glance at the country would remind you of one vast meadow, only waiting the plow of the husbandman to transform it into an Eden of beauty and productiveness.

The citizens' advertising committee of Akron have placed in the hands of the West Side Improvement Company, one thousand city lots that are to be given away for advertising purposes, and any person who will aid them in advertising their advantages can have one of these lots FREE OF CHARGE by directing a communication to J. Faehndrich, Sec'y at Akron, Colorado, or sending him the names of ten people who are interested in the west, and liable to be looking for a western location and sending four cents in stamps for return of deed. These lots are now worth from $50 to $125, and will, in the course of a year, if the predictions of knowing ones prove true, be worth four times what is now asked for them. It is an opportunity never before offered to secure an ABSOLUTE TITLE to a piece of property in an enterprising and growing western city.

The lots referred to are each 25x135 feet in size and all the streets upon which they abut are 60 and 80 feet wide. They are in what is known as "Glenwood," an Akron, Colorado, suburb, and the citizens' committee through Mr. Faehndrich, its Sec'y, guarantees them to be smooth, level and upon a sightly elevation, overlooking the town of Akron. The title is also guaranteed to be ABSOLUTELY PERFECT.

Akron contains a set of business men who are alive to her advantages as well as her interests, and this year $30,000 is being expended by them to induse people looking for a western location to settle amongst them. They want and are determined to have 50,000 people in this city by 1895.

They want laborers in their coal mines, they want capitalists to develope their silver and gold mines.

Akron is to-day the largest and most prosperous city in the state east of Denver. It is a division station of the B. & M. R'y and is the southern terminus of the Akron & Holyoke R'y, which will, in all probability, be built to Colorado Springs in the near future. Akron is in the line of the Northwestern R. R. building into Denver, and it is sure to catch it, and the Beaver Valley branch of the B. & M. will also be built to Akron. The B. & M. shops are there and material is now on the ground to greatly enlarge them. The railroad employ 250 men at that point now. The city is and will be the railroad centre of that portion of the state. The population is now nearly two thousand and by January first next, they believe it will be 5,000. A United States land office was recently located at that point which means much to that city. It will bring every settler upon the public domain in that section to that city. It will be, and is, head-quarters for land seekers for that entire portion of the state.

COLORADO EXCURSIONS.

On May 20th, and in June excursions will be run from all points of the east and south to Akron. The rate will be one fare for the round trip, over the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific from Chicago and intermediate points, and over the Missouri Pacific from St. Louis and the South, to Omaha, Nebraska. From Omaha take the B. & M. R. R. to Akron.

The above offer of a free lot applies only to those who will, prior to June 20 aid them in a reasonable way, in making these excursions a success.

The Leviathan of The Age,

Gigantic Combine of Agriculturists,

The Farmers Organize with a Capital of $50,000,000 to Regulate the Price of Grain and put an End to Speculation.

Utica, Saturday Globe.

Chicago, May 1.—The most unique and original, as well as the most gigantic scheme of the age has been launched in Chicago, and incorporation papers have been taken out at the State capital. This scheme is the organization of what is to be known as "The Farmers' Coöperative Brotherhood of the United States, "with an authorized capital of $50,000,000, divided into one million shares of $50 each. These shares are to be sold to the farmers, no man to hold more then one, and the farmers are to control the vast sum named in order that they may dictate the prices of grain. It is not proposed to speculate with the money; the farmers will not run "corners" or bulge prices, but will see to it that the farmer gets a reasonable figure for the products of his land—enough to pay him good interest on his investment and afford him a comfortable living.

THE FRAMER OF THIS MIGHTY PROJECT is George A. Williams, a lawyer, who was born and reared on a farm. He is sanguine that the mighty project will e successful, and that when the organization becomes a cohesive power things will be changed for the better. Of course the scheme must work slowly at first, for every large body is slow in its initial movement, but when once started it is confidently predicted that it will protect farmers against the encroachment of monopolies or other combinations. In speaking of this scheme Mr. Williams says:

"We can control the corn market without difficulty. There are but five States which grow corn to any extent—Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska. With the great amount of money at our command it will not be a hard task to dictate the price of corn, and this price is to be a figure that will guarantee the farmer a fair return on his investment. I expect our stock will all be taken in the five States named and then we will be ready for other States to conquer. The base of operations will be Chicago, this being the great grain center of the United States, and we will begin work as soon as possible. Of course it will take some time to arrange all the preliminaries."

MAKE-UP OF THE ORGANIZATION.

"Any one who is a farmer or renter or personally engaged in farming may become a member of the organization by paying $1, and will be entitled to a share in the profits, for we intend to have profits. As to the officers, there will be a president, three vice presidents, two secretaries, general-in-chief, attorney, treasurer and Board of Directors. In order to systematize the business there will be different bureaus or divisions for each kind of grain, wheat oats and corn, with a loan department, a storage department and a purchasing department, each one presided over by a chief, and all under the control of the general in chief. The Board of Derectors will have general charge of the affairs of the Brotherhood and elect all the officers. In each county of every State in which the Brotherhood has a membership there is to be a head man, who shall report every month the condition of the crops and the grain in the hands of the Brotherhood. The general in chief, as his name implies, has superintendence of all the departments. Delegates from each county elect the Board of Directors."

THE PRICES WILL BE FIXED.

"We don't propose to hold any more grain than we can help, though we'll have to hold some, and for that purpose will establish Brotherhood elevators in the principal cities. We buy a farmer's grain only in case he is obliged to sell and does not wish to borrow money of the Brotherhood to hold grain, and only in such a case, in fact, when the market is below the price fixed by the Brotherhood. The Board of Directors will fix the price farmers should get for their products. Every member of the Brotherhood has a right to sell his grain to whom he sees fit, so long as the price is fair and satisfactory to the Brotherhood and not lower than the minimum fixed. Should the price be lower than that fixed by the Brotherhood then each member is pledged to give the Brotherhood the preference and the disposal of the grain at the price offered by others, or to borrow the money and hold the grain. If a member sells his grain to someone else than the Brotherhood at a less price than that given in the table of prises furnished by the presiding township member without first giving the Brotherhood notice, he will be fined $5 for the first offense; $25 for the second and forfeit half the value of the grain sold for the third, besides losing his membership in the Brotherhood and his right to all profits that might be coming to him at the time. A man will not be liable to a fine, however, if he has previously notified the Brotherhood and it is not in a position to accept the grain."

FARMERS WILL LIKE THE SCHEME.

There is hardly a doubt that the farmers will take kindly to the scheme. Hitherto they have been despondent but this organization will give them new courage and render them independent of grain gamblers and scalpers. Already many of the leading farmers of the State of Illinois have expressed themselves as favorable to the project and within a short time the organization will be popularized from Maine to California.

Standard Works.

Wm. Clements has novels from such standard authors as Dickens, Thackeroy, Scott, Pope, Charlotte Bronte, Cooper etc., etc. Those books are solidly and neatly bound in cloth and are sold at prices that are the lowest ever offered in this city. What an elegant Christmas present you can get for a very small cost. Don't fail to see these books and get prices. [31-tf]

NOTICE.

On and after this date all bills against the city must be in the comptroller's hands not later than 4 p. m., of the Monday preceeding the stated council meetings. No bills will be audited after that time.

Money to Loan

On More Reasonable and Better Terms than Ever Before Offered in the Northwest.

We are now prepared to loan money in any amount from $250 up to $10,000 on well improved farms where title has been perfected, and U. S. patent is on record or has been issued.

Our terms are 8 per cent, interest, with a small commission to cover expenses and cost of making the loan.

Where the security is satisfactory we can make loans for five or any greater number of years, interest payable annually on the first day of January, and will allow the borrower, after two years, to pay any part of the principal, in sums of $100 or upwards on any interest day named in his notes. So much for straight loans.

We are the agents for the Union Central Life Insurance Company, of Cincinati, Ohio, a company of great strength, and a public record for probity and fair dealing unsurpassed; and can write life insurance in connection with loans with great profit and advantage to the borrower, which, taken in connection with the loan for ten years, pays the loan by yearly payments, which is more fully shown by the following statement: A, aged 25 years, of sound health, applies for a loan of $1,000 on his farm, at the same time he applies for $1,000 insurance on the 10 years annual payment stock-endowment plan. He pays as follows:

Each year on his insurance $88 44

Each year on his loan for interest.. 80 00

Total yearly payments...$ 168 44

Total for ten years..........1684 40

which pays up for the insurance, and the insurance pays the loan in full.

If the borrower dies during the ten years his insurance becomes payable and due at once and pays his loan in full, leaving his farm clear and free of all encumbrances, for his family.

NOTE THE DIFFERENCE.

If the borrower effects a loan of $1,000 on the plan usually followed, he must pay interest at the rate of ten per cent. and may be stated as follows:

$1,000 for five years, annual interest.......................................$ 100 00

At the end of the loan he pays interest in the sum of.......... 500 00

When the loan is due he pays.. 1000 00

Principal and interest paid in 5 years................................. 1500 00

As much within $184.40 as he pays in ten years with insurance with us.

If he makes such a loan for ten years he pays:

Interest.....................................$1000 00

Principal at end of 10 years..... 1000 00

Total...$2000 00

or $315.60 more than he would pay with us; besides on the 10 per cent. plan he is not insured against death, and if he dies during the life of the loan the "Old Detestable Mortgage" still hangs over the heads of his defenceless wife and children.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, COUNTY OF POLK—ss
In Probate Court, special term, April 30th 1890.

In the matter of the estate of Edwin Benjamin, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of Ruth Ann Benjamin, administratrix of said estate, setting forth the amount of personal estate that has come into her hands, the disposition thereof, and how much remains undisposed of; the amount of debts outstanding against said deceased, as far as the same can be ascertained; the legacies unpaid, and a description of all the real estate, excepting the homestead, of which said deceased died seized, and the condition and value of the respective portions or lots thereof; the persons interested in said estate, with their residences; and praying that license be to her granted to sell the southeast quarter Sec. 13, Tp. 149, R. 43, at private sale. And it appearing by said petition that there is not sufficient personal estate in the hands of said administratrix to pay said debts, the legacies or expenses of administration, and that it is necessary for the payment of such debts, legacies or expenses to sell all of said real estate.

It is therefore ordered, that all persons interested in said estate appear before this Court on Monday, the 23th day of June, A. D. 1890, at 2 o'clock p. m., at the Probate office in Crookston, in said county, then and there to show cause (if any there be) why license should not be granted to said administratrix to sell so much of the real estate of said deceased as shall be necessary to pay such debts, legacies and expenses.

And it is further ordered, that this Order shall be published once in each week, for three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing, in THE POLK COUNTY JOURNAL, a weekly newspaper printed and published at Crookston, in said county.

NEWSPAPER LAW.

1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for the payment.
2. If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscriptions, the suit may be instituted where the paper is published.
4. The Courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers or periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid for, is prima facie evidence of intention to defraud.

FOR THE FARMERS.

Mr. Livingstons, the Alliance Lecturer, Continues to Argue Before the Commitee.

He Quotes Garfield. Jefferson And Calhoun As in Favor of the Sub-Treasury Plan.

The Speaker Claims That the Passage of the Bill Would Squelch Bucket-Shops.

Duluth Daily Tribune.

Washington, May 15.—The hearing of the farmers' Alliance representatives was continued before the ways and means commitee this morning. Mr. Livingston, the national lecturer of the organization, taking up the argument. He quoted President Lincoln's prophecy that corporations would be enthroned; that the property of the country would be concentrated, and that the requblic itself would be overthrown. Thank God, the last prediction has not been fulfilled; but the others had been. One-twentieth of the people of this country owned

THREE-FIFTHS OF THE PROPERTY.

He also quoted Garfield, Jefferson and Calhoun and said that what they had recommended was just what the alliance asked. If congress refused to approve the sub-treasury plan, then let it remove the restrictions hedging in the national banking system. The farmers would care nothing about trust and combinations and concentration of money if they could hold their crops in sub-treasuries, and were not compelled, as at present, to sell them at a stated time in October. It would be a Godsend to this country to pass the sub-treasury bill for the reason, if for no other, that there would in the United States. The day of speculation in crops would be done away with, and the producer and consumer would be brought together. It had been charged that the farmers were to form a trust, but this was against the farmers' nature. Sixteen millions would build all the warehouses the alliance wanted. What good were river and harbor improvements to the debt ridden, oppressed farmer? Never more than a third of the cotton crop would be warehoused. When certificates issued on that crop came in they would meet the needs of the wheat crop and then the tobacco crop, and so on. There would not be excessive changes in the volume of currency. In conclusion he said that if the committee thought the landed basis was the best; if they could not accept the crop basis, let them put it in the bill. Do something to relieve the farmers. Report the bill to the house in some shape, so that it could be acted upon. Don't make it a question of tariff or of politics, but let the bill stand on it merits.

The Great West:—Nothing exhibits the subserviency of a large portion of the country press, to "party" and to plutocracy, than their absolute silence over the crushing defeat of Mr. Pillsbury in the wheat discussion. Over half the papers in the state published that rash $20,000 challenge. But only ten have published the crawfishing when we proposed to take it up. And yet, if Mr. Pillsbury had known that wheat was going to go up when navigation opened as he claimed, he could have continued the challenge much more safely—for within a few hours wheat went up ten cents here and down five there—by the daily cable quotations. Mr. Pillsbury knows that the cable quotations are frauds. If he don't it is time that he looked into his business.

If the country press won't stand by the farmers what use have the farmers for the country press.

Northfield News: The Tracy Republican said last week: We are pleased to see the farmers of this part of the state "getting a move on themselves" in the way of organization. All other classes of men organize for mutual benefit and protection, and why not the farmer? Instead of listening to quack nostrums of inflationists free-traders and political incendiaries, the farmers might "go it alone" and make themselves felt throughout the whole nation, and to some extent at least receive a partial recognition of their worth. Farmers' Alliance are springing up all around us, and it is the duty of every intellegent farmer to use his influence in the direction of self-protection. Everyone knows that the wealth-producers of this agricultural country are the farmers, and were they united, they could have things more to their liking, than that which they now are permitted to have.

About Grain Inspection

Farm, Stock and Home.

Since the enactment of the present grain and warehouse laws, known as the "terminal inspection laws," which provide for the supervision of the public warehouses and the inspection of grain at St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth, there has been a tendency at times to criticise the utility of the law, on the ground that its operation were confined to the terminal points, and it was therefore inadequate to protect the rank and file of the army of producers in this state who were obliged to market their grain at the interior or local markets. It is argued that the prime object for which this legislation was sought has been lost sight of, and that the producer is as badly as ever in the toils of the country buyer, and is still a prey to his alleged greed and extortionate practices. It is claimed that the grain growers of this state are suffering as badly as ever for want of an honest and intelligent inspection of their grain at the home market. A number of plans and remedies have been suggested, differing in detail, but all tending to the same theory, that the state should assume control by appointing inspectors at several hundred interior markets. No system of this kind would ever prove practicable. It would involve the employment of a vast body of officials at great expense, and owing to the difference in judgment that would naturally exist among so many, the vital feature of all inspection, uniformity, could never be attained. It would be no improvement whatever over the system now in vogue at country points. This is by no means intended as an argument that the present system is correct—far from it. It is not only radically wrong, but an unauthorized assumption of authority on the part of the country buyer, and if Section 30 of the present law has any meaning or significance whatever then every person who is to day assuming to act as an inspector of grain without having first been duly appointed and sworn as such is an imposter and subject to such penalties as are prescribed. The grain laws of this state were copied largely from those of Illinois, and the framers of that law contemplated nothing further then inspection at its terminal point, Chicago. There is no authorized inspector of grain in this state outside of St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth, nor should there be. To handle and dispose of the immense volume of grain at terminal points necessitates some system of inspection and classification.

In view of the impositions that were alleged as being practiced by the Board of Trade in this work, the act of March 1, 1888, was created, placing the work under state control. The intention of the law was to create an absolutely free and open market in the country, where grain would be bought not by grade but upon its merits, the only system by which the producer can secure proper justice. In no other grain-growing state is such an incubus as our country grading system fastened upon the people, and there never can be any peace or satisfaction until we return to the simpler, time-honored methods, when the interior markets of the state were open to all who desired to buy our products. What is wanted to relieve and protect those who cannot avail themselves of direct shipment is an open market, unfettered by any grading system which robs good wheat of its proper premium, and where all buyers will be placed upon a fair and equal footing, thus creating that healthful competition that will insure the producer a just return for his labors. If a remedy for existing evils is wanted, it can be found in the direction and in no other.

NEWSPAPER LAW.

1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for the payment.
2. If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscriptions, the suit may be instituted where the paper is published.
4. The Courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers or periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid for, is prima facie evidence of intention to defraud.

FOR THE FARMERS.

Mr. Livingstons, the Alliance Lecturer, Continues to Argue Before the Commitee.

He Quotes Garfield Jefferson And Calhoun As in Favor of the Sub-Tresury Plan.

The Speaker Claims That the Passage of the Bill Would Squelch Bucket-Shops.

Duluth Daily Tribune.

Washington, May 15.—The hearing of the farmers' Alliance representatives was continued before the ways and means commitee this morning. Mr. Livingston, the national lecturer of the organization, taking up the argument. He quoted President Lincoln's prophecy that corporations would be enthroned; that the property of the country would be concentrated, and that the requblic itself would be overthrown. Thank God, the last prediction has not been fulfilled; but the others had been. One-twentieth of the people of this country owned

THREE-FIFTHS OF THE PROPERTY.

He also quoted Garfield, Jefferson and Calhoun' and said that what they had recommended was just what the alliance asked. If congress refused to approve the sub-treasury plan, then let it remove the restrictions hedging in the national banking system. The farmers would care nothing about trust and combinations and concentration of money if they could hold their crops in sub-treasuries, and were not compelled, as at present, to sell them at a stated time in October. It would be a Godsend to this country to pass the sub-treasury bill for the reason, if for no other, that there would in the United States. The day of speculation in crops would be done away with, and the producer and consumer would be brought together. It had been charged that the farmers were to form a trust, but this was against the farmers' nature. Sixteen millions would build all the warehouses the alliance wanted. What good were river and harbor improvements to the debt ridden, oppressed farmer? Never more than a third of the cotton crop would be warehoused. When certificates issued on that crop came in they would meet the needs of the wheat crop and then the tobacco crop, and so on. There would not be excessive changes in the volume of currency. In conclusion he said that if the committee thought the landed basis was the best; if they could not accept the crop basis, let them put it in the bill. Do something to relieve the farmers. Report the bill to the house in some shape, so that it could be acted upon. Don't make it a question of tariff or of politics, but let the bill stand on it merits.

The Great West:—Nothing exhibits the subserviency of a large portion of the country press, to "party" and to plutocracy, than their absolute silence over the crushing defeat of Mr. Pillsbury in the wheat discussion. Over half the papers in the state published that rash $20,000 challenge. But only ten have published the crawfishing when we proposed to take it up. And yet, if Mr. Pillsbury had known that wheat was going to go up when navigation opened as he claimed, he could have continued the challenge much more safely—for within a few hours wheat went up ten cents here and down five there—by the daily cable quotations. Mr. Pillsbury knows that the cable quotations are frauds. If he don't it is time that he looked into his business.

If the country press won't stand by the farmers what use have the farmers for the country press.

Northfield News: The Tracy Republican said last week: We are pleased to see the farmers of this part of the state "getting a move on themselves" in the way of organization. All other classes of men organize for mutual benefit and protection, and why not the farmer? Instead of listening to quack nostrums of inflationists free-traders and political incendiaries, the farmers might "go it alone" and make themselves felt throughout the whole nation, and to some extent at least receive a partial recognition of their worth. Farmers' Alliance are springing up all around us, and it is the duty of every intellegent farmer to use his influence in the direction of self-protection. Everyone knows that the wealth-producers of this agricultural country are the farmers, and were they united, they could have things more to their liking, than that which they now are permitted to have.

About Grain Inspection

Farm, Stock and Home.

Since the enactment of the present grain and warehouse laws, known as the "terminal inspection laws," which provide for the supervision of the public warehouses and the inspection of grain at St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth, there has been a tendency at times to criticise the utility of the law, on the ground that its operation were confined to the terminal points, and it was therefore inadequate to protect the rank and file of the army of producers in this state who were obliged to market their grain at the interior or local markets. It is argued that the prime object for which this legislation was sought has been lost sight of, and that the producer is as badly as ever in the toils of the country buyer, and is still a prey to his alleged greed and extortionate practices. It is claimed that the grain growers of this state are suffering as badly as ever for want of an honest and intelligent inspection of their grain at the home market. A number of plans and remedies have been suggested, differing in detail, but all tending to the same theory, that the state should assume control by appointing inspectors at several hundred interior markets. No system of this kind would ever prove practicable. It would involve the employment of a vast body of officials at great expense, and owing to the difference in judgment that would naturally exist among so many, the vital feature of all inspection, uniformity, could never be attained. It would be no improvement what ever over the system now in vogue at country points. This is by no means intended as an argument that the present system is correct—far from it. It is not only radically wrong, but an unauthorized assumption of authority on the part of the country buyer, and if Section 30 of the present law has any meaning or significance whatever then every person who is to day assuming to act as an inspector of grain without having first been duly appointed and sworn as such is an imposter and subject to such penalties as are prescribed. The grain laws of this state were copied largely from those of Illinois, and the framers of that law contemplated nothing further then inspection at its terminal point, Chicago. There is no authorized inspector of grain in this state outside of St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth, nor should there be. To handle and dispose of the immense volume of grain at terminal points necessitates some system of inspection and classification.

In view of the impositions that were alleged as being practiced by the Board of Trade in this work, the act of March 1, 1888, was created, placing the work under state control. The intention of the law was to create an absolutely free and open market in the country, where grain would be bought not by grade but upon its merits, the only system by which the producer can secure proper justice. In no other grain-growing state is such an incubus as our country grading system fastened upon the people, and there never can be any peace or satisfaction until we return to the simpler, time-honored methods, when the interior markets of the state were open to all who desired to buy our products. What is wanted to relieve and protect those who cannot avail themselves of direct shipment is an open market, unfettered by any grading system which robs good wheat of its proper premium, and where all buyers will be placed upon a fair and equal footing, thus creating that healthful competition that will insure the producer a just return for his labors. If a remedy for existing evils is wanted, it can be found in the direction and in no other. "NEW PROCESS."

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

CROOKSTON, MINNESOTA, MAY 29, 1890.

'Round Home.

District court meets June 2d.

The post office is being nicely papered.

Frank Hamilton was up from Fisher on Monday.

Eli Steenerson has bought out Sands Bros. meat market.

Somewhat coldish these days but very good for wheat they say.

The post office now established at Holmes station is called Melvin.

Henry Shepard goes to Winona this week to attend the U. S. Circuit court.

Wheat No. 1 Hard 76 cts, No. 2.75, a decline of a few cents during the week.

Shakespearean plays Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings of this week.

Thompson is having his place nicely painted. A. A. Old is the master workman.

Attorneys Wilkinson, Schmidt and Steenerson went to Warren to court last week.

Side walks are being replaced along Broadway from the opera house to Medical hall.

Secure seats early for McLean & Prescott, Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings.

Dr. Fish will make his headquarters at the Commercial Hotel during his stay in the city.

Mrs. Casper Sands and her mother went down to Minneapolis last week on a visit to friends.

Don't fail to hear the McLean & Prescott Company, Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights.

Rudy Burkhardt goes this week to Wabasha where he will work for his father this summer.

Dr. Dampier was very favorably impressed with Tacoma and may decide to go there to locate.

Remember that ten per cent penalty accrues to every dollar of real estate taxes not paid by June 1st.

Every sub-alliance should elect one delegate and one alternate to the District alliance at Fergus Falls.

U. S. Commissioner Ed. George has been notified to appear at the U. S. Circuit Court at Winona next week.

Our boy Jimmie says he will "watch" the game at Saake's until victory perches herself upon his banner to roost.

Ed. George took a run down to Duluth last week. Says Duluth is a right lively place—a credit to Minnesota.

Farmers, call at the city hall on Saturday at ten o'clock and meet the farmers great champion, Dr. E. W. Fish.

Attorney Averill, of Fosston, was in visiting friends last week. He was telling us all about the trip to Red Lake.

Everybody in the treasurer's office is busy collecting taxes these days. The ten per cent penalty attaches on June 1st.

Prices lower than the lowest. Goods can't be beat. Call at Mrs. E. E. Bangs' fashionable millinery parlors on Second street.

We cannot understand how it is that A. N. Hixson can be such a thoroughly level-headed man and ride in that jumper so much!

Thos. Olafson is up from Duluth visiting his many friends in the city. Looks like he was doing a big business down there.

Advices from the State of Washington state that Ed. Munson lost his wife recently and is about to return to Polk County to live.

Charlie Lowe has now more horses than dogs. Fifteen head of good work mares and horses at your own price. Cheap on time, cheaper for cash.

A. G. Gallasch came up from St. Paul on Sunday via the Northern Pacific and D. C. & N. Says Crookston is the fairest city in the State.

Farmers don't sell your hogs to shippers when you can get double of the price by having them cured at the packing house. [6-tf]

Chas. A. Johnson says if every farmer in the State would read the Great West there would be no trouble to get united action. Charlie is about right, as usual.

H. C. Scribner reports the arrival of two little girls at his house last Wednesday. One of them since died but the other is doing nicely. Mrs. S. is also doing nicely.

Mrs. I. U. Jenning's has just received a large and new stock of children's hats ranging in prices from 15 cts. to three dollars, also a large assortment of summer flowers. [5-6]

M. G. Peterson was up from Garden on Tuesday, chatting with friends. M. G. is a true blue alliance man and says that we must have the legislature at any hazard.

J. W. Lilly, ex-mayor of Crookston has opened a real estate office in Winchester, Kentucky. J. W. is one of those hustlers who is bound to make money anyhow.

The great and only Dr. E. W. Fish (the whale of the Great West) will meet the farmers of Polk County at the opera house on Saturday next at 2 o'clock p. m. Don't forget to get there.

Crookston alliance No. 648 will keep "open house" on Saturday next to entertain Dr. Fish. Every alliance man cordially invited to be at the hall at 10 a. m. and also every who is not but should be an alliance man.

Don't fail to hear Dr. Fish next Saturday afternoon. It will be well worth the trip by the farmer who lives in the remotest section of the county. Everybody turn out.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Sawyer left last week for a visit with his friends and relatives in Wisconsin. They will also visit Chicago ere their return. Intend to be away about three weeks.

The new road will be completed as fast as men and teams can do it. The ties and rails will soon commence to go down on the north end and the road will probably crowd the bridge work.

Attorney Steenerson drove down from Warren on Saturday evening with A. Grindeland, and went over to Dakota to try a case on Monday morning. Mr. S. is winning almost every case he tackles of late.

The plays that the McLean, Prescott Company will present will be: To-night, Ingomar, Friday evening, Spartacus, and Saturday evening, As You Like It. Reserved seats now on sale at Tom Morris'.

Don't forget the McLean & Prescott Co., Shakspearean plays, at the opera house on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings of this week. McLean is said to be better than Keene and fully as good as McCullough.

Peter Sture was the lucky man at Saake's drawing on Saturday evening. A fine gold watch for five dollars is cheap enough. Our Jimmy says: "Gosh, two watches in one store is too much while us fellers are all out in the cold!"

Attorney General Moses E. Clapp came down from Warren on Saturday's train and went down to his home in Fergus Falls by the 9:30 train. He was up to attend a murder trial and they put him on an entirely different case the first clatter.

K. Rollag, secretary of the Scandia Alliance, writes us that at the meeting on May 23d, Martin Benson was elected delegate to Dist. Alliance meeting at Fergus Falls, with K. Rollag, alternate. Four new members were added, making 64 in all. A good record.

The Rev. T. M. V. Appleby will hold service at Christ church on Trinity Sunday, June 1st. Morning service and communion at 11 o'clock; evening at 8 o'clock. The choir will render some fine music which they are now practising. Musical program will appear later.

THE JOURNAL family is enjoying a bit of nice fresh butter sent us from the Hawley creamery with the compliments of our old friend N. H. Fulton. N. H. has not forgotten how to make good butter and the Hawley folks are to be congratulated on securing his services in their creamery.

The Barnesville club came up on Friday and tackled the Crookston boys and got razzle dazzled. About two to one is good enough for a starter and yet Crookston don't feel satisfied until our boys meet St. Paul on the be-diamoned turf. We can do 'em up. Eh, Russel, what does that V of yours say?

Mr. Edward Lanctot, of Gentilly said to THE JOURNAL man: "I sat up nearly all night reading that copy of the Great West that you sent me, and did not lay it down until I had finished every article in it. I think it is a truly wonderful paper and I do not propose to do without it so long as it stands by the cause of the farmer as it now does. Every farmer in the State should have it."

Every farmer in Polk County should see and hear Dr. Fish, and a great many of them will avail themselves of the opportunity to do so presented by his appearance at Fertile on Friday and at Crookston on Saturday. The Doctor is one of the best posted men on the evils that now afflict our producers and all should come out and hear him.

Our packing factory is an institution that farmers might make of great value to them if they would. Every year thousands of pounds of pork is brought into the country that might better be raised and cured here. All who do not care to undertake the curing of their pork might get it done at the factory at prices that would afford them a better margin for their pork than they get by selling it in the fall.

Some still have an idea that the new depot will yet be located at the head of Second street, and we confess that we can see nothing so very improbable in the idea. Certainly that location is the best one that could be had, and we can see no good reason for the road crooking about as it does unless this is really the object of the company. There is nothing in the location inconsistent with putting the depot right where the Episcopal church building is and this should be done.

Winnipeg Daily Tribune:—The play of "Ingomar," as presented by Mr. McLean and Miss Prescott, is practically a new one. They eliminate all lines that tend to make the situations tardy, and cut the unnecessary and unattractive lines of Plydor and other characters that dull the beautiful dialogue. In this play these two great stars have equal opportunity to shine, and on this account the play is, as a joint appearance, the most successful in extended repertorie. Their manager, Mr. John Whiteley, claims for them the undisputed reputation of being the unrivalled exponents of their respective parts—Ingomar and Parthenia, and they are spoken of by each and all of the best critics in the United States as the "ideals" in this idyllic love story. No doubt the beautiful flower scene and love song will charm us here as their record proves they have everywhere else. Ingomar will be presented on Thursday night.

Millinery.

Ladies, you will consult your best interest by calling at Mrs. E. E. Bangs' and examining her stock of spring and summer millinery in the latest styles of the art. Remember, a purchase to the amount of $3.50 entitles you to a ticket for a gold watch and chain which somebody will get July 1st, 1890.

Program for Decoration Day.

The procession will be formed at 1 o'clock p. m. by Marshal, Louis Fontaine, with I. U. Jennings, assistant.

Col. Cobham Post, G. A. R., will form on Second street, as will also the Crookston Fire Department.

St. John's Society will be formed from McKinnon Hall, the right resting on Robert street.

The United Workmen will be formed on Main street, their right resting on Robert street.

The line of march will be in the following order:

Platoon of city police.
Mayor, Orator of the Day, Clergy and City Council in carriages.
City Cadet Band.
Crookston Fire Department.
United Workmen.
St. John's Society.
Sons of Veterans.
Col. George Post G. A. R., of Fertile.
Col. Cobham Post, G. A. R.

The column will move up Robert street to Broadway, up Broadway to Fourth, on Fourth to Main, down Main to Loring, down Loring to Broadway, down Broadway to Avenue, down Avenue to Ash, up Ash to Robert, up Robert to Broadway, down Broadway to Opera House where memorial exercises will be held.

Benediction.

The citizens generally are requested to donate any flowers which they may be able to spare, and if possible send to G. A. R. hall, McKinnon's block on the morning of the 30th before 10 o'clock. If any of our citizens are mourning the loss of soldier friends whom they wish to remember with us, if they will send or bring their wreaths or bouquets to the hall, accompanied with a card giving the name, number of regiment and state they will be properly placed, and those who have friends buried in the cemetery are requested to mark those graves with small flags that the committee may be able to decorate them suitably on Memorial Day.

Hogs handled and meats cured and smoked all through the summer months at reasonable rates. Also parties having hogs to sell can find a purchaser by applying at the packing house until August 1st.

[4-15] ROBERT STANTON.

Together with the secretary of Polk County Alliance, A. N. Hixson, ye scribe went down to Fisher last Saturday to assist in the organization of the farmer's alliance. Seventeen farmers signed the application for charter and elected J. B. Merrill president, Thos. Erwin vice president, C. U. Webster Secretary and Alvin Brainard, treasurer. They start in under favorable auspices and promise to double their number at every meeting. On the way we noticed that the grain had been put in in fine shape and was looking nicely. After the meeting we took a stroll about the village and was pleased to see the air of neatness prevailing. Almost every dwelling has been repainted this spring. We saw many very neat and tasty residences conspicuous among which are those of Dr. Lankester and Chris. Widenhoefer. Evidently the average Fisherite believes in living comfortably and nicely.

A case of great importance is to be tried at the coming term of court—of importance at least to one man—Mr. E. Lanctot. It is the case wherein the county is trying to force a road diagonally through his farm—thus practically ruining a fine farm simply to gain a few rods on the road to Gentilly from Crookston. It does seem a little singular, in a country like this, where there is so much land to the square acre, that a fine farm like this must be sacrificed to a whim—for it is only a whim that demands it, and not the public good, and we believe that this case should prove an exception to a general rule. It is a fact that private interests must give way to the public welfare, but such cases are, or should be, where the public interests are the greatest. This is not one of those cases. This farm lies in such a position that a road running through it as proposed by the county, would cut off the most of it from access to water. Mr. L. has so planned his fences that the stock in every lot would have equal access to the river lot, the only source of watering them, and while the forcing of that road through his farm would utterly ruin his farm, the lack of the road would not inconvenience the traveling public—in fact the proposed road would not be as good as the old one. If the county is bound to force the road through, anyhow, the Board should buy the farm outright as it is no good after the butchering. The public interests do not demand that Mr. Lanctot should sacrifice his farm and we trust that he will not be compelled to do it.

A Ringing Resolution.

At its meeting of May 10th, Scandia Alliance No. 643 passed the following resolution:

RESOLVED.—That we earnestly urge all the Alliances in this State to unite in the work of electing such members for the next legislature that laws may be enacted to prohibit unreasonable freight charges on the farmers' product, and to give farmers the privilege of building warehouses on railroad right of way and to dissolve any combination or scheme between machine factories and their agents, so that farmers can buy their machinery direct from factories or shops and not be obliged to pay from $5 to $50 to agents for handling.

To Rent.

FOSSTON, Minn., April 20, 1890.

ED. JOURNAL:—The Fosston farmers have at last come to the conclusion that they will no longer be bulldozed by monopolists in general and by machine monopolists in particular. Our alliance, numbering now about 140 members, (these the leading farmers in the vicinity, both intellectually and financially,) have for some time past been endeavoring to negotiate a deal in binders. I do not at present know how many we will need, but it is not over fifty. Each man that buys a binder is willing to put up security with his note, and the alliance knowing that it is the man who can and will pay, who has to reimburse McCormick and Deering their losses through the "bad pays," have concluded to back the notes, thus making them as good as cash, as far as the machine company is concerned. But what does the McCormick's and Deering's do? Coolly inform our secretary, Mr. Kjolhaug, that they not only expect us to stick millions into their pockets, but we must also support a worthless tribe of middlemen, a gang that has for years been the curse of the northwest—more destructive than frosts and chinch bugs together. We are well aware that the McCormick and Deering machines are first-class goods, and we would like to buy them at the price the agent gets them for, but we are also aware that there are other machines that do good work and can be got for less money on our own terms. Don't humiliate yourself to McCormick or any man living!

Our alliance, for one, has concluded to kneel to no one but God! They passed a resolution (and, judging from present appearances, they will abide by it,) that they will not buy Deering or McCormick machines until these companies are willing to come down from their thrones and sell on our terms. We ordered this resolution published in the Great West, and we thought it would not be out of place in THE JOURNAL. We want this published as a call to all farmers to go ahead and do as we did. Let us for once show these money kings that we can live without them. We lived and prospered through the cradle, reaper, harvester and wire binder days, and the world will probably roll gently on and the people raise wheat long after the McCormick and Deering companies are no more. Judging from all this, I am inclined to think that we, too, will live, prosper, raise wheat and cut it with a Buckeye, Plano, Easterly, Acorn or Osborne binder, until Wm. Deering & Co., and men of the same calibre are as anxious to sell to us as we are to buy from them.

The festive agent will soon be out with his logic and his sympathetic advise, his small talk on crops and his big talk on the machine business—especially on the folly of buying directly from the manufacturer. Of course the arch-traitor who is willing to sell to the alliance, will soon fail, or at least fail to send out the extras that are sure to be breaking in our binders just when the grain is ripe.

But with us Fosston men logic (machine agent logic) has lost all its force. We will, in spite of all reasoning, yea, even when the agent has convinced us that we are going to wreck and ruin, will we patronize only such dealers as will deal on our terms.

The companies we do deal with will, provided the rest of the alliance think as we do, soon be fixed so that they can say with Wm. Deering and the poet: "If we fail, we fail with glory!" Thus we will have the satisfaction of knowing that though we have worked, suffered, starved, and sworn when our binder broke and our hardware men were too poor to keep on hand the necessary articles of repairs for a hundred thousand Minnesota binders, we have for once done ourselves an act of justice. Hurrah for the alliance!

A. GRUNDYSON.

MORTGAGE SALE.

[First publication May 29th, 1890.]

WHEREAS, FRANCOIS MARCHILDON and Amand Marchildon, his wife, of Polk County, State of Minnesota, as mortgagors, did, on the 14th day of November, A. D. 1885, duly execute and deliver to The American Freehold Land Mortgage Company of London, Limited, of London, England, their mortgage bearing date of November 14th, A. D. 1885, whereby they mortgaged to said mortgagee the following described lands situated in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, to-wit: The northwest quarter of Section 11, Township 150, Range 44 west, containing 160 acres, to secure the payment of the sum of eight hundred dollars, with interest thereon, according to the conditions of one certain promissory note, with interest coupons attached, bearing even date with said mortgage, and made by said mortgagors to said mortgagee, or order, which said mortgage was, on the 14th day of November, A. D. 1885, at 3:20 o'clock p. m., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Polk, in book 27 of mortgages, on page 37, and

Whereas, default has been made in the payment of the sum of sixty-four dollars, due as interest upon said mortgage on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1890, and the said interest is still unpaid and due; and

Whereas, it was stipulated by and between the parties to said mortgage, that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants therein contained on the part of the mortgagors, to be kept and performed, that then and from thenceforth it shall be lawful for the said mortgagee, or its assigns to consider and declare the whole sum secured thereby as immediately due and payable without notice to said mortgagors or any other party; and

Whereas, The American Freehold Land Mortgage Company of London, Limited, has exercised its option to consider and declare, and does hereby consider and declare the whole sum of money secured by said mortgage to be due and payable; and

Whereas, there is now due, and claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of eight hundred ninety-one and 96-100 dollars, and no proceedings have been instituted at law or otherwise to recover the same or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained and therewith recorded, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the land therein described, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the City of Crookston, in said county and state, on the 12th day of July, A. D. 1890, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay the sum due on said mortgage, together with taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty dollars attorney's fees therein stipulated to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as provided by law.

Dated May 23d, A. D. 1890.

For a long time we were a believer in the idea that the cause of the trouble was "over production." We have got over that humbug. We don't believe it so long as there is a hungry mortal on the globe and so long as gamblers make great fortunes in wheat. We are convinced that wheat speculation is wholly responsible for the trouble with farmers and that they are to blame only when they do not unite against it.

Farmers, business men and fellow citizens of Polk County one and all; do you realize the condition of your markets? Do you realize that a difference of only one cent per bushel on our wheat makes a difference of $20,000 to the trade of this county? Do you realize that Dr. Fish has proven on Mr. Pillsbury's own figures that we get at least 20 cents less per bushel for our No. 1 Hard wheat than we are entitled to by the English market? Do you realize that this means $400,000 of your money wrongfully withdrawn from the channels of trade of our county? Do you realize that if we could have our rights in a free and open markets that this country would be the only portion of the United States where farmers are prosperous and that this fact would call in enough farmers to settle upon every quarter section and thus create a good demand for our idle lands at good prices? Come out next Saturday and hear what Dr. Fish has to say about this wheat robbery business.

Strange as it may appear it is yet a fact that many farmers in Polk County have not a realizing sense of what the Alliance means to them. Some seem to have the idea that the sole end and aim of it is to overturn established business interests by which, in someway they expect to save a few dollars—entirely overlooking the fact that if we can obtain a free and open market every wheat raiser will gain a hundred or a thousand dollars every year according to the amount of wheat he raises. Some will not join because they are not promised a saving of a few dollars on the purchase of goods—while by remaining out they annually lose from 20 to 50 cents per bushel on their wheat. Some do not understand any thing at all about the objects of the alliance, and they as well as every alliance farmer should attend the meetings to be held in the county this week by that great champion of the farmers' cause, Dr. E. Fish and hear what he has to say about the alliance and what it will do for the country. Do not shut yourself up in your shell like a clam and refuse to hear something which may be of vital interest to you—in fact that is of the greatest possible interest. If we expect to be prosperous in this day and age of the world we must keep posted.

The Fisher Bulletin goes for Commissioner Johnson rough shod because Johnson voted for Paterson as sheriff to succeed N. O. Paulsrud deceased. What the Bulletin says as to the position belonging to the republican party is all right enough. The republicans not only elected Mr. Paulsrud but it was also these votes that elected the two democrats on the board and if the democratic members did not do right by insisting on the chance to get a democratic sheriff the people themselves are to blame. If there are not republicans enough in this republican county to fill all of the offices why, then, fill up with democrats and take the consequences. The Bulletin errs when it says that "the coroner could have served those warrants," as Mr. Shepard, the coroner is also dept. U. S. Marshall and has as much business in those two offices than he can well attend to in his present condition of wealth and had said positively that he could not attend to the sheriff's office properly. Mr. Johnson acted fully in accord with republican principles. When he saw that the democrats were bound to sacrifice the best interests of the county to the opportunity to get a democratic sheriff he rightly judged that the republican party could not afford to become a party to the injustice and by his action he has placed the tax-payers under lasting obligation to the republican party, and but the democrats members of the board have made a very unenviable record to go before the people with. Their attitude says plainly: "The people be hanged. We have got a chance to get a democrat in office once in our lives and we will take it even though the people suffer the loss of all these uncollected taxes by it!" The republican party, by its action has shown that the rights of the tax-payers are of more importance than a mere party triumph and that is the true principle. Mr. Johnson did perfectly right in this matter and his action, so far as we have learned is endorsed by the people.

If we can secure a free and open wheat market we feel that any effort that we can make will not be too arduous. That is what THE JOURNAL wishes to see and will not rest satisfied short of.

Red Lake Falls News:—We made a call on Geo. Brunnelle at the livery stable yesterday afternoon and found almost a menagerie to look over. There was the wonderful calf that weighed 115 pounds at birth. The "little" fellow shows his Holstein blood and is the finest calf we ever saw. The mother gives thirty quarts at each milking. Three oxen George has been fattening were punched so as to bring them to their feet. They are so fat that rising is a very dfficult task indeed. Two of them especially are monsters and so fat you would feel sure they didn't have any bones if you didn't know they had. Then we looked at the stud, Block and were struck with admiration. His black, shiny coat covering a body of glorious dimensions, would make him conspicuous among a thousand horses. Other horses look like kittens aside of him. Besides the above mentioned stock George has a large number of other horses and cattle that are not as noteworthy. A jack rabbit completes the list.

Granite Falls: Every school boy for several decades has been taught that the price of wheat in Liverpool controlled the price all over the world. But Dr. Fish was the one to take exceptions to such a state of things and by starting a bushel of wheat from Crookston and landing it in Liverpool he found that there was 20 cents difference in the price after all transportation and elevator-storage and other expenses had been paid. Now the question arises where does this paltry 20 cents go, or who gets it? It would take no novice to conclude some boodler is getting rich.

Windom Citizen:—Dr. Fish, of the Great West, and C. A. Pillsbury, the King miller of Minneaplis are still in contest over the big margin on wheat prices between Minnesota and Liverpool Pillsbury made a challenge, sometime since, of $20,000 that no great margin could be shown, but the Dr. proves pretty conclusively that there is a steal of over 20c. a bushel between Crookston, Minn., and Liverpool, and backed up with figures that cannot be dodged. It's a matter of great interest to wheat growers of Minnesota.

A Groan for Mr. Pillsbury.

Some History Worth Reading to the Alliance!

DAWSON. May 13th, 1890.

ED. GREAT WEST:

The 2d of this month I organized an alliance in the town of Omro, Yellow Medicine County, right in the midst of a German settlement. This class of our fellow citizens may work slow, but when they do move they mean business.

When Mr. Pillsbury thinks he has got enough of the Great West on the wheat quistion, the farmers of this section would like to have him explain the $1.50 wheat letters of the fall of 1888, and turn a little light on the meeting of millers at Milwaukee the same fall, when the President of that association told the members very plainly, that they knew what they came there for. It was to take some action that would "keep up the price of flour and put down the price of wheat." Then followed Mr. Pilsbury's letter, and in a very short time wheat dropped with a crash. On the strength of that letter a large number of farmers stored wheat that they could have sold for 1,10, and did sell as low as 75c. The Minneapolis Tribune, in a supposed interview, quoted Mr. Pilsbury as saying that "he believed wheat would touch $2,00 before the harvest of 1889." Mr. Pilsbury is in rather bad odor in the western part of the state, and he has made no friends in his controversy with the Great West.

Fraternally yours, W. S. GNOW.

Hubbard Bulletin: The National Farmers Alliance of America now has a membership of 2,000,000. The prime object of the association is to better the condition of the farmers of America, mentally, morally and financially; to suppress personal, sectional and national prejudices, all unhealthful rivalry and selfish ambition: to return to the principles on which this government was founded by adhering to the doctrine of equal rights and equal chances to all, and special privileges to none.

They demand: 1. The issue of all money by the government of the United States and the withdrawal of favors, too, even at the expense of the abolition of the national banking system.

2. A tariff for revenue sufficient only to meet the necessities of the government economically administed.

3. The establishment by the government of a warehousing system in the large cities of the United States, where in the farmer may store his grain products and have issued upon such storage government certificates, a legal tender, the same as now applied to silver. This is known as the Sud-Treasury plan of the Farmers, Alliance, and is the more especial measure of interest advocated.

4. The absolute denial of aliens of ownership in lands with the United States.

5. Government control of the railroads and telegraphic systems of the United States.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, COUNTY OF POLK—ss In Probate Court, special term, April 30th 1890.

In the matter of the estate of Edwin Benjamin, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of Ruth Ann Benjamin, administratrix of said estate, setting forth the amount of personal estate that has come into her hands, the disposition thereof, and how much remains undisposed of; the amount of debts outstanding against said deceased, as far as the same can be ascertained; the legacies unpaid, and a description of all the real estate, excepting the homestead, of which said deceased died seized, and the condition and value of the respective portions or lots thereof; the persons interested in said estate, with their residences; and praying that license be to her granted to sell the southeast quarter Sec. 18. Tp. 149. R. 43. at private sale. And it appearing by said petition that there is not sufficient personal estate in the hands of said administratrix to pay said debts, the legacies or expenses of administration, and that it is necessary for the payment of such debts, legacies or expenses to sell all of said real estate.

It is therefore ordered, that all persons interested in said estate appear before this Court on Wednesday, the 25th day of June, A. D. 1890, at 2 o'clock p. m., at the Probate office in Crookston, in said county, then and there to show cause (if any there be) why license should not be granted to said administratrix to sell so much of the real estate of said deceased as shall be necessary to pay such debts, legacies and expenses.

And it is further ordered, that this Order shall be published once in each week, for three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing, in THE POLK COUNTY JOURNAL, a weekly newspaper printed and published at Crookston, in said county.

Dated at Crookston, the 30th day of April, A. D. 1890.

By the Court: C. O. CHRISTIANSON, Judge of Probate.

FREE HOMES

In the Great West—A Remarkable Offer—Read It.

Akron, Colorado, has probably within the past three years experienced the most rapid as well as the most healthy growth of any city in the west. It is surrounded by a country unsurpassed by any on earth for the richness and fertility of its soil and the beauties of its climate. Any, and everything that can be raised in Iowa, Illinois, Indiana or Ohio can here be grown in the greatest profusion. Wheat grown in the near vicinity of Akron, took a diploma for being the best grain of the kind exhibited at the Nebraska State fair, held at Lincoln, in September, 1889. And all crops grown in this latitude can be raised here as successfully as anywhere on earth.

GOVERNMENT LAND.

There are yet thousands of acres of government land vacant, which can be taken under the homestead, pre-emption and timber culture acts, which a person can have for the taking. A bountiful government will make you independent in a few years if you will but act now. The surface of the country is nearly a perfect level, but still sloping enough to afford good drainage. No breaks or draws such as ruin or deface so many western farms. No protracted struggle with rocks. Your first glance at the country would remind you of one vast meadow, only waiting the plow of the husbandman to transform it into an Eden of beauty and productiveness.

The citizens' advertising committee of Akron have placed in the hands of the West Side Improvement Company, one thousand city lots that are to be given away for advertising purposes, and any person who will aid them in advertising their advantages can have one of these lots FREE OF CHARGE by directing a communication to J. Faehndrich, Sec'y at Akron, Colorado, or sending him the names of ten people who are interested in the west, and liable to be looking for a western location and sending four cents in stamps for return of deed. These lots are now worth from $50 to $125, and will, in the course of a year, if the predictions of knowing ones prove true, be worth four times what is now asked for them. It is an opportunity never before offered to secure an ABSOLUTE TITLE to a piece of property in an enterprising and growing western city.

The lots referred to are each 25x135 feet in size and all the streets upon which they abut are 60 and 80 feet wide. They are in what is known as "Glenwood," an Akron, Colorado, suburb, and the citizens' committee through Mr. Faehndrich, its Sec'y, guarantees them to be smooth, level and upon a sightly elevation, overlooking the town of Akron. The title is also guaranteed to be ABSOLUTELY PERFECT.

Akron contains a set of business men who are alive to her advantages as well as her interests, and this year $30,000 is being expended by them to induse people looking for a western location to settle amongst them. They want and are determined to have 50,000 people in this city by 1895.

They want laborers in their coal mines, they want capitalists to develope their silver and gold mines.

Akron is to-day the largest and most prosperous city in the state east of Denver. It is a division station of the B. & M. R'y and is the southern terminus of the Akron & Holyoke R'y, which will, in all probability, be built to Colorado Springs in the near future. Akron is in the line of the Northwestern R. R. building into Denver, and it is sure to catch it, and the Beaver Valley branch of the B. & M. will also be built to Akron. The B. & M. shops are there and material is now on the ground to greatly enlarge them. The railroad employ 250 men at that point now. The city is and will be the railroad centre of that portion of the state. The population is now nearly two thousand and by January first next, they believe it will be 5,000. A United States land office was recently located at that point which means much to that city. It will bring every settler upon the public domain in that section to that city. It will be, and is, head-quarters for land seekers for that entire portion of the state.

COLORADO EXCURSIONS.

On May 20th, and in June excursions will be run from all points of the east and south to Akron. The rate will be one fare for the round trip, over the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific from Chicago and intermediate points, and over the Missouri Pacific from St. Louis and the South, to Omaha, Nebraska. From Omaha take the B. & M. R. R. to Akron.

The above offer of a free lot applies only to those who will, prior to June 20 aid them in a reasonable way, in making these excursions a success.

Who Gets the 24 Cents?

Granite Falls Tribune:—If the discussion of C. A. Pillsbury and Dr. Fish solves the wheat problem the producer will be grateful. The difference of opinions between the great miller and the great editor is, what becomes of the difference between Crookston and Liverpool prices on wheat? Some African is undoubtedly peeking over the fence, and the sooner the farmer goes gunning for the pocketer of their surplus the sooner will they prosper.

Standard Works.

Wm. Clements has novels from such standard authors as Dickens, Thackeroy, Scott, Pope, Charlotte Bronte, Cooper etc., etc. Those books are solidly and neatly bound in cloth and are sold at prices that are the lowest ever offered in this city. What an elegant Christmas present you can get for a very small cost. Don't fail to see these books and get prices. [31-tf]

NOTICE.

On and after this date all bills against the city must be in the comptroller's hands not later than 4 p. m., of the Monday preceeding the stated council meetings. No bills will be audited after that time.

May 2d 1889.

Money to Loan

On More Reasonable and Better Terms than Ever Before Offered in the Northwest.

We are now prepared to loan money in any amount from $250 up to $10,000 on well improved farms where title has been perfected, and U. S. patent is on record or has been issued.

Our terms are 8 per cent. interest, with a small commission to cover expenses and cost of making the loan.

Where the security is satisfactory we can make loans for five or any greater number of years, interest payable annually on the first day of January, and will allow the borrower, after two years, to pay any part of the principal, in sums of $100 or upwards on any interest day named in his notes. So much for straight loans.

We are the agents for the Union Central Life Insurance Company, of Cincinnati, Ohio, a company of great strength, and a public record for probity and fair dealing unsurpassed; and can write life insurance in connection with loans with great profit and advantage to the borrower, which, taken in connection with the loan for ten years, pays the loan by yearly payments, which is more fully shown by the following statement: A, aged 25 years, of sound health, applies for a loan of $1,000 on his farm, at the same time he applies for $1,000 insurance on the 10 years annual payment stock-endowment plan. He pays as follows:

Each year on his insurance........$88 44
Each year on his loan for interest.......................... 80 00
Total yearly payments...$ 168 44
Total for ten years.........1684 40

which pays up for the insurance, and the insurance pays the loan in full.

If the borrower dies during the ten years his insurance becomes payable and due at once and pays his loan in full, leaving his farm clear and free of all encumbrances, for his family.

NOTE THE DIFFERENCE.

If the borrower effects a loan of $1,000 on the plan usually followed, he must pay interest at the rate of ten per cent. and may be stated as follows:

$1,000 for five years, annual interest..............................$ 100 00
At the end of the loan he pays interest in the sum of.......... 500 00
When the loan is due he pays.. 1000 00
Principal and interest paid in 5 years..............................1500 00

As much within $184.40 as he pays in ten years with insurance with us.

If he makes such a loan for ten years he pays:

Interest...................................$1000 00
Principal at end of 10 years..... 1000 00
Total.................... ....$2000 00

or $315.60 more than he would pay with us; besides on the 10 per cent. plan he is not insured against death, and if he dies during the life of the loan the "Old Detestable Mortgage" still hangs over the heads of his defenceless wife and children.

NEWSPAPER LAW.

1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for the payment.
2. If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscriptions, the suit may be instituted where the paper is published.
4. The Courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers or periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid for, is prima facie evidence of intention to defraud.

Veterans of The Civil War.

As a part of the census of the people to be taken during the month of June special provision has been made by Congress for ascertaining the names of surviving soldiers, sailors, and marines who were mustered into the service of the United States during the war of the rebellion, and of the widows of soldiers, sailors, and marines who have died. In connection with this special census of veterans the organization or vessel in which they served, the term of service in each case, and present residence will be taken by the census enumerators. In the case of widows, information regarding the service of their deceased husbands is also required.

The importance of accurate statements concerning the military record of each participant in the late war should not be underestimated. It should be the duty, moreover, of every veteran soldier or sailor to see that the enumerator is placed in possession of the necessary information concerning his own service. If he can not be at home when the enumerator calls he should leave a proper memorandum in the hands of his wife or other member of his household, so that the work of the census may not be delayed, and also that there may be no doubt as to the accuracy of the statements concerning his service which may be given to the sensus enumerator. That there may be no question as to the points to be covered by this memorandum, it may be well to state that the special inquiries to be made concerning veterans of the civil war include the name, the company, and the regiment or vessel in which they served, their late rank, the dates of enlistment and discharge, the length of service in years, months, and days, and their present post-office address. Where a soldier or sailor re-enlisted or served in more than one organization or vessel, he should be careful to give the term of service, in each instance, and to cover each enlistment. In giving the organization care should be taken to distinguish the arm of the service, as infantry' cavalry, artillery, etc., and if a person served under an assumed name, his statement should be made to cover both the name under which he served and the true name by which he is now known.

Veterans of the war generally will recognize and appreciate the value of this special census to them, and they should aid the census enumerators in getting true statements in every way possible. Without their co-operation correct results can not be reached. This personal appeal is made to them, therefore, in the hope that their attention may be specially directed to the importance of this work and the necessary information may be promptly supplied to the census enumerator when he calls some teme during the month of June.

When It Began.

In a letter to the California Nationalist J. S. Barbee says: "The Farmers' Alliance originated in the county of Lampasas, Texas, in 1874. It was got up by five hard working farmers as a home protection against the large cattle syndicates of west Texas, who made their grand round up every spring, and it was not regarded then as stealing to brand all the unbranded calves that unfortunately fell into the round up, no matter whose cow or calf claimed as its mother.

"The man who had the best cowboys and worked the earliest, hardest and latest generally got the most calves branded. These five men called themselves 'The Farmers' Alliance.' Their first step was to organize, and then to co-operate, and this first attempt at co-operation was in the form of a compact which provided that first one and then the other of the five members should be in his saddle day and night as long as the round up lasted, and see to it that their calves escaped or received their own brands."

City Treasurer.

Approved April 7th, 1890.

Farmington Tribune.

At the time of the meeting of the state alliance the editor of the Great West asserted that there was a difference of twenty cents a bushel in the price of wheat between Liverpool and Crookston, Minn., besides the necessary cost of getting the wheat to Liverpool. This was denounced as horrible, and Charles A. Pillsbury, of Minneapolis, was induced to make a bluff of offering $20,000 to any one who would prove the assertion by actual trial. But when asked by the Great West to put his proposition into writing in such a way as to make it legal, he backed square down and practially admitted the truth of the original assertion. Mr. Pillsbury's bluff was published all over the state, and a majority of the papers claimed that the original statement was made by Donnelly. Now how many of them will publish the fact that Pillsbury has backed out and practically acknowledged the corn?

Counting the People,

Some of the Inquiries to be made by the Census Enumerators in June.

The Eleventh Census of the United States will be taken during the month of June. The census enumerators will begin their work on Monday, June 2, and will visit every house and ask questions concerning every person and every family in the United States. The questions that will be asked call for the name of every person residing in the United States on the first day June, whith their sex and age, and whether white, black, mulatto, quadroon, octoroon, or Chinese, Japanese or Indian. Inquiry will be made also of every person as to whether they are single, married, widowed, or divorced, and, if married, whether married during the census year. The place of birth of the father and mother of each person, will also be called for, as well as a statement as to the profession, trade, or occupation followed and the number of months unemployed during the census year. For all persons ten years of age or over a return must be made by the enumerator as to the number able to read and write, and also number who can speak English. For those who can not speak English the particular language or dialect spoken by them will be ascertained. For children of school age, also, the number of months they attended school will be recorded by the census enumerators. In the case of mothers an inquiry will be made as to the number of children they have had, and the number of these children living at the present time. This inquiry is to be made to all women who are or have been married, including all who are widows or have been divorced. Foreign-born males of adult age, that is, 21 years of age or over, will be asked as to the number of years they have been in the United State, and whether they are naturalized or have taken out naturalization papers. Of the head of each family visited the question will be asked as to the number of persons in the family, and whether his home is owned or hired; also, if owned, whether the home is free from mortgagr incumbeance. If the head of the family is a farmer, similar inquiries will be made concerning the ownership of the farm. In addition to these inquiries, all of which are made on the population schedule, the law under which the census is taken makes provision for special inquiries concerning such of the population as may be mentally or physically defective in any respect, that is, insane, feeble-minded, deaf, blind, or crippled, or who may be temporarily disabled by sickness, disease, or accident at the time of the enumerator's visit. Certain special inquiries will also be made concerning inmates of prisons and reformatories and of charitable and benevolent institutions. Besides this, a statement will be called for concerning all persons who have died during the census year' giving their name, age, sex, occupation, and cause of death.

This official count of the people comes but once in ten years, and every family and every person should consider it to be their duty to answer the question of the census enumerators willingly and promptly, so that definite and accurate information may be gained concerning the 65,000,000 people living within the bounds of this great country.

Progressive Age:—The Great West has the sympathy of the Progressive Age in its effort to expose the frauds practiced on the farmers of the Northwest. If Dr. Fish, the editor, is correct, and we believe him to be, a systematic robbery has been practiced upon the most law abiding citizens of our country. Go ahead Doctor. The more kicks you get the higher you will rise.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

CROOKSTON, MINNESOTA, JUNE 5, 1890.

'Round Home.

Wheat was way off last week, reaching 74.

Dr. Fish was very favorably impressed with what he saw of Polk County.

Maj. Stanbury has been on the dry docks with rheumatism for a time.

W. G. Lytle and L. B. Davis went out to the Maple Lake country, fishing, last week.

John Hart and wife returned from Great Falls, Montana, on Thursday evening.

Will Carlton came down on Saturday to enjoy the alliance doings at the Opera House.

Mrs. Falk returned on Saturday last from a visit with relatives and friends in Indiana.

Chas. A. Johnson was down from St. Hilaire on Saturday to attend the alliance doings.

Andrew Steenerson came up from the west side to hear the alliance speech on Saturday.

Miss Launian, of the second ward school, left on Monday for St. Peter to spend her vacation.

Edith and Willie McGrew took the morning train on Monday for a visit with relatives at Benson, Minn.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Palmer and the children came down from Angus on Saturday to listen to the eloquent Dr. Fish.

It has been suggested that the Secretary of the County Alliance give notice through THE JOURNAL on what day in July the county alliance will meet.

Joseph Netzer Jr. was taken to the insane asylum on Thursday of last week. It is possible that he may recover in which hope his friends all unite.

Fred Hall returned from Obron, N. D. where he has been in attendance at the bedside of his father who has been dangerously ill but is now slowly recovering.

Mentor alliance resolved to "see" the Fosston brothers and go them one better on their resolution in regard to the McCormick and Deering companies. Pass it along.

Mrs. J. G. McGrew left on Monday evening for a visit with her mother and other friends at her old home in Vermont. She expects to remain there during the summer.

Farmers don't sell your hogs to shippers when you can get double of the price by having them cured at the packing house. [6-tf]

Mrs. A. Braley left on Monday evening for Vermont for a visit with relatives and friends, and to be present at the golden wedding of her parents, which event occurs on July 2d.

W. C. Tatro informs THE JOURNAL that everything is nearly in readiness for the entertainment of pleasure parties on the new boat on Maple Lake. They were to make their trial trip last week.

The base ball team of Crookston met that of Warren on the diamond in this city on Friday and beat the visiting club 16 to 6. The game was a very interesting one and was witnessed by many lovers of the sport.

Rudy Burkhardt and family left on Sunday evening for their old home in Wabasha County. For several years Mr. B. has made his home here and he leaves many friends. He thinks it not improbable that he may return some day.

Ed. Love, the Kittson County Enterprise rustler, was summoned as witness in a case before the U. S. Circuit court, at Winona. He did not want to go, but as he had to obey such a summons, he took revenge by buying two thoroughbred horses in St. Paul.

Guess everybody was in attendance at the alliance meeting on Saturday though the sad circumstances by which we were surrounded prevented our attendance. The Opera House was filled to overflowing and everybody enjoyed the able speech of the doctor.

We ask the kind forbearance of our friends this week should they notice any shortcomings in this issue of THE JOURNAL. We know that the news must be published though hearts are crushed and bleeding in anguish; and we have done our best to supply it.

Mrs. R. Houston left for her home in Puget City on Monday evening. She was accompanied by her father Jas. Greenhalgh, Sr. Mr. Greenhalgh was one of the earliest settlers in this country, coming before the first railroad. He may decide to stay out there though that is by no means certain.

George H. Pollard, well known in this city, was fatally hurt at Grand Forks last Friday. He was braking on a freight and in some way fell beneath the wheels having his left arm and shoulder crushed. Dr. Wheeler amputated the arm but the shock was too great and Pollard died on Sunday.

It has been suggested to us that it would be a good plan for each sub-alliance to decide what they are going to do in the matter of twine. There are at Fargo five carloads of standard twine that can be had at 12 cents per pound cash, or 12¼ cents on time. On time four or five may combine and give notes due November 1st, 1890, without interest. If any action is to be taken it should be done soon—the earlier the better.

Prices lower than the lowest. Goods can't be beat. Call at Mrs. E. E. Bangs' fashionable millinery parlors on Second street.

The McLean Prescott Company appeared on the boards in this city on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings of last week in Shakspeare's plays to full houses. On Thursday evening they presented "Ingomar," on Friday evening "Spartacus," and on Saturday evening "Virginius." Mr. McLean was highly spoken of as an orator of great merit. It is seldom that a troupe draws three such houses three nights in succession. This troupe will receive a royal welcome should they ever favor Crookston again.

Geo. M. Swift, president of Polk County alliance, was in from Mentor to listen to Dr. Fish on Saturday.

John T. Beaudry, the postmaster farmer of the Beaudry office, was in to attend the grand alliance rally on Saturday.

Cyprien DeMers, dept. county lecturer, came down to meet Dr. Fish and hear him speak, on Saturday. Mr. DeMers is one of those wide-awake, stirring alliance men whose influence is bound to be felt in this warfare. He has enlisted for life "or during the war" in the effort to obtain a free and open market.

Hogs handled and meats cured and smoked all through the summer months at reasonable rates. Also parties having hogs to sell can find a purchaser by applying at the packing house until August 1st.

[4-15] ROBERT STANTON.

Dr. E. W. Fish gave an eloquent alliance address at Fertile on Friday to a large and appreciative audience. After picturing the evils that surround the agricultural interests, he showed how, by joining the alliance, the farmer could apply the remedy. He said he was not upon the rostrum to attack the merchants, though there were probably isolated cases where they deserved it richly enough, but he was aware that between the manufacturer and consumer there was altogether too great a margin. He showed how this was and wherein our merchants do not make the lion's share of the profits. He cited the organization of every other interest as a stronger reason why the farmers should unite for self protection. At present, in their unorganized condition, they were entirely at the mercy of every organization, and would be until they were prepared to act as a unit. The Fertile people treated the speakers very handsomely; they had their band out and Nels Muus took the speakers to the grounds in a carriage behind a spanking pair of noble iron greys who entered into the martial spirit of the occasion with so much life that the doctor was on the point of jumping out once or twice but was calmly told by his companion not to fret—good farmers always train their horses that way, but they are perfectly safe and gentle. The doctor's speech was attentively listened to by a large audience.

DIED.

COOKE—At the family residence in Fairfax, on Friday, May 30th, 1890, Mrs. Harriet Clarke Cooke, aged 75 years, 6 months and one day.

Harriet Clarke Cooke was born in Geneva, New York, on Nov. 29th, 1814. She was the oldest of a family of eleven children, two sisters only surviving her. She was united in marriage to Aaron Cooke, of Northampton, Mass., on Oct. 23th, 1840, at which place they resided for several years when they removed to York State, where they lived until the winter of '80, coming to Crookston in February. One daughter, the oldest, Mrs. Esther D. Arnold, died in 1881. Our mother leaves to mourn her loss an aged consort, two sons, Harvey E. and William G. Cooke, one daughter, Isabella G. Bartlett, and a grand daughter, Miss Lizzie Arnold. She was a member of the Congregational church in this city and for many years lived a true and consistent christian. She had been in the enjoyment of excellent health up until last winter when she had a siege of the prevailing trouble, la grippe, and while she had apparently recovered from it she was never really well any more, and for some weeks had been gradually growing weaker, until finally, calmly and peacefully, without apparent pain, she fell asleep in the arms of Him who had been her life-long stay and comfort in the hour of trouble. While we know that in the natural order of things she must soon leave us, none but those who have tasted the cup can realize the bitter anguish of the final parting with a MOTHER. God, in His bountiful love, gives as His choicest gift but one MOTHER, but while we sincerely mourn her irreparable loss, it is not without hope, and it is our sincere prayer that when it is ours to leave the scenes of earth we may be as well prepared to go as we feel sure she was. In her example we are admonished that it is not ALL of life to live, nor all of death to die.

A CARD OF THANKS.

In behalf of the bereaved ones we desire to take this method of returning their sincere thanks to the friends who so kindly manifested their sympathy by their deeds. May the choicest blessing of Him, Who hath said: "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these, My brethren, ye have done it unto me," be and abide with them forever.

Millinery.

Ladies, you will consult your best interest by calling at Mrs. E. E. Bangs' and examining her stock of spring and summer millinery in the latest styles of the art. Remember, a purchase to the amount of $3.50 entitles you to a ticket for a gold watch and chain which somebody will get July 1st, 1890.

WYLIA, June 1, 1890.

ED. JOURNAL:—The Black River farmers have come to the conclusion that it is of the utmost necessity to take a step in the direction which the Scandia and Fosston alliances have already taken, and in regard to that, our alliance, No. 689, at its meeting held May 31st, 1890, passed the following resolution:

Resolved, That the resolution adopted by the Scandia alliance, No. 648, is to be accepted by our alliance, and we will take steps and do our very best to stand against our foes.

We wish to call the attention of all alliances or delegates, and alternates to be present at our county alliance meeting. We hope that steps will be taken in regard to buying our binding twine through the alliance purchasing agent, and thereby getting it cheaper.

Our alliance now numbers 28 members. We go slow but sure.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, COUNTY OF POLK—ss. In Probate Court. General term, June 2d, 1890.

In the matter of the estate of Tollef Thoresen, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of Andrew Thompson, administrator with will annexed of the estate of Tollef Thoresen, deceased, representing, among other things, that he has fully administered said estate, and praying that a time and place be fixed for examining and allowing the final account of his administration, and for the assignment of the residue of said estate to the parties entitled thereto by law.

It is ordered, that said account be examined, and petition heard, by this Court on Tuesday, the 1st day of July, A. D. 1890, at 2 o'clock p. m., at the Probate Office in the city of Crookston, in said county.

And it is further ordered that notice thereof be given to all persons interested by publishing a copy of this order once in each week for three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing, in THE POLK COUNTY JOURNAL, a weekly newspaper printed and published at Crookston, in said county.

Dated at Crookston, the 2d day of June, A. D. 1890.

By the Court:

C. O. CHRISTIANSON,
Judge of Probate.

MORTGAG SALE.

[First publication June 5th, 1890.]

WHEREAS, HENRY DAVEY AND NETTIE Davey, his wife, of Polk County, State of Minnesota, as mortgagors, did, on the 25th day of December, A. D. 1886, duly execute and deliver to The New England Mortgage Security Company, of the County of Windham, State of Connecticut, their mortgage bearing date of December 7th, A. D. 1886, whereby they mortgaged to said mortgagee the following described land situated in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, to-wit: The southeast quarter of southwest quarter, the east half of southeast quarter and the southwest quarter of southeast quarter Section seven (7) Township one hundred and forty-seven (147) Range forty-four (44) west containing 160 acres, to secure the payment of the sum of one thousand dollars, with interest thereon, according to the conditions of one certain promissory note, with interest coupons attached, bearing even date with said mortgage, and made by said parties to said mortgage, or order, which said mortgage was on the 22th day of December, A. D. 1886, at 3 o'clock p. m., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Polk, in book 27 of mortgages, on page 201; and

Whereas, default has been made in the payment of the sum of seventy dollars, due as interest upon said mortgage on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1889, and on the further sum of seventy dollars due as interest thereon on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1890, and the said interest is still unpaid and due; and

Whereas, it was stipulated by and between the parties to said mortgage, that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants therein contained on the part of the mortgagors, to be kept and performed, that then and from thenceforth it shall be lawful for the said mortgagee, or its assigns, to consider and declare the whole sum secured thereby as immediately due and payable without notice to said mortgagors or any other party; and

Whereas, The New England Mortgage Security Company has exercised its option to consider and declare, and does hereby consider and declare the whole sum of money secured by said mortgage to be due and payable; and

Whereas, there is now due, and claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of eleven hundred eighty-two and 01-100 dollars, and no proceedings have been instituted at law or otherwise to recover the same or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained and therewith recorded, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the land therein described, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Crookston, in said County and State, on the 19th day of July, A. D. 1890, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash, to pay the sum due on said mortgage, together with taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty dollars attorney's fees therein stipulated to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as provided by law.

Dated May 31st, A. D. 1890.

THE NEW ENGLAND MORTGAGE SECURITY COMPANY,
Mortgagee.

JOHN CROMB, Attorney for Mortgagee,
[7-13] Crookston, Minn.

DEFAULT has been made in the conditions of a mortgage containing power of sale dated November 16th, 1888, duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Polk county, Minnesota, November 17th, 1888, in book 40 of mortgages, page 510, whereby William L. Davies and Sarah C. Davies, his wife, mortgageors, mortgaged to The Middlesex Banking Company, mortgagee, the north-east quarter of section thirty-two (32), in township one hundred and fifty-three (153), of range forty-seven (47), in Polk county, Minnesota, by which default the power of sale has become operative, and no action or proceeding at law has been instituted to recover the debt remaining secured thereby, or any part thereof, and there is claimed to be due on said mortgage, at the date hereof, $851.88.

Now, notice is hereby given that, by virtue of said power, said mortgage will be foreclosed and said premises sold at public auction, by the sheriff of said county, or his deputy, on July 19th, 1890, at ten o'clock A. M., at the front door of the court house, in Crookston, in said county, to pay said debt, interest, attorney's fees and disbursements allowed by law.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

CROOKSTON, May 21, 1890.

Pursuant with a call made by the Mayor the following Alderman responded to roll call—Childs, Bjoin, Morrisey, McLaren, Schmidt, Jerome, Buhn, Jennings, Lally.

Upon motion Ald. Childs was elected President pro tem, as was E. W. Wile Clerk pro tem.

The object of this special meeting was made manifest by Alderman Childs reading the call of the Mayor. Petition of M. Cornelius and others asking City Council to amend its action of a former meeting was read. Ald. Jerome asked that the City Attorney give his opinion upon said action referred to in petition, which said Attorney did to the effect that the City had no right to vacate any of its streets except by ordinance and that the contract was not correct in making the "plat" a part of same without submitting to Council. President Childs suggested that any official of the D. C. & N. Ry. Co. be invited to state their position in regard to Bridge on Robert St.

Mr. Tilden of that Co. briefly stated that the work was being done pursuant with his understanding of the contract as per agreements made with City Council.

The petitioners were also asked to give their views concerning same. Mr. M. R. Brown and M. G. LeGuee did so insisting that the pilings interferred much with travel and safety and suggested its alteration etc.

It was then moved by Ald. Jennings, seconded by Ald. Morrisey that the Council rise in a Committee of the whole take a recess of 30 minutes and visit scene of operations—Carried.

Council meets after recess with following Aldermen present—Childs, Lally, Bjoin, Morrisey, Schmidt, Jennings, McLaren, Buhn, Jerome.

Alderman Jennings seconded by Alderman Morrisey moves following: that the legality of the action of the City Council in regard to the Railroad crossing on Robert St. in Jerome's Addition be referred to a Committee consisting of Aldermen Watts and Steenerson to confer with the City Attorney and report at the next regular meeting of the City Council—Carried.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

Minutes of an adjourned meeting of the City Council, held May 27, 1890.

President Watts in the chair.

Members present—Aldermen Childs, Bjoin, Morrisey, Schmidt, Buhn, Jennings, Watts, Jerome.

Members absent—Aldermen McLaren, Lally, Steenerson.

Upon motion E. C. Carruth was elected Clerk pro tem.

Committee on bids for city printing report as follows: We, your committee on bids for city printing, found the bid of W. L. and H. S. Palmer the lowest of the three bids, but if their paper is not legally qualified, we advise calling for new bids, as the other two bids which are in, are alike as to prices.

JAS. E. MORRISEY,
FRANK JEROME,
I. U. JENNINGS.

The committee on an appropriation to erect a water tank in the fifth ward for fire protection reported favorably.

I. U. JENNINGS,
A. C. SCHMIDT.

Alderman Childs offered the following resolution seconded by Alderman Bjoin.

Resolved that $150, or so much thereof as may be necessary, be appropriated out of the general fund for the purpose of establishing a tank, with all necessary connections with the public well in the 5th ward, said tank to be used for the purpose of fire protection to property in said ward, and the expenditure of said sum to be placed in the hands of the alderman of said ward.

Aldermen voting in the affirmative, Childs, Bjoin, Morrisey, Schmidt, Jerome, Buhn, Jennings and Watts. In the negative none.

The president declared the resolution carried.

Approved this 29th day of May, 1890.

ALEX MCKINNON.

The chairman of the committee on the legality of the action of the council in regard to the railroad crossing on Robert Street in Jerome's Addition being absent, Alderman Watts, one of the committee, made the following verbal report:

In my opinion the council had the authority to pass the resolution mentioned, and if the said railroad company have complied with the requirements of the resolution, we cannot oblige them to change their work, if not, we can compel them to comply with it unless they take proceeding to condemn the street.

The committee appointed to examine the bill of R. R. Verland for board and attendance upon Ole Verland, reported as follows: We the committee have settled with said Verland in full to May 17, 1890, for the sum of $6 and taken the receipt therefor.

JAS. E. MORRISEY.

Motion made by Alderman Morrisey, seconded by Alderman Jerome, that the bids for city printing be laid over until the next regular meeting of the council. Carried.

On motion the following bids were allowed:

Bill of 1st ward for labor of O. L. Hamery	$55 50
Bill of 2nd ward for labor of O. L. Hamery	80 75
Bill of 3d ward for labor of O. L. Hamery	28 13
Bill of 4th ward for labor of O. L. Hamery	35 62
General Fund for labor of O. L. Hamery	15 00

Moved by Alderman Morrisey, seconded by Alderman Schmidt that the old well on 7th Street sidewalk, west of high bridge be filled, and the expense of same to be charged to the adjoining property. Carried.

On motion of Alderman Childs, seconded by Alderman Jerome, the City Attorney was requested to draw an ordinance to establish a pound on the north east quarter of section one, in the 5th ward and to present the same at the next regular meeting of the council. Carried.

Moved by Alderman Childs, seconded by Alderman Bjoin that A. McLeary be appointed pound master for the above mentioned pound. Carried.

The president thereupon appointed A. McLeary pound master.

The application of James C. Simpson for pound master of the city, was read, and upon motion of Alderman Morrisey, seconded by Alderman Schmidt, same was referred to Aldermen of the 2nd and 3rd wards and to report at next regular meeting. Carried

Mr. Tilden of the D. C. & N. Ry. being present, was requested by the president to give his opinion concerning the crossing in Jerome's Addition. He briefly stated that th make the mentianed 40 feet opening in the middle of the street would be almost impossible, owing to the piling all having been put in, and to remove the same would be a heavy expense to the Company, and again cause delay in the building of the road.

President Watts requested R. J. Montague to state his opinion. Mr. Montague appeared before the council and read a part of the contract, and at the same time explaining same on a diagram, covering said crossing.

The chair requested any citizens present that were interested in said crossing to give their opinions.

M. R. Brown arose and addressing the council stated that if the opening in the piling is left as it is at present, it would be an irreparable damage to property in Jerome's Addition.

M. Cornelius then arose and made the same objection as the gentleman that preceded him.

Alderman Jennings made the following motion duly seconded. That the council request the D. C. & N. Ry. to amend the contract, so as to make an opening of 40 feet in the Robert Street Bridge to be paralled with said street, and that the centre of said opening be located in the centre of said street. Carried.

Hon. L. C. Aaker, with the permission of the president addressed the council regarding the establishment of a Lutheran College. Propositions had been received from several neighboring cities, and he urged the council to take some action toward procuring the institution for Crookston. He explained that owing to the season being so far advanced, nothing would be done toward erecting buildings this season, but the association would rent buildings until the new ones could be built. The annual meeting takes place June 5th when the propositions will be considered, and he suggested that the council appoint a committee to consider the advisability of submitting a proposition to the association.

Alderman Childs then made the following motion, seconded by Alderman Morrisey. That the president appoint a committee to consider the advisability of submitting a proposition to the Lutheran College Association, and report at the next meeting of the council. Carried.

President Watts, appointed on the committee Alderman Bjoin, Childs and Steenerson.

A committee from the Mayor was read, relating to the railroad crossing on Central Avenue in the 3rd Ward, and on motion of Alderman Childs, seconded by Alderman Morrisey the same was submitted to the Aldermen of the 3rd Ward, in connection with the Mayor and city Engineer. Carried.

A communication of the City Attorney was read, relating to Sewers.

The city attorney tendered his resignation claiming that the city council refused to follow his advice, and insisted on carrying out their own wishes in matters, contrary to law.

Alderman Morrisey moved, Alderman Schmidt seconded that the resignation be accepted. Alderman Childs amended it, requesting the city attorney to file a bill of particulars, showing wherein the council were disposed to act contrary to law.

The city attorney being present, stated that the council could not compel him to file the bill, thereupon Alderman Childs withdrew his amendment, with the consent of the second. The original motion was also withdrawn. On motion of Alderman Childs seconded by Alderman Morrisey all of the communication was stricken out except the words, "I respectfully tender my resignationed."

On motion of Alderman Morrisey, seconded by Alderman Bjoin the invitation of the G. A. R. to participate in the exercises to be held on Friday, May 30, was accepted.

Moved by Alderman Morrisey, seconded by Alderman Childs. That the bond of E. C. Carruth as city clerk be accepted. Carried.

On motion Council adjourn.

E. C. CARRUTH,
City Clerk.

Proceedings of a special meeting of the City Council, held on Monday, June 2, 1890, at 8 o'clock p. m.

Meeting called to order by Vice-President Steenerson.

Members present—Aldermen Childs, Bjoin, Morrisey, Schmidt, Buhn, Jennings, Steenerson and Jerome.

Absent—Aldermen Watts, McLaren and Lally.

The call of the mayor was then read, which was as follows: A special meeting of the City Council of the city of Crookston will be held at the city hall, on Monday, June 2, at 7:30 p. m. for the purpose of confirming or rejecting the Mayor's appointment to the office of city attorney, made vacant by the resignation of Mr. O'Brien. Also to any resignation that may be tendered at that time, and fill such vacancies as may exist in any of the city offices.

The resignation of William Watts as Alderman of the 3rd ward was read, and upon the motion of Alderman Jennings, seconded by Alderman Buhn, same was accepted.

A communication from the Mayor appointing William Watts city attorney, vice M. O'Brien resigned, was read.

Moved by Alderman Morrisey, seconded by Alderman Jennings that the council proceed to ballot on the appointment.

Amended by Alderman Childs, seconded by Alderman Schmidt, that the Clerk be instructed to cast the ballot. Carried.

The Clerk cast the ballot in favor of the appointment.

On motion of Alderman Childs, seconded by Alderman Bjoin, Alderman Steenerson was appointed a committee of one to nominate an alderman for 3 d ward, vice Wm. Watts resigned, and report at next meeting. Carried.

Moved by Alderman Morrisey, seconded by Alderman Jennings, that Alderman Steenerson be appointed President of the council for the unexpired term of Wm. Watts, made vacant by his resignation. Carried.

Alderman Schmidt moved, seconded by Alderman Morrisey, that Alderman Jennings be appointed Vice-president, which office was made vacant by the appointment of vice-president Steenerson as president.

Moved by Alderman Childs, seconded by Alderman Morrisey, that the clerk cast the ballot as the unanimous choice of the council. Carried.

Clerk cast ballot which confirmed the appointment.

The committee which was appointed to confer with the College Association in reference to their establishing a college here, made a report as follows:

Your committee have conferred with Mr. Aaker of the Red River Valley College Association in regard to the inducements necessary to offer to said association to have it locate its school here, and understand that $10,000 would be the minimum sum which the association would accept to locate their college in this city. We recomend that this council use its best efforts to secure legislation the coming winter which will permit the expenditure of the above mentioned sum for this purpose, conditioned in the carrying out of their program as published in the Crookston Times, a copy of which is hereto annexed, and the said school be maintained, at least, ten consecutive years from its opening.

H. STEENERSON
E. D. CHILDS
T. H. BJOIN.

Mr. Aaker arose and, addressing the council, stated that it would be impossible to erect buildings this season, but the intention of the association is to erect buildings when the schools are first opened.

On motion of Alderman Childs, seconded by Alderman Schmidt, the report was accepted and adopted. The following aldermen voting the affirmation. Aldermen Childs, Bjoin, Morrisey, Schmidt, Jerome and Buhn. Alderman Jennings asked to be excused from voting. Nays, none.

On motion Council adjourned.

E. C. CARRUTH,
City Clerk.

Is The Sub-Treasury Plan Constitutional?

BY J. M. WHITEHEAD.

No patriotic citizen would intentionally favor legislation that would be in violation of the United States Constitution, at least he ought not. The sub-treasury plan has been proposed, and is being discussed, and first among those who oppose it, Stands Colonel Oates, Congressman from Alabama, to deny the constitutionality of such a measure. I am willing to give Colonel Oates credit for honesty, and for possessing the "courage of his convictions"—a trait too rare in these latter days among public men. I have had personal acquaintance with him for thirty years, in peace and in war, and have always found him ready to encounter danger in the defense of the principles he believed to be right. Hence I shall not impugn his motive nor cast discredit on the degree of moral courage requisite in a member of Congress representing an agricultural people to antagonize legislation that, in my judgment, would redound greatly to their happiness and prosperity. Being myself a lawyer of over thirty years' standing, I desire to consider, in a calm and lawyer-like manner, the constitutional question sprung by my esteemed friend, Colonel Oates. As lawyers, he and I are about the same in length of experience, both having been admitted to the bar at the same term of the court in Alabama, by the same judge, in 1858; however I feel at liberty to take greater privileges with him than I otherwise would, since he has attained to no small distinction in public life, while I am yet an humble disciple of Blackston, Kent, and Story.

The reason urged for the unconstitutionality of the sub-treasury plan is that there is "no authority in the Constitution for the Government to loan money." Grant for the sake of the argument that the sub-treasury plan is a plan by which the Government is to lend money to farmers on their deposits of produce. I do not admit this in fact, for I think the editor of The Economist meets this phase of the question most successfully. But grant that it is—is there any power in the Constitution for the Government to give money? Such legislation is very common. On occasion of great disaster by flood, or drouth, or storm in some particular locality, Congress rarely even fails to come to the front with an appropriation for the sufferers. Congress made large appropriations for the world's fair held at New Orleans in 1884-5, and in Philadelphia in 1876. By what authority was this done? These were gifts; but is there a provision in the Constitution authorizing a gift that will not at the same time, and for the same purpose, authorize a loan?

Section 8 of the Constitution declares "that Congress shall have power: 1. To lay and collect taxes, duties, imports and excises; to pay the debts and provide for the common defense and general welfare of the United States." It is under the "general welfare" clause of this section that authority is claimed for all of those acts. Is it for the general welfare, is the paramount question in considering the constitutionality of an act of Congress making appropriations for any of these things. Of this Congress is the sole judge. I agree that some of its appropriations are difficult to reconcile with the general welfare. Pensions or bounties would be hard to discern as contributing to the welfare of all the people, or of the people of all the States. But Congress in the nature of things is the judge in the legislative conscience. There are no tests of the "general welfare" by which this judgment of Congress could be reversed on an appeal to the courts. It is a matter of judgment not susceptible of proof by the legal rules of evidence.

Let us run the analogy between the United States national banking system and the proposed sub-treasury plan suggested by the Farmers' Alliance. We will start with the deposit of bonds in the United States Treasury. In what does this differ from the deposit by the farmer of his cotton or wheat or tobacco in the United States warehouses? Does the fact that one is a paper-interest-bearing bond make it more acceptable under the Constitution than substancial things of intrinsic value, like the articles named above, and if so, why? In the one case the Government does lend its money to the broker to the amount 90 per cent on the face value of the bond at 1 per cent interest, and pays interest in gold on the deposit. In the other the Government gives its receipt for 80 per cent of the value of the article deposited, which receipt is to circulate as a representative of value, and in the hands of the last holder may be surrendered and the deposited article withdrawn from the warehouse and sold to the consumer or the manufacturer on the payment of 1 per cent, not as interest, but to defray the expense incident to the deposit.

Now which looks most like a loan by the Government, the United States national banking system or the Alliance sub-treasury plan? Col. Oates voted for the act extending the charter of the national banks. By what sort of logic or reason he can defend the one as constitutional and assert the other as unconstitutional, I am unable to comprehend. I deny that the national banking system was or is calculated to promote the "general welfare," but of this Congress was the judge, and it decided otherwise. I hold that the Government is able to manage our financial affairs better for the people than any set of men bent on amassing fortunes for themselves. The Government can and ought to issue and regulate the amount of gold and silver and paper money in circulation, and not leave it in the power of a few by contracting the circulation to double the value of what they have.

The Alliance and Knights in New Jersey.

The Farmers' Alliance and Knights of Labor are pulling together in New Jersey, their main object just now being to further ballot reform. They have what they call "the industrial senate, representing 40,000 wage workers of the state of New Jersey," and are trying to make it very unpleasant for politicians who do not help them in that matter.

NOTICE.

On and after this date all bills against the city must be in the comptroller's hands not later than 4 p. m., of the Monday preceeding the stated council meetings. No bills will be audited after that time.

Money to Loan

On More Reasonable and Better Terms than Ever Before Offered in the Northwest.

We are now prepared to loan money in any amount from $250 up to $10,000 on well improved farms where title has been perfected, and U. S. patent is on record or has been issued.

Our terms are 8 per cent, interest, with a small commission to cover expenses and cost of making the loan.

Where the security is satisfactory we can make loans for five or any greater number of years, interest payable annually on the first day of January, and will allow the borrower, after two years, to pay any part of the principal, in sums of $100 or upwards on any interest day named in his notes. So much for straight loans.

We are the agents for the Union Central Life Insurance Company, of Cincinnati, Ohio, a company of great strength, and a public record for probity and fair dealing unsurpassed; and can write life insurance in connection with loans with great profit and advantage to the borrower, which, taken in connection with the loan for ten years, pays the loan by yearly payments, which is more fully shown by the following statement: A, aged 25 years, of sound health, applies for a loan of $1,000 on his farm, at the same time he applies for $1,000 insurance on the 10 years annual payment stock-endowment plan. He pays as follows:

Each year on his insurance.......	$88 44
Each year on his loan for interest..................................	80 00
Total yearly payments...	$168 44
Total for ten years..........	1684 40

which pays up for the insurance, and the insurance pays the loan in full.

If the borrower dies during the ten years his insurance becomes payable and due at once and pays his loan in full, leaving his farm clear and free of all encumbrances, for his family.

NOTE THE DIFFERENCE.

If the borrower effects a loan of $1,000 on the plan usually followed, he must pay interest at the rate of ten per cent. and may be stated as follows;

$1,000 for five years, annual interest..................................	$ 100 00
At the end of the loan he pays interest in the sum of..........	500 00
When the loan is due he pays..	1000 00
Principal and interest paid in 5 years..................................	1500 00

As much within $184.40 as he pays in ten years with insurance with us.

If he makes such a loan for ten years he pays:

Interest..................................	$1000 00
Principal at end of 10 years.....	1000 00
Total..................................	$2000 00

or $315.60 more than he would pay with us; besides on the 10 per cent. plan he is not insured against death, and if he dies during the life of the loan the "Old Detestable Mortgage" still hangs over the heads of his defenceless wife and children.

WHEREAS, OLIVIER DEMERS AND Adelle Demers, his wife, of Polk County, State of Minnesota, as mortgagors, did on the 9th day of December, A. D. 1885, duly execute and deliver to The New England Mortgage Security Company, of the County of Windham, State of Connecticut, their mortgage, bearing date of November 28th, A. D. 1885, whereby they mortgaged to said mortgagee the following described lands situated in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, to-wit: The southwest quarter of Section 22, Township 150, Range 45 west, containing 160 acres, to secure the payment of the sum of eight hundred dollars, with interest thereon, according to the conditions of one certain promissory note, with interest coupons attached, bearing even date with said mortgage, and made by said mortgagors to said mortgagee, or order, which said mortgage was on the 10th day of December, A. D. 1885, at 7:30 o'clock p. m., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Polk, in book 27 of mortgages, on page 63; and,

Whereas, default has been made in the payment of the sum of sixty-four dollars, due as interest upon said mortgage on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1890, and the said interest is still unpaid and due; and

Whereas, it was stipulated by and between the parties to said mortgage, that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants therein contained on the part of the mortgagors, to be kept and performed, that then and from thenceforth it shall be lawful for the said mortgagee, or its assigns, to consider and declare the whole sum secured thereby as immediately due and payable without notice to said mortgagors or any other party; and

Whereas, The New England Mortgage Security Company has exercised its option to consider and declare, and does hereby consider and declare the whole sum of money secured by said mortgage to be due and payable; and

Whereas, there is now due, and claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of eight hundred ninety-one and 33-100 dollars, and no proceedings have been instituted at law or otherwise to recover the same or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained and therewith recorded, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the land therein described, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the City of Crookston, in said County and State, on the 12th day of July, A. D. 1890, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay the sum due on said mortgage, together with taxes, if any on said premises, and fifty dollars attorney's fees therein stipulated to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale, as provided by law.

NEWSPAPER LAW.

1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for the payment.
2. If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscriptions, the suit may be instituted where the paper is published.
4. The Courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers or periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid for, is prima facie evidence of intention to defraud.

What Cheap Fares Will Do.

Iowa Tribune:—The railroad war which has resulted in very low rates for passenger tickets throughout the Northwest, has brought in such an increase of travel on some lines that the companies can not furnish cars to carry the people.

Duluth Daily Tribune:—Congressman Comstock has a faculty of "getting there" that is in keeping with the spirit which pervades the leading city in his district. Mr. Comstock doesn't say much, but it's a cold day when he gets left.

The Great West:—Did you know that the Supreme Court of Minnesota has declared that if "commission" makes interest amount to more than legal rate—it is a case of usury? Make a note of this on the next court docket!

Mankato Register,—The Great West is sitting down hard on C. L. Smith, the gentleman who has been "farming" at the expense of the state treasury, and who very naturally thinks that there are no grievances concerning which the farmer needs to complain. We enjoy seeing just such as he annihilated, the harder the better.

The agricultural Editor of The Cincinnati Commercial Gazette, who has been making personal observations for fifty years, prints a glowing eulogy of the railroads and an anathema of demagogues and unthinking clamorers, who, by long time indiscriminating raillery, have created an unhappy state of hostility between the railroads of the country and the farmer.

The delegates who met at Norristown, Pa., to form a farmers' league, passed this among other resolutions: Resolved. That this union will demand equalization of taxation of the next state legislature; that we should not be compelled to pay tax on such portions of our property already covered by mortgage, and that we should not pay county, school and road taxes levied against our farms, whilst corporations, stock and moneys at interest pay only a state tax.

Dispatch Farmer, Ga: The poor farmer cannot diversify his crops while his creditors are demanding money, and cotton alone will bring it. With more money in circulation these debts could be discharged in a shorter time, for the productions of the farm would bring a better price and the demand would be far greater. The manifold blessings that would attend the adoption of our sub-treasury plan cannot be estimated.

The Fisher Bulletin:—We received a letter from Battle Creek, Mich., on Thursday stating that Mr. Hugh Thompson had an operation performed. The letter goes on to say that he stood the operation better than had been expected, taking into consideration the fact that he was so weak. The operation was performed for an abcess of the Kidney, and was successful. The doctor says he thinks he will be all right now but it will be some time before he is able to return home.

The Grand Forks Herald:—Crookston means to get the Lutheran college. At a special meeting of the city council last evening it was unanimously agreed to employ united effort to secure from the next legislature a special act empowering the city to vote bonds in the amount of $10,000 to go toward the erection of the Norwegian college which will be voted almost unanimously. A subscription has been started among their business men for the purpose of raising money for the erection of the college.

The Great West:—Our friend Pillsbury stuck to it that Exchange was worth but $4.80 to the pound sterling. He has never acknowledged his error, when we quoted it at $4.88 for the past several months. Our attention is called to it by a friend who found exchange quoted at $4.90 both by the Express Companies and the United States government, at the Post Office.

Investigator, Boston:—Nationalism preaches the gospel, not of charity, not of mercy, but of justice. It says, and says truly: Labor is being wronged; give labor its rights. It recognizes that the evils of society are due to the present unequal, unjust social condition, and it says: Change the conditions. Capital has controlled legislation for its advantage, and Nationalism says: Make laws that allow advantage, to no one. It appeals to no class, no race, no religion. It appeals to men and women. It is not a perfected scheme for the reformation scheme for the reformation of society. It is the voice, not of one, but of a good many, crying in the streets, in the homes, in public and private. Prepare better conditions for man, make his paths straight. Nationalism up to date has set thousands of hearts beating for something better.

Lawrence Journal:—Not since the interesting days of the temperance crusade in Kansas has there been, until now, a time when one subject was the sole theme of conversation among public men, of speeches by the orators and of newspaper talk by the editors, as is this Farmer's Alliance movement. Politicians are the fellows principally worried, in fact their antics are down-right comical as they endeavor to anticipate the steady going farmers and try their own hands at alliancing. These are the chaps the farmers must keep clear from, but it is doubtful if they can do it. The politician is a shrewd bird, and his chameleonic accomplishment, of turning color makes him difficult of detection. The men who are trying to ride the Alliance wave are to be watched. The leaders must be selected from the tried and true, and even then a constant spying on them is necessary, for many a man, honest in the lack of opportunity is presented.

Ada Herald:—The Great West has completely routed C. A. Pillsbury on the profits to be made by shipping wheat to Liverpool. By taking Mr. Pillsbury's own figures for freight, commissions, insurance, storage, etc., a clear profit of over twenty cents per bushel is established. Mr. Pillsbury tries to hedge in another letter by stating that the price of wheat in Crookston at the time his estimate was made was ten cents higher than figured (72 cts. instead of 62) and that the Liverpool price was ten cents lower. The Great West again completely knocks him out by taking the prices paid on date mentioned, from Mr. Pillsbury's books and quotes the Liverpool prices from three leading papers. A most gigantic robbery is and has been committed against the farmers and people of the Northwest. The actual difference between the price of wheat at Ada, plus the actual charges for freight, commission, insurance, and storage, and the Liverpool price is shown to be nearly 80 cts. Enough to make the difference between poverty and prosperity.

Dodge Co. Record:—The Nation calls the alliance a bedlamite organization and proceeds to lie both about its proceeds and work in a fashion that is particularly an insult to the intelligence of its leaders. What these eastern monopolists and coupon clippers would like to see is a state of things in which the farmer figures only as a juicy plum to be plucked at seasonable times, a subservient toiler, contented to feed the country for his board and clothes. That is why they oppose the alliance and Grange and other attempts to organize the farmers of the country for self-protection, and the spreading of information affecting their material and social interests. They don't want the farmers to become acquainted with the profits of the middleman, whose tribe is increasing and whose demands are becomming more and more rapacious. But the producers of the country will be neither disturbed by this selfish criticism nor dissuaded from their purpose to protect themselves by organization against the combinations of capital and the greed of monopolies and their union an important element in western development.

Colman's Rural World:—This gambling in wheat, corn and pork is the bane of the day. It is like all gambling, not exactly a device of the devil but a propensity of the ingenious and wicked heart of a man who is afraid to work and ashamed to beg. A simple bet is a matter that is tolerated the world over. A game of chance between acquaintances may be a mere matter of pleasure or amusement, but the professional gambler is counted a sport the world over and as such finds no entrance to the circle of intelligent and refined society.

This dealing in wind is gambling in grain. It is more, it is worse. It is not alone betting or playing at chance, but puts in peril the great producing interest of America, the grain producing and meat producing efforts of millions of men whose families include one half the population of the country. At times it may run prices up and then again crowd them down, but whether one or the other, is fictitious, transitory and spasmodic; unbalancing in its effects, unprofitable in its results and a petty, childish business all around.

If the intelligence of this great country cannot find better scope for its employment than gambling, if congress cannot be appealed to for aid and protection by men engaged in more laudable enterprise than the destruction of the best interests of this country than the Board of Trade appeal against the Butterworth bill, the farmers had better be informed of the fact. The gamblers or the farmers will be sent to the right-about. Which shall it be? Let congressmen answer.

Farmer's Mutual Benefit Association.

The association was formed for the purpose of redressing the wrongs of farmers. Our organization is not intended to interfere with any legitimate business, nor injure in any way those connected with other industries. For the intelligence of the farmers is such as to cause them to understand to the fullest extent that all interests of the commonwealth are to some degree allied and dependent on each other. We have no grievance against the original manufacturer of such articles as we use, but we do complain against that great class who, like leeches, extort from the farmers the profits that by hard labor they have dug from the ground.

I mean the middle man. We as an organization believe that it would be better for the manufacturers and more satisfactory to our class if we could contrive some means by which we could deal directly with the producer and thereby lessen the cost that is necessarily imposed by these men, who live for no other purpose than to add to the original price of articles used by the agricultural class. This organization has for its purpose the advantages gained by exchanging ideas, experinces and sympathy and by mutual counsel, disseminating timely and important information. By thus uniting ourselves we can unify our interests and combine our strength.—C. J. Lindly, President Illinois F. M. B. A.

Silver and Wheat.

Senator W. M. Stewart in Belford's.

Why has the price of wheat, cotton and other farm products in the United States declined 35 per cent., while the burdens of mortgages and other obligations have continued to increase? The answer is plain, and easy of demonstration. Take, for example, the article of wheat. Its price has been two rupees in silver for more than twenty-five years without any material change, except slight fluctuations depending upon the crop in particular years. Silver in the silver standard countries has the same purchasing power which it possessed before it was rejected as a money metal by the western world. Before silver was demonetized a rupee of silver was equivalent to forty-eight cents in gold, and two rupees to ninty-six cents. A rupee of silver is now worth but thirty-two cents, and two rupees sixty-four cents.

In all the silver standard countries wheat is produced on a silver basis for the same quantity of silver money as formerly, while in the United States and the Australian colonies wheat is produced on a gold basis. The result is that neither the United States nor Australia can compete with the silver standard countries in the production of wheat. To supply the deficiency in her home production Europe obtains wheat from the United States, Russia, India, the Argentine Republic and the Australian colonies.

In 1880 the United States contributed 69 per cent. of the aggregate furnished by the countries named; since which time the proportion furnished by the United States has been constantly declining, until in the year 1889 the United States contributed less than 23 per cent. of the total from the countries named, while the exports from India, Russia and the Argentine Republic, the silver standard countries, were vastly increased. The export from the Australian colonies in 1880 was 18,000,000 bushels, while in 1889 it was only four and one-half million bushels. So long as the United States adheres to the gold standard, and produces wheat with dear money to sell in competition with Russia, India and Argentine Republic, which maintain the silver standard, our farmers must sell in Europe for the price of India wheat—two rupees or sixty-four cents in gold.

Convenient for Farmers.

Duluth Weekly News.

The Pioneer Press wants the Republican state convention held in the latter part of June or the first week in July because it would be the most convenient season for farmers to take an active part in the election of delegates. Every one knows that farmers will take very little active interest of their own accord in the election of delegates to a convention that will be held on such short notice. But if there is a candidate on deck who has the means to send political runners all through the various counties and country districts, he can work up some activity in his behalf in places where the election of delegates would go by default. Every township has a few "workers" who will lend their services for a few dollars to any candidate, and it will be easy enough for them to come in as delegates, or to send servile substitutes, when there is a lack of interest on the part of voters in general. This show how designing politicians can easily control an early state convention, if they are but secretly organized and prepared for their purpose. The conditions would be entirely different were the convention to be held in September. At that time deep interest would be felt, even by the farmers, in the election of county officers and congressmen, as well as state officials. At a time when every crossroad is wide awake with political interest the opportunities for packing the state convention in the interest of an ambitious individual would be comparatively small.

Some of the Evils Which Oppress the Farmer.

The Western Rural.

This is an age of centralization, of population, of wealth, of power. Modern invention does much to create these new conditions and unless the producers of the wealth of the country readjust themselves to the new order of things, what they produce will continually be swallowed up in the centralization of wealth. Transportation and passenger rates are still out of proportion to the price received for farm products—the charges being higher, based on a large volume of watered stock, than present prices of farm products will bear the profit to the producer.

Overcharge in furnishing feed and facilities by the Union Stock Yards corporation and the control of the market for live stock of the whole country, by the immense capital of a few men as packers, depreciates the prices and incurs an expense in marketing, not warranted by the forced price the farmer is compelled to take for his stock.

The agency system of selling articles which the farmer needs, through agents and middlemen prevents such articles from being handled in the ordinary channels of trade, and increases their cost beyond what the prices received by the producers for farm products warrant.

Owing to the isolated condition of the farmer, he wields but little influence in the legislation of the country, yet the tangible nature of his capital compels him to pay more than his share of the taxes and in the aggregate wealth of our nation, the part of the producer is much less than his part of the labor invested in its creation.

Unrestrained capital in corporate power is an evil. Corporate combination in the form of a trust is a conspiracy and a crime. The twine, sugar, oil, salt and other trusts are extorting from the farmers more than what they receive in price for their produce will warrant.

The press wields a mighty influence for good or for evil, and in a measure shapes the policy of governments. What papers are on the side of the farmer to promote and protect his interests, and does the farmer support the paper that advocates his cause?

Reforms in the interest of the farmers can make but little progress so long as they divide and adhere to party lines at the command of mere politicians interested only in the spoils of office.

Our American farmers have come to feel the competitive influence of foreign rivals in the markets of the world, but above all they feel the potent rivalry of greed in the great commercial centers which cheapens the pure products of honest labor with all manner of vile adulterations, as illustrated in the bogus butter, lard and sugar frauds, etc. The farmer sell his corn, a pure article of diet, for one-third of a cent a pound and buys it back for sugar in the form of glucose at nine cents a pound, full of deadly acids, it may be.

For County Treasurer.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the position of county treasurer subject to the approval of the republican county convention. NEIS MUUS, Sec. Liberty Alliance No. 818. [5-tf]

Some of the Remedies.

The Western Rural.

In union there is strength. Divided we fall, is an old adage, but as our enemies multiply, its meaning comes with a new force. Organization should be the watchword. The 1,500,000 members of farmers' organizations is a good beginning. Let the work go on.

The farmer must assert his independence by living within his own resources as far as possible. Economize in the use of the high-priced articles and enter into the production of available substitutes, such as hemp for twine, sorghum and beets for sugar, etc. They should bring their purchases as near to a cash basis as possible. Cash discounts credit and avoids exorbitant rates of interest which bankrupt the debtor.

State and National laws should be enacted imposing heavy penalties upon conspiracies organized in the name of commerce against the rights of the people, but above all, the laws should be enforced.

All voters should attend the caucuses, that candidates may be selected whose sympathies are with the farmer, that all political parties may be compelled to recognize the rights of the producers, in the legislation of the country.

There is a "Beef Combine."

Farm, Stock and Home.

The Senate special committee to investigate the alleged "Beef Combine" has reported, and the report confirms the worst that has ever been said about that infamous conspiracy. The power of the "Combine" is so great that it was difficult to get evidence against it, for those who knew best how completely it had the beef interest of the country in its power were reluctant to testify, for fear of prejudicing future transacions with it. But it was determined beyond question that the control of the live and dressed beef markets was absolutely in the grasp of this combination.

The principal inquiry which the committee was directed to make was concerning the existence of a combination "by reason of which the prices of beef and beef cattle have been so controlled and affected as to diminish the prices paid the producer without lessening the cost of meat to the consumers." The facts developed prove over-whelmingly a combination such as is described in the above quoted clause.

The commitee find no fact to warrant the claim that low prices for beef cattle were caused by "over-production," and without any hesitation emphatically declares that such prices were caused by a combination at Chicago which controls the markets and fixes the price of beef cattle in its own interest. To show that railroads are a party to the conspiracy, the committee found the railroad trunk lines control the entire meat transportation of the country in the interest of railroad companies Comparing the railroad charges on a car of wheat and car of dressed beef, a discrimination is shown in favor of dressed beef of about 60 per cent.

The facts having been ascertained, remedies will be suggested in a bill to be reported to the Senate.

In conclusion the committee says:

"The worst feature of the cattle trade is the fact that so many cows and calves are being thrown upon the market, the indication being that producers are panic stricken and anxious to realize now without regard to the future. There were marketed at Chicago during the past year 3,023,281 cattle, of which from 25 to 30 per cent were cows, and 4 per cent were calves. If farmers will accept a suggestion from those whose duty it has been for months to examine the cattle question in all its aspect, they will cease marketing their breeding and immature stock and diligently prepare for a larger supply and a brighter future. It is only a question of time, and very brief time, when the problem will be that of supplying our own people with beef without regard to foreign markets."

"An improvement in prices of cattle is undoubtedly at hand, but this makes no less imperative the duty and necessity of annihilation the Combine. The advantages of advancing prices, all of them, must be realized by the growers of cattle, and not three-fourths of them by the Combine."

At the alliance meeting on Saturday a resolution was passed endorsing the nomination by the alliance of a Governor—say some good farmer or Donnelly. Frank Bivins was elected delegate to Fergus Falls on June 12th with H. E. Cooke as alternate.

Mayor McKinnon took a trip to Jamestown last week. While there he saw Frank De Mers and had a talk with him. Mr. De Mers talked quite rationally for a few minutes and then was way off. The doctors consider his recovery extremely doubtful.

R. P. Herrick, seeing our question mark standing on Robert street, said: "You want an item of news? Well, you may say that the Roller Mills are running to the utmost capacity and—well, I have an important item but I guess I cannot give that away—not just at present—wait a day or so my boy, and you will will see what it is.

Last week a nymph du pave came down from Fosston and, by her actions the police thought her drunk and put her in the city lock up. They soon discovered that it was not a case of drunk and she was taken before Judge Christianson for examination, adjudged insane and sent to St. Peter. Sheriff Paterson assisted by Mrs. Godbout took her to the asylum. John says he had rather take six men than one woman to St. Peter.

The Minnesota Storm Association has insured 16,000 acres of wheat already and the agents report business brisk all along the line. This company is composed wholly of alliance men and will make its annual report to the regular meeting of the State alliance in January. The cost of insuring to its members will be far less than in any company doing business. Every alliance member should insure in this company.

If every farmer in the United States belonged to the alliance an independent movement might be in order but as it is—with not over one-half of them in line—with only sufficient strength to hold the balance of power we certainly cannot see how they could hope to win the fight this fall—and that is just what we have got to do up here, or starve. Properly used their strength would control the situation and give us a free and open wheat market.

A new candidate for glory or the grave appears on our table this week—The Fosston News. It looks near enough like the McIntosh Tribune to be its twin brother with a big head on. It is put in to supply "a long felt want" in Fosston for that bright young city of two or three hundred enterprising souls has been obliged to grub along thus far with a sheet that would be creditable to a place of only 2,000 or more—doing about fifty times as much for the place as it has realized from it. Fisher, St. Hilaire and Thief River Falls are way behind the age with only one paper—those "long felt wants" should be supplied and probably will be the first damphool that comes along.

Millinery.

Ladies, you will consult your best interest by calling at Mrs. E. E. Bangs' and examining her stock of spring and summer millinery in the latest styles of the art. Remember, a purchase to the amount of $3.50 entitles you to a ticket for a gold watch and chain which somebody will get July 1st, 1890.

Joseph Netzer returned on Sunday morning from his sad journey to St. Peter with his son. It is thought that the young man will recover his mind in time.

We have purchased and refitted the Date Place on Maple Lake including all boats, 2 sail boats and 5 row boats, and are now ready to receive customers and respectfully invite a share of the Crookston patronage. Only 2 miles from Mentor station. J. O. BUHN, manager.

MOE & BUHN.

H. C. Tatro was down from Maple Bay on Monday. Says the new boat is a daisy. Can make her ten miles per hour with 150 people on board just as easy as not. Says that steps are being taken to get up a grand celebration at the Lake on July 4th. Mr. Donnelly and other speakers of national reputation have been invited and are expected to be present on the occasion. The Fertile band will be on deck chuck full of music. Everybody invited.

Hogs handled and meats cured and smoked all through the summer months at reasonable rates. Also parties having hogs to sell can find a purchaser by applying at the packing house until August 1st.

[4-15] ROBERT STANTON.

Bro. Nelson of the Hallock News, paid THE JOURNAL office a pleasant visit during our absence last week—sorry we could not have been here to have met him. In reply to his query we would say that the Minnesota Storm Association is the Alliance Company, composed wholly of farmers who are Alliance men. Among its managers six are members of the Executive Committee of the State Farmers Alliance; the President of the Association is vice President of the State Farmers' Alliance and the Secretary was the former Superintendent of Insurance of the State Alliance. The company thus has the endorsement of the State Alliance so far as that can be accomplished. It has already insured over 16,000 acres of grain and its agents are hustling in the applications at a rate that keeps the secretary on the jump constantly to keep up with the business. If you want a live, safe, sure company the Minnesota Storm Association is your company.

AMANDA ELLIOTT, Teacher.

ED. JOURNAL:—At a meeting of the Scandia Farmers' Alliance, No. 643, held on the 5th day of June, 1890, the following resolution was passed and ordered published in THE POLK COUNTY JOURNAL:

Resolved, That we heartily approve of the resolution passed by the Norman County Executive Committee May 17th, 1890, and further, that we suggest to our county executive committee to take some action on the same; and we furthermore humbly ask that the committee on constitution and by-laws acquaint us with the constitution and by-laws to be adopted at the next annual meeting of the county alliance.

KNUTE H. ROLLAG, Sec.

The above is accompanied with a request that we publish the resolution referred to, which we are unable to do, not having it at hand. We believe it was a resolution censuring the old party for their neglect of the interests of the farmers and recommending that the alliance act with the Prohibition party on legislative questions.

ROOME, June 10, 1890.

ED. JOURNAL:—At the last meeting of the town of Roome Farmers' Alliance, No. 676, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we are in favor of holding a farmers' alliance legislative and county convention, and that the president of our county alliance issue a call for such convention, to be held before any of the regular party conventions meet.

P. B. ANDERSON, Sec.

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 10, 1890.

ED. JOURNAL:—I see Ste Croix has been blustering up in your section lately. The "challenge" did not reach us until our forms were made up, so it will be two weeks before your people could hear from The Great West. Please state in THE JOURNAL that we will investigate this new Ajax with a proposition to furnish your people with some of his vast information. My work on the Pillsbury racket cost money, and then the $20,000 didn't turn up. Either this man ought to be brought to time with his facts or blacksnaked out of the country. You will notice that wheat is now worth 15 cents a bushel more in your market—so as to give this man a "chance." Yours truly,

EVERETT W. FISH.

Assistant deputy county lecturer, Chas. A. Johnson writes the editor of THE JOURNAL a kind letter of sympathy, for which we return our heartfelt thanks and gives us the following report of his work:

"I was up in the town of Excel, Marshall Co., on the 4th inst. and started another sub-alliance, with Chas. Unbright, Pres., and P. B. Malberg, Sec. I go into Norden on the 7th on hail insurance business."

FONTAINE & ANGLIM.

MCINTOSH, Minn., June 5, 1890.

ED. JOURNAL:—As you have always been a friend to the farmer and have expressed a desire to hear from all the alliances in the county, I wish to inform you that King alliance is in a flourishing condition, with 59 members who have come to stay by the alliance, notwithstanding the agents of the wheat ring and others are crying "political schemers!" We have grown tired of selling wheat for less than the cost of production and mortgaging our farms to buy machinery of McCormick or Deering at their agents prices. Who are these pets of the McCormick and Deering companies that they cannot get along without them? A gang that start out like the June bug, full of gas and buzz; a large portion of them without any capital when they start in the machine business, but the second spring they come out in a plug hat, and in addition to their load of gas, they are by this time loaded with whisky. They walk up and down the street, saying "if the farmers cannot pay me I shall publish them as dead beats!" And still the McCormick and Deering companies say they cannot get along without the middlemen. Let them take them home under their wings and protect them from the farmers' alliance shower of hail. We can get our grain cut without McCormick or Deering better than they can sell their machines without us. I hope to see every alliance in the state adopt a resolution not to buy a McCormick or Deering machine until we can buy direct from the factory. W. G. H.

The Republican County Central Committee met on Tuesday evening to issue a call for a county committee to elect delegates to the State Convention at St. Paul on July 24th, and delegates to the Congressional Convention to be called later. P. J. McGuire presented a proxy from Hugh Thompson. C. G. Rapp and Robert Colter were absent. Motion was made that delegates to the county Convention must be residents of the town or precinct they represent. The following resolution was unanimously adopted.

WHEREAS—We regret to learn of the continued ill health of our honored colleague, Mr. Hugh Thompson, and

WHEREAS—This Committee recognizes in him a tried and faithful upholder of Republican principles, now therefore be it

RESOLVED—That our sympathy is hereby extended to our co-laborer in his distress and our earnest prayer is that he will be soon restored to health and happiness.

After apportioning the representation of towns and precincts and naming Friday, July 18th, at one o'clock p. m. as the day and hour for the convention, the committee adjourned without date.

Money to Loan

On More Reasonable and Better Terms than Ever Before Offered in the Northwest.

We are now prepared to loan money in any amount from $250 up to $10,000 on well improved farms where title has been perfected, and U. S. patent is on record or has been issued.

Our terms are 8 per cent. interest, with a small commission to cover expenses and cost of making the loan.

Where the security is satisfactory we can make loans for five or any greater number of years, interest payable annually on the first day of January, and will allow the borrower, after two years, to pay any part of the principal, in sums of $100 or upwards on any interest day named in his notes. So much for straight loans.

We are the agents for the Union Central Life Insurance Company, of Cincinati, Ohio, a company of great strength, and a public record for probity and fair dealing unsurpassed; and can write life insurance in connection with loans with great profit and advantage to the borrower, which, taken in connection with the loan for ten years, pays the loan by yearly payments, which is more fully shown by the following statement: A, aged 25 years, of sound health, applies for a loan of $1,000 on his farm, at the same time he applies for $1,000 insurance on the 10 years annual payment stock-endowment plan. He pays as follows:

Each year on his insurance	$88 44
Each year on his loan for interest	80 00
Total yearly payments	$ 168 44
Total for ten years	1684 40

which pays up for the insurance, and the insurance pays the loan in full.

If the borrower dies during the ten years his insurance becomes payable and due at once and pays his loan in full, leaving his farm clear and free of all encumbrances, for his family.

NOTE THE DIFFERENCE.

If the borrower effects a loan of $1,000 on the plan usually followed, he must pay interest at the rate of ten per cent. and may be stated as follows:

$1,000 for five years, annual interest	$ 100 00
At the end of the loan he pays interest in the sum of	500 00
When the loan is due he pays	1000 00
Principal and interest paid in 5 years	1500 00

As much within $184.40 as he pays in ten years with insurance with us.

If he makes such a loan for ten years he pays:

Interest	$1000 00
Principal at end of 10 years	1000 00
Total	$2000 00

or $315.60 more than he would pay with us; besides on the 10 per cent. plan he is not insured against death, and if he dice during the life of the loan the "Old Detestable Mortgage" still hangs over the heads of his defenceless wife and children.

D. 1887, duly execute and deliver to The American Freehold Land Mortgage Company of London, (Limited) of London, England, their mortgage bearing date of first day of April, A. D. 1887, whereby they mortgaged to said mortgagee the following described lands situated in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, to-wit: The southeast quarter of Section 2, Township 150, Range 45 west, containing 160 acres, to secure the payment of the sum of one thousand dollars, with interest thereon, according to the conditions of one certain promissory note, with interest coupons attached, bearing even date with said mortgage, and made by said mortgagors to said mortgagee, or order, which said mortgage was on the 18th day of April, A. D. 1887, at 10 o'clock a. m., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Polk, in book 27 of mortgages, on page 280; and

Whereas, default has been made in the payment of the sum of eighty dollars, due as interest upon said mortgage on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1889, and on the further sum of eighty dollars due as interest thereon on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1890, and the said interest is still unpaid and due; and

Whereas, it was stipulated by and between the parties to said mortgage, that if default should be made in any of the conditions, or covenants therein contained on the part of the mortgagors, to be kept and performed, that then and from thenceforth it shall be lawful for the said mortgagee, or its assigns, to consider and declare the whole sum secured thereby as immediately due and payable without notice to said mortgagors, or any other party; and

Whereas, The American Freehold Land Mortgage Company of London (Limited) has exercised its option to consider and declare, and does hereby consider and declare the whole sum of money secured by said mortgage to be due and payable; and

Whereas, there is now due, and claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of one thousand two hundred ten and [illegible] dollars, and no proceedings have been instituted at law or otherwise to recover the same or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained and therewith recorded, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the land therein described, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the City of Crookston, in said County and State, on the 26th day of July, A. D. 1890, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay the sum due on said mortgage, together with taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty dollars attorney's fees therein stipulated to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as provided by law.

A. D. STEPHENS, Crookston, Minn.

Some of our brethren of the press have suggested the propriety of making Joel P. Heatwole Lieut. Governor. If Joel could overcome his innate modesty long enough to consent he would be available timber, as he is every way capable and worthy, and is a man who has the interests of the farmer thoroughly at heart. The Fisher Bulletin nominates him for Governor and we heartily second that motion.

What is it that the farmers of Polk County need? Is it the honor of creating—a few years hence, a political party? How are you going to live until the dawn of that millenium? Is not the great need of the hour simply a free and open wheat market? Can that not be accomplished by securing a majority of the Legislature to pass proper laws to that end? Working with that end solely in view we can correct the evils that exist and create a free and open market. More than that is not needed at present.

The Executive committee of the State Alliance met in St. Paul last week to consider twine and other matters. The report of the committee recently sent to New Jersey, by the Governor, to ascertain the feasibility of putting a twine factory into the States Prison, was laid before the committee. This report pronounces the plan feasible and recommends that the Governor proceed to establish a factory at once. The committee approves of the report and the recommendation. The plan to commit the Alliance to independant action did not materialize.

The effort to commit the alliance to an independent State, Congressional, Legislative and county ticket throughout did not prove such a brilliant success as its promoters hoped for at the meeting of the Executive committee last week, and we trust that it may not in the future. We should be utterly false to our trusts if we failed to raise our voice in warning against this movement as it is one calculated to defeat the very object of the Alliance in the Northwest—a free and open wheat market. The only way we can get a free and open wheat market is through the Legislature, and that body we can secure if we do not attempt to do too much before we have strength enough. We are in this fight to win a free and open market for the people and we know enough about the politics and the politicians of Minnesota to know just what old mossbacks are behind this seductive movement and what these objects are. We know that those objects are far from being the welfare of the farmers and we earnestly hope the alliance will not be led astray thereby.

Harrison Tumbles.

Immediately after the election of Harrison, the press of Minnesota began to urge the appointment of Maj. T. M. Newson to a foreign consulate. For some reason his royal nibs did not twig and the Major languished unplucked thro' all the appointments. At the editorial meeting last winter the boys agreed to go down to Washington, en masse, in June, but his serene highness still pursued the even tenor of his way. The boys gathered at the river, in St. Paul, last Friday, preparatory to the "on to Washington" movement when, lo! the wires straightway announced the appointment of the Major to a consulship to Malaga, and all those ringing resolutions the boys had written will now find oblivion in the waste basket, and their tale of woe be turned into poeans of victory. Here's Ho, Major! Wish we were with you on your triumphal march to Washington.

PECULIAR TACTICS.

The management of the Fifth District Farmers' Alliance seems extremely peculiar, to say the least about. First and foremost on the bill of fare they have the noted criminal lawyer, Bill Erwin, as head speaker, to tell the farmers what he knows about criminal farming. This is to be the leading feature of the show and then, to sort 'o give it an agricultural flavor they invited S. M. Owens, of Farm, Stock and Home, to say a few words. After awhile, probably because he saw the drift of public sentiment, Mr. Hall extended an invitation to the State Lecturer, Mr. Donnelly, to be present. Mr. Donnelly accepted and made preparations to be present, but last week he received a letter from Mr. Hall to the effect that it was thought best to rescind the invitation. We would like to know by what authority this deliberate insult was offered to Mr. Donnelly? Will the Alliance of the Fifth District quietly submit to be thus snubbed through its best friend? If you do thus submit to the behests of politicians you deserve defeat. What would the alliance in this Fifth District be to-day if Mr. Donnelly had not entered the field last fall and by pen and voice encouraged the farmers to renewed efforts? Let the thirty-two alliances now existing in Polk County, (where last fall there was not one live one,) answer. The revival of the alliance work in the state is due wholly to Mr. Donnelly, and his twenty-five years of work against monopoly shows him to be a true friend of the farmer. With his brilliant mind, in all those years had he been the tool of the oppressor he would to-day be worth his millions, while he is comparatively a poor man, hated by the very men who make their wealth out of the toil of the farmer, and feared and reviled by politicians and demagogues whose schemes he unmercifully reveals. Farmers, will you join hands in this attempt of your natural enemies to slay your life long friend? Railroad men, elevator men, wheat gamblers and pothouse politicians would tell you that Mr. Donnelly is a "demagogue;" that he "wants to be Governor," and so forth to the end of the chapter, and if they can get you to they continue to get in their work on you as of old. Well, suppose you should assert your independence once and make your true friend, Mr. Donnelly, your Governor? Would not that be better than to take some cold stick whose only interest in you is manifested just before election? If he was governor you know you have a friend at court whose ear is ever open to the cry of the helpless, whose voice is never silent in their behalf. "Demagogue!" You had better have every office in the state filled with such "demagogues" than with men who never give your interests one thought more than they can help. We wish that Congress was composed entirely of such "demagogues!" Don't you know that if Mr. Donnelly could have his way you would have a free and open market for your wheat to-day? Don't you know that if Mr. Donnelly had his way the railroads would all do you evenhanded justice? Yes, you do know that and you know that Mr. Donnelly knows more about how to bring these things about than any other man in the state. Then why do you not stand by your true friend as faithfully as he has by you? Why are you so easily led about by your oppressors? Note your action in that state convention when your enemies raised the hue and cry against Mr. Donnelly and you joined in the cry. [illegible] Are you men and suffer such things? Men, and dare not stand by a strong and true, a noble friend? Can you not discern the gold from the dross? Can you not see in these desperate efforts to down Donnelly" the fine Italian hand of the wiry politician whose schemes Mr. Donnelly is always thwarting? Can you not see the hand of the elevator man, the railroad man, the wheat gambler, the hand of every man whose interests lie in keeping you in the thralldron of slavery, raised against this strong bulwark of the alliance in a desperate attempt to destroy the alliance? It is there as plainly as the sun at noonday, and the object is just as plain. It is the duty of the alliance to stand by its friends through thick and thin, and we must realize the fact that the better and stronger the man the more bitter will be the efforts to kill him off. In the past we have allowed these senseless attacks upon our friends to have too much weight with us; will we still continue to do so? In this crisis the alliance owes it to a faithful worker to pass resolutions endorsing Mr. Donnelly's course and deciding to stand by him.

A LAND LOAN BUREAU.

Senator Stanford Introduces a Bill Establishing Such a Branch of the Treasury.

Under It Owners of Agricultural Lands May Secure Loans at 2 Per Cent. Interest.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Senator Stanford to-day introduced a bill for loans on hand, and said he would hereafter address the senate on the subject. It provides for the establishment of a land loan bureau in the treasury department. The chief and deputy chief shall be appointed by the president, with salaries of $6,000 and $5,000 respectively. The secretary of the treasury is authorized to prepare, ready for issue, United States circulating notes of the denomination of $5, $10, $20, $50, $100, $500 and $1,000 in amounts as they may be necessary, to be placed to the credit of the land loan bureau. These notes shall be a full legal tender for public and private debts, except for interest on the public debt, or for redemption of the national currency. Any citizens of the United States, or any person who has declared his intention to become such, who owns unincumbered agricultural land, may apply to the land bureau for a loan, to be secured by a lien on such land, the loan not to exceed half the assessed value of the land. No loan shall be made upon land of less than $500 in value nor in sums less than $250, nor for a longer time than twenty years. The loans shall be at interest at the rate of 2 per cent per annum, payable annually, and may be paid at any time in sums of not less than 25 per cent of the whole amount. The secretary of the treasury shall cancel and retire circulating notes equal to the payments made on the loans, and the same payment is made in any other currency of the United States, an equal amount of the notes issued under this act. In case of default of payment of the interest or principal of a loan, the chief of the bureau may order a foreclosure of the lien in the United States circuit court. Counsel fees in any case shall be added to the judgment, but shall not exceed $500. The bill provides for "that rule of common law that the statutes in derogation thereof are to be strictly construed, shall have no application to this act." This act establishes the law respecting the subject to which it relates and its provisions and all proceedings under it are to be liberally construed with a view to effect its object.

NEBY, Minn., June 2, 1890.

ED. JOURNAL:—Benjamin Franklin, the grandfather of our country, once said: "We must hang together or we will hang separately!" The farmers and temperance people of to-day must hang together; if not, the old political war horses will lead them, one by one, by the nose until they are, politically, dead. The farmers of our country to-day are strong; they are an organized body. The temperance people are also organized and are ready for action. Many of the farmers' alliance men also belong to the temperance alliance, and I think it is a general feeling among the Scandinavian element of our county who are members of either of the two alliances, that they ought to unite hands and stand together like a stone wall, and by combined strength elect their legislative ticket, viz:—one senator and three representatives. If the strong prohibition and farmer elements of Norman County would unite with the farmer and temperance elements of Polk County, then the temperance and farmers' alliance people of our district would be sure to elect their candidates. The coming campaign will not be a fight between the old parties, but will be a hand-to-hand fight between the different candidates. Let our platform be good men and good principles; our party, the people, and our next senator and representatives from this district be the choice of the people. If the old battle cry of the different parties—"Stand by the nominee though it be the devil himself!"—has not yet been buried, let us bury it in the coming campaign. Remember that our government is a government of the people, for the people and by the people; not of, for or by any certain demagogue or party politician. Farmers and temperance people unite and be true to your principles; let neither money bribe you or the mortgage that the capitalist holds against your farms frighten you from doing justice to your home and your country.

"On to Richmond!" was the cry during the years of our civil war, and our fathers and brothers captured Richmond at the point of the bayonet. Down with corrupt politicians, whisky rings and selfish monopolists, who have, so to speak, pressed the life blood out of the veins of the laboring class of people of this country, and for years set the people turning grind stones for the purpose of grinding their (I mean the boobies) own political axes. Down with them! turn the rascals out! This is the present cry of the farmers, temperance people and the laboring class in general. Have they a right to complain? Have they a right to use the mighty pen and their tongues in their own defense? I think they have; if not, then will our legislature be a jungle of tigers. The farmers, laboring and temperance men must unite; their interests are common and they have a common enemy. If they unite their strength they will win a victory, not at the point of the bayonet but by their precious votes.

Unite or die!

EVEN J. GREFTHEN.

Decline to Answer.

Minneapolis Pioneer Press.

The census bureau has apparently weakened under the storm of indignant criticism called out by the questions which it has added to the old list propounded by the enumerator. An order has been given out directing the enumerator to enter simply the remark, "refused to answer" oposite the names of those who do not choose to submit to this inquisition, without any attempt at compulsion. The legal remedy for such contumacy will, it is said, be applied from Washington. There need be no fear that the penalties prescribed by the law will ever be called into requisition. The census bureau has enough to do in tabulating returns and compiling great volumes for the next few years, without instituting legal proceedings against the few million people who will refuse to tell a local enumerator their physical defects, and relate to him the diseases with which they have been and are afflicted. If declining to answer were to be punished, the whole nation would be summoned into court, and the fines collected would pay all the cost of taking the census and leave a handsome surplus. But there will be no resort to law, and no attempt to compel the public to respond to these impertinent inquiries. The objectionable questions are practically eliminated from the list.

It is proper to say, now that this has been done, that it is the duty of every [illegible] to answer all other questions [illegible] with absolute accuracy. The [illegible] returns from the basis of some of our most important conclusions on social and economic questions, and by them legislation is very largely determined. Wherever statistical information affects our opinions or our acts, the United States census reports are taken conclusive evidence. It is all important that they be reliable; and one of the gravest objections to the new questions on the list was that it would vitiate the whole work. For where a man was irritated by private inquiries which no government has any right to institute, and found his only safety in concealing the truth, it was not likely that he would be especially careful to state the exact truth and the whole in answer to other inquiries that were perfectly proper. But now the course for our people to pursue is plain. Give the facts exactly, with as much accuracy as if under oath, in reply to the list of census questions down to the point where the enumerator is directed to inquire into the bodily imperfections and private ailments of the individual. Stop there. Whether sound or invalid, decline to answer the questions improperly put on the list. This is the way to make the census a success.

MORTGAGE SALE.

[First publication May 8th, 1890.]

DEFAULT HAVING BEEN MADE IN THE conditions of a certain indenture of mortgage, dated November 17th, A. D. 1888, made by Clara M. Howes and Joseph W. Howes, her husband, to Willford and Northway Manufacturing Company, a domestic corporation, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Polk County, Minnesota, on the 7th day of December, A. D. 1888, in book 41 of mortgages, pages 66 and 68, conveying and mortgaging the following described premises situated in said county of Polk, to-wit: Lots seven (7), eight (8), and nine (9), block fifty-nine (59), in original townsite of Thief River Falls, Polk County, Minnesota, as it appears upon the recorded plat thereof in the office of said Register of Deeds, on which there is claimed to be due and unpaid and is due and unpaid at the date hereof $2,105, for interest and principal secured by said mortgage and for attorney's and solicitor's fees as therein conditioned. And default having been made in the payment of the principal sum at maturity, with interest at the rate of ten per centum per annum; and said mortgage containing a power, therewith recorded, authorizing a foreclosure of said mortgage in case of said default, and no proceedings at law or equity having been instituted to recover said debt or any part thereof. Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of said power of sale and foreclosure now having become operative, and pursuant to statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of said mortgaged premises at public auction, at the front door of the Court House in Crookston, in said county, on Friday the 20th day of June, A. D. 1890, at 10 o'clock a. m. of that day to satisfy the sum herein claimed due, together with all the costs and charges of foreclosure.

Who Is To Blame?

The Prairie Farmer.

Emerson says, "In the great household of nature, the farmer stands at the door of the bread-room, and weighs to each his loaf." That being so, it seems to me that the farmer ought to be able to command a reasonable return for this bread, which is a necessity to all mankind. But as far as I have observed, the farmer has, in comparison to the rest of mankind, a very small share in the comforts and amenities of life.

And why? I suppose because he is too poor to pay for such. But why is he too poor? That question is agitated here quite freely among the farmers, and the other day I noticed in a paper among other reasons adduced as causes of the farmers' poverty the following: "Too much fashion, too much tobacco and whiskey, and not enough enterprise." This may apply in isolated cases, among farmers, as among other classes, but I am quite sure it does not apply to farmers in general.

Out in this western country the farmers live economically, even to the verge of meanness. I should like to put some of the wiseacres, who know so well what the farmers ought to be, to do and to suffer, on a diet of corn-meal and a drink of water in all its variations, for two-thirds of a year—and then let him report progress materially and mentally. But if fashion and tobacco and whiskey are causes of the farmer's failure, why do so many of the great ones of the earth thrive?

Take up almost any Eastern paper, and you will be dazzled with detailed accounts of the magnificent extravagance in dress practiced by the wives and daughters of the successful manufacturers of America, and it is well known that a goodly majority of the husbands and sons consume cigars and cognac without stint.

I suppose the same thing which makes the farmer fail makes another fellow succeed. Then about want of enterprise, here is a picture drawn from life: An energetic farmer brings his family to the West and takes up land, determined to make a home in a new country and wrest a living from its soil. He works late and early, and so does his wife. In June everything is lovely. His corn is growing higher day by day—and so are his hopes. But too often something happens—it may be a couple of days hot wind, and it may be just an army of chinch-bugs. In a new country there are so many contingencies. His crop is a failure—he has often nothing else to fall back on—and what comes next? Winter comes, for one thing. His team and a little live stock have to be fed, and he and his family must eat. If he leaves his farm he will lose it, and will do anything rather than that. He borrows some money to tide him over, and gives a mortgage on his belongings for security. When our farmer has reached this stage, you should see then what enterprise he shows. It makes him hustle to meet the 36 per cent interest as it comes due.

How many farmers have been swamped by this terrible 3 per cent per month, there is no one can tell; but even when crops do not fail the farmer makes little more than a living—and he and his wife pay dearly for that. Hard work from morn till eve is their lot. Is this how it goes with other businesses? I think not.

The farmer occupies a false position in this way. If he has anything to sell he has to take whatever price his customers choose to give; and if he wants to buy anything, he pays the price demanded of him. He sells cheap and buys dear, and as things are he can't help himself.

But we are beginning to find out that it may be possible to change the condition of things and make it possible for the farmer to have something to say about prices. The farmers in this district are combining for the purpose of helping themselves. Every day adds members to the Farmers' Alliance, who are thoroughly in earnest, and are sure to do good work. And for the sake of America, as well as myself, I sincerely wish them success in their undertakings.

ISABEL STEVENSON.

New Jersey Farmers.

Points Culled from Their Recent Protest in the Shape of a Memorial.

The cry of distress is so great in New Jersey that Governor Abbott suggested last January a joint committee of the legislature and some well informed agriculturists. The state board of agriculture selected a committee, and the legislature appointed another. These had several meetings with the governor. Questions were sent out and many answers returned. The committee sent a memorial to congress. They said:

Among the causes leading to the depression of farming are:

Demonetization of silver—not enough money for the business needs of the country in circulation among the people.

Greater favors given for booming business than are extended to the producing classes.

Subsidizing the great railroad corporations with grants of public lands, which lands are offered in foreign countries at low prices, and the unwarranted inducements thrown out to foreign immigrants to occupy and homestead said lands, causing an overproduction of agricultural crops. This, with the low freight rates to the seaboard granted by the trunk line roads, has reduced our eastern farming to a well nigh profitless condition, although we have the markets at our door.

No American vessels to transport our products to other countries.

Immense shipments of western beef to our market by western beef and cattle kings. The failure of the interstate commerce law to afford relief to our farmers. The complaint is nearly unanimous that the railroads charge on the produce of this state altogether out of proportion to charges on the same articles from hundreds, and even a thousand miles, distant to the same markets. This of course puts all articles thus discriminated against in this state nearly, if not quite beyond profitable production.

Gambling in the necessaries of life, trusts and bank monopoly, receive their reprobation. They do not wish government money spent to irrigate desert lands when there is so much good land unused in the east, and such a tendency exists to give away the public domain to corporations and foreign syndicates. This has gone so far that "the children and grandchildren of the men and women who gave their lives and property during the war to save the country are, or soon will be, deprived of any share in that domain at government prices. We ask that congress turn their attention for a while to the east and aid in developing and filling up this secton of our common country, and when this will hold no more, our children—the overflow from America instead of from Europe—will have some virgin land left to homestead and settle upon."

Money to Loan

On More Reasonable and Better Terms than Ever Before Offered in the Northwest.

We are now prepared to loan money in any amount from $250 up to $10,000 on well improved farms where title has been perfected, and U. S. patent is on record or has been issued.

Our terms are 8 per cent. interest, with a small commission to cover expenses and cost of making the loan.

Where the security is satisfactory we can make loans for five or any greater number of years, interest payable annually on the first day of January, and will allow the borrower, after two years, to pay any part of the principal, in sums of $100 or upwards on any interest day named in his notes. So much for straight loans.

We are the agents for the Union Central Life Insurance Company, of Cincinnati, Ohio, a company of great strength, and a public record for probity and fair dealing unsurpassed; and can write life insurance in connection with loans with great profit and advantage to the borrower, which, taken in connection with the loan for ten years, pays the loan by yearly payments, which is more fully shown by the following statement: A, aged 25 years, of sound health, applies for a loan of $1,000 on his farm, at the same time he applies for $1,000 insurance on the 10 years annual payment stock-endowment plan. He pays as follows:

Each year on his insurance........$88 44
Each year on his loan for interest........80 00
Total yearly payments...$ 168 44
Total for ten years........1684 40

which pays up for the insurance, and the insurance pays the loan in full.

If the borrower dies during the ten years his insurance becomes payable and due at once and pays his loan in full, leaving his farm clear and free of all encumbrances, for his family.

NOTE THE DIFFERENCE.

If the borrower effects a loan of $1,000 on the plan usually followed, he must pay interest at the rate of ten per cent. and may be stated as follows:

$1,000 for five years, annual interest........$ 100 00
At the end of the loan he pays interest in the sum of........ 500 00
When the loan is due he pays.. 1000 00
Principal and interest paid in 5 years........ 1500 00

As much within $184.40 as he pays in ten years with insurance with us.

If he makes such a loan for ten years he pays:

Interest........$1000 00
Principal at end of 10 years..... 1000 00
Total........$2000 00

or $315.60 more than he would pay with us; besides on the 10 per cent. plan he is not insured against death, and if he dies during the life of the loan the "Old Detestable Mortgage" still hangs over the heads of his defenceless wife and children.

Splendid rains this week. Getting plenty of moisture these days.

C. Anderson is putting down an artesian well for P. J. LeChapelle.

Miss Clara Asker has gone to the old home at Alexandria on a visit.

A. C. Cowing returned from Fergus Falls last week after attending the funeral of his brother, W. H.

Mrs. A. D. Stevens and Mrs. Fred Mix will entertain their lady friends at a five o'clock tea on Friday of this week.

Mrs. Iver A. Kohn, who has been very low with typhoid fever is reported very much better with prospects good for recovery.

Tracklaying on the D., C. & N. R. R. has commenced on the north and it is said will be completed by the time the bridge is ready.

A. D. Stephens took a trip to Fosston on Tuesday to see how the young metropolis bears the added honors of another newspaper.

D. D. Williams and wife, accompanied by Miss Maggie and Miss Nettie Brown, intend starting on a trip to the far west next week.

McKinnon Bros. talk of putting up an addition to their block on the two lots adjoining it on the east, which property they have purchased.

Tom Bjoin has purchased the Shapleigh lot, adjoining his Main street property, and intends to put up a three story business block on the four lots.

Wm. N. Godfrey was in from Maple Bay on Tuesday. Says he fears interest in the alliance work in Godfrey alliance is waning as but few attend the meetings.

The Northern Pacific will put on a fast train as soon as the cut-off is completed, about August 1st. It is expected to make the run to St. Paul in ten hours.

The quill-drivers return from Washington this week. "We opine" they had a good time—lots of receptions and refreshments about town and ice at the White House.

News from Tacoma announces the death of Mr. E. E. Perry, a former citizen of Crookston, and the marriage of Miss Nellie to a worthy real estate dealer of that city.

Mrs. John Hack has been seriously ill since the birth of her baby boy on Friday last but the physicians have strong hopes of her ultimate recovery. The babe did not live

Rev. Frederick B. Noyes, of Acton, Mass., has accepted the pastorate of the First Congregational church, and will preach his first sermon on Sunday morning next, June 22.

Rev. J. A. Fletcher, of Bothwell, Scotland, is on a vacation visit to America. He spent two days in the city last week as the guest of his old fellow-townsman, Hugh Robertson. He says Crookston is one of the finest places he has visited on his trip.

As an evidence that some business is done in our city we notice that the drays are all busy every day at something or other. Although we have a goodly number you never see one idle. This is more than can be said of many a city that makes more pretentions than ours.

W. O. Wilson and wife returned on Sunday morning from a long visit to the old home in Wisconsin. Mr. W. looks very much improved in health by the visit and says that he is glad to get back to old Polk County again. He is looking as robust as a granger and no wonder as he did a good bit of work in that line by way of recreation.

Hon. Knute Nelson was in Washington last week keeping very quiet however. He said that he is "out of politics." If he would consent to be nominated for governor he would be elected by an overwhelming majority. If the farmers are in earnest in this independant move here is a pointer. Knute Nelson could carry the State by a sure majority.

In the case of the county vs. John Langhon, indicted for stopping at a claim shanty, during the temporary absence of the owner and helping himself to the "grub stake," simply because he was hungry, the jury decided that John had been sufficiently punished and the Judge gave him a lecture upon the difference between meum and tuum and discharged him.

The ladies of the Episcopal society are preparing for a grand carnival, to be held at the Opera House, June 24th and 25th. Among the attractions will be booths representing the six working days of the week, and presided over by ladies who will offer for sale articles both useful and ornamental. There will also be a Japanese booth, in which ladies dressed in full Japanese costume will sell you anything in Japanese novelties. Ice cream and strawberries will be served during the evening. Remember the date and the place.

The Republican District Convention is called to meet at Little Falls on Thursday, Sept. 4th. Polk County is entitled to 8 delegates.

Andy Locken steps high—new policeman on the force, sort of a night watchman. Andy says the lad is a chip of the old block. All doing nicely.

The Minnesota Alliance Storm Association wants to secure an agent in Vineland, Hubbard and towns along the west side. Address this office for particulars.

Mr. Donnelly, having accepted an invitation to go to Montana for July 4th, cannot be at the celebration at Maple Bay, but Dr. Fish has been written to and is expected.

The enumerators failed to finish the work of counting noses last week, and are at it red hot this week. The result will show a population not exceeding 4,000 "we opine."

Notice the call for the meeting of the Polk County Alliance on July 2d. As some of the alliances have failed to report to the Secretary he has been unable to notify such by letter.

THE JOURNAL is in receipt of the annual catalogue of the Moorhead Normal school, which shows a very properous condition of affairs. The catalogue was printed at the News office, and is a creditable job.

The jury in the case of Lanctot vs. the county, awarded Mr. L. $600 damages and then gave it as their opinion that that sum was more than the improvements would be worth, so the road will not be built through on that line. That's a sensible jury.

In the list of patents granted Northwestern inventors we see one for a car-coupler to A. N. Hopkins, our old time fellow citizen, who is now a temporary resident of Duluth. From what we have learned we judge that A. N. has a big bonanza if it is properly managed. His old friends here would rejoice to see him realize bushels of shekels.

Lumber $7.00 to $11.00. Good for roofing, sheathing, under floors, &c.

Dimension, $13.00.
Flooring at $10 and upwards.
Shiplaps at $12 and upwards.
Shingles from $1.25 to $2.75.

RED RIVER LUMBER CO.,
[9-tf] Crookston, Minn.

Knute Steenerson returned to Crookston last week after an absence of four years. He has been at Rugby Junction, N. D., at which place he now has a hardward store. He has purchased the old Stdenerson homestead in Vineland and intends to live at home in the future. Says after all old Polk County is good enough for him—is the best place he has seen in all his travels.

Red Lake Falls Gazette: Cyprien De Mers, assistant County Lecturer, was in on Wednesday enroute for Fergus Falls as deligate to the District convention. He organized an alliance at Red Lake Falls on Monday of 26 charter members. Thomas Belair was elected president and Michael Jeffers, Secretary, and John Boudron, treasurer. Red Lake Falls alliance starts in under favorable auspices.

The St. Hilaire Horse Co. met with a great misfortune on Saturday when the $2,000 Clyde they had just purchased of Brainerd Bros., of Redwood Falls, died of colic. The horse was apparently subject to attacks of colic and hence defective and no doubt the firm of whom he was purchased will replace him. Chas. A. Johnson, P. O. Hegglund, and Peter Swanson came down on Monday evening to see representative of the firm about it.

Wednesday forenoon Eddie Farley, aged about 14 years, and a little son of Mr. Lusian, aged 10 or 11 went down to the river opposite the island between Ald. Jerome's residence and the Walker mill. Eddie went into the water and attempted to swim across, but failed and sank. The other boy who had not gone in was nearly frightened out of his wits and ran to summon help. The river was thoroughly dragged and about 2:30 the body was recovered.

Farmers don't sell your hogs to shippers when you can get double of the price by having them cured at the packing house. [6-tf]

The citizens of Fertile and other villages are intending to celebrate at Maple Lake. A number of our citizens were intending to join in, but upon application for an excursion train, the reply came that the Great Northern would have no cars to spare on that day, so all who go from here will have to drive. No finer place for a picnic could be had than Maple Lake affords, and all who go will doubtless have a fine time. The new steamer will prove a very attractive feature.

The Steenerson family re-union at the old homestead last Sunday was a happy event for the participants. There were gathered together under the homestead roof, Knute and family, Levi, Christopher, Halvor and family, Andrew and family, Elias and family, John, Ellen, (Mrs. Torkelson) and Annie. A photographer was taken along to take a picture of the family as they appeared in the old homestead. That the event was a happy one—long to be remembered, goes without saying.

Millinery.

Ladies, you will consult your best interest by calling at Mrs. E. E. Bangs' and examining her stock of spring and summer millinery in the latest styles of the art. Remember, a purchase to the amount of $3.50 entitles you to a ticket for a gold watch and chain which somebody will get July 1st, 1890.

Not a Candidate.

In last issue of the Times, P. J. McGuire says:

"Your St. Paul correspodent is "way off" in his statement that I am a candidate for State Auditor. My friend, Mr. Lucken is a candidate for a place on the State ticket, and it will be a great pleasure to me to contribute in any way toward his success. As to myself, I may add that I am not seeking any office at the present time." Meeting Mr. McGuire on Tuesday evening we referred to his communication and said: "How are we to understand that sentence, Mac., that you are out of the field entirely? That while you are not seeking an office "just now" you may be a candidate for re-election later?" "No sir," said Mac, I meant to say that I am entirely out of the field, am not now nor will I be later a candidate for any office within the gift of the people. For some time I have been contemplating a business opening here in the city and I have positively decided to change while I fully appreciate the compliment of ten years in the office with which I have been complimented I desire to go into some permanent business and have done with the cares and worry of public life and my decision is irrevocable."

Mr. McGuire soon completes his tenth year in the office of county auditor to which he was appointed on the death of John Christianson. He found the office in a somewhat confused state but soon brought order out of chaos and for these years has made as one of the best auditors the State can boast of and now voluntarily relinquishes the office he has seen grow from a comparatively small affair to one of a magnitude second to none in the State. Always capable, courteous and gentlemanly, he has made as many friends as any man in Polk County enjoys, in fact his name in a household word in the county and very many will regret that he has decided to step down and out. This decision leaves three places to be filled by new men, Auditor, Tresurer and Sheriff. How this will effect the balance time alone will tell.

Where Is the Poundmaster?

Complaint reaches this office of stock being allowed to roam at will about the streets, and also of damage done by cows going to and coming from the herd, and we are requested to call the attention of the new poundmaster to the matter.

Juvenile Workers Organized.

A Crookston company of the "Loyal Temperance Legion" of Minnesota, was organized Saturday afternoon, June 14th, at the reading room, under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. About 40 juveniles joined this society and will meet at the reading room for instruction and military drill every Saturday at 3 p. m. All loyal boys and girls under 16, are invited to enlist in this company.

Polk County Farmers' Alliance.

CROOKSTON, June 18th, 1890.

A call is hereby made for a meeting of the Polk County Alliance, in Crookston, on Wednesday, July 2d, at 10 o'clock a. m., to adopt a constitution, consider the propriety of independent political action and other important matters. By order of

A. N. HIXSON, Secretary. G. M. SWIFT, President.

ROCKSTAD, June 10, 1890.

ED. JOURNAL:—At our meeting on the 9th Inst. the following resolutions were passed:

Whereas, Neither of the old parties will represent us therefore be it

Resolved, That we believe independent political action ought to be taken at once: also that candidates be pledged to our cause.

Resolved, That business meetings be held with closed doors.

Whereas, It is becoming more, and more apparent that our congress will pay no heed to demands of the farmers for aid in the form of a loan that they may save their homes from going into the hands of the usurer: therefore be it

Resolved, That we endorse the Bugle Blast of Kansas, and urge that all alliances and other farmer organizations throughout the whole country do the same.

On the same day we organized the St. Hilaire Clydesdale Horse Co., with 20 stockholders, and purchased from Brainerd and Co., of Redwood Falls, Minn., an imported thoroughbred Clydesdale stallion for $2,000. The officers of this Co. are: Peter Swenson, Pres., C. A. Johnson, Sec'y, Andrew Swanson, Treas., Geo. Turnell, manager. Board of directors; August Yonke, P. O. Hegglund and August Hoppe.

Yours Truly,
C. A. JOHNSON.

And Don't You Forget It.

Where you can secure a yield of from $6 to $8 per acre at an expense of less than ten cents per acre it is folly to neglect to do so. If the agents of the Minnesota Alliance Storm Association fail to see you don't fail to hunt one up and insure your crops. It is for your benefit.

LOWELL, June 14, 1890.

ED. JOURNAL:—Since the question of independent political action of the Farmers' Alliance is up, and will not down, permit me to say that we, at present, have quite parties enough to perform all the necessary functions of organization and preserve justice and equality before the law. Nothing is to be gained by further division, but there is much to lose. The way to enforce and make felt our just demands for representation in the legislative bodies of our country is to come up solidly and insist that all parties now in the field shall nominate men for these offices who are intelligent, straightforward, honest men who have the agricultural interests really at heart, and who realize that in building up the farming interests in any agricultural country, all business interests are benefitted. This proposition is so plain that I believe it is generally admitted. Let us then first make this demand and name the men. I firmly believe that the fair minded men who form the bulk of all parties will recognize our rights and accede to the expressed wishes of the alliance in this matter. It certainly is uncalled for and premature to take independent action until the parties now is existence refuse or ignore our wishes. We need all our strength and perseverence to carry on and succeed in this contest against monopoly, watered stock, contracted currency and kindred abuses, without wasting any in the effort to form independent organizations, unless really necessary. Let us demand our rights frankly and fearlessly, and stand by them unflinchingly; use the means at hand until found wanting, when it will be good time to find others. Perhaps this plan may not suit the scheming politician, but I do believe it will commend itself to the sound business judgment of every man seeking actual, immediate and tangible results. Yours for a free and open market anywhere and everywhere in the wide world for our products, and that immediately.

A FARMER.

Over Forty Thousand Acres.

The Minnesota Alliance Storm Association has insured over 40,000 acres already, which places this company at the front in the insurance business and secures to farmers in absolutely sure guarantee against loss. Why take your own risks against the destroyer, hail, when you can at small expense guaranty yourself a crop? Be sure that you insure in the Alliance Storm Association, the strongest, the best, the cheapest in the field. See list of agents elsewhere.

HAIL INSURANCE !

NOW IS THE TIME to insure your crops against loss by hail, in the Minnesota Alliance Storm Association. Members sustaining loss to their growing crops by hail shall be entitled to compensation as follows, which shall be net: When the loss is entire the price per acre shall in no case exceed the following established prices, the amount to be determined according to stand:

Wheat	$8.00	Rye	$6.56
Oats	6.50	Barley	6.00
Corn	7.00	Flax	7.00

In cases of partial loss the following prices per bushed will be used in adjusting; providing, however, the price shall in no case exceed the above established limit per acre:

Wheat	50 cents	Corn	23 cents
Oats	20 "	Flax	75 "
Barley	25 "	Rye	33 "

Losses shall be due and payable within sixty days after adjustment, but in case of excessive losses the Directors shall have discretionary power to defer a portion of the payment until November 15th. Insure with the

MINNESOTA ALLIANCE STORM ASSOCIATION.

This Company has already insured FORTY THOUSAND ACRES in Southern Minnesota, which already insures a large business. The following is a list of agents in Polk County:

M. E. Bartlett,	Crookston P. O.
C. A. Johnson,	Rockstad "
A. Boddy	Edna "
J. O. Stortroen,	Neby "
C. L. Lanmon	McIntosh "

W. A. Marin	Melvin "
A. P. Toupin	Brooks "
Otto F. Buse	St. Hilaire "
K. Rollag,	Gossen "
W. G. Hunt,	King P. O.

With the present prospect this company will be enabled to insure for you at at an expense very much inside of ten cents per acre.

An early State convention is a grand thing—maybe.

Such men as Hodgson, Canning, Atwood, and that crowd—disappointed politicians, are not safe leaders in so important a movement as the Farmers' Alliance, and they should be relegated to the rear. We cannot afford to jeopordize our important interests to gratify their desire for revenge.

The Great West:—The Minn. Alliance Storm Association, the Hail and Cyclone Insurance Company of the Minnesota Alliance, is doing a very large business.

One agent sent in 2,000 acres in one day. There are 150 agents in the field. So far they have covered over 40,000 acres—and the prospect is good for 150,000. Robert Eckford, the Secretary, has his office at 758 Wabasha St., in the publishing house of the Great West. Every incorporator and every member of the board of this company is an alliance man, and a majority of the board are on the executive committee of the state alliance.

INDEPENDENCE.

The present attitude of the farmers shows an awakening to the importance of the duties of self-government which has never before been manifested by them in this State. By the very nature of their calling, demanding the most of their time in the field, they have been handicapped and this fact has given schemers a golden opportunity that they have not been slow to take advantage of. Had farmers always been so fully alive to their interests they would have paid more attention to the important work of the primaries, sending only their tried and true members into the conventions to elect their officers, and the occupation of the professional schemer in politics would not have been so well worked as it has been. This awakening to their sacred interests is one of the best evidences of progress that has been seen for a long time and if properly conducted, will result in great good to agricultural interests, but if their action is allowed to be controlled by either one of the dominant political parties the result will be disastrous, and here is the danger, for both parties are anxious to control the farmer vote, or at least to turn it to its own advantage. At present this sentiment is divided as to how this independence is to be managed so as to result in the accomplishment of the object sought. While all are united on the essential idea of independence in action, some think it can only be accomplished by cutting loose entirely from the old parties while, on the other hand, others affirm with equal force that this new born independence should be used to dictate to and control the actions of the old established parties. Whatever is the outcome, THE JOURNAL sincerely hopes that the farmers will make no mistakes, for the time is at hand when they must have a change in the market system, and any move that failed to secure the control of the next Legislature, means to many the loss of all the property they have. We are positive that they can absolutely control the situation if they will, just as firmly as we believe that they can give the advantage they possess to one of the old parties. The question is one of so vital moment that all should deeply consider every step so that no ruinous measures may be adopted.

The Fifth District Alliance.

The Fifth District Farmers' Alliance convened at Fergus Falls on Thursday, June 12th, with president R. J. Hall, of Stevens County in the chair. The morning session was taken up by committee work and addresses by Eric Olson, F. C. Hodgson. Nine alliances from Polk County were represented. After the report of the committee on credentials which was made immediately after dinner, the great criminal lawyer, W. W. Erwin, made an eloquent speech urging the formation of an independent party. He said that from the very nature of the case Gov. Merriam is not in true sympathy with farmers as he was educated a banker and that farmers should nominate and elect a farmer as Governor. He was followed by S. M. Owens, editor of Farm, Stock & Home, who in an eloquent address urged the necessity for government control of railroads. In the evening officers were elected and the subject of placing in nomination a congressman was discussed. After tendering the nomination to R. J. Hall, Chas. Canning, W. F. Kelso, Gen'l Barret and others, Kittel Halverson, of Stevens County, was nominated by a large majority. Mr. H. emphatically declined the honor, but the nomination was allowed to stand. Mr. Hall's friends urged the re-election of that gentleman at president "as an endorsement" of that gentleman's distinguished services, but the friends of Mr. Donnelly could not overlook Hall's treatment of the State Lecturer, and emphatically declined to endorse such actions. Henry Plowman, of Otter Tail Co., was elected President, and G. M. Swift, of Polk, R. M. Probstfield, of Clay, and F. D. Smith, of Stevens, vice-presidents; Louis Hanson, of Clay, secretary; A. D. Gaines, of Douglas, treasurer, and Milo Camp, of Stevens, lecturer. The following is a synopsis of the resolutions adopted:

The attention of the American people is called to the fact that the government is not what our fathers founded, but the supreme court, nominated at the behests of railroads and corporations. That we emphatically denounce the action of our representative in congress, that while knowing that the so-called McKinley bill is unjust and injurious to the constituency he represents, he still supported and voted for it, putting party and caucus dictation above the interest of the people, and has thereby demonstrated that he is an unfit representative of this great congressional district. One of our senators is reported by the public press as favoring the bill for the relief of the Union and Central Pacific railroads. The senator was chosen by the people of Minnesota to defend their rights against corporate aggression. We recommend that he carefully read his speech on modern feudalism. We also request a change of the present system of electing the most important officers of the country, and especially of the United States senators, and ask our representatives in congress and legislatures to change the law, that the president and all other important officers be elected by a direct vote of the people. All forms of discriminations, including passes, transit rates and discrimination in terminal charges must cease. The humblest citizen must have the use of the tracks on the same terms as the most powerful. These rights are essential to the liberties of the people. We regard the elevator system as one of the chief obstructions to a free and open market of our grain, as well as a direct means by which the gambling in grain is made possible. We urgently recommend to the farmers of this state that they will use every practical means possible to ship their own grain to the markets of the world, either loading on track, or wherever possible and practicable operate and maintain co-operative private warehouses with our own men to take care of grain at terminal points. We denounce the proposition recommended by the attorney general and the railway commissioners providing for condemnatory proceedings before building grain houses at the local stations, as an attempt virtually to license country grain houses. We favor the present law, which requires all railway companies to make connections with all grain houses regardless of size or number at all regular stations and demands its faithful enforcement. We maintain that the free shipment of grain from side tracks and the right to construct warehouses without regard to capacity contiguous to the railway tracks at all local stations, must not be abridged. This is essential to an open market, and any attempt to limit their number or control them by either state or railway regulation limits the number of dealers, and therefore destroys a free market. The demand that the next legislature shall make a mileage schedule of grain rates based upon the rates now existing on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad between Graceville and Chicago. That option gambling on boards of trade should be abolished, and we ask the state legislature and congress to pass such laws as shall make all such transactions a criminal offense.

Resolved, That all districts call their legislative nominating conventions at once.

Resolved, That the Australian system be adopted throughout the state.

Resolved that prohibition be submitted to a vote of the people.

Resolved, That the past has revealed the fact that it will injure our prospects of redress by supporting either of the old parties, but that on the contrary we feel it a matter of compulsion to nominate a candidate to represent this district in congress, but that we must nominate a man from our own ranks whose interests are identical with ours.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION.

A Republican County Convention for the County of Polk, will be held on Friday, July 18th, 1890, in the Court House, in the City of Crookston, at one o'clock p. m., for the purpose of electing eight delegates to the Republican State Convention, to be held in the city of St. Paul on the 24th day of July, 1890, and also for the purpose of electing eight delegates to the Republican Congressional Convention, to be held at Little Falls, September 4th, 1890, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the convention. All citizens who believe in the principles of the Republican party; who desire its success; who supported the candidates nominated by the National Republican Convention held in Chicago in June, 1888, and who want to act with the Republicans in the future, are invited to cooperate in the election of delegates.

The several election precincts are entitled to the following number of delegates, the basis of representation being one delegate for each organized town or precinct, and one additional delegate for every forty votes, or major fraction thereof, cast for the Republican candidate for President in 1888, viz:

The following resolutions were adopted:

Resoved, That no delegate will be admitted to a seat in the convention unless such delegate resides in the town or precinct which he represents.

Resolved, That at the several caucuses at which the above delegates are elected, the voters present are hereby urgently requested to elect a local committee of three members for the ensuing two years, and report the names and post office address of such committeemen, to the Secretary of the County Committee, by mail or on the day of holding the convention.

The foregoing call was agreed upon by the Republican County Committee at a meeting held in the City of Crookston, June 10th, 1890.

A. R. HOLSTON, Secretary.
H. E. COOKE, Chairman.

The Republican State Convention, to nominate Merriam for Governor, will be held in St. Paul on July 24th, 1890. Polk County is entitled to 8 Merriam supporters and a hired man is abroad in the county making them.

The Executive Committee of the Farmers' Alliance met in St. Paul on Monday and issued a call for a meeting of the State Alliance, to be held in St. Paul on Wednesday, July 16th, to decide upon independent action and to nominate a ticket if it is so determined.

Dakota Ruralist:—As Ignatius Donnelly happily remarked in his Decoration day address at Duluth: "We need soldiers to-day who will face, not only bullets, but purchased ballots, obloquy, denunciation, personal and political ostracism, in defense of liberty and justice. All good men should unite to serve the essentials of the nation—those innermost spirits which make this republic indeed the greatest gift of God to mankind." We need them on the picket line where they can best guard the approach of the enemy which seeks to corrupt the very fountain head—the primary meetings. There is no favor they will not promise if you will let them name the delegates elected at the primary meetings. They ask for no other favor. Trust them not. Trust only honest men with the interest of the people. Those who will sacrifice principle for success are not worthy representatives.

Good Work.

The Minnesota Storm Association has insured 10,000 acres against hail already and the season has scarcely opened as yet. A few more agents for Polk County yet wanted. Address H. E. Cooke, JOURNAL office for particulars.

The coming meeting of the Polk County Alliance on July 2d bids fair to be one of the most important in its history. THE JOURNAL has no axe to grind and is therefore in a position to take an independent stand, an impartial view of existing facts. Our sole object, our only ambition, our sincere wish in this agitation is that out of it will come a free and independent market for our wheat, and we firmly believe that the farmers are masters of the situation and can control—as they certainly should. This question is one that demands the sober earnest thought of men, for upon its solution may depend and we believe does depend the very object of the formation of the alliance in Polk County. Whatever object others may have what we stand in perishing need of is a free and open wheat market—the control of the Legislature will give us that as soon as that body convenes and if we are great enough to grasp the only SURE way of getting that we shall not have labored in vain. Just as soon as we adopt a course that will jeopardize our chances then we occupy dangerous ground. Before we decide to adopt a plan we should be absolutely sure that it will bring the needed relief, for what good will it do those who will be ruined for a lack of an open wheat market if the Alliance decides to take a step that will defeat the object, in order that in the sweet bye and bye they may be independent? Soberly and sincerely ask yourselves how you and your families are to live several years more under the present monopoly that rules our wheat market? BE INDEPENDENT but only in such a way as to make you masters of the field not followers of some sorehead, who having, like Canning and Atwood and Hodgson et. al., been defeated for some office or other now seeks revenge and are bound to have if they have to defeat a free and open wheat market to get it. Let your better judgement rule in the matter, as you are confronted by a crisis such as you have never before met, and an ill-advised movement, a hasty action, if it should prevent a free and open wheat market means absolute ruin for hundreds. That question to-day is the living issue—far more important to the people of this county than any other that confronts us and we believe that on the manner in which Polk County Alliance answers that question on July 2d hangs trembling the future welfare of Polk County farmers for years. THE JOURNAL has always advocated an open wheat market and is with the farmers now and ever more on that question. That victory lies within our grasp we are positive if we are satisfied with that and do not try to grasp at shadows. Knowing as we have the means to know the position of affairs we should be wholly false to the trust imposed in us if we did not caution our farmer friends to be careful—to be true to their most vital interests and to let moderation prevail in all their deliberations.

"Peterson" for July begins a new volume, and is an unusually good number. The steel engraving "Celebrating the Day" is exquisite, and the story, "Hilda's Fourth of July," which it illustrates, is worthy of the picture. The many fashion illustrations and needlework designs give the newest things in customs and patterns. An illustrated article on "Turkish Women of To-day," is full of interest and useful information, as is a capitally written paper, "Imprisoned Rainbows," the first of a series of articles on precious stones. "The Phaeton of Lampasas" by Howard Seely, is one of the very best of this popular writer's tales of Texan life, and there are various other stories and sketches by favorite authors. "Baby's First Outfit" will interest every mother. Long acquaintance with this favorite magazine enables us to cordially recommend it to our lady readers. Try it for the balance of the year. Terms, one dollar for six months. A sample copy will be sent for 5 cents. Address, Peterson's Magazine, Philadelphia.

MORTGAGE SALE.

[First publication June 19th, 1890.]

WHEREAS, CARL E. STEEL, AN UNMARried man, of Polk County, State of Minnesota, as mortgagors, did on the 7th day of June, A. D. 1886, duly execute and deliver to The New England Mortgage Security Company, of the county of Windham, State of Connecticut, his mortgage bearing date of June 7th, A. D. 1886, whereby he mortgaged to said mortgagee the following described lands situated in the county of Polk and State of Minnesota, to-wit: The southeast quarter of Section 8, Township 154, Range 46 west, containing 160 acres, to secure the payment of the sum of five hundred and one dollars, with interest thereon, according to the conditions of one certain promissory note, with interest coupons attached, bearing even date with said mortgage, and made by said mortgagor to said mortgagee, or order, which said mortgage was on the 9th day of June, A. D. 1886, at 2:30 o'clock p. m., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said county of Polk, in book 27 of mortgages, on page 167; and

Whereas, default has been made in the payment of the sum of forty and 08-100 dollars, due as interest upon said mortgage on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1889, and on the further sum of forty and 08-100 dollars due as interest thereon on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1890, and the said interest is still unpaid and due; and

Whereas, it was stipulated by and between the parties to said mortgage, that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants therein contained on the part of the mortgagor to be kept and performed, that then and from thenceforth it shall be lawful for said mortgagee or its assigns, to consider and declare the whole sum secured thereby as immediately due and payable without notice to said mortgagor or any other party; and

Whereas, The New England Mortgage Security Company has exercised its option to consider and declare, and does hereby consider and declare the whole sum of money secured by said mortgage to be due and payable; and

Whereas, there is now due, and claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of six hundred seven and 08-100 dollars, and no proceedings have been instituted at law or otherwise to recover the same or any part thereof

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained and therewith recorded, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the land therein described, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Crookston, in said County and State, on the 2d day of August A. D. 1890, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay the sum due on said mortgage, together with taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty dollars attorney's fees therein stipulated to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as provided by law.

Dated June 14th, A. D. 1890.

Mortgage Sale.

[First publication June 12th, 1890.]

WHEREAS, FRANK KLUZAK AND MARY Kluzak, his wife, of Polk County, State of Minnesota, as mortgagors, did, on the 4th day of June, A. D. 1887, duly execute and deliver to The American Freehold Land Mortgage Company of London, (Limited,) of London, England, their mortgage bearing date of fourth day of June, A. D. 1887, whereby they mortgaged to said mortgagee the following described lands situated in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, to-wit: The northeast quarter of Section 30, Township 153, Range 43 west, containing 160 acres, to secure the payment of the sum of eight hundred dollars, with interest thereon, according to the conditions of one certain promissory note, with interest coupons attached, bearing even date with said mortgage, and made by said mortgagors to said mortgagee, or order, which said mortgage was on the 6th day of June, A. D. 1887, at 9 o'clock a. m., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Polk, in book 27 of mortgages, on page 419; and

Whereas default has been made in the payment of the sum of thirty-six and 80-100 dollars due as interest upon said mortgage on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1888, and on the further sum of sixty-four dollars due as interest thereon on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1889, and on the further sum of sixty-four dollars due as interest thereon on the first day of January, A. D. 1890, and the said interest is still unpaid and due; and

Whereas, it was stipulated by and between the parties to said mortgage, that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants therein contained on the part of the mortgagors to be kept and performed, that then and from and thenceforth it shall be lawful for the said mortgagee, or its assigns, to consider and declare the whole sum secured thereby as immediately due and payable without notice to said mortgagors or any other party; and

Whereas, The American Freehold Land Mortgage Company of London, (Limited) has exercised its option to consider and declare, and does hereby consider and declare the whole sum of money secured by said mortgage to be due and payable; and

Whereas, there is now due, and claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of one thousand fourteen and 89-100 dollars, and no proceedings have been instituted at law or otherwise to recover the same or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained and therewith recorded, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the land therein described, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Crookston, in said County and State, on the 26th day of July, A. D. 1890, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash, to pay the sum due on said mortgage, together with taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty dollars attorney's fees therein stipulated to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as provided by law.

MORTGAGE SALE.

WHEREAS, MICHAEL STENGL AND Polly Stengl, his wife, of Polk County, State of Minnesota, as mortgagors, did on the 8th day of March, A. D. 1886, duly execute and deliver to The New England Mortgage Security Company, of the county of Windham, State of Connecticut, their mortgage bearing date of March 1st, A. D. 1886, whereby they mortgaged to said mortgagee the following described lands situated in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, to-wit: The east half of the southwest quarter and lots three (3), and four (4), Section 31, Township 153, Range 48 west, containing 169 48-100 acres, to secure the payment of the sum of nine hundred and fifty dollars, with interest thereon, according to the conditions of one certain promissory note, with interest coupons attached, bearing even date with said mortgage, and made by said mortgagors to said mortgagee, or order, which said mortgage was on the 9th day of March, A. D. 1886, at 11:25 o'clock a. m., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said county of Polk, in book 27 of mortgages, on page 123; and

Whereas, default has been made in the payment of the sum of seventy-six dollars, due as interest upon said mortgage on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1889, and on the further sum of seventy-six dollars due as interest thereon on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1890, and the said interest is still unpaid and due; and

Whereas, it was stipulated by and between the parties to said mortgage, that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants therein contained on the part of the mortgagors to be kept and performed, that then and from thenceforth it shall be lawful for said mortgagee or its assigns, to consider and declare the whole sum secured thereby as immediately due and payable without notice to said mortgagors or any other party; and

Whereas, The New England Mortgage Security Company has exercised its option to consider and declare, and does hereby consider and declare the whole sum of money secured by said mortgage to be due and payable; and

Whereas, there is now due, and claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of ten hundred sixty-nine and 65-100 dollars, and no proceedings have been instituted at law or otherwise to recover the same or any part thereof

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained and therewith recorded, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the land therein described, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Crookston, in said County and State, on the 12th day of July, A. D. 1890, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay the sum due on said mortgage, together with taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty dollars attorney's fees therein stipulated to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as provided by law.

MORTGAGE SALE.

[First publication June 5th, 1890.]

WHEREAS, HENRY DAVEY AND NETTIE Davey, his wife, of Polk County, State of Minnesota, as mortgagors, did, on the 27th day of December, A. D. 1886, duly execute and deliver to The New England Mortgage Security Company, of the County of Windham, State of Connecticut, their mortgage bearing date of December 7th, A. D. 1886, whereby they mortgaged to said mortgagee the following described lands situated in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, to-wit: The southeast quarter of southwest quarter, the east half of southeast quarter and the southwest quarter of southeast quarter Section seven (7) Township one hundred and forty-seven, (147) Range forty-four (44) west containing 160 acres, to secure the payment of the sum of one thousand dollars, with interest thereon, according to the conditions of one certain promissory note, with interest coupons attached, bearing even date with said mortgage, and made by said mortgagors to said mortgagee, or order, which said mortgage was on the 29th day of December, A. D. 1886, at 3 o'clock p. m., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Polk, in book 27 of mortgages, on page 301; and

Whereas, default has been made in the payment of the sum of seventy dollars, due as interest upon said mortgage on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1889, and on the further sum of seventy dollars due as interest thereon on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1890, and the said interest is still unpaid and due; and

Whereas, it was stipulated by and between the parties to said mortgage, that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants therein contained on the part of the mortgagors, to be kept and performed, that then and from thenceforth it shall be lawful for the said mortgagee, or its assigns, to consider and declare the whole sum secured thereby as immediately due and payable without notice to said mortgagors or any other party; and

Whereas, The New England Mortgage Security Company has exercised its option to consider and declare, and does hereby consider and declare the whole sum of money secured by said mortgage to be due and payable; and

Whereas, there is now due, and claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of eleven hundred eighty-two and 01-100 dollars, and no proceedings have been instituted at law or otherwise to recover the same or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained and therewith recorded, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the land therein described, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Crookston, in said County and State, on the 19th day of July, A. D. 1890, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash, to pay the sum due on said mortgage, together with taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty dollars attorney's fees therein stipulated to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as provided by law.

Dated May 31st, A. D. 1890.

Republican State Convention.

A Republican State Convention for the State of Minnesota will be held on Thursday, July 24th, 1890, in Market Hall, in the city of St. Paul, at 11 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for the following positions:

Governor,
Lieutenant Governor,
Secretary of State,
Auditor of State,
State Treasurer,
Attorney General,
Clerk of the Supreme Court.

And for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the convention.

All citizens who believe in the principles of the Republican party; who desire its success; who supported the candidates nominated by the National Republican Convention held in Chicago, in June, 1888, and who want to act with the Republicans in the future, are invited to co-operate in the election of delegates.

Polk County is entitled to eight delegates.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That each county polling 500 or more votes for the Republican candidate for President in 1888, shall be entitled to two delegates at large; those polling less than 500 votes, one delegate at large; within each county one additional delegate for every 500 votes cast for President in 1888 and one delegate for fraction over one hundred.

The foregoing call agreed upon by the Republican State Central Committee at a meeting held in St. Paul, Wednesday, May 14th, 1890.

THE CALL.

For a Meeting of the State Farmers' Alliance.

To Be Held in St. Paul on Wednesday, July 16th.

The following call is issued by the Executive Committee of the State Farmers' Alliance:

ST. PAUL, June 18, 1890.

To the Subordinate Alliances of the State of Minnesota: In compliance with your instructions, the executive committee of the State Farmers' Alliance have called a delegate meeting of the state alliance, to meet at the capitol in St. Paul, on July 16th, 1890, at 9 o'clock a. m., for the consideration of the grave questions that confront, not only you, but the people of the United States. For many years great aggregations of capital have combined and conspired to absorb to themselves the wealth of the nation. Railroad companies have issued millions of dollars of watered stock, on which you have been taxed directly to pay interest in the way of enhanced passenger and freight rates. Recently a committee appointed by the United States Senate to investigate the Union and Central Pacific railroads reported favorably a proposition to refund their bonds at a nominal rate of interest and allow them more than a century in which to pay them. These roads were absolutely built with the people's land and money and presented to their present owners. No such gigantic scheme to rob the people was ever before seriously contemplated by any civilized nation. Yet on that committee sat a man whom you elected to the United States senate as the champion of the people's rights, and who first won popular support by a lecture upon "Modern Feudalism," now by him wholly repudiated. Very recently a United States judge invaded a sovereign state, accompanied by an assassin, who murdered a citizen of that state. The supreme court stepped in and rescued the assassin, declaring in such cases the law of the state against murder was of no avail. The state of New-York condemned a murderer to death according to a law enacted by its legislature. A judge of the supreme court of the United States reached out his hand and took that criminal, that murderer, under his protection, declaring that a state could not punish its own murderers, except by permission and in the manner prescribed by a federal court.

The state of Minnesota created a railroad commission to stand between the people and the roads to prevent the latter from exacting extortionate rates. These roads are the creation of the State and hold their charters from the state. Yet this same supreme court has decided that these creations are greater than their creator; that a part is greater than the whole; that the state who made the roads has no power to regulate and govern them until they get permission from the autocratic tribunal of the American republic.

In the case of the law prohibiting the sale of the dressed beef, which your legislature passed to protect the public health, this same court has enacted the role of the schoolmaster and descended to administer a lecture to your legislature, charging them with insincerity and lying in that they justified the law on the ground of protecting the public health, when, in reality, the object of the law was something else. The Dred Scott decision rendered the name of Taney infamous for the reason that it made slavery national and compelled freemen to become slave-catchers. These judges aspire to even a greater sublimity of infamy, because their decisions contemplate the enslavement of the whole American people. A long series of other indictments, as illustrated in the present unequal and unjust system of taxation, in the growth of trusts and combines, in the varied injustices of railroad corporation, in the corrupting power of money in politics, in the wicked demonetization of silver and the shrinkage of the currency, in the monstrous growth of protection and class legislation in the McKinley bill, where protection has gone mad in the advance to prohibitive duties. No party has had the courage to undertake to free us from these and kindred evils, but are rather responsible for these impositions; therefore we organize to resist and free ourselves.

Farmers of Minnesota, if you are free men and can appreciate the liberty sought to be established in this republic of our fathers, and propose in your hearts to resist these, and like aggressions upon liberty and property, then let each subordinate and county alliance send one delegate to the convention called at the capitol in St. Paul, July 16, and place in nomination candidates of such high character and free from the demoralizing influences of "boodle" as will command the support of the intelligent and patriotic voters of this state.

Mr. Loucks on the Sub-Treasury Bill.

Farmer and Breeder.

In your issue of April 5th, I note an article opposing our sub-treasury bill. Knowing full well your earnest desire to assist our farmers, I can only attribute your opposition to your not having given sufficient thought to the subject. The principle of the bill is not a new one. It has been successfully tried in France, and has been in operation in our own country for many years. The national banker can take government bonds, deposit them, and receive 90 per cent. of their par value in national bank bills. The silver miner can deposit his bullion with the United States Treasurer, and receive silver certificates for its full value. Even the whiskey distiller can deposit his whiskey in government storehouses and receive a certificate that is readily negotiable. In none of these cases do the parties pay any interest or expenses for storage, etc. As you will see by our bill we propose paying all expenses in connection with the business, as well as sufficient interest to pay for expense of issuing and redeeming the certificates. We do not ask to burden any other class to sustain our industry. It is because of this modesty of the farmers in making demands that we have received so little attention in the past and ridicule at present, when we ask to be treated almost but not quite as well as the more favored classes. I know of no state in the Union that would be helped as much by such a measure as North Dakota. Its benefits will be three-fold. First, it will necessitate a system of grading uniform throughout the nation and not subject to change in the different States through which it passes to market. 2nd. Farmers can secure the 80 per cent. advance at a reasonable rate of interest, and not be forced to rush their wheat to market in sixty days, glutting the market and depressing prices. It will also enable the railroads to handle the crop better, by giving them a longer season in which to haul it. 3d. and most important, it will increase the volume of currency and enhance the price of all farm products and labor. The details of the bill may be in a crude shape, and will undoubtedly be changed as discussion brings forth the weak points, and kindly criticism is invited on the part of our friends. We wish, though, that they would carefully read the bill first, so that they would make no mistakes. Now, as to some of your objections. It is not contemplated in the bill to establish warehouses in every county, but only in counties where they have grown grain or cotton to the value of $500,000. (I am in favor of a more liberal extension.) I cannot see where you see the extra handling, as the proposed warehouse would take the place of the present elevator. There can be no more difficulty in adjusting the accounts for the 20 per cent. than there is under the present system. We (The Alliance Elevator Co.,) have this season advanced 80 per cent. on a large quantity of wheat stored with us, and have found no difficulty in adjusting the balance, whether the market went up or down. This is a matter of detail that can be satisfactorily arranged. The owner of the certificate can send his certificate for sale to any agent he chooses. I am not an authority on handling grain, but have some knowledge of it, and cannot imagine where the increased cost of 3 to 5 per cent. can possibly come in, and would like to see the figures for it. Certainly one elevator at a station could handle the crop cheaper than half a dozen as at present. The pooling and closing up of elevators at stations where there is a short crop is an example of economy taken by our elevator men. Under the present system the business is done for the profit to be made out of it. Under the proposed system there would be no profit to make, and charges will only be sufficient to cover actual expense of labor. I would be willing to wager that the expert who furnished you the data on which the article is founded does not employ "superintendents, cashiers, book-keepers, clerks, weighers, porters, watchmen, etc." to the number of twenty-five in conducting his elevator, and why should we, the government. Don't you think this a slight exaggeration? a straining of a point on the other side? It is so different from your treatment of subjects pertaining to farming interests that I am satisfied you did not write it, and am constrained to believe that it slipped in during your absence. I enclose you copy of the sub-treasury bill, hoping that when you have carefully studied it you will be with us in its advocacy.

Yours fraternally,
H. L. LOUCKS.

Condition of Wheat.

Western Rural.

Winter wheat reports from all portions of the West fail to show material improvement since May 1, says a report. Reports from Tennessee show that the crop is running down every day, that it will be very short in straw, small heads, and generally uneven, ragged and sickly in appearance. Fifty per cent. of a crop is the present indication. In some sections of Texas the wheat crop is almost an entire failure, and the ground is now being planted to cotton and corn. In Southwestern Kentucky, early wheat is just beginning to head; some is in bloom, but a large proportion of the late sown wheat shows the effect of the fly and chinch bug, with a prospect for not over half a crop. In Northern Kentucky the appearance of wheat indicates some improvement, as it has taken on a greener and more healthy appearance. There has been a great deal of rain this spring, more than usual, and the ground is still wet and heavy, and not in good condition to make large crops of any kind of grain. Northern Missouri reports that wheat is not anywhere near headed as yet. The weather so far this month has been very cold and dry and the crop has not held its own. In the central portion of the State the lack of moisture is cutting the prospects down. Southern Missouri reports, on the whole, are better, rains have fallen and wheat is heading. Central and Southern Kansas report wheat more or less spotted. Kansas needs at present warm weather and good soaking rains to insure a crop of Winter wheat. Only local rains have fallen during the month.

In Southern Michigan the weather has been cold and wet with one or two frosts which, however, did no particular damage. Wheat is now from six to twelve inches high. Growing wheat in this important locality of the State, as a whole, looks well. A few fields are poor, but the general average is good. In Southern Ohio wheat is barely holding its own. Frequent rains there should have had some improvement. Northern Indiana reports little improvement in growing wheat for the last thirty days; twenty per cent of the wheat has been plowed up. All things considered, prospects are forty per cent below a year ago at this time. The Central Indiana situation is about the same as in the Northern portion of the State. At many interior points small mills are out of wheat and paying the farmers $1 a bushel for it.

Hail, Tornado and Cyclone Insurance

THE MINNESOTA

Alliance Storm Association

The Minnesota Alliance Storm Association, organized April 21st, 1890, is now in the field ready to insure crops against loss or damage from Hail, and detached farm buildings against loss or damage from Cyclones. This Company is made up exclusively of members of the Alliance and practical farmers. Its officers are as follows:

President—DAVID P. LISTER……Lac qui Parle, Minn
Vice President—HARVEY E. COOKE……Crookston, "
Secretary—ROBERT ECKFORD……Dexter, "
Treasurer—H. P. BJORGE, (Treas. of the State Alliance)……Underwood, "

Its Board of Managers is as follows:

DAVID P. LISTER……Lac qui Parle, Minn.
HARVEY E. COOKE……Crookston, "
ROBERT ECKFORD……Dexter, "
H. P. BJORGE……Underwood, "

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY,
758 Wabasha Street,
St. Paul, Minn., June 20, 1890.

To the Agents of the Minnesota Alliance Storm Association: Our rapidly increasing business shows that our efforts to give the farmers cheap and reliable hail and cyclone insurance has been appreciated. Our business is growing rapidly in strength and favor, not only because the officers and directors are composed entirely of alliance men and known to be honest and reliable, and striving to keep down the expenses of the company so as to reduce the cost of insurance, but to the energy and ability of our agents, who are mostly the alliance lecturers, working to build up the alliance, unite the farmers, and give them cheap and reliable insurance at actual cost. The business of the company at its home office (Great West office) in St. Paul is conducted in the most economical manner and expenses are kept down to the lowest possible limit. Now is the time for agents to rustle. Crops are looking fine and give promise of a large yield, and no farmer can possibly afford to run the risk of losing his entire crop by hail when the cost of insurance is so cheap. See every man in your vicinity and show him plainly that we are officially recognized and endorsed by the executive committee of the State alliance. The following letter from John Lathrop, Secretary of the State Alliance, will explain itself:

"I beg to add that the Minnesota Alliance Storm Association is also an Alliance Company duly authorized and endorsed by a majority of the Executive Committee. I myself am a director in the company, and am personally acquainted with the balance of the Board and Officers, and have full faith in their reliability and honesty.

JOHN LATHROP,
State Secretary.

Remember, we take any one, whether members of the alliance or not—if they comply with the requirements of the by-laws.

Carleton College Commencement.

The usual anniversaries connected with the closing of the college year in this institution, occurred June 7th to 12th. On the first date came the exhibition of the Musical Department, whose various lines of instruction—pipe-organ, piano, voice, etc.—were well presented by the pupils and graduates. On Sunday morning President Strong preached the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class. It was a discourse able, eloquent and practical, upon the eighth verse of the second chapter of Colossians. In the evening of the same day the annual missionary address was given by Rev. Dr. S. H. Howe, of Norwich, Conn. On Monday evening the prize contests of the Preparatory Department were held, Miss C. A. Garlichs, of St. Joseph, Mo., winning the declamation prize, and Miss F. E. Snell, of Inkster, N. D., the essay prize. On Tuesday evening came the prize debates of the Junior and Freshman classes. In the Junior debate on the postal telegraph scheme of Mr. Wannamaker, H. E. Carleton, of Hartford, Conn., was the winner. In the Freshman debate on the eight-hour movement, the prize was devided between Miss F. L. Fitch, of Hastings, and Miss B. E. Brewer, of St. Charles. Wednesday morning brought athletic contests; Wednesday afternoon, the class-day exercise, and Wednesday evening, the Alumni banquet, each in its own way, highly entertained and enjoyable. Thursday was Commencement Day proper. The graduating class numbered eleven, all of whom acquitted themselves with credit, and some with distinguished success. The year has been one of the best in the history of the college, and the year to come promises to be better still. A beginning is to be made in providing gymnastic facilities; important additions are to be made to the teaching force; the new telescope and spectroscope will complete the equipment of the observatory, and there will be enlarged courses and increased facilities in various departments of instruction.

At a meeting of the Farmers' Alliance of Woodside, held June 7th, 1890, a resolution was adopted that we adopt the resolution made by the Fosston alliance, to not deal with any machine company that will not deal directly with the farmers, or any man that will not deal fairly with us, and that the secretary forward a copy of the same to THE POLK COUNTY JOURNAL for publication.

And Don't You Forget It.

Where you can secure a yield of from $6 to $8 per acre at an expense of less than ten cents per acre it is folly to neglect to do so. If the agents of the Minnesota Alliance Storm Association fail to see you don't fail to hunt one up and insure your crops. It is for your benefit.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

CROOKSTON, MINNESOTA, JUNE 26, 1890.

'Round Home.

Polk County Farmers' Alliance meets July 2d.

Water melons have appeared in the market.

Ed McManus came up from Duluth last week.

Hon. H. Steenerson went to St Paul last week.

The gravel train is busy on the D., C. & N. R. R.

Hotels all seem to be doing a good business.

Oranges have riz ten cents per dozen in the market.

Go out to the lake on July 4th and try the new boat.

Everybody seems to agree upon one point—hot weather.

Mayor McKinnon took a flying trip to St. Paul last week.

County Commissioner A. C. Rhinehart was in on Tuesday.

Lee & Herrick are selling feed on time. Call and see them for terms.

Sheriff Paterson is as busy as a nailer these days. Lots of mortgage cases.

Wheat went up one cent this week, reaching 70 cents, but dropped off again to 69.

Maude Granger to-night. Secure your tickets at Tom Morris' jewelery store.

A Braley went last week to join his wife in Vermont. Mrs. Braley's father is very sick.

And now the fear is expressed that the grain is growing too rapidly and will lodge, preventing filling.

Be sure that you are insured in the Minnesota Farmers' Storm Association, the solid company of Minnesota.

The turnout at the Episcopal Ladies entertainment on Tuesday evening, was fair and proved an enjoyable event.

Hon. H. Steenerson expects to finish his business in Seattle and be back in time to attend to his cases in court.

Prices lower than the lowest. Goods can't beat. Call at Mrs. E. E. Bangs' fashionable millinery parlors on Second street.

Will Peterson went up to Fosston last Saturday. Said he was going to bring back that team and the young Bashaw trotter.

Hon. H. Steenerson leaves for Seattle this week where he has an inportant case to settle involving many thousands of dollars.

Brown, the cigar man, is rushed with work to keep up with the great demand for his goods. He deserves the success he is getting.

Rev. John Allison is publishing a paper in Minneapolis called the Eighth Ward Siftings. He gets out a spicy sheet. Here's our X.

Louis Hebel is fixing up the old Kretzschmar building for Mrs. Rose who will move her restaurant business therein as soon as completed.

Rev. F. B. Noyes, of Acton, Mass., occupied the pulpit in the Congregational church on Sunday last, day and evening. He will remain awhile.

D. D. Williams and party leave for the coast this week. D. D. expects to be back in time for his cases in court which are set to commence July 21st.

Go and see D. N. Taylor about that contract system of his. It seems to us to be the most complete system yet devised for shipping wheat at small cost.

Mrs. Iver Krohn, whose illness was noticed in these columns last week, suffered a relapse but is now thought to be improving. She has been a very sick woman.

M. R. Brown is collecting a large herd of cattle on his stock ranch north of the city. Evidently he thinks the time to go into stock is when everybody is going out of it.

Miss Minnie Bailey spent Sunday visiting at the Lockhart farm. She expects to start this week for a vacation visit to friends in Menominee and other points in Wisconsin.

Mrs. Wm. Kistenmacher is having a very severe time with her eyes, the result of a cold. Dr. Bahnsen, who has the case in charge, performed an operation and has strong hopes of saving her sight.

We fail to see why the St. Hilaire train could not be used as an excursion train on July 4th. The excuse of no cars looks thin. What's the matter with rigging out flats or box cars a la State fair time.

Dennis Kelley has sold one of his farms, rented the other and moved his family to the city. He will take a trip to Duluth and the Superior country. Dennis is confident that this country is bound to have a boom.

Bro. Sibley, of the Fertile Journal, was in the City on Monday. Says there is to be the biggest kind of a jollification on July 4th at Maple Bay. The Fertile band will be there to furnish good music. Everybody invited.

Prof. Casey, during the time he has been in the office of County Superintendent of schools has discharged its duties promptly and efficiently and deserves re-election should he desire it. By his efforts a number of thousand dollars that had been forfeited was obtained for the schools.

Lee & Herrick are selling feed on time. Call and see them for terms.

Services at the Congregational church Sunday, June 29th, morning and evening: Morning topic—"The Unknown Quantity in Life."—1 John, II:17. Evening topic—"Am I my Brother's keeper."—Gen. IV:9. REV. F. B. NOYES, Pastor.

Farmers don't sell your hogs to shippers when you can get double of the price by having them cured at the packing house. [6-tf]

Grain and grass have been growing splendidly during June. Enough rain has fallen and not too much. Now is the time to insure with the Minnesota Farmers' Alliance Storm Association against loss by hail. A yield of $8 an acre is better than nothing, very much.

A private letter from Hugh Thompson to the editor of THE JOURNAL says that he is improving rapidly and hopes soon to be able to return to his home at Fisher. His recovery seems almost miraculous, as he was in a very precarious condition when he went to the sanitarium at Battle Creek.

The genial Register of Deeds, Andrew Eiken, was made the recipient of an easy chair, the gift of the Nor. Luth. choir, of which body he has for some time been the efficient leader. A large number of his friends dropped in upon Andrew on Friday evening of last week bringing along that evidence of their regard for him.

Lumber $7.00 to $11.00. Good for roofing, sheathing, under floors, &c.

Dimension, $13.00.
Flooring at $10 and upwards.
Shiplaps at $12 and upwards.
Shingles from $1.25 to $2.75.

RED RIVER LUMBER CO.,
[9-tf] Crookston, Minn.

There will be a big jollification on July 4th at Sundet's grove, two miles from Neillsville, to which everybody is invited. All kinds of popular games will be indulged in during the day, and the festivities will wind up with a grand ball in the evening in a pavillion erected for the occasion. Refreshments served on the grounds.

The Minnesota Alliance Storm Association agents are doing a good business already. Some report a good start made last week and one reports 500 acres written. Let the good work go on. Nearly or quite 5,000 acres already insured and the prospects good for three times the amount before the season closes. This shows that the farmers will stick to the alliance company.

Chas. A. Johnson writes THE JOURNAL from Rockstad that he expects to take the insurance field in earnest this week. In addition to the Minnesota Farmers' Alliance Storm Company he will represent the National Alliance Fire Insurance Company. He says the St. Hilaire horse company expected a visit from the agent who sold them the Clyde with a view to a settlement for the loss of the horse.

Some excitement was caused by the exhuming the body of a child in the cellar of Chas. Jefferson's house on Main street. Later information developed the fact that it was the body of James Butler's child that was buried several years ago in the rear of Butler's lot. Later Mr. Jefferson bought the house and moved it out facing Main street, the cellar being dug near the grave. The caving in of the cellar exposing a portion of the coffin.

Complaint reaches us of acts of vandalism that seem almost incredible, if the source of information was not wholly reliable. Parties who have set out plants upon the graves of loved ones inform us that the plants have been STOLEN. If it were possible to imagine that dogs or wild animals had done this dastardly deed we should be glad to place this construction upon it, but this is impossible and can only be the work of some miserable accident created in the form of a human being.

I. J. Lake was down from the farm at Angus this week. He is making active preparations to re-build the barn destroyed by fire on May 29th. The barn was insured in the Continental and the adjuster was up to make settlement recently and nothing remains for him to do now save to forward his check. The loss included some hay and grain. The animals and machinery were rescued. The fire caught, it is supposed by the explosion of a lantern.

To-night the peerless actress, Maude Granger, will be seen for the first time in Crookston. Manager Rapin is entitled to the thanks of our theatre going public for having favored us with such an excellent attraction. Her performance will be like the transplanting of a production from one of the leading New York theatres to our own stage. An opportunity to witness so distinguished a star as Miss Granger, is seldom offered in cities of this size, and the engagement is only made now while she is enroute to Winnipeg and San Francisco. It will undoubtedly prove the strongest performance yet presented on the stage of the Crookston Opera House.

Has Your Dog Got The Coller--ah?

Then look out for ye festive dog-catcher who is abroad in the land. If your dog fails to show up at supper time you may know where to look for him.

Millinery.

Ladies, you will consult your best interest by calling at Mrs. E. E. Bangs' and examining her stock of spring and summer millinery in the latest styles of the art. Remember, a purchase to the amount of $3.50 entitles you to a ticket for a gold watch and chain which somebody will get July 1st, 1890.

Grand 4th of July Celebration at Maple Lake on the old Date Place. Exercises consisting of Foot Races and Boat Races in the forenoon, and Bowery Dance, afternoon and evening. Fire works at 10 o'clock in the evening. The old Sail Boat on deck for a good ride. BY ORDER OF COMMITTEE.

J. V. E Wyatt, the Broadway undertaker, has been taking steps looking toward the enlargement of his business by adding a carriage making and repair shop. He has associated with him Mr. John Zeigler, who has been with McKinnon Bros. for eight or nine years, hired the room adjoining the one now occupied by his business, and connected the two by an archway. They will have the largest varnishing rooms north of the twin cities. They expect soon to add carriage ironing, and for this purpose have secured the building recently occupied by Lowe & Huggard, corner of Broadway and Robert street. They will commence business on July 1st.

D. N. Taylor has been for some time figuring upon the condition of the wheat market and has at last developed a plan which, it seems to us, is calculated to be of great benefit to our farming community. His plan is to put up twenty grain bins holding 5,000 bushels each, which he will rent to parties desiring to ship their own wheat, and will attend to the shipping for them when parties so desire. Mr. Taylor will also contract to keep a list of any property one may have for sale, charging a small commission on sales when made. For a small sum per annum any one can have the advantage of this system, and it looks as though the difference in his wheat crop would make an immense saving over the old elevator system. Go and see Mr. Taylor who will explain his plan fully.

H. B. Hogenson, secretary of the Garden alliance, writes about twine as follows: "Do you know of any factory or wholesale firm dealing directly with the farmers?" We do not. The recent investigation of the twine subject by a committee sent from Minnesota to New Jersey factories will, however, doubtless result in establishing one or more factories in Minnesota that will deal directly with the farmers, but of course this cannot help us out this summer. "Do you know if there is any binding twine to be got at Fargo, and at what figure?" THE JOURNAL has several times stated the fact that there are five cars of standard binding twine at Fargo that our alliances could secure if they want it. The price is 12 cents cash at Fargo, or 12½ on Nov. 1st, 1890, without interest. The notes must be negotiable paper. For full particulars address Joseph Keenan, Austin, Minn. This information will answer for something like a dozen letters received this week on the twine question.

Rev. Sharpe will probably speak at Maple Lake on July 4th. He is an excellent speaker.

Fisher will celebrate, Grand Forks will celebrate and Crookston will—not. She will content herself by dividing up around or go to Maple Lake.

The G. A. R. boys are having their pictures taken to hang up in their hall. Mat Dauser is the artist who is doing the work and charging the boys nothing for it.

Judge Christianson and J. H. Locken went to the twin cities last week and got interviewed by the various papers. They agreed that Polk County will ask for a place on the State ticket for O. H. Lucken.

O. H. Lucken is fixing up the old Markham residence in fine shape. When completed he will have a very pretty place to leave his family when he goes to attend to his duties at the State house.

Paradis and Marchaud, the Poplar River cheese men were in the city this week. They have everything ready to go to work manufacturing cheese and expect soon to be turning out A 1 cheeses enough to supply the county. They expect to have patronage enough to keep the factory up to its fullest capacity. The people of that vicinity are fortunate in having that institution in their midst and if they are wise will keep the boys busy.

The funeral of Eddie Farley, son of Dr. F. X. Farley, occurred at 9 o'clock on Friday attended by a large concourse of the friends of the family. Eddie was 17 years old and had lived in this city just eight years to a day when the fatal event occurred. This sad event reminds us of the extreme danger of bathing in Red Lake River many having lost their lives in the same way. Too much care can not be exercised, and the best plan is to keep out entirely.

Lovely Weather.

Insure that fine crop in the Minnesota Farmers' Alliance Storm Association.

CROOKSTON, June 24th, 1890.

A call is hereby issued for a District Legislative Convention composed of two delegates from each Farmers' Alliance in Polk, Norman and Beltrami Counties, to convene at Crookston, on Friday, July 11th, at ten o'clock a. m. to nominate Candidates for Senator, and three Representatives to the Legislature.

By order of the executive Committee.

A. N. HIXSON,
Sec. Polk County Alliance.

Married.

EINERSON—FLATLAND.—In this city, on Monday, June 23d, 1890, by G. W. Lewis, Esq., Mr. Erick Einerson to Miss Karl Flatland, both of Fertile, Minn.

National.—Last night was an opening night. The play was "Inherited," a collaboration by Mr. Richard Davey and Miss Lucy Hooper, and the player was Maude Granger. "Inherited" is an emotion in four weeks—a four-act emotional drama, in other words—in which Helen Carruthers (Maude Granger), with an inherited trait of insanity, marries Julian Raymond (Harry Mainhall), and in time goes mad, leaving a year-old child and Alice Pelham to her husband. After five years her husband, having had the mariage annulled, marries Alice, and on this day the wife's reason is restored and she escapes from the asylum and comes home. She comes, however, too late to do much else except to take poison, and this she does and dies. Barring an excess of tears, the play is strong in the strength of stirring emotions, and Miss Granger handles the character with power and a repressive force that greatly intensifies her work. Her mad scenes were particularly good and true to nature in the interpretation, and her dying very agreeably lacked the harrowing element.

Polk County Farmers' Alliance.

CROOKSTON, June 13th, 1890.

A call is hereby made for a meeting of the Polk County Alliance, in Crookston, on Wednesday, July 2d, at 10 o'clock a. m., to adopt a constitution, consider the propriety of independent political action and other important matters. By order of

A. N. HIXSON, Secretary. G. M. SWIFT, President.

For Sale.

MORTGAGE SALE.

[First publication June 26th, 1890.]

WHEREAS, LOUIS HINCE AND ANNA Hince, his wife, of Polk County, State of Minnesota, as mortgagors, did, on the 3d day of April, A. D. 1886, duly execute and deliver to The New England Mortgage Security Company, of the County of Windham, State of Connecticut, their mortgage bearing date of March 23d, A. D. 1886, whereby they mortgaged to said mortgagee the following described lands situated in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, to-wit: The fractional northeast quarter of Section 2, Township 151, Range 46 west, containing 166 and 25-100 acres, to secure the payment of the sum of six hundred and fifty dollars, with interest thereon, according to the conditions of one certain promissory note, with interest coupons attached, bearing even date with said mortgage and made by said mortgagors to said mortgagee, or order, which said mortgage was, on the 12th day of April, A. D. 1886, at 9 o'clock a. m., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Polk, in book 27 of mortgages, on page 137; and

Whereas, default has been made in the payment of the sum of fifty-two dollars, due as interest upon said mortgage on the first day of January, A. D. 1890, and the said interest is still unpaid and due; and

Whereas, it was stipulated by and between the parties to said mortgage, that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants therein contained on the part of the mortgagors to be kept and performed, that then and from thenceforth it shall be lawful for the said mortgagee, or its assigns, to consider and declare the whole sum secured thereby as immediately due and payable without notice to said mortgagors or any other party; and

Whereas, The New England mortgage Security Company, has exercised its option to consider and declare, and does hereby consider and declare the whole sum of money secured by said mortgage to be due and payable; and

Whereas, there is now due, and claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of seven hundred nineteen and 18-100 dollars, and no proceedings have been instituted at law or otherwise to recover the same or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained and therewith recorded, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the land therein described, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Crookston, in said County and State, on the 9th day of August, A. D. 1890, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay the sum due on said mortgage, together with taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty dollars attorney's fees therein stipulated to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as provided by law.

MORTGAGE SALE.

[First publication June 26th, 1890.]

WHEREAS TORGER OLSON AND AASINE Olson, his wife, of Polk County, Minnesota, as mortgagors, did, on the 9th day of April, A. D. 1886, duly execute and deliver to Caroline B. Wheeler, of the County of New York, State of New York, their mortgage, bearing date of April 7th, A. D. 1886, whereby they mortgaged to said mortgagee the following described lands situated in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, to-wit: The northeast quarter of Section 8, Township 152, Range 42 west, containing 160 acres, to secure the payment of the sum of four hundred dollars with interest thereon, according to the conditions of one certain promissory note, with interest coupons attached, bearing even date with said mortgage, and made by said mortgagors to said mortgagee, or order, which said mortgage was, on the 13th day of April, A. D. 1886, at 9 o'clock a. m., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Polk, in book 27 of mortgages, on page 135; and

Whereas, default has been made in the payment of the sum of twenty-eight dollars due as interest upon said mortgage on the first day of January, A. D. 1889, and the further sum of twenty-eight dollars due as interest thereon on the first day of January, A. D. 1890, and the said interest is still unpaid and due; and

Whereas, it was stipulated and agreed by and between the parties to said mortgage that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants therein contained on the part of the mortgagors to be kept and performed, that then and from thenceforth it shall be lawful for said mortgagee, his heirs, administrator, executors or assigns, to consider the whole sum thereby secured as immediately due and payable without notice to said mortgagors or any other party; and

Whereas, the mortgagee Caroline B. Wheeler, has exercised her option to consider and declare, and does hereby consider and declare the whole sum of money secured by said mortgage to be due and payable; and

Whereas, there is now due and claimed to be due upon said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of four hundred sixty-eight and 77-100 dollars, and no proceedings have been instituted at law or otherwise to recover the same or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale in said mortgage contained and therewith recorded, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the land therein described, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of Polk County at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Crookston, in said County and State, on the 9th day of August, A. Did you ever stop to think which side of the controversy the plutocratic press espouses? Not one in the crowd stands by Donnelly! Every last one of 'em is howling for the Atwood, Canning, Hodgson clique! Is that not significant?

R. C. Dunn, of the Princeton Union, in in a letter to his paper from Washington among other good things says: "Hon. S. G. Comstock, our congressman, is making a splendid record for himself. He has the reputation of being the hardest worker in Congress."

The Otter Tail Farmers' Alliance put a complete county ticket in the field on the 11th inst. Since that time about one-half of the candidates have withdrawn. Otter Tail County is the strongest alliance county in the State but this action does not show unlimited confidence in the independent move.

THE JOURNAL man is not after an office nor will he consent to be tied to the tail of the kite of any defeated sorehead of any of the old parties, who are in this fight for office or for revenge for fancied slights, like Atwood, Hodgson, Canning, et al. We want to see a free and open market obtained, and we want to see farmers independent of rings, cliques and factions enough to get it. They can secure control of all that is necessary to do this, if they will. Will they do it?

Plutocrats and their tools will tell you that "Donnelly is a Merriam man!" Well, they will tell you ANYTHING to throw you off the track, will they not? Mr. Donnelly is not doing MUCH to help them, is he? They desire to kill him off or to destroy his influence, don't they? And they will not hesitate at any lie to gain their ends, will they? If you did what you ought to do you would take Mr. Donnelly and make him your Governor right now! Yes, you would.

The arrest of seven enumerators in Minneapolis seems to have waked up a large sized bumble bees nest judging by the buzzing indulged in by Minneapolis. If there was a fraud committed the good, law-abiding people of Minneapolis should feel as anxious to have the perpetrators punished as any other good citizens. If there was not, what are they worrying about? As the present census is to be made the basis for future representation in Congress and the Legislature, it strikes us that it is a matter of importance to every voter in Minnesota to have cities and villages properly enumerated. It matters not whether a citizen of St. Paul or any other city made the arrest if there was a fraud committed it should be exposed and the guilty parties severely punished. That Minneapolis is the second city in the State and that St. Paul is a rival city cuts no figure in the case. The question is, was there fraud committed?

Heretofore the plan has been to hold a convention, elect delegates to the State Convention and then kick like blazes because our delegates were found—when too late—to be in somebody's vest pocket. There is now ample opportunity to remedy this error and that is by taking good care that the caucusses are not captured in the interest of any man or clique. See that straight forward alliance men are sent into the conventions, men who will see that an indepentent delegation is sent to St. Paul to make the best deal for the interests of our county that can be done. It is high time that this machine system was broken up if we ever expect to obtain a free and open wheat market and now that the farmers are awake to the importance of this matter is the very time to accomplish this greatly to be desired end, and smash the machine. Let us be independent and send only such as are well known to be the farmers' friends to the State Convention. The farmers have important interests at stake and they should take hold of this matter for themselves and not allow the political ambitions of any man to dictate our course. Be independent and assert that independence and you will surely win.

It is said that Gen. J. H. Baker "the farmers' friend," would not object to the nomination for Governor. Well who said he would? Who ever knew him to "object" to even a soft appointment by any Governor? By the way has not the principal part of his experience as a "farmer" come from holding down some lucrative government position? And has not his distinguished services consisted in fighting every good thing the farmers have asked for? His attitude on the sub-treasury bill illustrates his deep and abiding "interest" in the success of agriculture. That bill would do more to insure prosperity to the farmers in the State than any other measure ever devised, but general James H. Baker says "No, you must not endorse such a big scheme because"—what, it is no good? Oh, no, because—"I never heard of it before!" His attitude upon this important question shows that he is not a safe man to tie to, and as his advice on the sub-treasury plan is not safe how do we know that his idea of independance is the right one for us to follow? We can well afford to go slow upon the advice of such men as Baker, Atwood, Hodgson, Canning & Co., disappointed aspirants for office every one.

The spirit of revenge and malignity evinced by Atwood, Canning, Hodgson et als, against as faithful a worker in the cause as Ignatius Donnelly should be enough to condemn them in the eyes of honest alliance men and they should not be allowed to dictate the actions of the alliance not one little bit. Mr. Donnelly was arrayed against the hosts of monopoly making a manly fight in behalf of the people long before these creatures were hatched, and he had incurred the hatred of the plutocrats long before these men got their first office. As long as they were in office they were quiet and lamblike but as soon as ever they "got left" how sour and morose they became, and because Mr. Donnelly, seeing their schemes dared lift his voice against them they swear that Mr. Donnelly must go. If the farmers desert their true friend, Mr. Donnelly, in this fight they deserve to dwell a few more years under the thumbscrew of monopoly. There is not an honest man among them who does not know and feel that Mr. Donnelly has ever been the true friend of the farmer and yet how many of them dare to come out and defend him against the bitter attacks of the plutocrats? What kind of a farmers' friend was Hodgson while he was on the State grain force? Did he not come up into Kittson County and say to poor suffering, wronged and robbed farmers that "Heaven itself could not devise a better plan than the present system of handling our grain?" Better for whom? Our farmers are losing big money under it but Hodgson had a fat job through the system! And now these men howl for "INDEPENDENCE!" They ask farmers to be "independent" enough to slaughter their life long friend, Donnelly, to gratify their revenge because Mr. Donnelly don't want to see the farmer everlastingly bam-boozled and fooled..

INDEPENDENT!

yes, we want to see the farmers independent enough to stand by their true friend, Donnelly and relegate these barnacles to the shade. We want to see them exercise their independence by setting down on every effort made by the plutocrats and their willing tools to crush out that noble man and render his life-work of no avail. Remember, farmers that not only Atwood, Canning & Co. asks you to crush Donnelly but the very men you have organized to oppose ask of you the very same thing. Will you do it? Will you deliberately become the tools of the Plutocrats to slaughter your best friend and cut your own throats at the same time? We very much mistake the temper of this alliance movement if you will consent to be led in this way.

"Be Independent."

That's just what we mean, but not in the Atwood, Canning et al sense. They heartily endorse the insult offered by Hall to your lecturer and true friend, Donnelly, and they go farther and ask you to do as the plutocrats want you to do—down Donnelly. We ask you to show your independence by standing by your true friends and upholding their hands while doing your work. You know that Mr. Donnelly is your true friend. You know it is your battles he is valiantly fighting. Be independent then by standing by your best friend. By so doing you will deserve to win and you will win.

Talk about election frauds in the outh and men being disfranchised! What do you think of a northern city that will pad 100,000 or so, thus defrauding all other places where an honest count is had. We pretend to do things differently up north and boast of our equal rights. If what is alleged of the count in Minneapolis is true, she is not in line with that sentiment, at any rate.

The July Wide Awake gives the young people the fun and the sentiment of the month; base-ball and Indepndence celebrations and patriotic reminscences abound from beginning to end. The frontispiece illustrates "The Little Fifer," a true story by Helen M. Winslow of a little lad of '76, who was missing from his home in Shirley, Mass., and turned up in Washington's camp, where his father found him at last. Mrs. Clara Doty Bates has a true story, too, a capital one, of "Grandfather's Musket," relating the escapades of two enterprising boys who built an Independence Day cannon out of a precious Revolutionary relic of Valley Forge and Lundy's Lane. "What's in a Name?" Chronicles the trials of a little school girl whose name was "Independence Day." "The Freedman's Fourth at the Capitol," by M. S., describes the first Fourth at Washington after the Emancipation. "An Old Flag" is the famous "starry flag" of Paul Jones and his warship, the Bon Homme Richard, now owned in the family of one of Jone's lieutenants, at Cottage City Mass. "Indians Base Ball Players" is by one of the Indians graduating from Hampton, Mr. Thomas L. Sloan of Omaha Reservation. It gives an account of several Indian ball-clubs, with photographs of the "Hampton Indian Nine," and "Ten Little Indians" of Hampton; the article is worth reading for the yonng author's progressive ideas in regard to his race. "Craps" is a spirited New Orleans story by James B. Cable, the brother of the novelist, George W. Cable. "Two Wills," by Mrs. Jessie Benton Fremont, will command attention. 'How Rebecca Harding Went to School," by Grace W. Oliver, shows that all "schooling" is not got in the school-room. The extravaganza of "The Quest of the Whipping-boy," by Georgiana Washingtom, continues to be amusing; the Acadian Folk-Lore series by Miss McLeod is kept up with spirit. Mrs. White's article in her series, "Business Opening for Young Women," relates to a comparatively new "opening," that of "guides," an excellent and entirely practicable occupation. But perhaps nothing in the number will be read with more interest than the July section of Mr. Ward's serial, "The New Senior at Andover"; it concerns the practice of "hazing," and is strongly written.

Wide Awake is $2.40 a year. D. Lothrop Company, Publishers, Boston, Mass.

Money to Loan

On More Reasonable and Better Terms than Ever Before Offered in the Northwest.

We are now prepared to loan money in any amount from $250 up to $10,000 on well improved farms where title has been perfected, and U. S. patent is on record or has been issued.

Our terms are 8 per cent. interest, with a small commission to cover expenses and cost of making the loan.

Where the security is satisfactory we can make loans for five or any greater number of years, interest payable annually on the first day of January, and will allow the borrower, after two years, to pay any part of the principal, in sums of $100 or upwards on any interest day named in his notes. So much for straight loans.

We are the agents for the Union Central Life Insurance Company, of Cincinati, Ohio, a company of great strength, and a public record for probity and fair dealing unsurpassed; and can write life insurance in connection with loans with great profit and advantage to the borrower, which, taken in connection with the loan for ten years, pays the loan by yearly payments, which is more fully shown by the following statement: A, aged 25 years, of sound health, applies for a loan of $1,000 on his farm, at the same time he applies for $1,000 insurance on the 10 years annual payment stock-endowment plan. He pays as follows:

Each year on his insurance	$88 44
Each year on his loan for interest	80 00
Total yearly payments	$ 168 44
Total for ten years	1684 40

which pays up for the insurance, and the insurance pays the loan in full.

If the borrower dies during the ten years his insurance becomes payable and due at once and pays his loan in full, leaving his farm clear and free of all encumbrances, for his family.

NOTE THE DIFFERENCE.

If the borrower effects a loan of $1,000 on the plan usually followed, he must pay interest at the rate of ten per cent. and may be stated as follows:

$1,000 for five years, annual interest	$ 100 00
At the end of the loan he pays interest in the sum of	500 00
When the loan is due he pays	1000 00
Principal and interest paid in 5 years	1500 00

As much within $184.40 as he pays in ten years with insurance with us.

If he makes such a loan for ten years he pays:

Interest	$1000 00
Principal at end of 10 years	1000 00
Total	$2000 00

or $315.60 more than he would pay with us; besides on the 10 per cent. plan he is not insured against death, and if he dies during the life of the loan the "Old Detestable Mortgage" still hangs over the heads of his defenceless wife and children.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

CROOKSTON, MINNESOTA, JUNE 26, 1890.

The Issue.

National Economist.

The issue is clearly defined between those who favor and those who oppose the sub-treasury law. No quibbling over detail will serve now as a blind to cover up or direct attention from the principles involved. The advocates of the measure have offered to yield any of the detail, and they thereby force the issue upon the principles involved. This is bound to divide the disputants upon a clear and well defined line of friendship to farming and producing interests, those feeling such friendship being advocates of the measure, and those who do not, opposing it. For this reason, agriculture is to-day the least prosperous branch of industry, because it is discriminated against. The proof that it is discriminated against is that under the present system of maintaining an even volume of money throughout the year, regardless of the demand, there is a great relative scarcity or fluctuation in volume at the season in which agriculture must exchange the products of its labor for money. This relative fluctuation works against the farmer, because it depresses prices when he is compelled to sell and augments prices when he is compelled to buy; and on the other hand it discriminates in favor of the exploiting class, because it depresses prices when they buy, and augments them when they are ready to sell. This discrimination against productive pursuits must be stopped, or it must not! That is the issue. The affirmative will be those who are engaged in productive pursuits, and a few unselfish and patriotic statesmen. The negative will be everything else. Arguments will be made by men who claim to be friendly to the true interests of the country as to detail of practicability, legality, and other detail which if they are truly in earnest about being friendly, they had better offer to improve on, by showing some better way of securing the principle, than to make any technical detail an excuse for an active opposition to the bill. Such tactics will not longer do. The people are too intelligent and will certainly understand the animus of those who fight this measure, in spite of their sophistry. The National Economist, as the official organ of the National Farmers's Alliance and Industrial Union, will continue to defend the measure for two reasons: First, because it is right; and, second, because it was adopted by the supreme council of the National Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Union, and therefore made a plank in the platform of the order. It is not the production of the wisdom of any one man or set of men. It is the evolution of modern progress, and the supreme council at St. Louis simply met the indications of necessity when it interpreted the wants of the farmers by indorsing this measure. It is not the province of The Economist to attack those who produce long and ingeniously devised arguments against the bill, especially when such arguments bear the ear-marks of the demagogue, and are composed of misstatements of the issue and sophistry. Such articles will be judged by the people, and judged rightly. It is simply the duty of the economist to advocate this measure in as straightforward and clear a manner as possible, and if any gentleman desires to fight the order by opposing, the responsibility is certainly on his own head, and it is not the duty of The Economist to add to his unpopularity with the people by exposing his fallacy and weakness. It is fair to let his arguments stand or fall on their merits, and the people may surely be trusted as competent to judge.

Ordinance.

The City Council of the City of Crookston do ordain as follows:

That section one chapter five of the ordinances of the city of Crokston be amended so that it reads as follows:

Section 1. There shall be two public pounds in the city of Crookston to be located by the city council, one on the north side and the other on the south side of the Red Lake River and the pound keepers thereof shall hold office for one year.

MORTGAGE SALE.

[First publication June 19th, 1890.]

WHEREAS, CARL E. STEEL, AN UNMARried man, of Polk County, State of Minnesota, as mortgagor, did on the 7th day of June, A. D. 1886, duly execute and deliver to The New England Mortgage Security Company, of the county of Windham, State of Connecticut, his mortgage bearing date of June 7th, A. D. 1886, whereby he mortgaged to said mortgagee the following described lands situated in the county of Polk and State of Minnesota, to wit: The southeast quarter of Section 8, Township 151, Range 46 west, containing 160 acres, to secure the payment of the sum of five hundred and one dollars, with interest thereon, according to the conditions of one certain promissory note, with interest coupons attached, bearing even date with said mortgage, and made by said mortgagor to said mortgagee, or order, which said mortgage was on the 9th day of June, A. D. 1886, at 2:30 o'clock p. m., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said county of Polk, in book 27 of mortgages on page 167; and

Whereas, default has been made in the payment of the sum of forty and 08-100 dollars, due as interest upon said mortgage on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1889, and on the further sum of forty and 08-100 dollars due as interest thereon on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1890, and the said interest is still unpaid and due; and

Whereas, it was stipulated by and between the parties to said mortgage, that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants therein contained on the part of the mortgagor to be kept and performed, that then and from thenceforth it shall be lawful for said mortgagee or its assigns, to consider and declare the whole sum secured thereby as immediately due and payable without notice to said mortgagor or any other party; and

Whereas, The New England Mortgage Security Company has exercised its option to consider and declare, and does hereby consider and declare the whole sum of money secured by said mortgage to be due and payable; and

Whereas, there is now due, and claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of six hundred seven and 08-100 dollars, and no proceedings have been instituted at law or otherwise to recover the same or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained and therewith recorded, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the land therein described, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Crookston, in said County and State, on the 2d day of August A. D. 1890, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash, to pay the sum due on said mortgage, together with taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty dollars attorney's fees therein stipulated to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as provided by law.

Dated June 14th, A. D. 1890.

WHEREAS, JOHANNES NILSON AND Charlotta Nilson, his wife, of Polk County, State of Minnesota, as mortgagors, did, on the 26th day of July, A. D. 1886, duly execute and deliver to The New England Mortgage Security Company, of the County of Windham, State of Connecticut, their mortgage bearing date of 17th day of July, A. D. 1886, whereby they mortgaged to said mortgagee the following described lands situated in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, to-wit: The southeast quarter of southeast quarter of Section 24, Township one hundred and forty-eight, (148) Range 45; also lot 4, in Section 19, and lots 1 and 2 in Section 30, Township 148, Range 44 west, containing one hundred and sixty-three and 99-100 acres, to secure the payment of the sum of six hundred and fifty dollars, with interest thereon, according to the conditions of one certain promissory note, with interest coupons attached, bearing even date with said mortgage, and made by said mortgagors to said mortgagee, or order, which said mortgage was on the 27th day of July, A. D. 1886, at 3 o'clock p. m., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Polk, in book 27 of mortgages, on page 213; and

Whereas, default has been made in the payment of the sum of forty-five and 50-100 dollars due as interest upon said mortgage on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1888, and on the further sum of forty-five and 50-100 dollars due as interest thereon on the first day of January, A. D. 1889, and on the further sum of forty-five and 50-100 dollars due as interest thereon on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1890, and the said interest is still unpaid and due; and

Whereas, it was stipulated by and between the parties to said mortgage, that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants therein contained on the part of the mortgagors, to be kept and performed, that then and from thenceforth it shall be lawful for the said mortgagee, or its assigns, to consider and declare the whole sum secured thereby as immediately due and payable without notice to said mortgagors or any other party; and

Whereas, The New England Mortgage Security Company has exercised its option to consider and declare, and does hereby consider and declare the whole sum of money secured by said mortgage to be due and payable; and

Whereas, there is now due, and claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of eight hundred twenty-six and 45-100 dollars, and no proceedings have been instituted at law or otherwise to recover the same or any part thereof.

Now, therefore notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained and therewith recorded, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the land therein described, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the City of Crookston, in said County and State, on the 26th day of July, A. D. 1890, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay the sum due on said mortgage, together with taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty dollars attorney's fees therein stipulated to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as provided by law.

MORTGAGE SALE.

[First publication June 5th, 1890.]

DEFAULT has been made in the conditions of a mortgage containing power of sale dated November 16th, 1888, duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Polk county, Minnesota, November 17th, 1888, in book 40 of mortgages, page 510, whereby William L. Davies and Sarah C. Davies, his wife, mortgageors, mortgaged to The Middlesex Banking Company, mortgagee, the north-east quarter of section thirty-two (32), in township one hundred and fifty-three (153), of range forty-seven (47), in Polk county, Minnesota, by which default the power of sale has become operative, and no action or proceeding at law has been instituted to recover the debt remaining secured thereby, or any part thereof, and there is claimed to be due on said mortgage, at the date hereof, $851.88.

Now, notice is hereby given that, by virtue of said power, said mortgage will be foreclosed and said premises sold at public auction, by the sheriff of said county, or his deputy, on July 19th, 1890, at ten o'clock A. M., at the front door of the court house, in Crookston, in said county, to pay said debt, interest, attorney's fees and disbursements allowed by law.

Republican State Convention.

A Republican State Convention for the State of Minnesota will be held on Thursday, July 24th, 1890, in Market Hall, in the city of St. Paul, at 11 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for the following positions:

Governor,
Lieutenant Governor,
Secretary of State,
Auditor of State,
State Treasurer,
Attorney General,
Clerk of the Supreme Court,

And for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the convention.

All citizens who believe in the principles of the Republican party; who desire its success; who supported the candidates nominated by the National Republican Convention held in Chicago, in June, 1888, and who want to act with the Republicans in the future, are invited to co-operate in the election of delegates.

Polk County is entitled to eight delegates.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That each county polling 500 or more votes for the Republican candidate for President in 1888, shall be entitled to two delegates at large; those polling less than 500 votes, one delegate at large; within each county one additional delegate for every 500 votes cast for President in 1888 and one delegate for fraction over one hundred.

The foregoing call agreed upon by the Republican State Central Committee at a meeting held in St. Paul, Wednesday, May 14th, 1890.

STANFORD NEWEL, Chairman.

JOEL P. HEATWOLE, Secretary.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION.

A Republican County Convention for the County of Polk, will be held on Friday, July 18th, 1890, in the Court House, in the City of Crookston, at one o'clock p. m., for the purpose of electing eight delegates to the Republican State Convention, to be held in the city of St. Paul on the 24th day of July, 1890, and also for the purpose of electing eight delegates to the Republican Congressional Convention, to be held at Little Falls, September 4th, 1890, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the convention. All citizens who believe in the principles of the Republican party; who desire its success; who supported the candidates nominated by the National Republican Convention held in Chicago in June, 1888, and who want to act with the Republicans in the future, are invited to cooperate in the election of delegates.

The several election precincts are entitled to the following number of delegates, the basis of representation being one delegate for each organized town or precinct, and one additional delegate for every forty votes; or major fraction thereof, cast for the Republican candidate for President in 1888, viz:

The following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That no delegate will be admitted to a seat in the convention unless such delegate resides in the town or precinct which he represents.

Resolved, That at the several caucuses at which the above delegates are elected, the voters present are hereby urgently requested to elect a local committee of three members for the ensuing two years, and report the names and post office address of such committeemen, to the Secretary of the County Committee, by mail or on the day of holding the convention.

The foregoing call was agreed upon by the Republican County Committee at a meeting held in the City of Crookston, June 10th, 1890.

A. R. HOLSTON, Secretary.

H. E. COOKE, Chairman.

Southern Mercury: An agricultural paper is all right with the organ of monopolies as long as it confines its advice to the farmers to such subjects as curing the botts, or the destruction of Johnson grass, but when it suggests a method of setting down on convention manipulators and the good box whittlers about town, a howl goes up that can be heard half across creation about farmers "going into politics."

Gettysburg Herald: We serve notice thus early in the campaign that the word "Republican" does not mean so much to us that we are obliged to swallow all the dirt that is thrown and white wash the manner of conducting conventions simply because we are running a Republican paper. Nor will we be fooled by the formation of a ring to cry "down the ring" or a combination to beat the combine.

Princeton Union.

Ignatius Donnelly is now and always has been the true friend of the laboring and producing classes, but there is a class of time-serving politicians and hungry office-seekers who never miss an opportunity to snub and belittle Mr. Donnelly. President Hall, of the Farmers' Alliance, requested Mr. Donnelly to be present and address the Fifth district alliance meeting at Fergus Falls last week, and then, at the instigation of scheming demagogues, withdrew the invitation. In response to Mr. Hall's letter notifying Mr. Donnelly of the withdrawal of the invitation, the latter gentleman acknowledged the receipt of the same in a characteristic letter, of which we reproduce the concluding paragraph.

"As for myself I have worked for eight years for the alliance without a cent of reward. I was a man of eminence and influence before the alliance was born, and I will be when it is dead. I ask nothing of it but the opportunity to serve it. I have fought lions in my day and I am not ready now to go on the warpath against jackalls or jackasses, either."

IGNATIUS DONNELLY.

Brookings Sentinel: The Alliance and the republican party in the state are in accord on the questions of prohibition, equal suffrage, the subtreasury bill and nearly every other issue of importance. The efforts to estrange the people from their staunchest friend will be watched with growing interest.

Alliance Sentinal: The Alliance is only a few weeks old in Michigan, but already ten counties are on the march. There is something magical about the touch of the Alliance. When you get into this army, now three million strong, you feel that you are shoulder to shoulder with the "patriotic liberty loving people" of this country. A people who live above partisanship and love their country better than any political party, and who would not haggle about the methods or names so long as the people are freed from the grasp of monopoly.

The Alliance and the Next Governor.

The Minneapolis Times.

A typographical error made The Times place the membership of the Farmer's alliance in this state at 15,000 instead of 35,000 as it should have said. confident expectation is that this number will be increased to 50,000 before the state election in November. The large majority of the alliance membership is undoubtedly republican, and that that majority is earnestly opposed to the renomination of Merrim for governor admits of no question. That any considerable proportion of these could be bought to support him should the machine be able to foist him on the party as the "regular nominee," is extremely doubtful. "Regularity" of renomination will not go this year. It is not the "regular" republican candidate who will be successful, but the candidate who is known to the whole state to be honest, inflexible, intelligent, and not a mere party trader.

The Times has already indicated the man whose nomination would restore the republican party to popular confidence and favor. There can be no question that Knute Nelson should be nominated. Neither can there be any question of Mr. Nelson's duty in this regard. A state administration under Nelson following that of Merriam would furnish as striking and agreeable a contrast in its way, as that of Lincoln after Buchanan. No man in this state is better known or more trusted. He would be supported enthusiastically because of that knowledge and trust and not merely because of the nomination. He is not a violent partisan who would be suspected of sacrificing his own convictions or the public interest to any supposed party necessity much less to any demand of corporations or capital. He is, indeed, the best known, most thoroughly equipped and most popular man in the state, and it is as certain as anything can be that he is the spontaneous choice of the best element, not only in the republican party, but in the state.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, County of Polk—ss. In Probate Court, Special Term, June 25th, 1890.

In the matter of the estate of George W. Tice, deceased.

Letters testamentary on the estate of said deceased being this day granted unto Ann M. Tice and John E. Tice, of said county.

It is ordered, that all claims and demands of all persons against said estate be presented to this Court for examination and allowance, at the Probate Office in Crookston, in said County, on Tuesday, the 2d day of December, 1890, at two o.clock p. m.

It is further ordered, that six months from the date hereof be allowed to creditors to present their claims against said estate, at the expiration of which time, all claims not presented to said Court, or not proven to its satisfaction, shall be forever barred, unless for cause shown further time be allowed.

Ordered further, that notice of the time and place of the hearing and examination of said claims and demands shall be given by publishing this order once in each week for three successive weeks prior to the day appointed for such examination, in the POLK COUNTY JOURNAL, a weekly newspaper printed and published at Crookston, in said county.

Dated at Crookston the 25th day of June A. D. 1890.

By the Court: C. O. CHRISTIANSON, Judge of Probate.

[11-13]

Judge C. E. Chapman, of Fergus Falls, replying to the letter of Sec. Boen, announcing the nomination of Chapman for Judge of Probate on the Alliance ticket, says:

FERGUS FALLS, Minn., June 23, 1890.

H. E. Boen, Secretary:

Dear Sir—Your letter of June 19 notifying me of my nomination by the Otter Tail County Farmers' alliance for the office of judge of probate of Otter Tail county, was received Saturday night, June 21, on my return home from Becker county after an absence of several days, which must be my excuse for the delay in answering. I have given the matter of this nomination and the action to be taken on it careful consideration, but have thus far indicated to no one what that action would be. Before doing so now, I desire to call attention to certain facts and conditions which have influenced my decision. The Farmers' alliance of this county and of the state has, by its action in cutting loose from the old political parties and inaugurating an independent political movement, placed its members and the members of the old parties in a position of antagonism, the inevitable result of which will be a fierce struggle for existence and supremacy, not only in this county but throughout the state. While the alliance of this county placed upon its ticket the names of several gentlemen outside of its ranks, and exacted no pledges from its nominees, and while similar action may be taken by the convention called for the nomination of state officers, yet the inhabitants of the cities and villages, the merchants, manufacturers, lawyers, doctors, ministers of the gospel, members of the editorial profession, artisans and laboring men (except such as belong to the Knights of Labor), and members of all other classes, will really be without representation on the alliance ticket, because they will have had no voice in the selection and nomination of the candidates, and no hand or part in the formation and adoption of the platforms on which those candidates will be forced to stand. This is also true of that large body of farmers who do not belong to the farmers' alliance. And not only is this true at the present time, but it is also true that none of these people except farmers and laborers can ever become members of the new party which has been formed or which it is proposed to form, and hence if the movement is successful, the government will have passed out of the hands of the people and into the hands of a class. I doubt if a majority of either the farmers or laboring men will ever be found to favor a movement of this kind. While I am not a partisan in the sense that I can see no good outside of my own party, I believe that more good can be accomplished within that party, or within either of the parties for that matter, than within any new party organized on so narrow a basis. While, therefore, I appreciate the opinion of the members of the farmers' alliance, and would be glad to serve them under other circumstances, I must decline the nomination.

Very respectfully yours,

C. E. CHAPMAN.

St. Lawrence State Journal: There is a dearth of poetry but a congestion of truth in those words. The grand old party is and has been for more than a quarter of a century the one potential factor guaranteeing American freedom. It has itself been a Sampson among parties because it sprang from the people, was and had its being of the people. Under its aggressive policy of progress, the Nation has thriven and prospered wondrously but the Republic per se has during those years become a veritable Cyclops among the families of earth with its one eye single to the worship of the "Mammon of the Few," There has been builded during that twenty-five years—an Augean stable within our political fabric, more foul by far than that related in mythology, and, ere many years it must be cleansed and the grave question before us is: "whence is to come the Hercules?"

Hail, Tornado and Cyclone Insurance

THE MINNESOTA

Alliance Storm Association

The Minnesota Alliance Storm Association, organized April 21st, 1890, is now in the field ready to insure crops against loss or damage from Hail, and detached farm buildings against loss or damage from Cyclones. This Company is made up exclusively of members of the Alliance and practical farmers. Its officers are as follows:

President—DAVID P. LISTER..........Lac qui Parle, Minn
Vice President—HARVEY E. COOKE..........Crookston, "
Secretary—ROBERT ECKFORD..........Dexter, "
Treasurer—H. P. BJORGE, (Treas. of the State Alliance)..........Underwood, "

Its Board of Managers is as follows:

DAVID P. LISTER..........Lac qui Parle, Minn.
HARVEY E. COOKE..........Crookston, "
ROBERT ECKFORD..........Dexter, "
H. P. BJORGE..........Underwood, "
HAMLIN V. POORE..........Bird Island, "

What About Organization?

The Western Rural.

If the advice of The Western Rural had been acted upon years ago and the farmers all over the country had come into compact organization, think you that agriculture would be where it is to-day? No, you cannot think so, for the present condition of things is the direct result of union on the part of all other classes through which they have been able to protect their own interests at the expense of our disorganized farmers. Not only have the different industries combined to raise the price of products that the farmer must buy and to reduce the price of products that he sells, but worse than all they have all combined to crowd the halls of legislation with people who were their pliant tools and who have always been ready to enact such laws as would favor their class and discriminate against the farmer. Taking human nature as it is, it is not to be wondered at that the farmer has been unmercifully swindled. He has laid down on his back, folded his arms, and invited everybody to go through his pockets. Human nature is too weak to resist such a temptation. All other classes have said with reference to farmer; He seems to enjoy being plundered; he makes no remonstrance; he makes no effort either in a business or political direction to protect himself. And so the entire crowd has pitched on to him. The railroads, the banks, the money loaning Shylocks, the store keepers, the millers, the elevator men, all hands have been plucking him for years. If the law stood in the way of executing their plans, all they had to do was to get such legislation as they wanted. Thus for years a minority has lorded it over the majority and carried things with a high hand.

And what is the condition and prospect of the farmer at present? Better than it has been, because farmers have been organizing. But there are thousands of farmers who are yet in no organization, and those who are, are split up into various organization with more or less jealousy between them. The Rural tells you, friends, that the existing gaps must be closed up that all of you must go into organization and that the different organizations must come together in close federation. Every day that the farmer who belongs to no farmers' organization neglects to join one and every day that no movement is made toward an immediate union between all the organization, is force wasted and the day of the final triumph of reform postponed. It is not possible that any one can be so blind as not to see this. No one need be told that if all the farmers were banded together, their power for self protection would be irresistible. There would not be a legislative hall in the country that would not be filled with their friends. There would not be a Governor in the country who would not be favorably disposed toward agriculture. Friends and readers, your destiny is in your own hands. It is possible for you not only to command your entire strength for the protection of your interests, but you will find thousands of men outside of your calling, men who believe in justice and in right, who will come under your banner and march with you to victory, if you will only do justice to yourselves. Push organization among the farmers; push it hard; push it steadily. Dismiss the thought that you will ever get what you want and what you ought to have unless you work for it and perhaps work hard for it.

George William Curtis,

In "Harper's Weekly," May 3, 1890.

To be universally known as constantly doing good, as a rich man who holds his riches in trust for the benefit of others, as the effective friend of every humane enterprise, as the proprietor of one of the great and most prosperous newspapers in the country, conducted strictly upon the principles of courtesy and good sense which regulate the intercourse of gentlemen, and as the friend of the most distinguished person of his time, is the happy fortune of Mr. George W. Childs, of Philadelphia.

The recollection of such a life are necessarily full of interest. They are especially pleasant, because they do not associate narrowness and hardness and meanness and selfish intrigue with success, but, on the contrary, the open hand and open heart.

Mr. Childs, despite his friendly relations with royalty and the nobility, is too good an American republican to care to quarter his family arms upon any shield. But he could not choose a better motto than such a heart and such a hand. His little volume of Recollections, just published by the Lippincott Company, is rich with reminiscences of famous persons and accounts of exceedingly interesting possession, and of public gifts and delightful occasions, all pervaded with the spirit of the generous giver who is sure to double his generosity by giving quickly. Artists always paint themselves in their pictures, and Mr. Childs has unconsciously given us himself in his book.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

CROOKSTON, MINNESOTA, JULY 3, 1890.

'Round Home.

Lots of hay on the market.

Wheat took a jump to 72 on Wednesday.

O. H. Lucken went below on Monday evening.

Wheat back to 70 the early part of the week.

Sunday's rain made plenty of mud for Monday.

The weather so far this week has been deliciously cool.

The Main St. artesian well is about to receive a new pump.

Go and see Prof. Hurlburt's Hypknock-wagon on July 4th.

Caspar Sands is putting a brick foundation under his residence.

I. U. Jennings will be president of the council while Steenerson is away.

Lee & Herrick are selling feed on time. Call and see them for termf.

The round trip fare to Mentor will be 75 cents, to Dugdale 60, on July 4th.

Tom Bjoin is rushing the excavation for the cellar to the new brick block.

Miss Ermine Fontaine came home from school at St. Joseph's academy St. Paul, on Monday.

Wild straw-berries seem to be unusually plentiful this year. The prairies abound with this delicious fruit.

D. D. Williams and wife accompanied by Miss Maggie Brown and Miss Nettie Brown left for the coast on Friday.

The boys have an idea that they can beat the Grand Forks base ball club. We should not be surprised if they could.

Will Peterson brought his matched team of trotters from Fosston last week. He had a little Star Bashaw with one of them.

Bro. Murphy, formerly of Grand Forks Plaindealer was in the city last week with a view to purchasing the water works.

No. 95 was the lucky ticket at Mrs. E. E. Bang's watch drawing on July 1st. Who owns ticket No. 95 is now the question.

Herb says he made big money on the ball grounds on Monday. He sold one package of peanuts and smoked one cigar himself.

A. C. Wilkinson and family returned on Sunday morning from a fortnight's visit to the old home in Wisconsin. Upon his return to his office on Tuesday, A. C. found several invitations to orate on the ever glorious but as it was then too late to respond he was obliged to forbear to soar the eagle thro' the blue empyrean "on this o'casion."

See the new ad of Wyatt & Ziegler and give the boys a call when in need of anything in their line. They propose to have a full stock of everything and to sell at bedrock figures. They will be prepared to do all kinds of preparing on wagons and carriages in the most satisfactory manner and invite the patronage of JOURNAL readers. Give the new firm a call.

Dept. Lecturer, A. N. Hixson went up to Keystone last Friday and organized a sub-alliance of eleven charter members. Somewhere on the road he lost his coat and on his return in the evening took a heavy cold. The coat was a dark-colored frock nearly new. If the finder will leave it at this office or return it to Mr. Hixson he will be suitably rewarded.

Prof. Hurlburt's Hippocynagon is advertised to appear in Crookston on July 4th, day and evening. The Prof. has consolidated his show with another one and now exhibits under a tent. All who saw the wonderful exhibition when here a few weeks since will be anxious to see it again and all who did not will miss a rare treat if they do not avail themselves of the opportunity. We never saw horses and dogs that appeared so intelligent as these belonging to the Professor.

Andrew Ellingbo, proprietor of the Norman house met with a painful accident on Saturday of last week which might have resulted far more seriously. A man had been stopping at the house a day or so and on Saturday morning Mr. E. was told that the man intended to skip out without paying his board bill and would go to Carman and take the south bound freight. So Mr. E. boarded the freight as it pulled out. After crossing the bridge the conductor informed him that the train would not stop at Carman. Mr. E. says he then told the conductor that he must get off at Carman as there was no one to run the house and he was obliged to be there. He says he asked the conductor to slow up but he was flatly refused. He says he told the conductor that he must go back if he had to jump and when near the Carman depot he stepped out onto the platform and jumped. The conductor had hold of his left sleeve when he jumped. As soon as he jumped the train was stopped and he was picked up insensible and brought back to the city on the train, and taken home where he lay insensible for a time. His face was badly cut, and his right arm and hand bruised. On Tuesday, when just able to get out his wrist was swollen fearfully and his face was a sight to see. Dr. Dunlop attended him and thinks he will get along all right.

Lee & Herrick are selling feed on time. Call and see them for terms.

Frank Bivins insured 400 acres in the Minnesota Farmers' Alliance Storm Association on Saturday last.

Did you go up to the grounds on Monday afternoon to see the matched game of ball, bechune our boys and the Grand Forks club?

The enumerators have completed their work and forwarded their papers to headquarters. Nobody accuses Crookston of padding.

Iver M. Johnson was up from the west-side on Friday last with his returns as assessor. Mr. Johnson thinks prospects are fair for good crops.

Tom Bjoin removed the last vestige of the old livery barn on Saturday and commenced the work of excavation for the cellar for the new brick block.

Geo. Benoy insured 135 acres in the Minnesota Farmers' Alliance Storm Association last Saturday. He does not propose to take all the chances alone.

Walter Latta insured 125 acres in the Minnesota Farmers' Alliance Storm Association last Saturday. This company is doing a big business in Polk County.

Louis Fontaine has put a handsome fence about his residence lot. If there is a handsomer fence or a slicker front yard in the city we have failed to observe it.

Mr. E. Slocum, of the firm of Barnes & Slocum, returned with his bride on Friday of last week. THE JOURNAL extend a hearty welcome to the fair young bride to our city.

H. C. Tatro and Gus. Felsing were in the city on Monday arranging for the big event at the Lake on Friday. Everybody who wants to enjoy a good time should arrange to be at Maple Lake on July 4th.

THE JOURNAL is informed that the long talked of hotel on the corner of Main and Second streets is to be built this summer. This decision was influenced by the city's action on the sewer question.

Peter Cornelius has been doing a big business at breaking this summer He now has a contract on the county road north of the city. Pete is bound to put in all the time there is in order to keep the wolf from the door.

John D. Knudson was down from McIntosh with his returns as assessor on Friday. He is much pleased with the workings of the Farmer's Alliance as it has already brought several machine companies to terms.

M. E. Bartlett, after finishing his work as assessor for the town of Fairfax opened a hail insurance office in this city on Saturday last and wrote insurance on 883 acres of wheat, oats and barley. He is now prepared to take applications. Call at JOURNAL office.

The more acres a mutual company insures the less each member has to pay. The Minnesota Farmers' Alliance Storm Association has already insured over 100,000 acres and expects to do over twice that amount this summer. They ought to have 100,000 in Polk County.

The Fosston News claims to have discovered whom we will support for Governor. We are not so sure that Mr. Donnelly will be nominated. But while you are talking about Governors if you will show us a man who would make a better one we will show you lots who would not hold a candle to him.

The train for Grand Forks on Monday was not over loaded. Very many seem to have the idea that the Grand Forks club should come over here before we enthuse very much on excursions to Grand Forks for base ball. Our boys have been over there several times but the G. F. club has not showed up here yet.

Farmers don't sell your hogs to shippers when you can get double of the price by having them cured at the packing house. [6-tf]

From the experience of the Fosston Alliance, farmers can begin to see what good the alliance can do for them. That alliance has saved over ten times the amount the work has cost them on binders alone and still the good work goes on. Every farmer in Polk County should be a member of some alliance. If you have not got an alliance in your town see that one is formed at once.

The President has signed the new pension bill. Under this bill any soldier, who is unable to earn his support by manual labor is entitled to a pension not to exceed $12 per month. All that he has to prove is that the disability was not the result of intemperate habits. Under this bill many a deserving veteran will receive needed aid from Uncle Sam. Now the soldiers should unite in the effort to do away with the limitation act.

The alliance agents for the Minnesota Farmers' Alliance Storm Association report good work in hail insurance. Over 10,000 acres insured in Polk County last week. Now is the time to insure before the hail storms come. If you have not already insured your crops do not delay seeing our agents at once. Remember it costs no more to be in time than it would to be too late. Now is the time to insure. Catch on before you are too late.

Millinery.

Ladies, you will consult your best interest by calling at Mrs. E. E. Bangs' and examining her stock of spring and summer millinery in the latest styles of the art. Remember, a purchase to the amount of $3.50 entitles you to a ticket for a gold watch and chain which somebody will get July 1st, 1890.

F. B. NOYES, Pastor.

Sunday School immediately after morning service. O. S. BARNES, Supt.

Moe & Buhn write us that the celebration at Date's old place on Maple Lake is to be a grand affair and no pains nor expense has been spared to provide for the comfort and pleasure of all who attend. A goodly number of Crookstonites talk seriously of going out. Had an excursion train been furnished, there would have been several carloads. Our people feel that this could have been done just as well as not had the road wished to oblige us. Since the above was in type the excursion train has been granted.

The extra for Grand Forks left the depot at 1:30 with two coaches, reasonably well fitted. At Mallory a rainstorm was encountered and upon arrival was still hard at work, to such an extent at least that it was thought impossible to play. After consultation with the Grand Forks boys it was decided to return to Crookston and play the game on our grounds, and a dispatch was sent here announcing the change in the program, meanwhile, Old Sol, seeing how the hopes of G. F. would be thus blasted rallied his beams, charged upon the clouds and scattered them, whereupon the G. F. club braced up and swore to fight it out on that line or nowhere. The game was called at the end of the 8th innings and declared a draw. What the feelings of the people, who paid their money to go up to the grounds to see the game here, were we must leave to the fertile mind of the reader—language fails to describe the scene.

All Aboard For The Lake.

An extra train will run on the Fosston Branch on July 4th leaving Crookston at 6:30 sharp. Conveyances will be at Dugdale and at Mentor to take people to the lake. Parties going to Maple Bay leave cars at Dugdale. Those going to Date's place leave cars at Mentor. Everybody go. A good time is assured.

The Scandia Farmers' Alliance at a meeting held on the 28th day of June, passed the following resolution:

Whereas, We understand some of our County papers work hard to have the idea prevail that it is hurtful to place a full ticket in the field this fall,

Be it Resolved, That we favor a full independent ticket, for State, Legislature, Congress, as well as County, and hereby pledge ourselves to support it throughout. Whereas, We think it is best to earnestly but peacefully to work for reform, but if the object can not be obtained in any other way,

Be it Resolved, That we endorse the Bugle Blast of causas, as the Agawam alliance has done before us.

Lars E. Nelson, President of Scandia Farmers' Alliance in Knute.

Always on Time.

There is no line so handsomely equipped for Through Passenger Service as "The Northwestern Line"—C. St. P., M. & O. R'y—and the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Chicago trains over this line have a better record for reaching either end of their run "on time" than those of any other line in the country.

THE

All well posted travelers between the Twin Cities and Chicago take this line—particularly favoring the "Vestibule Limited," which carries the finest sleeping cars and coaches ever built, and also all classes of passengers, without extra fares. On the Lake Superior portion of the line, between Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth, and St. Paul and Ashland, Pullman sleepers are run on night trains, and parlor cars on day trains.

NORTHWESTERN

Pullman sleepers are also run through between Duluth, Superior and Chicago. Fast through trains are also run between Minneapolis, St. Paul and Kansas City via Sioux City, with through Pullman sleepers St. Paul to Omaha and Kansas City. Dining cars are run on all through trains over this line between Minnesota is, St. Paul and Chicago, and between St. Paul and Kansas City. Besides being the best

East Grand Forks News: "THE JOURNAL is red-hot for Donnelly. Bah! That is only a side-play for Merriam." Wrong again, Mr. News man. That's where you are way—off—your—base.

If the Republican State central committee had not called the State Convention at an unusually early date the farmers' alliance would not have thought of taking the field as a political party this year. It is the machine politics they object to.

The all-observing topic now is:—"Will Knute Nelson be a candidate for Governor?" There are those who honestly believe that Knute Nelson at the head of the Republican ticket is the only man who can save that ticket from defeat. If this is the correct diagnosis of the case then the duty of the Republican party is perfectly clear. All who feel that way should labor to bring about the nomination of Hon. Knute Nelson. The Republican party, as the party of the people is in duty bound to take up the question of a free and open wheat market and to secure the same for the country.

Well, Why Not?

The East Grand Forks News sneers at the idea of Donnelly for Governor. Is it because Mr. Donnelly is a man of the people—a poor man? Why not elect a poor man once—a true representative of the masses just to see how it would seem. How do the farmers like to be told that they CAN'T HAVE that kind of a man? Who is going to prevent them if they will?

Detroit Record:—It is not necessary for a man of Knute Nelson's reputation and acknowledged ability to go outside of his own party in order that he may be recognized. He can secure the Republican nomination for Governor of this state at any time he may want the office, and what is more he can be elected over any man who may be pitted against him. It is not necessary for him to run after any mongrel party.

In the above article the Detroit Record takes a very round-about course to offer a gratuitous insult to the Farmers' Alliance; at the same time belittles Mr. Nelson by the assumption that he belongs to the common herd of petty office-seekers. Mr. Nelson does not desire an office but we believe him to be public-spirited enough to yield if it shall be shown that the agricultural interests of the State requires his services. He is running after no "mongrel party" as the Record facetiously calls the Alliance, but the "mongrel party" feels that he is a man who thoroughly understands the agricultural needs of the country, and he has proved by former actions that he has the courage of his convictions. If the Republican party is true to its old-time record—is still the party of the people it is high time for it to expouse the cause for which the Alliance is fighting and make that cause victorious. The Alliance believes that Knute Nelson, better than any other man can champion their cause and lead the Republican party to victory (and they are not at all lonesome in that idea) and the Republican party had better take a large-sized tumble to the situation if it expects to hold its prestige. It will not answer to go to calling farmers "mongrels" even if you would like to think so. Their cause is right and just and must prevail. Ridicule and abuse will not answer the demands of the occasion.

The Fiery Red Cover.

Of The 4th of July Double Number of The Youth's Companion, just received, is so realistic that one can almost hear the boom of the cannon cracker and the clang of the great Independence Bell. Some of the literary features are, "On His Own Merits," in which a spoiled son wins the battle of life through his own exertion; "Hitty," a boarding school story by Kate W. Hamilton; "Under False Colors," an amusing story of life in a Western lumbering town; „A Little Hero of Lundy's Lane;" "A Fourth of July Cow," by Helen M. North; "He Kept His Flag Up," by C. A. Stephens. "Fourth of July under Difficulties," by James Parton. Besides these are the usual editorial on current events and a jolly page of 4th of July fun for the younger children.

Great West: Will G. de Ste Croix stick to his $5,000 any better then Pillsbury and Sawyer did to the $20,000? It cost us about $175 to get the gristle out of Bro. P's backbone, and we want to see some certainty about this thing.

Now, we say this to Saint Croix—and we hope some friend of his will show him what we say: We demand of you that you tell us what you pay for your wheat—what you pay for freight on every part of the route—and what you get—1st, for "Duluth" grade, and 2d, for No. 1 hard (Canadian.) If you don't furnish this itemized account to us (if you ever authorized the above) you are a fraud and a bluffer. We will wait two weeks to hear from you and if we do not, shall advise the farmers to horsewhip you and then duck you in the goose-pond.

Twenty Cents a Bushel.

Great West: If the American farmer wants to know how the tariff on wheat protects him, read this—from a small town in Manitoba, near the border:

Gretna Man., June 7.—Farmers from North Dakota are hauling their grain to this point over the boundary. After paying a duty of 15 cents per bushel on wheat they realize 6 to 7 cents more per bushel than they can in North Dakota.

According to this the "protection" ought to be 100 per cent—and then our farmers would haul wheat from Fillmore County to Winnipeg by team to get a better price.

The petition of Fecto and others, which had been accepted at a former meeting, was presented, and Alderman Jerome offered the following resolution:

At a special meeting of the City Council of the city of Crookston, held the 26th day of June, 1890, Alderman Frank Jerome offered the following resolution, which was seconded by Alderman Martin Lally:

Resolved, That the City Clerk be instructed to advertise for bids for grading and grubbing Spendley street from that point where Cowing street intersects said street, thence running east to Hunter street, as prayed for in a petition heretofore granted.

Upon the call of ayes and nays the vote stood as follows:

Aldermen voting in the affirmative—Lally, Bjoin, Morrisey, Jennings, Marshall, Jerome, Schmidt, Buhn and Steenerson.

Aldermen voting in the negative—None.

Upon this vote the resolution was declared carried and adopted by the President of the Council.

Passed this 26th day of June, 1890.

H. STEENERSON,
President of the Council.

Approved this 27th day of June, 1890.

Forty Deering Binders to be Furnished The Fosston Alliance—Solid for an Independent Ticket.

The Thirteen Towns.

The meeting of the Farmers' Alliance held at Opera Hall on last Saterday afternoon, was a large and enthusiastic one, for the reason that it had become generally known that propositions would be made by both the McCormick and Deering Machine Companies for furnishing the machinery for the alliance this year. Representatives of both companies had been active among the farmers and alliance men the preceeding few days and both were confident of victory. The question of having a secret or open meeting caused a long discussion but never came to a vote, and several other motions met with a like fate. It was finally agreed that the representives be given a hearing. Mr. Hobert, of the McCormick Company, was the first to submit a proposition which was in substance as follows: The McCormick Company would lay down binders in Fosston for $110 and freight from Chicago, which would be about $10,00. They would warrant all binders for one year and three years time would be given for payment. Considerable time was taken up in discussing prices of twine with the McCormick man, who finally offered to furnish twine as cheap as any other company, no matter what the price was. He then brought up the subject of mowers, and offered to lay them down in Fosston for $45,00 and $50,00 respectively, according to the size of the machine, and freight from Chicago. Mr. Scotland, the Deering representative, was then called upon. He proposed to duplicate the offer made by the McCormick people, and furnish instead of wood cutting bar and wood bed, a steel machine all the way through, and twine at greatly reduced rates. The alliance then spent considerable time in discussing the propositions that had just been heard, and it was finally decided to accept the offer of the Deering Company, as presented through Mr. Scotland. There can be no question that the agitation on the part of the farmers, through the alliance, will save the farmers on an average of at least $40,00 on all machines bought this year. While undoubtedly all the members of the alliance will purchase the Deering machine, still those farmers who are not members of the alliance will be benefited, as all companies will be obliged to come down to the figures of the Deering Company, in order to compete with them. The matter of independent political action was then taken up and discussed at length. It was unanimously decided in favor of independent action in state, congressional and county politics. J. W. Galloway was elected to represent the Fosston Alliance at the County Alliance Convention, to be held at Crookston next Wednesday.

Money to Loan

On More Reasonable and Better Terms than Ever Before Offered in the Northwest.

We are now prepared to loan money in any amount from $250 up to $10,000 on well improved farms where title has been perfected, and U. S. patent is on record or has been issued.

Our terms are 8 per cent. interest, with a small commission to cover expenses and cost of making the loan.

Where the security is satisfactory we can make loans for five or any greater number of years, interest payable annually on the first day of January, and will allow the borrower, after two years, to pay any part of the principal, in sums of $100 or upwards on any interest day named in his notes. So much for straight loans.

We are the agents for the Union Central Life Insurance Company, of Cincinati, Ohio, a company of great strength, and a public record for probity and fair dealing unsurpassed; and can write life insurance in connection with loans with great profit and advantage to the borrower, which, taken in connection with the loan for ten years, pays the loan by yearly payments, which is more fully shown by the following statement: A, aged 25 years, of sound health, applies for a loan of $1,000 on his farm, at the same time he applies for $1,000 insurance on the 10 years annual payment stock-endowment plan. He pays as follows:

Each year on his insurance	$88 44
Each year on his loan for interest	80 00
Total yearly payments	$ 168 44
Total for ten years	1684 40

which pays up for the insurance, and the insurance pays the loan in full.

If the borrower dies during the ten years his insurance becomes payable and due at once and pays his loan in full, leaving his farm clear and free of all encumbrances, for his family.

NOTE THE DIFFERENCE.

If the borrower effects a loan of $1,000 on the plan usually followed, he must pay interest at the rate of ten per cent. and may be stated as follows:

$1,000 for five years, annual interest	$ 100 00
At the end of the loan he pays interest in the sum of	500 00
When the loan is due he pays	1000 00
Principal and interest paid in 5 years	1500 00

As much within $184.40 as he pays in ten years with insurance with us.

If he makes such a loan for ten years he pays:

Interest	$1000 00
Principal at end of 10 years	1000 00
Total	$2000 00

or $315.60 more than he would pay with us; besides on the 10 per cent. plan he is not insured against death, and if he dies during the life of the loan the "Old Detestable Mortgage" still hangs over the heads of his defenceless wife and children.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

CROOKSTON, MINNESOTA, JULY 3, 1890.

Frauds.

The Western Rural.

There is never any lessening of the active army of swindlers whose sole business is to rob the farmer. It is utterly impossible for any newspaper to keep up with them all, and hence many of them are never exposed. Since this journal fourteen years ago announced its intention of exposing all swindlers that came within its knowledge, and made it a practice to denounce any newspaper that accepted snide advertising, the swindlers of farmers have been driven largely to the necessity of advertising through circulars; and The Rural is not likely to know anything of these efforts to swindle the public unless the circulars are sent to us. But in nearly every line of business, which our farmers patronize, there can be found some gang of advertisers who study how successfully to impose on the rural districts. The first fraud of this character that deserves special notice is the bogus agricultural newspaper. The so-called agricultural journal that takes the farmer's money and yet consorts with those who through trusts and other combines, seek to rob him, is bad enough in all conscience. But when we speak of bogus agricultural papers we refer to such as Gardner once published and for denouncing which the fellow brought a libel suit against The Western Rural a few years ago, but knew too much to bring it to trial. Then come such papers as the Farm Herald which we recently noticed, and which as published by the liquor interests. Added to them are the papers which are published by people who desire to advertise their goods, thus compelling the farmer to pay for the fun which these people have in publishing a paper and putting their wares before the public. There are thousands of farmers thus paying the advertising bills of manufacturers and store keepers. It is a mean sort of business, and the only safety which the farmer has from the imposition is to refuse to pay money for a farm journal except those that have an established reputation as legitimate agricultural journals.

The crooked tree agent and the lightning rod pedler need scarcely be noticed, and yet they both thrive. The Rural takes considerable satisfaction in the thought that since it sailed into the nurserymen a few years ago, and threatened to denounce any of them who refused to back up any representation made by their agents, whether authorized or not, there has been some improvement among these gentry. But it is impossible to squelch all the dishonest tree peddlers. Some of them have a finely developed talent for falsehood and they have exercised the talent so long that it would seem they cannot tell the truth. Any man is very foolish for buying trees of anybody who he does not know represents an honorable, honest, responsible nursery; and so far as lightning rod peddlers are concerned, turn them away and save your money. Have no rods put on your buildings. Even when put up according to the best rules they are not an absolute protection, if indeed they protect at all. A home in the suburbs of Chicago, elegantly rodded, and said by the lightning-rod company to be properly rodded, was struck twice by lightning last Summer, the second time burning to the ground.

Next comes the general merchandise fellow who prowls around the country pretending to represent some city house, selling everything from silks and groceries to tin cups. It may be safe to buy the tin cups, for they are generally carried along and delivered at once. But it is not wisdom to give these traveling agents orders for goods to be delivered. We have numerous complaints against this class of venders. It is said the goods sent do not correspond with the character of the goods ordered. Very often these fellows represent no house at all. They simply take orders and fill them from stocks picked up here and there as they may chance to find cheap, inferior goods. But some of the houses that have agents in the field soliciting business are not reliable. It is a dangerous business to buy goods of agents and houses that are not known to you.

Perhaps the very meanest fraud that is ever practiced upon the rural districts is the imposition upon the sick by traveling and advertising quacks. It may be set down as an irrefutable fact that if any of these traveling and advertising doctors had one-half the skill that they claim, they could make more money in any city in a day than they can make travelling over the country in a month. We have physicians in this city who make hundreds of dollars a day and could make more if they could attend to the business, and yet not one of these men will make the claims to skill that are made by any quack who travels from place to place. Our advice is to have nothing to do with these fellows. Health is too precious to risk it in the hands of an ignorant quack.

The cheap watch merchant ranks very high as an unsatisfactory element in commerce. It is fair to say that he is not always intentionally a fraud. There always have been cheap watches and always will be; and if any of them are satisfactory we do not know it. We refer now to the very cheap watch. Fairly good watches can be had at very reasonable prices. But the houses advertising an exceedingly cheap grade of goods, do not, so far as our experience goes, give satisfaction. They represent their watches, as a rule, to be what they are not, and so far as we have been acquainted with their way of doing business, they are not apt to fulfill their guaranty. A cheap watch is poor property. If we were going to buy a watch to-day we should not go to the place that advertises the cheapest watches, but to an establishment of established reputation, would say how much money we wished to expend and leave the selection of the watch to the house.

MORTGAGE SALE.

[First publication July 3d, 1890.]

WHEREAS ANDERS ERICKSON, AN UNmarried man, as mortgagor, did on the 27th day of July, A. D. 1888, duly execute and deliver to the Minnesota Loan & Trust Company of Minneapolis, Minnesota, a corporation as mortgagee, his mortgage bearing date the 27th day of July A. D. 1888, whereby he mortgaged to said mortgagee the following described land situated in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, to-wit:

The South-east Quarter of the South-west Quarter, and Lots Five (5) and Six (6) and Seven (7) of section Six (6) in Township One hundred and fifty-two (152) North, of Range Forty-four (44) west, containing one hundred and forty-one and seventy-three one hundredths (141 73-100) acres, to secure the payment of Sixty-three (63) Dollars, according to the conditions of one certain promissory note, payable in ten (10) semi-annual installments, said note bearing even date with said mortgage, and made by said mortgagor to said mortgagee, or order, which said mortgage was, on the 28th day of July, A. D. 1888, at eleven o'clock A. M., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said Polk County, in Book "35" of mortgages, on pages 423 to 424 inclusive.

And whereas The Minnesota Loan and Trust Company did for value received, on the 11th day of April A. D. 1889, duly assign the aforesaid note and mortgage, and the debt secured thereby, to Halvor Steenerson and Geo. J. McManus, partners, as Steenerson & McManus, of Crookston, Minnesota; which said assignment was in writing under seal and duly acknowledged, and was thereafter, on the 26th day of June, A. D. 1890, at three o'clock and thirty minutes P. M., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County, in Book "53" of mortgages, on page 402.

And whereas default has been made in the payment of the sum of Six and seventy-five one hundredths (6.75) Dollars, due as the fourth installment of said note on the 1st day of June, A. D. 1890, and said sum is still due and unpaid;

And whereas it was stipulated and agreed by and between the parties to said mortgage, that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants therein contained on the part of the mortgagor to be kept and performed, then and from thenceforth it shall be lawful for said mortgagee and its assigns to consider the whole sum thereby secured to be immediately due and payable without notice to said mortgagor or any other party.

And Whereas, Halvor Steenerson and Geo. J. McManus, assignees of said mortgagee, have exercised their option to consider and declare, and do hereby declare the whole sum of money secured by said mortgage and still unpaid, to be due and payable;

And whereas there is now due and claimed to be due upon said mortgage, at the date of this notice, the sum of Forty-nine and fifty-three one hundredths (49.53) Dollars, and no proceedings having been instituted by law or otherwise to recover the same or any part thereof,

Now therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale in said mortgage contained, and therewith recorded, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed by sale of the land therein described, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the court-house, in the City of Crookston, in said County, on the 15th day of August, 1890, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day at public vendue to the higest bidder for cash to pay the sum due on said mortgage, together with the taxes, if any, on said premises and twenty-five (25) Dollars attorney fees therein stipulated to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as provided by law.

Dated June 26th, A. D. 1890.

MORTGAGE SALE.

[First publication July 3d, 1890.]

WHEREAS ANDREW J. BOHLEEN, AND Eva Bohleen, his wife, as Mortgagors, did on the 8th day of March, A. D. 1889, duly execute and deliver to the Minnesota Loan and Trust Company of Minneapolis, Minnesota, a corporation as Mortgagee, their mortgage bearing date the 8th day of March, A. D. 1889, whereby they mortgaged to said Mortgagee the following described land situated in the County of Polk, and State of Minnesota, to-wit:

The South-east Quarter of Section One (1), in Township One Hundred and Fifty-three (153) North, of Range 44 West, containing One Hundred and Sixty (160) acres, to secure the payment of Seventy-four and Seventy-five One-hundredths Dollars ($74.75) according to the conditions of one certain promissory note payable in nine (9) semi-annual installments, said note bearing even date with said mortgage, and made by said Mortgagors to said Mortgagee or order; which said mortgage was, on the 8th day of March, A. D. 1889, at five o'clock and ten minutes P. M., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said Polk County, in Book "41" of mortgages, on pages 495 to 496 inclusive.

And whereas, The Minnesota Loan and Trust Company did for value received, on the 10th day of April, A. D. 1889, duly assign the aforesaid note and mortgage and the debt secured thereby, to Halvor Steenerson and Geo. J. McManus, partners as Steenerson & McManus, of Crookston' Minnesota, which said assignment was in writing under seal and duly acknowledged, and was thereafter on the 19th day of June, A. D. 1890, at three o'clock and thirty minutes P. M., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said Polk County, in Book "53" of Mortgages, on pages 366 and 367.

And whereas default has been made in the payment of the sum of Seven and Fifty One-hundredths ($7.50) Dollars, due as the second installment on said note on the 1st day of June, A. D. 1890, and said sum is still unpaid and due,

And whereas it was stipulated and agreed by between the parties to said Mortgage, that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants therein contained on the part of the Mortgagors to be kept and performed, then and from thenceforth it shall be lawful for said Mortgagee and its assigns to consider the whole sum thereby secured to be immediately due and payable without notice to said Mortgagors or any other party.

And whereas Halvor Steenerson and Geo. J. McManus, assignees of said Mortgagee, have exercised their option to consider and declare, and do hereby declare the whole sum of money secured by said mortgage and still unpaid, to be due and payable,

And whereas there is now due, and claimed to be due upon said Mortgage at the date of this notice, the sum of Sixty-three and seventy-nine One-hundredths (63.79) Dollars, and no proceedings having been instituted by law or otherwise to recover the same or any part thereof,

Now therefore notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale in said mortgage contained, and therewith recorded, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed by sale of the land therein described, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court-house in the City of Crookston, in said County, on the 15th day of August, A. D. 1890, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash; to pay the sum due on said mortgage, together with the taxes, if any, on said premises, and Twenty-five Dollars ($25) attorneys' fees therein stipulated to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as provided by law.

Mortgage Sale.

[First publication June 12, 1890.]

WHEREAS, CHARLES DERUSHIA AND Mary D. Derushia, his wife, of Polk County, State of Minnesota, as mortgagors, did, on the 18th day of April, A. D. 1887, duly execute and deliver to The American Freehold Land Mortgage Company of London, (Limited) of London, England, their mortgage bearing date of first day of April, A. D. 1887, whereby they mortgaged to said mortgagee the following described lands situated in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, to-wit: The southeast quarter of Section 2, Township 153, Range 45 west, containing 160 acres, to secure the payment of the sum of one thousand dollars, with interest thereon, according to the conditions of one certain promissory note, with interest coupons attached, bearing even date with said mortgage, and made by said mortgagors to said mortgagee, or order, which said mortgage was on the 18th day of April, A. D. 1887, at 10 o'clock a. m., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Polk, in book 27 of mortgages, on page 389; and

Whereas, default has been made in the payment of the sum of eighty dollars, due as interest upon said mortgage on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1889, and on the further sum of eighty dollars due as interest thereon on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1890, and the said interest is still unpaid and due; and

Whereas, it was stipulated by and between the parties to said mortgage, that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants therein contained on the part of the mortgagors, to be kept and performed, that then and from thenceforth it shall be lawful for the said mortgagee, or its assigns, to consider and declare the whole sum secured thereby as immediately due and payable without notice to said mortgagors, or any other party; and

Whereas, The American Freehold Land Mortgage Company of London (Limited) has exercised its option to consider and declare, and does hereby consider and declare the whole sum of money secured by said mortgage to be due and payable; and

Whereas, there is now due, and claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of one thousand two hundred ten and 65-100 dollars, and no proceedings have been instituted at law or otherwise to recover the same or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained and therewith recorded, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the land therein described, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the City of Crookston, in said County and State, on the 26th day of July, A. D. 1890, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay the sum due on said mortgage, together with taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty dollars attorney's fees therein stipulated to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as provided by law.

Dated June 10th, A. D. 1890.

NEWSPAPER LAW.

1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for the payment.
2. If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscriptions, the suit may be instituted where the paper is published.
4. The Courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers or periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid for, is prima facie evidence of intention to defraud.

Republican State Convention.

A Republican State Convention for the State of Minnesota will be held on Thursday, July 24th, 1890, in Market Hall, in the city of St. Paul, at 11 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for the following positions:

Governor,
Lieutenant Governor,
Secretary of State,
Auditor of State,
State Treasurer,
Attorney General,
Clerk of the Supreme Court,

And for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the convention.

All citizens who believe in the principles of the Republican party; who desire its success; who supported the candidates nominated by the National Republican Convention held in Chicago, in June, 1888, and who want to act with the Republicans in the future, are invited to co-operate in the election of delegates.

Polk Pounty is entitled to eight delegates.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That each county polling 500 or more votes for the Republican candidate for President in 1888, shall be entitled to two delegates at large; those polling less than 500 votes, one delegate at large; within each county one additional delegate for every 500 votes cast for President in 1888 and one delegate for fraction over one hundred.

The foregoing call agreed upon by the Republican State Central Committee at a meeting held in St. Paul, Wednesday, May 14th, 1890.

STANFORD NEWEL, Chairman.
JOEL P. HEATWOLE, Secretary.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION.

A Republican County Convention for the County of Polk, will be held on Friday, July 18th, 1890, in the Court House, in the City of Crookston, at one o'clock p. m., for the purpose of electing eight delegates to the Republican State Convention, to be held in the city of St. Paul on the 24th day of July, 1890, and also for the purpose of electing eight delegates to the Republican Congressional Convention, to be held at Little Falls, September 4th, 1890, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the convention. All citizens who believe in the principles of the Republican party; who desire its success; who supported the candidates nominated by the National Republican Convention held in Chicago in June, 1888, and who want to act with the Republicans in the future, are invited to cooperate in the election of delegates.

The several election precincts are entitled to the following number of delegates, the basis of representation being one delegate for each organized town or precinct, and one additional delegate for every forty votes, or major fraction thereof, cast for the Republican candidate for President in 1888, viz:

Great West: There is a feeling abroad that the Great West pitches into almost everybody. If it don't pitch into any man or agency that even silently stands in and defends the commercial robbers of the age, send in the names. There was no sense, justice, truth or reason in St. Croix's striking at us in our fraud revelation. Every figure we gave was from the wheat dealers themselves, we have them "in black and white," and most of them twice and thrice over—quotations of shipments and for shipments. If St. Croix denies them he calls the Pillsbury's liars and not us. The very fact of his seeking a quarrel with us is evidence of his dabbling in transportation frauds. It is our duty to remove the respectability from thievery.

The committee on constitution reported the following constitution and by-laws, which were adopted, ziz:

CONSTITUTION.

The object of this Alliance is to promote the interests of Agriculture and the prosperity of those interested in Agricultural pursuits in Polk County, and especially such as become members of this organization, and join their efforts with ours to secure this end.

In this Alliance the largest liberty shall be allowed for the discussion of all questions, political, financial or economic, which can interest the real farmers, and due respect shall be paid to the opinions and wishes of each of its members.

ARTICLE 1.

SECTION 1. This Alliance shall be known as the Farmers' Alliance of Polk County, and shall be composed of its officers, the County Lecturer and deputy County Lecturers and three delegates from each sub-alliance in the County. Twenty members shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

SEC. 2. It shall have power to make its own constitutions (subject to the requirements of the State Constitution) or to change the same at any semi-annual meeting, when deemed necessary, by a two-thirds vote of the members present.

ARTICLE 2.

SEC. 1. Its officers shall consist of a President, one Vice-President from each Commissioner's District, a Secretary, a County Lecturer and a Treasurer.

SEC. 2. These officers shall be elected at the annual meeting, to serve for the term of one year, or until their successors are elected and have accepted.

SEC. 3. Should any of the officers elected or appointed fail to signify their acceptance, within thirty days after their election or appointment, such office or offices shall be declared vacant, and the Executive Committee shall proceed to elect some suitable person or persons to fill such vacancies.

DUTIES OF PRESIDENT.

SEC. 4. The President shall preside at all meetings of the County Alliance and of the Executive Committee, preserve order, and perform such duties as pertain to his office.

It shall be his duty, when instructed by the Executive Committee, to call special meetings of the County Alliance. He shall have general supervision of the interests of the Alliance.

SEC. 5. He shall make a full report of his official acts during recess, at each meeting of the Alliance.

DUTIES OF VICE PRESIDENT.

SEC. 6. It shall be the duty of the several Vice Presidents in the absence of the President to preside in his place it their regular order.

SEC. 7. In case of the death, resignation or permanent absence of the President from the County, the senior Vice President shall act as President until the next annual meeting.

DUTIES OF SECRETARY.

SEC. 8. The Secretary shall keep a correct record of the proceedings of the County Alliance, and of the official action of the Executive Committee. He shall receive all moneys coming to the Alliance from any source.

SEC. 9. At the end of each and every month he shall pay over to the Treasurer all moneys which he has received belonging to the County Alliance, and take his receipt therefor.

He shall at each meeting of the Executive Committee make an itemized statement of the dates and amounts of all receipts and disbursements. He shall report annually to the County Alliance the number of sub-alliances organized during the year, and as nearly as possible the whole number of members in the County, together with all other matters proper to be laid before the County Alliance, and perform such other duties as may be directed be the Executive Committee.

SEC. 10. Before entering upon his official duties he shall give a good and sufficient bond for the faithful discharge of his duties, to the Executive Committee, in such sums as the Committee may determine, which bond shall be approved by the finance committee.

SEC. 11. He shall make a full and accurate report of all receipts and disbursements by him to the Finance Committee, at least two days before each meeting of the County Alliance.

And upon the expiration of his term of office or other determination thereof, he shall deliver to the proper officer, when called upon to do so, all moneys, papers, and all other property of whatever kind, in his hands belonging to the County Alliance. He shall receive for his services such compensation as the Executive Committee may determine form time to time.

DUTIES OF TREASURER.

SEC. 12. It shall be the duty of the Treasurer to receive from the Secretary any moneys belonging to the Alliance and give his receipt therefor, and to pay out the same only upon the order of the President, countersigned by the Secretary.

He shall keep a correct account of all receipts and disbursements. He shall make an itemized statement of the condition of the treasury at each session of the Executive Committee, and shall make a full and accurate report of all receipts and disbursements to the Finance Committee at least two days before each annual meeting of the County Alliance.

SEC. 13. Before entering upon his official duties he shall execute a good and lawful bond, for the faithful discharge of his official duties, to the Executive Committee, in such sum as the committee may determine; which bond shall be approved by the Finance Committee. And upon the expiration of his term of office or other determination thereof, he shall deliver to the County Alliance, or the proper officers when called upon so to do, all moneys, papers and other property in his hands belonging to the County Alliance. He shall receive for his services such compensation as the Executive Committee may determine.

SEC. 14. No person shall be eligible to any office in the County Alliance unless he is a member, in good standing, in some subordinate alliance in the state.

SEC. 15. When any person is acting as an officer of the County Alliance, at any annual meeting of the same, and he is not re-elected to his said office, or is not elected to any other office, he shall have the right to remain in such meeting and participate in debate, and vote, until the close of the same.

ARTICLE 3. MEETINGS OF THE COUNTY ALLIANCE.

SEC. 1. The annual meeting shall be held at such a place as is fixed upon by vote at the preceeding annual meeting.

The date of holding it shall be determined by the Executive Committee. If the annual meeting fails to fix upon the place or date of the next meeting the same may be designated by the Executive Committee.

SEC. 2. The Executive Committee shall make all necessary preparations for the annual meeting of the alliance, and shall also prepare an order of business, and rules and regulations for the government of the same; subject to the alliance when it meets.

SEC. 3. The sessions of the alliance for business purposes shall be public unless otherwise ordered by a two thirds vote of the alliance.

ARTICLE 4. PER CAPITA TAX.

SEC. 1. Each member of any Subordinate Alliance shall pay a yearly per capita tax of twenty cents payable semi-annually, which shall be paid in by the delegation or before the first day of June, and the first day of December, each year.

ARTICLE 5. THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

SEC. 1. The officers of the County Alliance shall constitute the Executive Committee. They shall have full power to represent the County Alliance in all matters requiring attention. They may accept the resignation of any officer, fill any vacancy in the Executive Committee or remove any officers for sufficient cause; all their actions to be subject to the approval of the County Alliance.

SEC. 2. The Executive Committe shall meet directly after each annual meeting, and thereafter at such times as they may appoint, or upon the call of the President and Secretary.

ARTICLE 6. THE FINANCE COMMITTEE.

SEC. 1. There shall be a Finance Committee composed of three members of the Alliance elected by the County Alliance at its annual meeting each year, whose duty it shall be to audit and approve all bills before any orders can be drawn on the Treasurer to pay general expenses. They shall approve the bonds of the Secretary and Treasurer.

SEC. 2. They shall meet one day previous to the annual meeting of the County Alliance, at its place of meeting, to receive and audit the books, vouchers and reports of the Secretary and Treasurer. They shall have a general supervision of the finances of the County Alliance, and the books of the Secretary and Treasurer shall always be open for inspection.

ARTICLE 7.

SEC. 1. The County Alliance shall hold a meeting the last Friday in June in the year in which members of the Legislature are to be chosen; and it shall be their duty to issue a call for an alliance county or Legislative district convention, at such time and place as may be most convenient for the farming population, for the purpose of considering whether the interests of the producers require the nomination of a farmers' legislative ticket, or any part of the same; to be submitted to the political parties of the county, or district, for their approval. If they so find by a two-thirds vote of those present, they shall proceed to place such a ticket in nomination, by a majority vote; and if the same is not accepted by any of the political parties, they shall determine, at such nominating convention, whether or not they will support such ticket at the polls.

No person shall be nominated by such convention for the Legislature except Alliance members; unless the convention by a two thirds vote determine otherwise. It shall also hold a meeting on the last Friday of December of each year.

ARTICLE 8. DUTIES OF SUB-ALLIANCES.

SEC. 1 It shall be the duty of each subordinate alliance to report to the Secretary of the County Alliance through its Secretary immediately after the Semi Annual meetings giving the name, number, officers, delegates and number of members of their respective Alliances.

BY-LAWS.

1. The Alliance is not a secret society, and its meetings should be public. But secret sessions may be held if necessary.

2. No person shall be admitted a member of the County Alliance until he has shown to the satisfaction of the Alliance that he is a member of the Alliance in good and regular standing, and has been duly elected as such delegate by his subordinate alliance. No proxies will be admitted.

3. When the County Alliance holds its annual meeting the order of business, unless otherwise ordered, shall be:

First, the appointment of a committee on credentials.

Second, report of committee on credentials, and action on the same.

Third, report of president, secretary and treasurer, and action on the same,

Fourth, reports of committees.

Fifth, unfinished business.

Sixth, new business.

Seventh, good of the order.

4. No person shall speak more than twice upon any branch of a subject without the consent of the alliance.

5. All votes shall be viva voce except upon the election of officers, which shall be by ballot.

6. All resolutions offered in the meeting previous to the report of the committee on resolutions shall be referred to the committee on resolutions without debate. But any two members of the committee on resolutions shall have the right to demand a separate vote by the alliance on any resolution rejected by the committee.

Fargo Weekly Aurgus.

Among the many evidences of the fitness of Hon. S. G. Comstock to represent the people of the Fifth District of Minnesota in the national house of representatives, may be cited his speech in that body the fore part of this month on the famous contested election case of McDuffie and Turpin, from the Fourth District of Alabama. The speech was a masterful one, embracing passages of wit and wisdom that would do credit to Webster, Clay or Patrick Henry. This speech indicated Mr. Comstock had made himself quite familiar with the grave and intricate features of the great southern problem, now of even more than national concern. Mr. Comstock has made a record in congress that very few members achieve during their first term' and his services have been of a character influential and beneficial both locally and nation ally. Such a representative at the seat of government is an invaluable consideration to a young and growing constituency like that comprising the Fifth congressionl district of Minnesota, and it seems as if it would be the part of wisdom for that district to provide beyond the possibility of failure for the return of Mr. Comstock to the next congress. Everything, however, points in that direction now, and the probabilities are that nothing short of a miracle can turn the tide in an adverse direction, and it is safe to predict that the present popular representative from that district will succeed him self.

CROOKSTON, MINNESOTA, JULY 10, 1890.

'Round Home.

F. O. Sustad has moved to Warren for the summer.

The boys have their new ball grounds in complete shape for business.

Lee & Herrick are selling feed on time. Call and see them for terms.

E. D. Childs went down to attend a directors meeting on Tuesday night.

The alliance will meet on Friday to nominate a county and a legislative ticket.

The firm of Mason & Robinson was dissolved this week and Herb once more goes it alone.

Plenty of hay on the market, mostly new crop. The hay crop pronounces to be a big one.

Misses Edith and Eunice Copeland go to Devil's Lake on Saturday to visit friends there.

A. Lariviere has closed up his business at Thief River Falls and goes to West Superior to live.

Mine host Bemis looks as happy as a big sunflower underneath that awning at the Commercial Hotel.

The Republican city caucuses have been called for Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the usual place in each ward.

The saw mill shut down on Tuesday evening to await the arrival of more logs which will be early in August it is thought.

Mrs. Coykendal, sister of Mr. I. U. Jennings arrived from Racine, Wis., last week on a visit to her relatives in this city.

Mrs. I. U. Jennings is making preparations to move her millinery store back to her residence on Main street. Expects to move next Monday.

E. S. Chapin was over from Church's Ferry, N. D., this week, renewing old acquaintances. He thinks Crookston is about to experience a boom.

The sad news reaches the city of the death of Mrs. W. H. Medlar at Wabasha this week. THE JOURNAL has been unable to learn further particulars.

J. A. Wallace, a former Crookstonite, who has been living in Duluth recently came back last week. Says there's no place like Crookston for a home for him.

Prof. Hulburts' Hypocynagun, combined with a regular circus exhibited in Crookston on July 4th. It is said that the circus part does not add to the attractions.

Active preparations for the addition to the McKinnon block are being made, and the work of excavation will be commenced as soon as the buildings can be removed.

Neighbor Anderson has put up a high board fence along the side and rear of his lots and will put up a neat front fence. This is the property formerly owned by J. M. Palmer.

Charlie Rauch came up from Fergus on Monday's delayed train. He has been away from Crookston two years or so but thinks he should recognize the old city all right enough.

On dit that the new proprietors of the water works have made D. Jacobus an offer for the corner of Broadway and Robert, intending to put up a large brick block for their business.

The Presbyterian Sunday school will picnic in the grove, on the old Honeywell place, near the Robert's residence, on Friday next. The school will assemble at the church at 9 o'clock a. m.

The dump carts and track have been taken over the river to Jerome's addition to make the fill necessary to complete the approach to the bridge. The track from the cut to the bridge will have to be raised several feet.

The Republican caucus have been called for the county on Wednesday evening and it has been suggested that the city hold its caucuses on the same evening at 8 o'clock. Elsewhere will be found a list of the various Republican ward committees.

Farmers don't sell your hogs to shippers when you can get double of the price by having them cured at the packing house. [6-tf]

Rev. Currie brought THE JOURNAL a generous sample of the full cream Jersey cheese that he is making at the farm, and if you never saw anything except the skim milk affairs that generally find a market here, you should try a bit of full cream Jersey cheese. Talk about "melting in your mouth!" Yum, yum. Mr. Currie will be prepared to fill all orders that may come with such cheese as seldom finds a market here.

Crookston Alliance No. 648, met on Saturday last and elected officers for the ensuing term, viz: President, J. O. Sargeant; Vice President, Jas. Greenhalgh; Secretary, A. N. Hixson; Treasurer, T. O. Bergland. Delegates to Polk County Alliance, A. N. Hixson, F. Bivins and J. O. Sargeant; delegates to the convention on the 11th inst, A. N. Hixson, C. Hanson; delegate to State meeting, H. E. Cooke, alternate O. Houston. Motion that the St. Paul delegates go uninstructed prevailed. After a discussion on twine matters, Jas. Greenhalgh, Chris. Houston and H. E. Cooke were appointed a committee to look up the matter and report at next meeting. Adjourned until Saturday, July 19th.

Lee & Herrick are selling feed on time. Call and see them for termf.

Mrs. George Bucknam and children arrived last week from an extended visit in Chicago.

Pat Russel says "next toime I have a bit av ice cream in a basket I'm not going to allow the b'yes to blarney me until it all rins away, bedad!"

Revs. Nestegaard and Netland, missionaries to China will hold services at the Norwegian Conference church on Sunday next at 2 p. m. All cordially invited.

Notwithstanding Crookston did not advertise to do anything in the line of celebration on July 4th a large crowd was on deck ready for anything that might transpire. It is a pity that the occasion was neglected and we trust that it will not be so again.

An attack of our old army trouble prevented our attendance at the celebration at Maple Bay on July 4th but we are informed that there was big doings out there. A goodly number went from here but not as many as would have gone had the train been arranged for earlier.

Superintendent Casey was upon the streets right early on Thursday morning clothed in a bright smile and a handsome necktie, all because the little visitor at his house, a few hours old was a boy. He has worn that suit every day since because all concerned are doing nicely.

The alliance made a good selection when they chose Charlie Johnson as county lecturer as Charlie is a good all-'round farmer and a man of liberal education. The way to succeed is to put the best men to the front and then uphold them in their work. Charlie is a man who can do good work if supported by the alliance, without that he can do nothing.

Fargo was struck by a cyclonic wave early on Monday morning. Many roofs were torn off, several buildings wrecked and a few lives lost. Moorhead suffered the loss of some roofs and the big chimney on the Grand Pacific took a tumble to itself again as it did once before several years since. Along the line telegraph poles were blown down which delayed trains somewhat.

Charlie Kops was over from Grand Forks last Wednesday to chat with his friends and sell pianos and organs. The Kops boys are doing an immense business in that line; they have arrangments with the manufacturing companies that allows them to handle goods just as they choose and they choose to to handle them to suit the requirements of their customers. They can sell you an instrument in any way you want it at all reasonable. If you want a piano or organ it will pay you to see the Kops Bros. before you buy.

Tatro & Felsing, proprietors of the new Maple Lake Steamer were in the city on Tuesday. They report a successful day on July 4th and say that the Great Northern road will soon commence to run Sunday excursion trains between Grand Forks and Dugdale. What that road should do is to lay the iron on the road already graded to Maple Bay then these excursions would pay. At present the N. P. runs excursion trains to Detroit and takes the cream of the business. If the Great Northern ran to Maple Bay that road would get the business almost wholly.

The St. Paul papers of the 7th contain the sad news of the death of Judge Walter T. Burr, which occurred on Sunday morning. Judge Burr was well known by many of our citizens. He was one of the leading citizens of St. Paul, an old soldier and a man highly respected by all who knew him. At the age of 17 he enlisted as a cavalry soldier and served with honor to the end of the war. He leaves a wife and five children to mourn his early death. The eldest son, Stiles W., was a resident of Crookston for a number of years and is well and favorably known here. The Judge will be greatly missed in the social and business circles of St. Paul where his friends are legion.

Mrs. Iver Krohn, wife of the landlord of the Scandinavian hotel died on Sunday afternoon, of typhoid fever after an illness of several weeks duration. The funeral was largely attended on Tuesday.

Ingeborg O. Messelt was born in Osterdalen, Norway, May 15th. 1868. In 1888 she came to this country to join her brothers, Berger and Ed, who reside in the town of Winger, Polk County. On September 28th, 1889, she was married to Iver A. Krohn, proprietor of the Scandinavian hotel of this city. In May last a little girl was born to them soon after which Mrs. K. had an attack of typhoid fever from which she never recovered. Dr. Dunlop took charge of the case on June 8th and did all that man could for her but all in vain as it was then too late. She leaves a mother, two brothers and two sisters in the old country and two brothers and a husband and little one in this county to mourn her early death.

A Card of Thanks.

I desire to return my sincere thanks to the many kind friends who have been so kind to me in my bereavement and my especial thanks to Dr. A. H. Dunlop who did all that mortal man could do to save the life of my beloved wife.

IVER A. KROHN.

ED. JOURNAL:—The Woodside Farmers' Alliance No. 742, held its annual meeting July 1st, officers were elected as follows:

H. G. Mitchell President, O. J. Tagby Secretary, E. Johnson Treasurer. The following resolutions were adopted.

Resolved, That we are in favor of a full independent Farmers' Alliance State ticket. We also pledge ourselves not to support any newspaper that is working against the movements of the farmers' alliance believing that to support such newspapers are but furnishing our enemies the means to defeat us.

The Secretary was instructed to have these resolutions published in the Great West and THE POLK COUNTY JOURNAL, hoping that every alliance in the state would adopt the above resolutions.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

Proceedings of a special meeting of the City Council of the city of Crookston, held on Tuesday evening, July 1st, 1890.

Meeting called to order by vice president Jennings.

At the roll call the following members were found to be present: Aldermen Lally, Childs' Bjoin, Morrisey, Marshall, McLaren, Schmidt, Jerome and Buhn.

Aldermen absent, Steenerson.

The call of the Mayor was read, which was as follows:

STATE OF MINNESOTA, } ss.
City of Crookston. }

A special meeting of the City Council of the city of Crookston will be held at the City Hall in said city, on Tuesday, July 1st, A. D. 1890, at 7:30 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of opening and considering bids for sewers. To make provision for the payment of the amount due the Water Works, Power and Light Company; also to grant building permits, and grant the right to use portions of the streets opposite new buildings; also to grant the right to move buildings on the streets inside the fire limits.

ALEX. MCKINNON, Mayor.

The sealed bids for sewers were then opened and read. Bids were received from the following parties: Wm. J. Preston, of St. Paul, P. McDonnell, of Grand Forks, John Gleason & Sons, of Minneapolis, and Carroll, Chamberlain & Co., of Grand Forks.

CROOKSTON, July 1st, 1890.

To the Honorable Mayor and members of the City Council: We, the undersigned, have the honor to sumit the following bid to construct a sewer on Third street, on Main street, on Ash street and Broadway:

Three feet brick sewer on 3d street.
Eighteen inch pipe " on Main "
Fifteen " " " " Broadway to Robert street.
Fifteen inch pipe sewer on Second st.
Twelve inch pipe sewer on Broadway, from Robert to Fletcher street.
Build 12 catch basins.
Build 5 manholes.

Do all work according to plans and specifications on file in the City Engineer's office for the sum of $6,470.80.

CARROLL, CHAMBERLIN & CO.,
Grand Forks, N. D.

CROOKSTON, Minn., July 1, 1890.

To the City Council:

I propose to construct the sewer on Third street, Main street, Second street and Broadway, with the necessary manholes and catch basins, and in accordance with the plans and specifications on file in the office of the City Engineer for the sum of $5,891.

And I agree to deduct from the above amount $45 for each catch basin that you may allow cast iron covers instead of granite. I also agree to deduct from the above gross amount $11 for each catch basin, less cover, that the Council or Engineer may exclude from the number specified.

I also agree to do any and all work under the supervision of the Engineer in charge, according to plans and specifications and prices therein stated.

Yours, truly,
P. MCDONNELL,
Grand Forks, N. D.

CROOKSTON, Minn., July 1, 1890.

To the City Council:

We propose to construct the sewer on the different streets named in the plans and specifications, with the necessary manholes and catch basins, and in accordance with the plans and specifications on file in the office of the City Clerk of the city of Crookston for six thousand three hundred and thirty dollars, ($6,330,) and we agree to do any and all work that may be specially ordered by the City Council, which is not included within the terms of this contract, for the following prices:

For each excavation, inclusive of refilling and removing surplus, open cut sewer, per cubic yard,	$ 25
For concrete, in open cut or tunnel, per cubic yard	5 00
For brick masonry, laid in cement, either in open cut or tunnel, per 1,000 brick	20 00
(All estimates of brick work will be made at 15 brick per square foot of 8 inch wall.)
For timber work forming part of permanent work only, including all nails and framing, either in open cut or tunnel, per 1000 feet B. M.	20 00
For cast iron work, in place (inclusive of cast of patterns,) per pound	05
For wrought iron, in place, per pound	10
For piles driven and cut off, for part left in ground only, per lin. feet	30
For piling ordered and delivered less the amount paid for piles driven, per lin. foot	15

All work paid for by the cubic yard shall be measured at its actual cubical contents, no customary measurements being allowed in any case.

JOHN GLEASON & SON.,
No. 2442 13th Av. S.,
Minneapolis, Minn.

CROOKSTON, Minn., July 1, 1890.

To the City Council:

I propose to construct the sewer on Third street, from Main street to connect with the eastern end of the present old sewer, and Main street from Third street to Second street, and Second st. from Main street to Broadway, and Broadway from Second street to Fletcher street, with the necessary manholes and catch basins, and in accordance with the plans and specifications on file in the office of the City Clerk of the city of Crookston, for five thousand six hundred and ninety-eight dollars, and I agree to do any and all work that may be specially ordered by the City Council which is not included within the terms of the contract for the following prices:

For earth excavation, (inclusive of refilling and removing surplus), open cut sewer, per cubic yard	$ 25
For concrete, in open cut or tunnel, per cubic yard	5 00
For brick masonry laid in cement, either in open cut or tunnel, per 1,000 brick	20 00
(All estimates for brick work will be at 15 brick square foot of 8 inch wall.)
For timber work forming part of permanent work only, including all nails and framing, either in open cut or tunnel, per 1,000 feet B. M.	20 00
For cast iron work, in place, (inclusive of cost of patterns) per pound	05
For wrought iron, in place, per pound	10
For pipe sewer laid, the list price only
For piles driven and cut off, for part left in ground only, per lin. foot	30
For piling ordered and delivered less amount paid for piles, per lin. foot	15

All work paid for by the cubic yard shall be measured at its actual cubical contents only, no customary measurements being allowed in any case.

WM. J. PRESTON,
St. Paul, Minn.

Moved by Alderman Morrisey, seconded by Alderman Bjoin, that when the contract for sewers be let it be let for cast iron catch basin covers instead of granite or stone, as specified in the plans and specifications. Motion was withdrawn temporarily.

Moved by Alderman Childs, seconded by Alderman Lally, that the sewer contract be awarded to Wm. J. Preston, of St. Paul.

Moved by Alderman Morrisey, seconded by Alderman Schmidt, that the motion just made be amended so it be as follows: That the bid of P. McDonnell, of Grand Forks, for the construction of sewers be accepted, and the contract awarded to him for the sum of $5,351.

Upon the call of ayes and nays the vote stood as follows:

Ayes—Aldermen Lally, Bjoin, Morrisey, Schmidt, Jerome, Buhn, Jennings.

Nays—Aldermen Childs and Marshall.

Excused—Alderman McLaren.

President declared the amendment carried.

The vote being then taken on the original motion as amended, upon call of ayes and nays the vote stood as follows:

Aldermen voting in the affirmative—Lally, Bjoin, Morrisey, Marshall, Jerome, Schmidt, Buhn, Jennings.

Alderman voting in the negative—Childs.

Excused—Alderman McLaren.

President declared the motion as amended carried.

A communication was recvied from Alex. McKinnon requesting a building permit, the building to be located on the south side of Robert street, and situated on lots No. 12 and 13, block 6, Fletcher & Houston's addition to the city of Crookston, and to be finished according to plans and specifications.

Moved by Alderman Lally, seconded by Alderman Childs, that the petition be granted. Carried.

A petition from Almira Clements in regard to raising and putting an addition on a frame building in the fire limits was presented and read.

Alex. McKinnon made a verbal request to the Council asking permission to move two frame buildings which are at present in the fire limits to another location in said limits.

The bill of the Crookston Water Works, Power and Light Company was presented, amounting to $2,961.20.

Moved by Alderman Morrisey, seconded by Alderman Buhn, that the bill be allowed and an order drawn on the treasurer for the amount.

Aldermen voting in the affirmative—Lally, Childs, Bjoin, Morrisey, McLaren, Marshall, Schmidt, Jerome, Buhn and Jennings.

Motion declared carried and clerk instructed accordingly.

Moved by Alderman Morrisey, seconded by Alderman Jerome, that the amount of the contractor's bond be placed at $3,000. Carried.

Moved by Alderman Marshall, seconded by Alderman Jerome, that the motion awarding the contract for sewers to P. McDonnell be reconsidered.

Aldermen voting in the affirmative—Childs, Bjoin, McLaren, Marshall, Buhn and Jennings.

Aldermen voting in the negativ—Lally, Morrisey, Schmidt and Jerome.

President declared the motion carried.

Alderman Morrisey offered the following resolution which was duly seconded by Alderman Schmidt: I move that the bid of Mr. McDonnell be accepted and the cast iron covers and drain pans, as per plan referred to by Mr. Starkey, be used, and the amount of $540 be deducted from the bid therein stated; also that the sum of $5,000 be inserted in the bond instead of $3,000.

Aldermen voting in the affirmative—Lally, Bjoin, Morrisey, McLaren, Marshall, Schmidt, Jerome, Buhn.

Aldermen voting in the negative—Childs.

Chairman Jennings excused.

By this vote the resolution was declared carried by the President of the Council.

Passed this 1st day of July, 1890.

I. U. JENNINGS,
Vice President of Council.

Approved this 5th day of July, 1890.

ALEX. MCKINNON,
Mayor.

Attest: E. C. CARRUTH,
City Clerk.

Moved by Alderman Childs, seconded by Alderman Marshall, that the following statement be put on record:

That the plans and specifications referred to in Alderman Morrisey's resolution have never been formulated, are not now and never have been before the City Council, and that they have no knowledge as to the manner or kind of catch basin for which they are awardind the contract Carried.

Upon motion the Council adjourned.

E. C. CARRUTH,
City Clerk.

The mission of the East Grand Forks News is to make the Farmers' Alliance rake the Democratic chestnuts out of the fire. If the farmers are true to their own interests the mission will fail

Gen. J. H. Baker is said to be an active candidate for governor on the alliance ticket. The trouble with the general is that he never seems to advocate any measure of real benefit to the farmers and as long as he could get an office in it the Republican party was good enough for him. His opposition to the sub-treasury bill ought to defeat his aspirations for the gubernational position.

The Journal has it on excellent authority that the Hon. Knute Nelson will accept the Republican nomination for Governor if tendered him. While he is not by any means an office seeker and in order to accept it would have to make a personal sacrifice yet he is patriotic enough to accept the position if the public needs require it. We believe that the people of the State of Minnesota desire to see Knute Nelson our next governor and the wishes of the people should be heeded. He is the only man in the State to-day who is able to bring order out of chaos and that his nomination would be perfectly acceptable goes without saying.

Our attention has been called to the fact that the rumor has been industriously circulated that the editor of this paper is an avowed candidate for the Senate and is bending every effort to the accomplishment of that purpose. We have time and again said in The Journal and on the rostrum that we are not a candidate for any office within the gift of the people and it is no friend of ours who is enacting this false report. We took hold of the alliance work for the sole and simple object of helping to obtain a free and open wheat market, believing that by combination the farmers could accomplish this object, by sending the best men they have to represent them in the legislature. There are some who for personal ends are offered to that idea and we believe that they are the ones who are attributing selfish motives to us, hoping thus to weaken our efforts while they are industriously seeking to advance their own interests. We wish to report once for all that we are not a candidate for any office within the gift of the people. This is a business the farmers should do themselves and there are a plenty of them fully competent to attend to it.

Minneapolis Times:—Mr. Graves is very strong throughout the whole state and especially in his own district. He could probably secure the entire 127 votes from the Fifth district and could be nominated in a canter with the additional support which Clough and Rice would give.

How long since the head of the elevator system at Duluth became so very strong among the farmers of the State? It may be possible that he could secure a party nomination "in a canter" but just so sure it is that the ticket would be defeated at the polls in a gallop! We are surprised that the Times, that generally takes so clear a view of the situation should be betrayed into such a "grave" error, (as it were,) as Chas. H. does not represent the interests of the farmers by any means. You should head such a ticket with the name of Chas. A. Pillsbury, for governor so the Minneapolis elevator interests should have an equal show with the Duluth elevator interests. But how would the people like such a ticket? And you might just as well put up Chas. A. Pillsbury as Chas. H. Graves for this is a case in which one Charles is just as good as another.

Minneapolis Times:—The farmers are making a crusade against corrupt politics, and will be joined in this movement by many republicans; the democrats are opposed to republicanism on distinct party lines, and the prohibitionists have introduced a new issue in politics which they seek to indicate at the polls. The success of either one of these parties is a partial victory for all. The interests of all are hostile to the republican party, and each is equally concerned in the defeat of that party. It is for this reason that many republicans are urging a change in the original state to renominate Merriam and the nomination of some strong man to head the ticket, who can concentrate the party forces and will be satisfactory to all parties. There are plenty of such men in the state and among them may be mentioned Hon. Knute Nelson, Judge Collins, Hon. C. A. Gilman, Hon. Chas. H. Graves, Hon. W. W. Braden, Judge J. P. Rea, Hon. Albert Scheffer and Hon. A. E. Rice. Any one of these gentlemen would be able to poll a full republican vote and to re-unite the different elements of a disintegrated party. They are all acceptable to the farmers of the state and are men of clean records, who could command the support of that element which is already revolving against boodle politics. "We must do something to strengthen our ticket or we are lost," was the ominous prediction of one of the leading republicans of the state and a warm friend of Merriam. He further expressed the opinion that Merriam could not be elected if nominated, and urged the importance of selecting some other man.

We believe the Times strikes the key-note to the situation but we as firmly believe that it is in error as to the availability of the gentlemen named except the Hon. Knute Nelson. Mr. Nelson is the only man in Minnesota to-day who can absolutely insure victory for the republican party as he alone has the absolute confidence of the farmers. The Times can see this in the fact that he alone is mentioned as the man they desire to head their ticket. He is a man of the people and understands the needs of the farmers thoroughly and he is in hearty sympathy with their needs and requirements. The fact that Knute Nelson, at the head of any ticket would win, should be a significant pointer.

Mr. Editor:—If I stay in the field I'll be accused very soon of killing my grandmother. A few days since a country newspaper said that some one was stoned at Terrebonne. It was shown to the originators of that story that when a man lives in a whiskey bottle he don't want to throw any stones, less he becomes disappointed in the encounter. Now, a democratic paragrapher calls me a "Montague republican," whatever that means. Allow me to say what kind of a republican I am: In 1884 I supported Mr. Montague for Judge of Probate on the democratic ticket. For some reason known to him Mr. Montague voted for Blaine. I was the scape goat of the firm—was loaded with a white hat and sent to the wilderness to vote for Cleveland. The day after Cleveland's election I resigned as goat, declared my intention to join the republican party, and have ever since acted with them. In 1886 I voted for and supported McGill and the republican ticket, while Mr. Montague ran on the democratic ticket and was going around the country in a box car with Mr. Ames. In the summer of 1888, A. D. Stephens presented Mr. Montague to the republican club, and since then Mr. Montague has been a good republican. So you see, I was a republican over three years before Mr. Montague, besides having been a republican all the time prior to 1882. Now, both Mr. Montague and myself are republicans, like all the other republicans. Mr. Montague is ahead of me only on one thing—he held an office. He was appointed a member of the board of tax demoralization of 1889. After the board got through the poor cow, loaded with flies and chattel mortgages, might think she was worth nearly as much as a share of bank stock, which had forgotten its surplus and its deposits and its undivided savings. But Mr. Montague was not to blame in the matter; neither he or I appointed the other members of that board. Of course, I do not want to be understood as disparaging Mr. Montague nor his services to the party. If Mr. Montague was nominated, and many offices he could fill with credit, he could not find a warmer supporter than me.

The same paragrapher repeats a joke said under the impression that "verba volant" and not for publication to a promiscuous public. It is singular that some people want you to furnish the joke and the brains to understand it. The gentleman referred to as "incumbrance," is so only as being in the way of all of us pretenders—otherwise he is a good officer, a good republican and will certainly get my support if renominated. Yours, Henry Wight.

Lindsay, Minn., July 26, 1890.

At a meeting of the Hill River Alliance No. 735, the following resolutions was adopted:

Resolved, That we desire the election of a fearless, intelligent, and incorruptible, legislature, in which the farmers of the state shall be properly represented, and which shall enact laws to prevent the watering of stocks, to prevent unjust freight charges and discriminations, and to secure to the farmers and all other people of the state, the just and equal taxation of property, and every possible facility for free and open commerce, unhindered by unjust and improper combinations, trusts, or monopolies of any kind whatever.

Examination for a Cadetship in the U. S. Military Academy

A competitive examination of applicants for nomination by S. G. Comstock, M. C., as Cadet to the United States Military Academy from the Fifth Congressional District of Minnesota, will be held at the High School building, Fergus Falls, Otter Tail Co., August 5th, 1890, commencing at 9 o'clock A. M. Examining Board, Hon. E. E. Corliss, Dr. T. N. McLean, and Prof. Weld. The age for the admission of Cadets to the Academy is between seventeen and twenty-two years. Candidates must be unmarried, at least five feet in height, free from any infectious or immoral disorder, and, generally, from any deformity, disease, or infirmity which may render them unfit for military service. They must be well versed in reading, in writing, including orthography, in arithmetic, and have a knowledge of the elements of English grammer, of descriptive geography (particularly of our own country,) and of the history of the United States; they must also be of good moral character. It is almost essential to ultimate success that the candidate posses larger requirements than those absolutely necessary for entering the Academy, particularly in arithmetic, algebra, and geometry, as most of the failures at the Academy are due to a deficiency in mathematics.

He is All Right.

Minneapolis Times.

There is nothing the matter with the republicanism of Knute Nelson. Ever since he attained his majority his vote has invariably been cast for republican candidate and principles. He has been urged to accept the nomination of the farmers' Alliance, which would have carried with it the endorsement of one or both of the two great parties, but he has peremptorily refused to allow the use of his name, because he would not place himself in position of direct or indirect antagonism to the republican party. His tariff views are in perfect harmony with the republican sentiment of the northwest. The essential feature of the tariff measure he presented in congress was a demand for free sugar and free manilla hemp and sisal grass, and in this he has been fully vindicated by the policy pursued by the republican party in the present congress. He opposed the Mills bill on the floor of the house, but in common with a few other republican voted for the measure upon its final passage, not because he approved it as passed by the house, but because he was anxious to have the question of tariff reform brought before the senate in such a form that the upper branch of congress would be compelled to take it up for consideration without shamming or delay. There can be no doubt that if the Mills bill had not passed the house the senate would not have framed the substitute which furnished the republicans with a positive issue in the campaign of 1888. Knute Nelson is all right, and his republicanism is all right. He enjoys the confidence of the body of the people in a fuller measure than any other republican leader. His nomination would rejuvenate and strengthen the party in this state and insure its supremacy for years to come.

Money to Loan

On More Reasonable and Better Terms than Ever Before Offered in the Northwest.

We are now prepared to loan money in any amount from $250 up to $10,000 on well improved farms where title has been perfected, and U. S. patent is on record or has been issued.

Our terms are 8 per cent. interest, with a small commission to cover expenses and cost of making the loan.

Where the security is satisfactory we can make loans for five or any greater number of years, interest payable annually on the first day of January, and will allow the borrower, after two years, to pay any part of the principal, in sums of $100 or upwards on any interest day named in his notes. So much for straight loans.

We are the agents for the Union Central Life Insurance Company, of Cincinnati, Ohio, a company of great strength, and a public record for probity and fair dealing unsurpassed; and can write life insurance in connection with loans with great profit and advantage to the borrower, which, taken in connection with the loan for ten years, pays the loan by yearly payments, which is more fully shown by the following statement: A, aged 25 years, of sound health, applies for a loan of $1,000 on his farm, at the same time he applies for $1,000 insurance on the 10 years annual payment stock-endowment plan. He pays as follows:

Each year on his insurance	$88 44
Each year on his loan for interest	80 00
Total yearly payments	$ 168 44
Total for ten years	1684 40

which pays up for the insurance, and the insurance pays the loan in full.

If the borrower dies during the ten years his insurance becomes payable and due at once and pays his loan in full, leaving his farm clear and free of all encumbrances, for his family.

NOTE THE DIFFERENCE.

If the borrower effects a loan of $1,000 on the plan usually followed, he must pay interest at the rate of ten per cent. and may be stated as follows:

$1,000 for five years, annual interest	$ 100 00
At the end of the loan he pays interest in the sum of	500 00
When the loan is due he pays	1000 00
Principal and interest paid in 5 years	1500 00

As much within $184.40 as he pays in ten years with insurance with us.

If he makes such a loan for ten years he pays:

Interest	$1000 00
Principal at end of 10 years	1000 00
Total	$2000 00

or $315.60 more than he would pay with us; besides on the 10 per cent. plan he is not insured against death, and if he dies during the life of the loan the "Old Detestable Mortgage" still hangs over the heads of his defenceless wife and children.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

CROOKSTON, MINNESOTA, JULY 10, 1890.

The People's Candidate.

Governor Merriam is reported to have said that "if Knute Nelson wanted to run for governor of Minnesota this year he could probably get the republican nomination with very little work." This he at once followed with the positive statement that "Hon. Knute would accept no nomination." The Times does not believe that Governor Merriam has any authority for the announcement that Knute Nelson "would accept no nomination." On the contrary there is every reason to believe that if the republican convention should decide that a name so justly popular as his, would insure harmony and success, Mr. Nelson, without asserting the slightest claim, and in grateful sense of duty to his party and to his state, would not refuse to yield his preference to the popular demand. The Times makes no pretense of authoritative information as to Mr. Nelson's plans or purposes. What it says here is solely from its knowledge of him as a man of disinterestedness and sagacity, to whom office is a commanding station, presenting only a wider and juster view of public duties and a deeper sense of responsibility. In congress his record was that of a clear-headed, well-balanced, right-principled man, conservative yet progressive, with ideas of his own, the courage to utter them and the ability to make his utterance heard.

Such a man at such a time as this, when the best elements, not in his own party alone, but in the state at large, are in revolt against the existing order of things, and are demanding the wisest council and most courageous leadership, is not likely to skulk out of the line of march or shirk any duty the people may require of him. It would be a pusillanimity and disloyalty totally at variance with his past record, and the popular estimate of him. Mr. Nelson may be averse, as he undoubtedly is, to entering the contest for governor at this time, but he is too patriotic and conscientious not to recognize and yield the first duty of American citizenship—obedience to the call of the people and to his own sense of duty.

Knute Nelson is a man not only of recognized ability, but also of what may be called singular good fortune; he has enjoyed high public honor without a touch of reproach or suspicion. He is emphatically a man of the people who has never forfeited their confidence and regard, and he is not likely to do it at this late day by any failure to meet their expectation, or respond to their appeals. When in congress his course commanded universal approval and his unusual ability and personal force give him distinction from the outset. To such a man no honor or place is so high-placed that he may not hope to grasp it, so long as he remains true to the people. In the estimation of the people of Minnesota no distinction or honor is beyond Knute Nelson's reach. So long as he is loyal to them, they may be relied upon to stand by him.

The Times believes that it may be truthfully said of Knute Nelson, that no man has a more grateful sense of the popular kindness with which he has always been regarded. Always a devoted republican, with most advanced republican ideas, and representing the purposes, principles and methods of the party in its best estate, he has the tact which disarms hostility and the good common sense which is invaluable in the conduct of affairs. He is, in fact, the most trusted man in the state today, and especially in the Republican party. He owes too much to that party, and to the people of Minnesota to deny any honorable claim which they may make upon him. Even his preference for private life will, we are sure, yield to a conviction that his return to public life is desired by the party for its own harmony, and the promotion of its principles as the party of the people.

The Tirteen Towns: We understand that Arny Gunderson of the town of Sletten, has his eye on the office of sheriff this fall, and will probably seek the nomination on the Farmers' Alliance ticket, and probably would't refuse an endorsement by the Republican County Convention. Arny is undoubtedly familiar with the duties of the office, having served a long term as deputy under the late shariff Paulsrud and would make a competent officer. The East end is certainly entitled to one of the important offices which should be conceded her, but as we have candidates for all the important officeist, it may be within the range of possibility that we will capture everything in sight.

Kittson County Enterprise: Fourteen of the worst broke up men often seen were brought into Hallock on Sunday from the east. They had been out for sixty days on the Duluth & Winnipeg survey, and, owing to the high water had been obliged to travel waste deep in mud and water for days, until their feet and limbs had become so swollen and inflamed that they could not walk or wear a boot. A team was secured and the boys were brought to Hallock, where they remained until Tuesday. They report the route surveyed for the new road as impracticable, there being at one place over fourteen miles of piling to be done.

MORTGAGE SALE.

[First publication July 3d, 1890.]

WHEREAS ANDERS ERICKSON, AN UNmarried man, as mortgagor, did on the 27th day of July, A. D. 1888, duly execute and deliver to the Minnesota Loan & Trust Company of Minneapolis, Minnesota, a corporation as mortgagee, his mortgage bearing date the 27th day of July A. D. 1888, whereby he mortgaged to said mortgagee the following described land situated in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, to-wit:

The South-east Quarter of the South-west Quarter, and Lots Five (5) and Six (6) and Seven (7) of section Six (6) in Township One hundred and fifty-two (152) North, of Range Forty-four (44) west, containing one hundred and forty-one and seventy-three one hundredths (141 73-100) acres, to secure the payment of Sixty-three (63) Dollars, according to the conditions of one certain promissory note, payable in ten (10) semi-annual installments, said note bearing even date with said mortgage, and made by said mortgagor to said mortgagee, or order, which said mortgage was, on the 28th day of July, A. D. 1888, at eleven o'clock A. M., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said Polk County, in Book "36" of mortgages, on pages 422 to 424 inclusive.

And whereas The Minnesota Loan and Trust Company did for value received, on the 11th day of April A. D. 1889, duly assign the aforesaid note and mortgage, and the debt secured thereby, to Halvor Steenerson and Geo. J. McManus, partners, as Steenerson & McManus, of Crookston, Minnesota; which said assignment was in writing under seal and duly acknowledged, and was thereafter, on the 26th day of June, A. D. 1890, at three o'clock and thirty minutes P. M., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County, in Book "53" of mortgages, on page 402.

And whereas default has been made in the payment of the sum of Six and seventy-five one hundredths (6.75) Dollars, due as the fourth installment of said note on the 1st day of June, A. D. 1890, and said sum is still due and unpaid;

And whereas it was stipulated and agreed by and between the parties to said mortgage, that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants therein contained on the part of the mortgagor to be kept and performed, then and from thenceforth it shall be lawful for said mortgagee and its assigns to consider the whole sum thereby secured to be immediately due and payable without notice to said mortgagor or any other party.

And Whereas, Halvor Steenerson and Geo. J. McManus, assignees of said mortgagee, have exercised their option to consider and declare, and do hereby declare the whole sum of money secured by said mortgage and still unpaid, to be due and payable;

And whereas there is now due and claimed to be due upon said mortgage, at the date of this notice, the sum of Forty-nine and fifty-three one hundredths (49.53) Dollars, and no proceedings having been instituted by law or otherwise to recover the same or any part thereof,

Now therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale in said mortgage contained, and therewith recorded, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed by sale of the land therein described, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the court-house, in the City of Crookston, in said County, on the 15th day of August, 1890, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day at public vendue to the higest bidder for cash to pay the sum due on said mortgage, together with the taxes, if any, on said premises and twenty-five (25) Dollars attorney fees therein stipulated to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as provided by law.

Dated June 26th, A. D. 1890.

MORTGAGE SALE,

[First publication July 3d, 1890.]

WHEREAS ANDREW J. BOHLEEN, AND Eva Bohleen, his wife, as Mortgagors, did on the 8th day of March, A. D. 1889, duly execute and deliver to the Minnesota Loan and Trust Company of Minneapolis, Minnesota, a corporation as Mortgagee, their mortgage bearing date the 8th day of March, A. D. 1889, whereby they mortgaged to said Mortgagee the following described land situated in the County of Polk, and State of Minnesota, to-wit:

The South-east Quarter of Section One (1), in Township One Hundred and Fifty-three (153) North, of Range 44 West, containing One Hundred and Sixty (160) acres, to secure the payment of Seventy-four and Seventy-five One-hundredths Dollars ($74.75) according to the conditions of one certain promissory note payable in nine (9) semi-annual installments, said note bearing even date with said mortgage, and made by said Mortgagors to said Mortgagee or order; which said mortgage was, on the 8th day of March, A. D. 1889, at five o'clock and ten minutes P. M., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said Polk County, in Book "41" of mortgages, on pages 495 to 498 inclusive.

And whereas, The Minnesota Loan and Trust Company did for value received, on the 10th day of April, A. D. 1889, duly assign the aforesaid note and mortgage and the debt secured thereby, to Halvor Steenerson and Geo. J. McManus, partners as Steenerson & McManus, of Crookston' Minnesota, which said assignment was in writing under seal and duly acknowledged, and was thereafter on the 19th day of June, A. D. 1890, at three o'clock and thirty minutes P. M., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said Polk County, in Book "53" of Mortgages, on pages 366 and 367;

And whereas default has been made in the payment of the sum of Seven and Fifty One-hundredths ($7.50) Dollars, due as the second installment on said note on the 1st day of June, A. D. 1890, and said sum is still unpaid and due,

And whereas it was stipulated and agreed by between the parties to said Mortgage, that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants therein contained on the part of the Mortgagors to be kept and performed, then and from thenceforth it shall be lawful for said Mortgagee and its assigns to consider the whole sum thereby secured to be immediately due and payable witeout notice to said Mortgagors or any other party.

And whereas Halvor Steenerson and Geo. J. McManus, assignees of said Mortgagee, have exercised their option to consider and declare, and do hereby declare the whole sum of money secured by said mortgage and still unpaid, to be due and payable,

And whereas there is now due, and claimed to be due upon said Mortgage at the date of this notice, the sum of Sixty-three and seventy-nine One-hundredths (63.79) Dollars, and no proceedings having been instituted by law or otherwise to recover the same or any part thereof,

Now therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale in said mortgage contained, and therewith recorded, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed by sale of the land therein described, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court-house in the City of Crookston, in said County, on the 15th day of August, A. D. 1890, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash; to pay the sum due on said mortgage, together with the taxes, if any, on said premises, and Twenty-five Dollars ($25) attorneys' fees therein stipulated to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as provided by law.

D. 1886, whereby they mortgaged to said mortgagee the following described lands situated in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, to-wit: The northwest quarter of Section 15, Township 149, Range 43 west, containing 160 acres, to secure the payment of the sum of four hundred dollars, with interest thereon, according to the conditions of one certain promissory note, with interest coupons attached, bearing even date with said mortgage, and made by said mortgagors to said mortgagee, or order, which said mortgage was, on the 10th day of December, A. D. 1886, at 9 o'clock a. m., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Polk, in book 27 of mortgages, on page 277; and

Whereas, default has been made in the payment of the sum of thirty-two dollars due as interest upon said mortgage on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1889, and on the further sum of thirty-two dollars due as interest thereon on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1890, and the said interest is still unpaid and due; and

Whereas, it was stipulated by and between the parties to said mortgage, that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants therein contained on the part of the mortgagors, to be kept and performed, that then and from thenceforth it shall be lawful for the said mortgagee, or its assigns, to consider and declare the whole sum secured thereby as immediately due and payable without notice to said mortgagors or any other party; and

Whereas, The American Freehold Land Mortgage Company of London, (Limited) has exercised its option to consider and declare and does hereby consider and declare the whole sum of money secured by said mortgage to be due and payable; and

Whereas, there is now due, and claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of four hundred eighty-five and 44-100 dollars, and no proceedings have been instituted at law or otherwise to recover the same or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained and therewith recorded, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the land therein described, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Crookston, in said County and State on the 9th day of August, A. D. 1890, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash, to pay the sum due on said mortgage, together with taxes, if any, on said premises, and twenty-five dollars attorney's fees therein stipulated to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale, as provided by law.

Republican State Convention.

A Republican State Convention for the State of Minnesota will be held on Thursday, July 24th, 1890, in Market Hall, in the city of St. Paul, at 11 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for the following positions:

Governor,
Lieutenant Governor,
Secretary of State,
Auditor of State,
State Treasurer,
Attorney General,
Clerk of the Supreme Court,

And for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the convention.

All citizens who believe in the principles of the Republican party; who desire its success; who supported the candidates nominated by the National Republican Convention held in Chicago, in June, 1888, and who want to act with the Republicans in the future, are invited to co-operate in the election of delegates.

Polk Pounty is entitled to eight delegates.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That each county polling 500 or more votes for the Republican candidate for President in 1888, shall be entitled to two delegates at large; those polling less than 500 votes, one delegate at large; within each county one additional delegate for every 500 votes cast for President in 1888 and one delegate for fraction over one hundred.

The foregoing call agreed upon by the Republican State Central Committee at a meeting held in St. Paul, Wednesday, May 14th, 1890.

STANFORD NEWEL, Chairman.

Minneapolis Journal: Now comes the news that a binding twine trust has been organized in Canada. The soulless monopoly that is robbing the consumers of binding twine in the United States is also interested in the Canadian trust, and the two will combine for an all-around job of extortion in America. The steps that are being taken for the manufacture of binding twine on state account in the penitentiary at Stillwater are timely. This latest combination of the binding twine monopolists emphasizes the necessity for action of this character.

The Great West has it from the best authority in the British grain trade that the grain buyers in the United States are corrupting the Canadian market, and the Manitobans are beginning to "mix" their No. 1 hard down to the "Duluth" grade! "Woe is me," will be soon the sad refrain of the grain raiser.

Plenty of Money.

The Western Rural.

The Rural is charitable enough to believe that some of the editors of the daily press who are thundering against the free coinage of silver and who occasionally tell us that the volume of our circulating medium is just right as it is, do not know what they are talking about. The great dailies are closely connected with the money power. If they are wealthy it is not an uncommon thing for their publishers and editors to own stock in national banks, or are otherwise connected with enterprises that are benefited by a limited circulation; and if they are poor they are marked all over with the brand: Thirty, sixty or ninety days after date we promise to pay to the order of this or that national bank. They either belong to the class of monetary tyrants or to the class monetary slaves; and in either case their financial vision is not very wide or very penetrating. A few days ago we saw the statement made with all seriousness or with a remarkable degree of duplicity—we know not which—that the present volume of our currency was equal to about fifty dollars per capita. The impudence or the ignorance of a financial writer which could lead to such a statement as that and the stupidity of a managing editor that would permit it to appear in his journal, are almost incredible. The circulation was not above that even when our circulation was "inflated" as the old advocates of little money call the currency of the country when the war closed. This writer, however, admits that one-third of our money is locked up in the Treasury vaults. But even with that deducted there would be a balance that would be more than double the present per capita circulation. But in the face of that fact and in view of the fact that our industries are held down because we have a less amount of money per capita in circulation than any other nation, a Chicago paper recently said that our circulation was just right and that Congress should leave it alone.

This conspiracy on the part of the creditor class, backed by stupid or corrupt editors, is one of the most wicked conspiracies against the masses that the world has ever seen. Has it ever occurred to the reader that there are many mortgages on our farms that were given to guarantee the payment of money borrowed at a discount? That is a fact. The money was loaned when a dollar was not worth a hundred cents on a dollar; and for a quarter of a century the money power has been striving to make money dearer and make it more difficult for the debtor to pay his debts; and the vast majority of our debtors, farmers, even though they did not give mortgages for the payment of depreciated money, have contracted debts one day only to find the next that the financial screw has been turned a little tighter—that the financial conspiracy has become a little bolder, and that his position as a debtor is less favorable, while the creditor has a firmer grip upon him. The destruction of a portion of the greenbacks, the steady, vigorous war against silver and the reduction of the national bank circulation all point to grinding the debtor down and wearing him out in search of dollars that do not exist. Yet the moment that an attempt is made to enlarge our volume of money, by giving us more silver, the money sharks let loose all their servile newspapers to ridicule and denounce the effort.

It is charged by one of our newspapers that all the free coinage of silver means is to enable the debtor to pay his debts more easly. As we have already stated that would be an outcome that would reflect a great deal of justice as to many of our debtor farmers. Of course such journals proceed to paint a horrible condition of things as the result of the "inflation" of the currency, and among these is the probability that future borrowers would have a hard time of it and could get money only under severe conditions. Sufficient to the day is the evil thereof, friends. But there will be no such results from free silver coinge. The debtor will find it easier to get money to pay his debts, but the silver dollar will be just as good as it is now and the creditor will get a dollar that will buy a hundred cents' worth every time.

Princton Union: Hon. Ignatius Donnelly has more brains than any or all of the self-appointed Farmers' Alliance leaders in the State. Mr. Donnelly is now and ever has been the true friend of the laboring and producing classes. Donnelly was right when he styled the little small-caliber political hyenas who are barking at his heels jackals.

Great West: What a disgrace it is that not a bushel of No. 1 hard is ever shipped to England except the Canadian product—to think that no American farmer can get his wheat out of the state without its being shamefully reduced in mixing—and the American people know it—and do not take one single step to remedy it.

Southern Farmer.

I find in a copy of the Ohio Farmer printed a few weeks after these notes were made an estimate for running a one hundred acre farm which I have clipped and insert here for the benefit of your readers.

1. "What is the cash value of land in your neighborhood?" $35 to $50 per acre.

2. "What was the cash value in 1890 in 1870, 1865, in 1860?" In 1880, it was $50 to $89, in 1870 to 1875 the same, in 1860 $25 to $59.

3. "To what extent are farmers in debt?" Very heavily. Farms are mortgaged in many cases for all they will sell for. Debts are incurred by purchase of land, by losses on farming, by ditching and improvements, by hired labor, machinery, the improvement of roads and taxes.

4. "What rates of interest are paid on farm motrgages?" From 6 to 8 per cent.

5. The income of farmers are about one-third what they were in 1870 and 1880.

6. Taxes are about the same as in 1870 and 1880. Taxes are $1,50 and $2,50 on $100. Land is valued at $35 to $45 for purposes of taxation.

7. Give an estimate of expenses for running a 100-acre farm per year:

Cost of farm	$1,000	Interest on capital	$ 410
" four horses	400	Hired hand	350
" 100 sheep	400	Man and son	770
" fifty hogs	250	Woman and girl	690
" machinery and wagon	200	Taxes	100
" four cows	150	Wear and repairs	100
" seeds, wheat grass	100	Total cost	$2,320
	$5,500

Total capital, $5,500; total cost of running a 100-acre farm one year, $2,320. The farm receipts are $1,300, making a loss of $1,020 in a year.

The farmer and his family, by working hard dressing poorly, and eating what they cannot sell, may save much of this loss. My estimate pays the same wages that are paid in factory and shop, by railway and telegraph companies.

8. Farmers' supplies cost more than in 1870 and 1880. Some cost less and some more than 1860. Taxes are three times more than in 1860. The farmer, under a hostile tax and fiscal policy, is drifting into the same condition as the peasant class of Europe the pools, trusts and monopolies are rapidly absorbing the wealth of the country as well as the earnings of the farmer. If the farmers do not awake to the true state of the country and their own interests, the wealth will pass from them to other classes. We would study the finance, taxation and government more, and how to raise pumpkins, potatoes and beans less.

If the reader will study what is contained in this artical, he will get a better idea of how it goes with the farmer of the North-west than from any words of ours. The answers are made by a gentleman recognized as good authority all over the state of Ohio.

After it has been studied awhile you can very well see how it is that the farmer comes out in debt, and why it is that the farms of Ohio are shingled all over with mortgages.

Handling Loose Grain.

M. B. Stambaugh, in Western Rural.

Any man having a harvester can have an attachment for heading grain put on for from $15 to $20. Then with four horses, a man and a boy, he is ready to harvest 100 acres of grain. I harvested 250 acres of grain in this way. I had one man and one boy besides myself, and six horses, two on the harvester and two on each of the wagons. By running two wagons the harvester did not stop except to oil. Thus with a seven-foot harvester I could head 20 acres a day. The binder is taken off and the header attachment is put on in about five minutes, and making a much lighter machine. To harvest 100 acres, bind, shock and stack would cost from $65 to $75. Twine, $30; one man to shock $14; one man to stack, ten days, $25; making a total of $69. With a harvester rigged for heading the same amount: One boy five days, $3,75; the cost of rigging header boxes, $6; one man to drive header box, $7,50; total, $17,25. Thus by using no twine the amount of $51,75 is saved. I have not counted anything for my own time in either case. You speak of grain spoiling. There is no risk if stacked properly. When you first start in heading you should build your stacks narrow, and as high as you can; slope them gradually from the ground up and you have them all safe. If uneasy about it spoiling you can run a ventilator through the bottom of stack or about one-third from the ground, thus making a safe stack. In threshing you will save the help of four men when the grain is headed, but cannot thresh quite as much in a day, but by figuring you will find the expense about the same. From what experience I have had with shocked grain I would say there is great chance for it to spoil in a wet harvest.

The Farmer's Friends.

The Western Rural.

There is a very great discrepancy between the possession of friendship for the farmer on the part of the politicians and the results that would naturally be expected to flow from such an aggregate of kindness. Pretty nearly anybody in official position in these days proclaims himself as a friend of agriculture. Once in awhile a United States senator or representative has the boldness to say that the farmers do not amount to anything politically. But as a rule the whole herd pretend to be friendly to the men who till the soil; and unfortunately this professed friendship has done us, as farmers, a vast deal of harm. We have been foolish enough to believe that these fellows meant what they said. We have permitted ourselves to be flattered by them. If they had all stood boldly out as our enemies, and said in chorus, we do not care anything about the agricultural interests of the country, it is quite likely that we would all have got together long before this and dealt these recreants a blow that would have sent them into oblivion.

But this is just the thing that The Rural desires to impress upon its readers: So far as results are concerned they are just as bad whether forced by our outspoken enemies or permitted by our professed friends. There is little difference in the degree of the crime of which the parties are guilty, if one man kills you and another, who could prevent the deed, stands by and sees it done. It is always worse to be abused by one's friends. When we have an enemy we know just what to expect from him, and we are constantly on our guard. But a trusted friend, who is mean enough to betray us, can ruin us before we suspect his perfidy. Whoever is not with us, openly with us emphatically with us, and definitely with us, is against us. That is a safe rule to apply to men, and if we apply it, there are many men who have been receiving the votes of farmers, for many years, who will never receive such votes again. We ought to remember that farmers are in a condition in which they need immediate relief and that we must have such reform as will give the needed relief adopted. We cannot permit candidates for office to keep on putting us off. The time will come when relief will be impossible, if matters go along as they have been going and as they have been permitted to go by the very men who profess the very highest degree of friendship forthe producer

Great West: At the meeting of the Executive Committee at which the Secetary salary was increased to $40 a month and the President given a salary (for the first time in the history of the Alliance) a salary was offered to the State Lecturer, who do an extraordinary amount of work—but Mr. Donnelly declined, with thanks.

Hail, Tornado and Cyclone Insurance
THE MINNESOTA
Alliance Storm Association

The Minnesota Alliance Storm Association, organized April 21st, 1890, is now in the field ready to insure crops against loss or damage from Hail, and detached farm buildings against loss or damage from Cyclones. This Company is made up exclusively of members of the Alliance and practical farmers. Its officers are as follows:

President—DAVID P. LISTER .... Lac qui Parle, Minn
Vice President—HARVEY E. COOKE .... Crookston, "
Secretary—ROBERT ECKFORD .... Dexter, "
Treasurer—H. P. BJORGE, (Treas. of the State Alliance) .... Underwood, "

Its Board of Managers is as follows:

DAVID P. LISTER .... Lac qui Parle, Minn.
HARVEY E. COOKE .... Crookston, "
ROBERT ECKFORD .... Dexter, "
H. P. BJORGE .... Underwood, "
HAMLIN V. POORE .... Bird Island, "
A. L. STROMBERG .... Forest Lake, "
IGNATIUS DONNELLY .... Hastings, "
JOHN LATHROP .... Dawson, "
HENRY PLOWMAN .... Luce, "
SETH BOTTOMLEY .... Nashville Center, "
HANS B. IMSDAHL .... Big Woods, "

Among these gentlemen, out of eleven managers, six are members of the Executive Committee of the State Farmers' Alliance; the President of the Association is Vice President of the State Farmers' Alliance, and the Secretary was the former Superintendent of Insurance of the State Alliance.

We promise the farmers honest treatment, an economical administration and prompt settlement of all losses. A full report of this Association will be made to the State Alliance at each annual meeting.

ROBERT ECKFORD, Secretary. DAVID P. LISTER, President.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

CROOKSTON, MINNESOTA, JULY 17, 1890.

'Round Home.

Have you insured that fine crop?

District court convened on Tuesday.

A. R. Wilkinson was in the city this week.

Wheat took a jump this week reaching 76 cents.

Geo. J. McManus arrived from Duluth on Tuesday morning.

Frank Montague returned from a visit below on Tuesday morning.

The Bjoin block will be one of the finest business blocks in the city.

Ed. Schrae der had the misfortune to break his leg on Monday evening.

Knute Nelson was up to the alliance meeting last Friday from Garfield.

Lots of business in the city this summer. Everybody busy and happy.

Work was commenced on the sewers last week. A greatly needed improvement.

If you haven't insured your grain now is your time before the hail storm occurs.

The county board met on Monday for transaction of business at the regular session.

G. M. Swift went to St. Paul to represent Polk County Alliance in the State Meeting.

Prof. Casey has been an excellent School Superintendent and should be returned.

Harris & Glenn moved Bjoin's warehouse on Tuesday to make room for the new brick.

J. G. McGrew returned last week. Says he is undecided whether he will remain or not.

Casper Sands is building an addition to his residence 16x16. He is clapboarding the main part.

Gautier de Ste. Croix arrived last week to arrange for building an elevator on the N. P. line, on Jerome's Addition.

John Watts returned last week from the west. He does not speak very highly of that country and thinks the boom has commenced to ebb.

The work of excavating for the new Bjoin block will soon be completed and then for bricklaying. The building will be 100x100, three stories high.

The grading is all done on the cut-off and the iron will be laid this week as far as possible to be done before the bridge is completed. Work on that structure is progressing encouragingly.

Will Peterson says his little Star Bashaw beats 'em all for style and beauty, and that he will be a record breaker one of these days. The colt certainly is a fine one, but then that is a peculiarity of the Star Bashaws.

The Grand Forks base ball club tackled our boys on the diamond last Friday, and beat them by a score of 9 to 6. Jack McGlogan met with an accident before the arrival of the G. F. club which laid him up for the day.

The old land office building, standing on the lot just north of Austin Bros., was taken down on Tuesday to make way for the cellar to the new Bjoin Block. John Chinaman moved the laundry into the Steenerson building opposite.

The fire department was called out Thursday morning about daylight on account of a bit of a conflagration in an out house in rear of Fournet's wholesale liquor store. A little later, fire was discovered in Fontaine & Anglim's feed mill and the alarm again sounded. The fires are supposed to be incendiary.

Iver A. Krohn, landlord of the Scandinavian House, tells us that a sneak thief went through his house on Saturday night of last week and relieved himself and some of his boarders of a little money. It is reported that Mrs. Lannahan's boarding house was entered the same night and a small sum of money taken.

Little Clipper Bucknam met with an accident last week that might have proved a serious affair but for little Johnnie Cromb. Several children were playing on the logs in the river when she fell in and Johnnie Cromb caught hold of her and towed her to shore. The little girl was so grateful that she ran home and asked her mother to give Johnnie ten cents for saving her life.

W. G. Lytle, G. W. Eastman and N. B. Soper, large farmers of the town of Andover, came in last Saturday to insure their crops with M. E. Bartlett, the agent for the Minnesota Storm Association, and many more are talking very seriously about it. When insurance can be had so cheaply as this company offers, it is the part of wisdom to catch on. Call at THE JOURNAL office and see what Mr. Bartlett can do for you.

Secretary Eckford, of the Minnesota Alliance Storm association, reports 145,000 acres insured up to Saturday night, July 12th, and applications coming in at the rate of 5,000 acres per day. This large acreage already insures a very small assessment and the prospects are that this company will have insured over 200,000 acres before the close of the season. Now is the time to insure. Don't wait till you are struck and then howl because you did not come in out of the hail.

Mrs. Rose has taken possession of her new quarters on Second Street. Has everything fixed up in nice style.

Farmers all busy in the hay field and don't have much time to linger about town to note the many improvements going on.

On Tuesday evening, July 15th, Justice Spendley united for life Mr. John Sagnes to Miss Carrie Bostad, both of Polk County.

H. G. Mitchel departed on Tuesday evening via the old Pioneer Line to represent Woodside alliance in the State Alliance convention.

Hon. H. Steenerson arrived from the far west Tuesday evening in time for his cases in court. He had a fine opportunity to see much of that conntry.

W. G. Hunt, representing King alliance, was in the city on Tuesday enroute to the convention at St. Paul. He reports that King now numbers over 100 members.

It will only take you a few minutes to call in and see M. E. Bartlett and get that crop insured. Then you can sleep better nights with the assurance of something, hail or no hail.

Andrew Eiken welcomed a new daughter on Tuesday morning. By the way Andrew will be a candidate for re-election to the office of Register of Deeds and as he has been an efficient officer, he will have many friends to lend a helping hand at the proper time.

J. W. Galloway represents Rosebud alliance in the State convention. Rosebud has 211 members and has the honor of having wrought a great change in the price of binders this year. This alliance has been demonstrating the true inwardness of alliance work. They have done a good work and are proud of it.

Mrs. Medlar's Death.

Wabasha Herald.

The sad intelligence which was circulated about the city early Sunday morning that Mrs. W. H. Medlar was at death's door and at the longest could survive but a few hours was a shock to everyone.

On Saturday morning she gave birth to a son and to all appearances was comfortable and getting along nicely until about three o'clock Sunday morning when she was taken with convulsions, after which time she never again regained consciousness and death relieved her at 10 o'clock Sunday evening. Her disease was puerperal eclampsia, and from the first those who knew best realized that she was beyond all human help. Everything that medical skill could do, kind hearts suggest or willing hands administer was done but all without avail

Rev. Mr. Medlar came to this city from Crookston a little over a year ago and took charge of the Congregational Church, and he and his wife have endeared themselves to everyone with whom they came in contact.

Mrs. Medlar was a quiet unpretentions lady who attended strictly to her own affairs; always pleasant, courteous and with a kind word for everyone; she will be greatly missed, not only by her husband and two infant children but by the entire circle of friends in which she moved.

The funeral services were held at the parsonage Monday afternoon, Rev. H. Morley of Minneapolis conducting the services. Mr. Medlar departed the same evening, accompanied by his oldest child, on his sad errand to Reading, Pa., his old home, where the interment will take place. He is expected to return in about three weeks.

Found Dead.

On Monday morning the dead body of Iver Johnson was found in the hay mow in John Scheffer's barn. The body lay as though the man was taking a quiet rest, one hand underneath the head, face upward. Coroner Shepard was notified and at once summoned as jury Maj. H. E. Stansbery, C. B. Waring, Frank Zarracher, John Monroe, Henry Nolan and J. B. Ford. After listening to what evidence could be had, the proceedings were postponed until Tuesday, at 9 o'clock, to await the arrival of a son of Mr. Johnson, who had been telegraphed for at Grafton. The verdict was death from some cause unknown to the jury. Mr. Johnson was at one time a wealthy man, the owner of a good livery business in Wabasha. He came to this city some time last winter and found work in one of the livery stables. The body was buried on Tuesday afternoon. He had a paid up policy for $2,000.

ROCKSTAD, July 6, 1890.

ED. JOURNAL:—At the semi-annual meeting of Agawam Alliance, the following officers were elected: President, J. O. Dypvic; secretary, C. A. Johnson; treasurer, Iver Peterson; delegates to county meeting, Geo. Turville, M. Bekken, C. A. Johnson; delegates to the county convention, C. A. Johnson, Geo. Turville; delegates to state convention; Geo. Turville, C. A. Johnson. The following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That we believe that wheat gambling and our national bank system are the chief causes of the present hard times; also that the government ownership of railroads would save $20,000,000 annually to the people of Minnesota, lessen strikes and save thousands of lives.

Resolved, That we believe, that as yet, at least, the Farmers' Alliance of Minnesota has not so far, criminated itself as to make it necessary to call on Bill Erwin to defend it. C. A. JOHNSON, Secretary.

Minnesota State Fair.

Agriculturists, mechanics and everybody should make arrangements to attend the Minnesota State Fair, to be held Sept. 8th, 9th, 10th, 11th, 12th and 18th, 1890. Twelve thousand dollars in premiums for live stock and agricultural exhibits. The exhibit of horses will be the finest ever made in the state. The cattle will surpass any previous fair. Ten young herds grown in Minnesota, already entered for competition in that class. The exhibit of sheep alone will repay you for going to the fair. You can see the finest breed of hogs in the world. The poultry department will include specimens of all the noted strains. The agricultural and horticultural exhibits will be larger than ever before; several counties have declared their intention to compete for the $200 prize. The dairy department will be complete with the largest collection of dairy pro- in the United States. The display of honey and bees and apiarian supplies will attract unusual interest. The machinery division, both agricultural and mechanical, will be unexcelled. A popular feature of the fair will be a farmers' institute, held each morning during the fair, under the charge of Prof. O. C. Gregg. Every person interested in agriculture should be present and take part.

The program of amusements will include all the latest attractions as pertaining to a first-class fair. The best, most useful and beautiful productions of industry and skill. Exciting races, trotting, running and pacing each day of the fair. Liberal purses will be offered in each class.

Visitors will find instruction, recreation and enjoyment. Ample arrangements for meals and refreshments on the grounds. No entry fee in any department and competition open to the world. This will be the grandest of them all. Send for premium list and entry blanks. One fare for round trip on all railroads.

These schools are organized for the training of teachers for the common schools of the State.

ORGANIZATION.—Each school comprises two departments—the Normal Department and the Training department or Model School. The Normal Department embraces:

(a) An Elementary Course, for teachers of rural schools and elementary grades.

(b) An advanced course, for teachers of advanced grades.

(c) A Professional Course, for teachers who have completed the required academic work elsewhere.

(d) A Kindergarten Training Course, (at Winona.

ADMISSION.—Graduates of high schools and colleges, and teachers holding County Superintendents' first and second grade certificates are admitted without examination. All others are required to pass an entrance examination.

EXPENSES.—Tuition is free to all who pledge themselves to teach in Minnesota. Text books are furnished at a rental of three dollars a year. Provisions are made in each school for economical living. The average cost of furnished room with board is about $3.00 per week.

The next school year opens Sept. 1st, 1890.

For particulars concerning the several schools send for catalogues to the Presidents as follows:

Alliance-Prohib Legislative Convention.

The Alliance Legislative Convention met at the Court House on Friday of last week. The morning session was spent in preliminary work. In the afternoon a conference committee was appointed to meet the Prohibs. The committee reported favorably on a union ticket, recommending that Norman County have two representatives and that Polk County have one and the senator; also recommended E. E. Lommen, Andrew Thompson and N. E. Nelson for the candidates to the lower house. The convention adopted the report and then proceeded to ballot for senator, which resulted in making E. E. Lommen the choice. Tom. Erwin, Andrew Thompson and W. M. Chesley were nominated as candidates for the lower house. In the evening the convention to nominate county officers met and put the following ticket in the field:

For Auditor—C. U. Webster.
For Treasurer—John T. Beaudry.
For Clerk of the Court—Nels Muus.
For Register of Deeds—J. H. Locken.
For County Attorney—A. R. Holston.
For Judge of Probate--Nels M. Benson.
For Sheriff—Arny Grundesen.
For Supt. of Schools—E. J. Grefthen.
For Surveyor—O. H. Ralph.
For Court Com'r—Wm. Watts.
For Coroner—Dr. McEachran.

The legislative conference made the following report:

For the purpose of uniting the prohibition Party and the Alliance upon a legislative ticket, we agree to the following declaration of principles:

1. For the prohibition of the liquor traffic, both State and National.
2. For government ownership of railroads and telegraph lines.
3. For the abolition of trusts and monopolies.
4. For the abolition of gambling in options.
5. For a tariff for revenue only.
6. For a free and open market.
7. That no man be placed in nomination who will not emphatically declare himself to be in harmony with the aforesaid declaration of principles, especially those relating to the liquor traffic, or who is directly or indirectly seeking the nomination from either the republican or democratic parties.

The county convention adopted the following resolutions:

Whereas, It has come to our knowledge that there are present here many delegates from the temperance section of our county seeking to unite their forces with the Farmers' Alliance, we, your committee, recommend that this convention extend the hand of fellowship and co-operation to them in nominating candidates for county officers.

Resolved, That we, the delegates to this convention, obligate ourselves to stand by and support the nominations of this convention in whatever office they may be nominated.

Resolved, That we, the candidates for office before this convention obligate ourselves, whether chosen by this convention or not, to stand by all the nominees and give them our hearty support in the campaign and at the polls.

We demand that the tariff shall be radically revised and that our member in congress shall labor for tariff reform on the basis of a material reduction of tariff taxation and in a way that shall open to us the markets of the world.

We ask our next legislature to establish the Australian system of voting for the whole state.

We hold that the United States Senators and the State Board of Railroad and Warehouse Commissioners should be elected by the popular vote.

We demand that the legislature, at its next session, shall submit to a vote of the people an amendment of the constitution of the state forever prohibiting the liquor traffic.

We urgently ask of congress the immediate passage of Senator Davis' bill for the enlargement of the Sault Ste. Marie canal.

We recognize that in the multiplying of railroad bonds and in the watering of their stock, lies one of the most subtle powers for evil which can exist under the constitution, and we demand such legislation as shall make the further continuance of this practice a criminal offence against law, and compel every corporation which has so increased its bonds or watered its stock to immediately recall and cancel all such fictitious securities.

We demand that our wheat and other small grains shall be received by railway companies and transported under the same rules and regulations as any other class of freights, denying either the legal or moral right of companies to build up, as they have done under their system of favored elevators; a class of middlemen whose profits for the last few years have been vastly greater than those of the farmer and his family who have raised the grain.

We hold that mortgage indebtedness should be deducted from the tax on real estate, whether such mortgage is held at home or abroad; and we ask such laws as shall make the hidden property pay equal taxes with the visible property.

We favor a material reduction of interest on money, and demand that severe penalties be attached to the practice of usury.

We demand a more equitable and uniform system of state grading, and a reduction of the inspector and elevator fees at principal points.

We demand that option gambling on the boards of trade shall be abolished, and we ask the state and congress to pass such laws as shall make all such transactions a criminal offense.

Railway property should be taxed, and we demand that it pay its proportion of all state, county and local taxes.

That we favor the increase of the volume of currency, equal to the requirements of an ever increasing trade and business.

That we demand the establishment of a binding twine plant and the manufacture of binding twine at the State prison.

After a session of nearly all night the convention adjourned.

Dissolution of Partnership.

The Long Prairie Leader that first brought out the name of J. D. Jones for Clerk of the Supreme Court of this State now goes back on Jones, claiming that he proved disloyal to his friends. Now let somebody "sound Jones."

Some of the residents of the Fifth District seem to forget that Knute Nelson is a Fifth District man and are still stubborningly advocating the nomination of a St. Paul man for Governor. For once the Fifth District has an opportunity to corral the leading place on the ticket and no loyal Fifth District man should oppose it. Knute Nelson would win without a shadow of a doubt, as he is a man acceptable to the farmers.

Duluth weekly News: President Hall, of the Farmer' Alliance, says that arrangements have been made with the railway companies whereby the delegates to the state alliance convention will receive a one and a third-rate for the round trip from any point in the state. This is somthing more than the railroads ever did for other political conventions, except when Jim Hill packed Democratic conventions with delegates that came in on free passes which he furnished them, an act for which he was roundly denounced by the present state lecturer of the Alliance. It does seem ludicrous to see the railroads issue special rates to men who are coming together to making a vigorous onslaght against railroad extortion.

"What Guaranty Have I?"

We have often heard farmers ask: "What guaranty have I that I will receive anything if I do insure my crops in the Minnesota Storm Association and the crop is destroyed by hail?" Well, in the first place the company is a mutual concern, composed of men who belong to the Alliance. If you insure you are a member yourself. The company already has in bank good secured notes to the amount of $10,000, which money is at any time available to meet any losses liable to occur. The expenses of the company are merely nominal, as but one officer in it is under constant pay and he only while on duty. This company will show to the next annual meeting of the State Alliance the cleanest balance sheet of any company that ever did business in Minnesota. All who are insured in the Minnesota Farmers' Alliance Storm Association have as absolutely perfect protection as can be furnished.

Braden and Nelson.

The Minneapolis Times.

The honest republicans are no longer handicapped by a dearth of suitable candidates for the gubernatorial nomination. The honor will not go to Mr. Merriam by default. Before he can wrap the mantle around his shoulders he will have to defeat two of the strongest republicans in the state. At the meeting of the Hennepin county delegation last night it was announced by the chairman of the executive committee that Mr. Braden and Mr. Nelson would each accept the nomination and would appreciate the active support of his friends in his behalf. It is understood that Mr. Braden's friends have been nursing a quiet boom for their favorite for several months, while Mr. Nelson has not yet come forth from his rural retreat at Alexandria. But he has hosts of admirers throughout the state who will rally around his standard now that it is authoritatively known that he would accept the nomination.

The fact that Braden and Nelson are both candidates will arouse the republicans from their ominous lethargy. Either of them can command the entire strength of his party, and Mr. Nelson a great deal more.

Either would give the state an able, clean and honest administration. If Mr. Braden is not Mr. Merriam's candidate The Times can conscientiously support him, but it does not hesitate to say that its first choice is Knute Nelson, because he is pre-eminently and emphatically the choice of the people.

St. Paul Pioneer Press: The Democrats have at last shown their hands in alliance matters. A representative of the Democratic state committee has visited R. J. Hall and announced to him that the Democastic party of the state stood ready to uphold the alliance, and if Tom Wilson or Daniel Buck was nominated for governor the Democrats would endorse the alliance nomination. The offer was flatly and promptly refused by Mr. Hall, on behalf of the alliance. Nay, Mr. Hall even went further and insinuated that the alliance would not only refuse to nominate a Democrat, but would nominate a strong Republican, One of the leading young Democrats in the state said yesterday to a friend:

Well, they refuse to nominate a Democrat, but we have got the next best thing. They are going to nominate a strong Republican, and he will catch anti-Merriam votes enough to make an inroad into the ranks of their party, and we can take advantage of it. There is no question but what we have every advantage of them on organization too. Why, our men are in such perfect hands that no matter who we nominate, they will go up to the polls and vote for our man. Some of'em will be a little the worst for wear, perhaps, as they go to the ballot box, but they'll all get around before the polls close, or I miss my calculation.

Nelson Would Take It.

Minneaplos Journal: Will Knute Nelson be a candidate for Governor? Well, of course, nobody expects him to go into the market as some people do and attempt to buy the governorship. This is not the kind of a man he is. If he were of that stamp the people would not care to have him for Governor. They are still of the opinion that the office should do some of the seeking.

But Charley, Gilman tells The Journal correspondent at St. Cloud that Mr. Nelson will take the nomination if it is offord him, and Gilman is in Nelson's confidence. He is Nelson's friend and would not say this if it were not authorized.

His consent to accept the nomination is all that ought to be necessary. He is the strongest man, beyond all question, the party can nominate, and if he will take it, the party cannot afford to nomineat anybody else.

Buying and Selling Wheat.

Why are Farmers Compelled to Build Elevators?

Farm Stock and Home.

During the past few weeks Farm, Stock, and Home has received several letters from correspondents in Minnesota and the Dakotas asking about the cost and other details concerning the building of farmer's or independent elevators. By correspondents we give the information asked for so far as possible; but every inquiry we get suggests this thought: Why must the farmers of this region be compelled to incur the expense of erecting and operating such building? Northwestern farmers have obstacles enough to contend with, without being subjected to this unnecessary and wholly unjustifiable one. It is understood, of course, why farmers do this; it is to secure simple justice and ordinary honsesty in disposing of their wheat and other grains. But that such a condition exists is a disgrace to our civilization and to the business methods and practices of the combined wheat buyers and railroads of the states named.

In no other state of the Union are farmers subjected to such a tax as a means to secure to themselves honest treatment in selling grain, and in no other state are they less able to stand such a tax. In Ohio, Michigan, Indiana and other large wheat growing states railroads build elevators to accommodate the grain trade of each station, as they build stock shutes, freight houses and passenger depot to accommodate other kind of business. When a farmer there takes a load of whea to market he is met by more or less buyers who look at his wheat, bid for it,—always in competition with each other—and he sells it to the highest bidder, sells it on its merits, the words grada or dockage are never used during the negotiation. After selling, the farmer goes to the elevator, his wheat is weighed by a railroad employee, who is a purely disinterested party; in fact, he may not know who is the buyer of the wheat; a ticket is given for the number of bushels, and on that the money is paid by the purchaser. The latter party experience no uneasiness regarding the amount of wheat he has paid for; he knows that the railroad company will deliver to him or his order the quantity of wheat the ticket calls for, just as it would deliver a given quantity of any other freight that it had receipted for.

The system of wheat handling by railroads and elevator combines in this region is a monstrous crime against its agricultural interests, and a radical change in it is imperatively demanded by the necessities of the times. Our farmers are wonderfully hampered and oppressed by financial and commercial systems, they are making a manful struggle to exist and prosper in spite of them, and it is indescribable unjust to increase their burdens by compelling them to own elevators before they can be dedicated to the spirit of honesty between buyer and seller.

Railroads in this region are largely the creatures of public bounty. Land grants cotributiens, etc., build them; they were fostered, encouraged and contributed to that they might be the willing, impertial and honest servants of the public, but in one department of service, grain handling, they delivered the farmer over, bound and gaged to the tender mercies of as skillful a set of rogues as ever engaged in peaceful free-booting. It is time the railroads were made to take their proper place as common carriers of the people's commodities, whether grain or what not, and if they will not do it voluntarilly they must be made to do it. Farmers, "think on these things,"—talk them up in your Alliances; pledge your legislative candidates to a reformotion; stop mere scolding, and from this time on act, act with directness, with a purpose, and you will accomplish something of substantial benefit to yourselves.

Grain Trade Losses.

Farmers Swindled by Shortage and the Mixing of Grains.

Minneapolis Journal.

Chicago, July 11.—"Millions of dollars are lost annually to the grain trade by this elevator shortage," said Edward S. Richards, in speaking of the controversy going on between the board of trade and the elevator men concerning elevator charges. "The elevator system," he continued, "as it is now conducted, is not only defective, but, in my opinion, is to a large degree criminal in character. It is used in many cases as a means of speculation and fraud. Grain of a high grade that is shipped from an initial point to a consuming market is so adulterated and changed while in transit, by reason of the present storage system, as to destroy all confidence in the type samples of property upon which sales are predicted. In addition to this, the average shartage in grain shipments may be safely placed at 3½ bushels per car load.

"During a sertain period of two years that I was actively engaged in shipping grain I handled nearly 80,000 car loads, and on shipments to certain elevators I found the shortage range from 5 to 50 bushels per car load." What is the expense of handling grain by the present elevator system?"

"That depends largely upon the elements that are considered, The managers of the elevators find the mixing of grades one of the most profitable features of their business. For example, let an elevator take two car loads of No. 2 wheat or 1,200 bushils, at 90 cents, and three car lords of No. 3 wheat, or 1,800 bushels, at 75 cents, which together would cost $2,430. By mixing these he gets five car loads of No. 2 wheat, or 3,000 bushels at 90 cents, worth $2,700, giving them a net gain of $270. But to eliminate this element, which is more of a lost advantage to the owner of the property than an expense, there enters the transportation the other expenses, which, with stortage, make a total of over $11 per car on oats and of over $9 on wheat. All of the grain arriving in Chicago is subject to this charge, except what is sold by sample; at present the greatest part goes to the elevator. In selling by sample the protection to the producer is much more ample and the expenses less.

Prices to "Home" Farmers.

Howard Lake Herald.

The advertisements of American manufacturers in foreign papers have opened up a field of interesting, if not sensational, developments. The claim is made, that a plough which retails to the American farmer at $18, is put into the hands of the Spanish at $8. The American Machinist states editorially, that American manufacturers sell machinery and other goods in Europe at from 10 to 80 per cent cheaper than in the United States. The New York World has photographed advertisements of American manufacturers in South American papers. The retail prices of the Ann Arbor Agricultural Implement Company for the two countries are given in one of these advertisements as follows:—

	Spanish price	American price.
Advance plough	$9.00	$18.00
Advance plough	4.00	8.00
Hay tedder	30.00	45.00
Mower	40.00	65.00
Horse rake	17.00	25.00
Cumming feed cutter No. 3	60.00	90.00
Ann Arbor cutter No. 2	28.00	40.00
Ann Arbor cutter No. 1	16.00	28.00
Clipper cutter	9.50	18.00
Lever cutter	4.25	8.00
Cultivator	22.00	30.00
Sweep	60.00	90.00

The following telegram from the American "Ax trust" gives a list of quotation discounts, giving the Spanish choppers an advantage of 30 per cent or more over the farmers and lumbermen of the United States:—

THE AMERICAN AXE AND TOOL CO.,

Broad axes and adzes, discount 60 and 10 per cent.

Bench axes, discount 60 and 10 per cent.

Hatchets, boy's half and quarter axes, discount 60 and 5 per cent.

THE AMERICAN AXE & TOOL CO.

The advertising columns of the "export" or foreign edition of the Engineering and Mining Journal contain a list of quoted prices of the "Planet Jr." implements at from 30 to 60 per cent discount on the prices to American dealers, with freight charges paid to the seaboard. The World makes the following statements regarding various articles of tools and machinery:—

In table cutlery the seven large manufacturers are in a combination to control prices and output. To-day they are paying $12,000 a year to a factory at Beaver Falls, Pa., to stay idle and not to produce cutlery in competition with the Trust, and the the agents of this combination, Tommins & Adams, 122 Chambers street, declare that they are selling their table cutlery at from 15 to 25 per cent. less to the export than to the home trade. The Ann Arbor Agricultural Company advertises that it will put one of its standard mowers on board ship in New York harbor "for export only" at $40. The lowest price at which that mower can be bought in Ann Arbor by a dealer there is $45, and the lowest price at which the American farmer can buy it is $60, while the Spanish farmer gets it for $40.

The Farm Implement News also gives the lowest price of the sulky rake in this country at $18. That rake costs only $14.25 free on board New York "for export only."

The nine-hoe grain drill quoted by the Unos at $60 here and $140 in France can be bought for export for $51 on board ship at New York—$9 cheaper than the American can purchase it.

It is beyond the range of possible doubt, that industries which sell their products to foreign nations at from 10 to 60 per cent. below the prices charged home consumers, are able to earn their own living without government tariff support. A factory whose idea of the "home market" is to charge the American farmer $18 for the same plow for which it charges the Spanish farmer $9, is in a fit condition to earn its own living. The tariff does not exist for such purposes. Protection is for industry, not for such high-handed dealing. In the ends of justice a thorough investigation should be set on foot by Congress to locate and place on the free list all industries engaged in the business of exporting to foreign countries and making home consumers stand double prices. There seems to be some two or three score of industries in that business. These, with the one hundred trusts now known to be organized, would be a fine installment of candidates for the free list, and when so located would gladden the heart of the American home consumer.

Peterson for August is a very attractive number. For beauty of illustrations, excellence and variety of reading matter, reliability and effectiveness of fashions etc., this standerd periodical has no peer. The opening story "Ned" is one of the breeziest summer sketches. "Imprisoned Rainbows" is the second of a series of paper on precious stones, and is full of useful information. Alice Maud Ewell begins "Jackey and the Princess" a charming novelet of Verginia life, and "In the Earl's Keeping" by Georgia Grant, promises to be an equally interesting story with English scenery and characters. Among the other stories are "Under an Unlucky Star" by H. A. Holden, "Between the Two" by Frank Lee Benedict and "Story of an Old Letter" by Olivia Lovell Wilson, all of them thoroughly bright and entertaining. The Superintendent of the Newport hospital gives a paper on "Cholera" a capitally written and timely contribution. Terms Two dollars a year; One dollar for six months. Address, Peterson's Magazine, Philadelphia, Pa.

Money to Loan
On More Reasonable and Better Terms than Ever Before Offered in the Northwest.

We are now prepared to loan money in any amount from $250 up to $10,000 on well improved farms where title has been perfected, and U. S. patent is on record or has been issued.

Our terms are 8 per cent. interest, with a small commission to cover expenses and cost of making the loan.

Where the security is satisfactory we can make loans for five or any greater number of years, interest payable annually on the first day of January, and will allow the borrower, after two years, to pay any part of the principal, in sums of $100 or upwards on any interest day named in his notes. So much for straight loans.

We are the agents for the Union Central Life Insurance Company, of Cincinnati, Ohio, a company of great strength, and a public record for probity and fair dealing unsurpassed; and can write life insurance in connection with loans with great profit and advantage to the borrower, which, taken in connection with the loan for ten years, pays the loan by yearly payments, which is more fully shown by the following statement: A, aged 25 years, of sound health, applies for a loan of $1,000 on his farm, at the same time he applies for $1,000 insurance on the 10 years annual payment stock-endowment plan. He pays as follows:

Each year on his insurance.......$88 44
Each year on his loan for interest.......80 00
Total yearly payments...$ 168 44
Total for ten years.......1684 40

which pays up for the insurance, and the insurance pays the loan in full.

If the borrower dies during the ten years his insurance becomes payable and due at once and pays his loan in full, leaving his farm clear and free of all encumbrances, for his family.

NOTE THE DIFFERENCE.

If the borrower effects a loan of $1,000 on the plan usually followed, he must pay interest at the rate of ten per cent. and may be stated as follows: $1,000 for five years, annual interest.......$ 100 00
At the end of the loan he pays interest in the sum of.......500 00
When the loan is due he pays.. 1000 00
Principal and interest paid in 5 years.......1500 00

As much within $184.40 as he pays in ten years with insurance with us.

If he makes such a loan for ten years he pays:
Interest.......$1000 00
Principal at end of 10 years.......1000 00
Total.......$2000 00

or $315.60 more than he would pay with us; besides on the 10 per cent. plan he is not insured against death, and if he dies during the life of the loan the "Old Detestable Mortgage" still hangs over the heads of his defenceless wife and children.

MORTGAGE SALE.

[First publication July 2d, 1890.]

WHEREAS ANDREW J. BOHLEEN, AND Eva Bohleen, his wife, as Mortgagors, did on the 8th day of March, A. D. 1889, duly execute and deliver to the Minnesota Loan and Trust Company of Minneapolis, Minnesota, a corporation as Mortgagee, their mortgage bearing date the 8th day of March, A. D. 1889, whereby they mortgaged to said Mortgagee the following described land situated in the County of Polk, and State of Minnesota, to-wit:

The South-east Quarter of Section One (1), in Township One Hundred and Fifty-three (153) North, of Range 44 West, containing One Hundred and Sixty (160) acres, to secure the payment of Seventy-four and Seventy-five One-hundredths Dollars ($74.75) according to the conditions of one certain promissory note payable in nine (9) semi-annual installments, said note bearing even date with said mortgage, and made by said Mortgagors to said Mortgagee or order; which said mortgage was, on the 8th day of March, A. D. 1889, at five o'clock and ten minutes P. M., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said Polk County, in Book "41" of mortgages, on pages 495 to 498 inclusive.

And whereas, The Minnesota Loan and Trust Company did for value received, on the 10th day of April, A. D. 1889, duly assign the aforesaid note and mortgage and the debt secured thereby, to Halvor Steenerson and Geo. J. McManus, partners as Steenerson & McManus, of Crookston Minnesota, which said assignment was in writing under seal and duly acknowledged, and was thereafter on the 19th day of June, A. D. 1890, at three o'clock and thirty minutes P. M., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said Polk County, in Book "53" of Mortgages, on pages 366 and 367.

And whereas default has been made in the payment of the sum of Seven and Fifty One-hundredths ($7.50) Dollars, due as the second installment on said note on the 1st day of June, A. D. 1890, and said sum is still unpaid and due,

And whereas it was stipulated and agreed by between the parties to said Mortgage, that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants therein contained on the part of the Mortgagors to be kept and performed, then and from thenceforth it shall be lawful for said Mortgagee and its assigns to consider the whole sum thereby secured to be immediately due and payable without notice to said Mortgagors or any other party.

And whereas Halvor Steenerson and Geo. J. McManus, assignees of said Mortgagee, have exercised their option to consider and declare, and do hereby declare the whole sum of money secured by said mortgage and still unpaid, to be due and payable,

And whereas there is now due, and claimed to be due upon said Mortgage at the date of this notice, the sum of Sixty-three and seventy-nine One-hundredths (63.79) Dollars, and no proceedings having been instituted by law or otherwise to recover the same or any part thereof,

Now therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale in said mortgage contained, and therewith recorded, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed by sale of the land therein described, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court-house in the City of Crookston, in said County, on the 15th day of August, A. D. 1890, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash; to pay the sum due on said mortgage, together with the taxes, if any, on said premises, and Twenty-five Dollars ($25) attorneys' fees therein stipulated to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as provided by law.

Dated, June 26th, A. D. 1890.

MORTGAGE SALE.

[First publication July 2d, 1890.]

WHEREAS ANDERS ERICKSON, AN UNmarried man, as mortgagor, did on the 27th day of July, A. D. 1888, duly execute and deliver to the Minnesota Loan & Trust Company of Minneapolis, Minnesota, a corporation as mortgagee, his mortgage bearing date the 27th day of July A. D. 1888, whereby he mortgaged to said mortgagee the following described land situated in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, to-wit:

The South-east Quarter of the South-west Quarter, and Lots Five (5) and Six (6) and Seven (7) of section Six (6) in Township One hundred and fifty-two (152) North, of Range Forty-four (44) west, containing one hundred and forty-one and seventy-three one hundredths (141 73-100) acres, to secure the payment of Sixty-three (63) Dollars, according to the conditions of one certain promissory note, payable in ten (10) semi-annual installments, said note bearing even date with said mortgage, and made by said mortgagor to said mortgagee, or order, which said mortgage was, on the 28th day of July, A. D. 1888, at eleven o'clock A. M., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said Polk County, in Book "26" of mortgages, on pages 422 to 424 inclusive.

And whereas The Minnesota Loan and Trust Company did for value received, on the 11th day of April A. D. 1889, duly assign the aforesaid note and mortgage, and the debt secured thereby, to Halvor Steenerson and Geo. J. McManus, partners, as Steenerson & McManus, of Crookston, Minnesota; which said assignment was in writing under seal and duly acknowledged, and was thereafter, on the 20th day of June, A. D. 1890, at three o'clock and thirty minutes P. M., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County, in Book "53" of mortgages, on page 402.

And whereas default has been made in the payment of the sum of Six and seventy-five one hundredths (6.75) Dollars, due as the fourth installment of said note on the 1st day of June, A. D. 1890, and said sum is still due and unpaid;

And whereas it was stipulated and agreed by and between the parties to said mortgage, that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants therein contained on the part of the mortgagor to be kept and performed, then and from thenceforth it shall be lawful for said mortgagee and its assigns to consider the whole sum thereby secured to be immediately due and payable without notice to said mortgagor or any other party.

And Whereas, Halvor Steenerson and Geo. J. McManus, assignees of said mortgagee, have exercised their option to consider and declare, and do hereby declare the whole sum of money secured by said mortgage and still unpaid, to be due and payable;

And whereas there is now due and claimed to be due upon said mortgage, at the date of this notice, the sum of Forty-nine and fifty-three one hundredths (49.53) Dollars, and no proceedings having been instituted by law or otherwise to recover the same or any part thereof,

Now therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale in said mortgage contained, and therewith recorded, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed by sale of the land therein described, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the court-house, in the City of Crookston, in said County, on the 15th day of August, 1890, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day at public vendue to the higest bidder for cash to pay the sum due on said mortgage, together with the taxes, if any, on said premises and twenty-five (25) Dollars attorney fees therein stipulated to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as provided by law.

Dated June 26th, A. D. 1890.

NEWSPAPER LAW.

1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for the payment.
2. If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscriptions, the suit may be instituted where the paper is published.
4. The Courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers or periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid for, is prima facie evidence of intention to defraud.

Entered at the Post Office in Crookston as Second Class matter.

Fergus Falls Journal:—The Red river valley counties have always given Otter Tail county political assistance when it has asked it, and this year there is a splendid opportunity to return it. The northwest portion of the state asks for a place on the state ticket, and will present P. J. McGuire's name for state auditor. Mr. McGuire has been auditor of Polk county for many years and is an efficient man. He is very strong in his own section. Otter Tail should stand by the northern part of the state if it expects favors in the future or is willing to return favors rendered in the past. Give Mr. McGuire the vote of our delegation for auditor.

The Alliance Convention.

The Minneapolis Times.

It is quite the fashion for the newspaper to bestow advice upon the Farmers' Alliance. It is a fashion which The Times has not followed. There are as wise, and experienced and capable political leaders among the Alliance membership as among its numerous outside counsellors, as we have not the slightest doubt they will demonstrate in their convention today. They are in politics this year for a specific purpose and in the accomplishment of that purpose they will take the shortest cut.

The organization grew out of the indifference of the machine politicians toward the interests of the great agricultural class of the country. National and state governments are run in the interests of capital and corporations and ambitious politicians. The highest and most honorable public positions have ceased to be regarded as the fitting rewards of distinguished ability and public service, and have became the spoils of adroit and unprincipled spoilshunters, and men who rely upon their wealth for honors their brain and characters would never win for them.

The Alliance simply represents a spirit of discontent and unrest that pervades all industrial classes in this country. Thoughtful observers of this sentiment and tendency of the times see that this is no superficial or spasmodic movement. It is concerned with questions that go down to the roots of our national life, and the evils it is contending with, and which it proposes to remedy, are those which threaten the very existence of free government. The Times looks confidently for wise, practical action on the part of today's convention. It is composed of earnest and intelligent men who fully compehend the importance of the work in hand, and who are not likely to be diverted from the plain and straight path of duty either by the efforts of demagogues, or by internal dissensions provoked by those who would gladly see its influence destroyed in the interest of one or the other of the old party machines.

The Alliance is practically the dominant political power in the State today It carries the key to the situation. It can dictate the nominations. It holds the balance of power between the old parties. If it shall work harmoniously and use its influenue with discretion and wisdom it may accomplish great and beneficent results for the whole State. A most important and sacred patriotism and honor, every consideration of political morality and material welfare appeal to it for united and wise action. The main object should be kept steadily in vew.

What that object is The Times has steadily understood during the past three months. It is the withdrawal of political power from the control of the corporations and their tools, and its restoration to the people and their representatives. The corrupt use of money in conventions and at elections has of late been open, flagrant, high handed. It has come to pass that no man who has not a "barrel of money" is considered eligible to nomination for high and honorable office. When men do not hesitate to expend $100,000 to secure election to an office the salary of which is less than $3,000, it is safe to conclude that there are other motives than those of patriotism and zeal for the public good at the bottom of their ambition.

This is the one danger against which The Times has ventured to warn the Alliance. It has once or twice trusted men who have sold it out for a price to the political machine and the corporation it represents. It should not repeat this mistake. It should keep the main object steadily in view and subordinate all its energies upon its accomplishment.

The Alliance Platform.

The Report of the Committee On Resolutions Declaring Alliance Principles.

The Farmer's alliance and industrial unions of the state of Minnesota, in convention assembled, hereby ordain and establish the following declaration of principles:

First—We demand that the "war traffic," which has too long survived the object of its creation, shall be radically revised; giving very material reduction on the necessaries of life, and placing raw material upon the free list to the end that we may compete with the world for a market; and that such luxuries as whiskey and tobacco shall in no manner be relieved from internal taxation till the high protective tariff has been wholly divested of its extortions; and we especially denounce the McKinley bill as the crowning infamy of protection.

Second—We demand governmental control of railways, both by the state and nation, to the end that all discrimination shall cease; that reasonable rates shall be established; that watered stock shall not receive the rewards of honest capital, and the pooling of rates is such an element of monopoly as should be absolutely prohibited. We anticipate the ultimate ownership of railroads as the solution of the question.

Third—As producers, we demand free and open markets for our grain, and that the railway shall receive and ship grain, as they receive and ship other commodities, for the owner of its destination, That the grading of wheat at country stations be abolished; that the right to establish side tracks, to connect grain warehouses, and the equal use of cars shall in no manner be abridged.

Fourth—That in the adjustment of a schedule of rates for this state we believe the railroad commission should be guided mainly by the schedule of rates now in force in Iowa. But if the interstate railways leading to Chicago shall make a less rate than the Iowa rates, we demand that the rates to Duluth shall be no greater per ton per mile than the rate per ton per mile to Chicago; reasonable terminal and transfer charges being added to the mileage charges as provided for by the freedom of traffic law now in our statutes.

Fifth—That we demand the maintenance of the present freedom of traffic law, the present grain laws and the law for the distribution of cars, and the erection by the state of public warehouses, where the producer shall store his grain unmixed in a special car at actual cost at Duluth and agricultural fair grounds.

Sixth—That we hold that mortgage indebtedness should be deducted from the tax upon realty, whether mortgage is held at home or abroad; and we ask such laws as will make the hidden property pay equal taxes with the visible property.

Seventh—That we favor a material reduction of interest on money, and demand that severe penalties be attached to the practice of usury.

Eighth—That we favor an increase in the volume of money equal to the requirements of an ever increasing trade and business, without the interventation of banks, which shall be made full legal tender, and we demand the free coinage of silver.

Ninth—That our public lands, the sacred heritage of the people, shall be reserved in small quantities, without cost to actual settlers only, and we favor laws for the protection of our forests.

Tenth—We are opposed to the giving away of valuable franchises by the state and municipalities.

Eleventh—That we are in favor of the improvement of our great waterways, so that our produce may go in unbroken bulk to the markets of the world.

Twelfth—That we ask the next legislature to establish the Australian system of voting for the whole state.

Thirteenth—That all public offices which directly effect the interests of the people should be made elective, and for this reason we hold that United State senators and railroad commisioners should be made elective by popular vote

Fourteenth—We demand the prohibition of the employment of children, under 15 years of age, in the mills, factories and workshops of the country; and we also favor the adoption of a factory and mine inspection law, and an employers' liability act; and we favor the publishing of free text-books.

Fifteenth—We favor the settlement of all strifes by arbitration, and for equal pay for equal work, irrespective of sex; also for shorter hours of labor in factories, stores and on public works, and we also favor a lien law that will give labor a first lien on its products.

Sixteenth—The assumption of the power by the supreme court of the United States in recent decisions denying accepted constitutional rights of the several states is a direct menace to the privileges and liberties of the people, and is fraught with danger to our institutions and form of government.

Seventeenth—When so demanded, the right of the people to vote upon constitutional amendments should not be denied, as it involves the right of petition.

Eighteenth—Labor everywhere has a common bond of sympathy and a common cause. We cordially welcome every association having for its purpose the amelioration of the condition of all who toil "in the sweat of their face." In such a union, now imperatively demanded, there will come that strength which will yet bring justice with victory. And for the support of these principles we invite the co-operation of all good citizens in the state of Minnesota without regard to previous party affiliation.

To the above the following were subsequently added:

Resolved, That we renew to the soldiers whose valor saved the nation the expression of our profoundest gratitude, and we declare that it is the sense of the American people that no man who fought for the flag shall be permitted to descend to pauperism, and that the same liberal spirit should be extended to the widows and orphans of the heroes of the war.

That we demand that the convict labor of the state shall be utilized to furnish the farmers of the state binding twine at cost.

An attempt was made to add a temperance plank, but it proved a great failure. One was presented by G. W. Olney, of Rice county, but it was given little, if any, support. Pat Rahilly said that he, like many others, raised thousands of bushels of barley, and they wished to sell it to the breweries of this state. He did not propose to support any prohibition plank.

The New Pension Law.

Text of the New Pension Law Passed by Congress.

The following is the text of the New Pension law just passed by congress:

Sec. 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and the House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled. That in considering the pension claims of dependent parents, the fact of the soldier's death by reason of any wound, injury, casualty, or disease which, under the conditions and limitations of existing laws, would have entitled him to an invalid pension, and the fact that the soldier left no widow or minor children having been shown as required by law, it shall be necessary only to show by competent and sufficient evidence that such parent or parents are without other present means of support than their own manual labor or the contributions of others not legally bound for their support: Provided, that all pensions allowed to dependent parents under this act shall commence from the date of filing of the application hereunder and shall continue no longer than the existence of the dependence.

Sec. 2. That all persons who served ninty days or more in the military or naval service of the United States during the late war of the rebellion, and who have been honorably discharged therefrom, and who are now or who may hereafter be suffering from a mental or physical disability of a permanent character, not the result of their own vicious habits, which incapacitates them from the performance of manual labor in such a degree as to render them unable to earn support, shall, upon making due proof of the fact according to such rules and regulations, as the secretary of the interior may provide, be placed upon the list of invalid pensioners of the United States, and be entitled to recive a pension not exceeding twelve dollars per month and not less than six dollars per month, proportioned to the degree of inability to earn support; and such pension shall commence from the date of the filing of the application in the pension office, after the passage of this act upon proof that the disability then existed, and shall continue during the existence of the same: Provided, That persons who are now receiving pension under existing laws, or whose claims are pending in the pension office, may, by application to the commissioner of pensions, in such form as he may prescribe, showing themselves entitled thereto, receive the benefits of this act; and nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to prevent any pensioner thereunder from prosecuting his claim and receiving his pension under any other general or special act: Provided, however, That no person shall receive more than one pension for the same period: And provided further. That rank in the service shall not be considered in applications filed under this act.

Sec. 3. That if any officer or enlisted man who served ninty days or more in the army or navy of the United States during the late war of the rebellion, and who was honorable discharged has died, or shall hereafter die, leaving a widow without other means of support than her daily labor, or minor children under the age of sixteen years, such widow shall, upon due proof of her husband's death, without proving his death to be the result of his army service, be placed on the pension-roll from the date of application therefore under this act, at the rate of eight dollars per month during her widowhood, and shall also be paid two dollars per month for each child of officer or enlisted man under the age of sixteen years, and in case of death or remarriage of the widow, leaving a child or children of such officer or enlisted man under the age of sixteen years, such pension shall be paid such child or children until the age of sixteen: Provided, That in case a minor child is insane, idiotic or otherwise permanently helpless, the pension shall continue during the life of said child, or during the period of such disability, and this proviso shall apply to all pensions heretofore granted or hereafter to be granted under this or any former statute, and such pensions shall commence from the date of application therefor after the passage of this act: And provided further, That said widow shall have married said soldier prior to the passage of this act.

Sec 4. That no agent, attorney, or other person engaged in preparing, presenting, or prosecuting any claim under the provisions of this act shall, directly or indirectly, contract for, demand, receive, or retain for such services in preparing, presenting, or prosecuting such claim a sum greater than ten dollars, which shall be payable only upon order of the commissioner of pensions by the pension agent making payment of pension allowed, and any person who violate any of the provisions of this section, or who shall wrongfully withhold from the pensioner or claimant the whole or any part of a pension or claim allowed or due such pensioner or claimant under this act shall be deemed guility of misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall, for each and every offence, be fined not exceeding five hundred dollars, or be imprisoned at hard labor not exceeding two years, or both, in the discretion of the court.

Jim Hill's Railroad.

The Western Rural.

The Great Northern Railroad, at the head of which is Mr. James Hill,—and which the papers refer to as Jim Hill's Railroad, is spreading consternation among the railway managers. Hill is as sharp as a brier. No one who knows anything about him will question that statement. He has always had great faith in the railroad system of which he is the head, and ever since he secured the control of it has been pushing out to the right and to the left and steadily forward. He intends to push his lines to the Pacific this Summer; and while he has been arranging to do that, he has been working for an Eastern connection which he at last secured, making a through railroad, water route from St. Paul to New York and Boston. And now comes the fun—fun to him, but a disgusting complicaton to the other railroad fellows. He has cut the rates from New York and Boston to St. Paul to a figure that is lower than the other roads charge from New York and Boston to Chicago. The public is mainly interested in the fight because of its showing that the state of affairs hitherto has been precisely what The Rural has been describing them to be for many years; viz: that the rates between Chicago and the East are outrageously high. Mr. Hill does not do business for the fun of doing it. He is not that sort of a man. He does business for money, and big money at that; and when he cuts rates he does it with full knowledge that he is still maintaining rates that will pay him a good profit.

How long the cut will last, of course no one can tell. It is probably that a peace will be patched up, sooner or later, and rates will again go up. But the facts that the cut establishes and to which we have referred, will remain, and should prompt our legislators to bestir themselves to legally cut down rates for good. These fights always teach something that ought not to be forgotten.

The Liquor Traffic.

The Western Rural.

One of our esteemed correspondents from Iowa writes that farmers generally do not agree with us in our position upon the question of prohibition. The Rural has never taken a position for party prohibition, as it would take no party stand of any kind. It has not been very outspoken in fact for prohibition. It has said that the question ought to be submitted to the people and so it ought. But it cannot believe that the majority of the farmers are in favor of the rumshop. Why should they be? The rumshop is maintained in towns that receive all the license money while the traffic makes thieves to prey upon the community, including the farmers, and paupers for the farmers to support. In Chicago we have more than three thousand rumshops that are taking from hundreds and thousands of people the money that should go to buy flour and potatoes and butter and clothing which the farmer produces. There are a million of people in this country to-day who would consume five million dollars' worth more of farm products than they now consume if it were not for the infernal rum traffic; and while we live and have our senses, and our conscience is in as good working order as it is just now, we shall never advocate a traffic that does such a gross wrong to tax payers and endangers every boy and girl that is born into the world. If there are farmers who are so blind to their own interests as to advocate the rumshop, we shall be doing nothing more in the matter than we are doing for many farmers in other directions, if we fight for their interests, while they with malice aforethought and, with dogged tenacity, join their enemies and deliberately seek to down themselves. We advocate no political party of any name or nature, but we nail to the masthead on general principles, and invoke the judgment of mankind as to the correctness of the sentiment. Rum is a curse and the traffic is a unmitigated nuisance and danger to every interest to society.

Hail, Tornado and Cyclone Insurance

THE MINNESOTA

Alliance Storm Association

The Minnesota Alliance Storm Association, organized April 21st, 1890, is now in the field ready to insure crops against loss or damage from Hail, and detached farm buildings against loss or damage from Cyclones. This Company is made up exclusively of members of the Alliance and practical farmers. Its officers are as follows:

President—David P. Lister........Lac qui Parle, Minn
Vice President—Harvey E. Cooke........Crookston, "
Secretary—Robert Eckford........Dexter, "
Treasurer—H. P. Bjorge, (Treas. of the State Alliance)........Underwood, "

Its Board of Managers is as follows:

David P. Lister........Lac qui Parle, Minn.
Harvey E. Cooke........Crookston, "
Robert Eckford........Dexter, "
H. P. Bjorge........Underwood, "
Hamlin V. Poore........Bird Island, "
A. L. Stromberg........Forest Lake, "
Ignatius Donnelly........Hastings, "
John Lathrop........Dawson, "
Henry Plowman........Luce, "
Seth Bottomley........Nashville Center, "
Hans B. Imsdahl........Big Woods, "

Among these gentlemen, out of eleven managers, six are members of the Executive Committee of the State Farmers' Alliance; the President of the Association is Vice President of the State Farmers' Alliance, and the Secretary was the former Superintendent of Insurance of the State Alliance.

We promise the farmers honest treatment, an economical administration and prompt settlement of all losses. A full report of this Association will be made to the State Alliance at each annual meeting.

Taxation.

The Western Rural.

The taxation muddle, which is occasionally by courtesy called our tax system, seems to bid fair to remain an inextricable tangle forever. One trouble with assessment is that the assessor, especially in the cities, is either lacking in brains or is a demagogue. The assessment which is now in progress in Chicago suggests something that is of general importance. We observe that one assessor is raising the assessment in a part of his district in which the homes are pleasant ones, and kept in good shape, while he is lowering it in another section where the rabble lives. But mind you, it does not follow that a home in the former section is worth any more than is a home of less pretensions in the other section. As a matter of fact, the homes in the latter sections are closer to the business center. And as a rule, the land is worth more than it is in the other locality. When the homes are well kept, the majority of the people are poor, and are paying for their homes by monthly payments, but have sufficient regard for their own health and comfort and for the health and comfort of the community in general to keep things up in a cleanly condition and in general good shape. For doing this, this bullet-headed assessor proposes to make them pay an extra tax. He simply proposes to tax respectability and cleanliness and to offer a premium upon dirt and shiftlessness.

And did you ever think that this loose principle is a common one in our system of taxation. A man buys a vacant lot in the city or town or gets possession of an undeveloped quarter section. He builds on the lot, plants shade trees in front; makes flower beds in the yard and creates a place of beauty, or by hard work and sacrifice, he makes a beautiful farm of the quarter section. Now the assessor comes along and practically says: I will make you pay handsomely for your enterprise: this place is worth a good deal more than it was, and you must be blistered with a high assessment. But here is a man who owns a vacant lot right along side of the improved one, and its value is increased by the enterprise of the owner of the improved lot; or here is a quarter section along side of the improved farm, which the owner is holding for speculative purposes, as the owner of the unimproved lot is doing, and such lots and such quarter sections pay scarcely any tax. It is all wrong. It is stupid, too, as well as wrong.

Northfield News: Just at this time the farmers of Minnesota are receiving a great deal of gratuitous advice in regard to what course they should pursue in politics. Just because the Farmers' Alliance of this State has decided to hold a convention on the 16th of July, a number of politicians who have heretofore had plain sailing so far as numerous schemes are concerned, are very much exercised. It has been a matter of surprise for some tims to The News that the farmers did not organize for mutual protection and force the passage of such laws as would gives them the relief they need. For years past in this State they have been wheedled and cajoled, and in the end beaten out of the rewards which were promised them. While we do not believe in the idea of a new party, we do think the farmers should show their strength in such a manner as to compel the older parties to give them the relief they desire. While The News is a purely independent Republican paper, it believes most emphatically in that party advancing the interests of the agriculturalist.

Membership.

Great West.

A member of the Fifth District Alliance of Minnesota asks us what method should be taken to remove members of the Alliance who are not constitutionally eligible to membership?

This is a question answered very easily. It has been asked this office fully twenty times. You cannot remove a man who is not eligible—because that individual is not a member. The very moment a man ceases to be eligible that moment his membership ceases.

If a man does not live on a farm, and does not get the bulk of his living thereby, he is not a member of the Farmers' Alliance—that is all there is to it—no matter if he is President of Biler Avenue and Prince of Hayseeds. There is but one exception, and that is where the inividual is making his living under Alliance employment which prevents him from living on his farm. This includes "distinctively" alliance editors.

Any man who is a banker, real estate man, miller, money loaner or any occupation other than farming, from which he gets his living, is not a member of any alliance and cannot be. This especially applies to a money loaner, the occupation referred to in this letter.

The person referred to is as far outside the Alliance as Jay Gould. He is a money loner, owns no farm, lives in a large city, and has not the slightest claim to membership. Nor can a money-loner belong to ther labor organizations.

CROOKSTON, MINNESOTA, JULY 24, 1890.

'Round Home.

Everybody busy haying.

Business waking up in every quarter.

M. G. Peterson was up from Garden on Friday.

Lots of new hay seeking a market nowadays.

Big weights and small prices—that's Holmboe's motto. [14-27]

Everybody seems to have all the work he can do these days.

Sunday was rather too rainy for the excursion to Maple Lake.

Lack of brick delayed the work on the sewers somewhat last week.

Mr. Barnes, of Barnes & Slocum, spent the Sabbath at Detroit Lake.

The county board has been in session this week as a board of equalization.

District court is grinding away. The Judge hopes to get through this week.

It is expected that the new road will be ready for operation by August first.

The Kittson and Marshall County delegates went south on Tuesday evening.

Monday was an extremely hot day. Bids fair to be hotter in St. Paul today.

The main school building has a new tin bonnet. J. E. O'Brien is the milliner.

Dennis Ryan, owner of the Ryan farm in Kittson County, was in the city this week.

Work on the railroad bridge is progressing right lively. It will soon be completed.

Quite a wind storm on Tuesday about six p. m. Made things quite lively for a few minutes.

Jim Bain was up from Fisher last Friday to see how a republican convention is run.

H. E. Ives left for St. Paul on Sunday evening so as to be in time for the convention on Thursday.

Most of the delegates left for St. Paul on Tuesday evening to be at the log-lolling on Wednesday.

John Peterson was in the city from Hill River last week. Reports crops looking well in that town.

Mrs. C. E. Page arrived in the city on Wednesday last on a visit to her daughter Mrs. W. D. Scott.

Wm. Wylia was down from Wylia Station on Monday observing the many improvements going on in the city.

I. I. Hillestad was down from Fosston on Friday. Says he has done a big business in machinery this year.

Harris & Glenn commenced the work of moving Reed's restaurant to make way for the new McKinnon building.

The iron on the new road was laid as far as possible to do it until the trestle work is completed, on Tuesday night.

If you want value for your money in the boot and shoe line call at Holmboe's. New goods arriving every week. [14-27]

It is feared that we are getting too much rain. Reports of grain rusting are altogether too frequent to be pleasant.

The binders will start here on Monday next. Work will be plenty and men scarce.

The delegation chosen on Friday contained three Nelson men and five Merriam men. Instructed to follow the unit rule.

Best water white kerosene only 15 cents per gallon at A. Holmboe's, Robert street. [14-27]

Ira D. Blanchard writes THE JOURNAL that he is meeting with great success in his work in Douglas County. He is canvassing for books.

Tom Stahl offers his house and lot for sale cheap. Only a few lots south of THE JOURNAL office. See Tom if you want a bargain.

Rev. S. Currie was down from Euclid on Wednesday with some of that famous cheese. He finds no trouble in disposing of all he can make.

Farmers, don't sell your hogs to shippers when you can get double of the price by having them cured at the packing house. [f-tf]

Geo. Tunell is up from Minneapolis visiting friends and taking an inventory of crops hereabouts. Says he finds crops looking fairly well.

It is said that John McLean is making so much money out west that he had not time to come home to attend to a very important suit in court.

Martin Benson came down from Erskine on Tuesday and reported a big storm there about noon. Big wind and rain which knocked down much wheat.

Harry Dawley, youngest son of postmaster Dawley had the misfortune to break his arm on Sunday. The little fellow is doing as well as could be expected.

Crookston Alliance, No. 648, met on Saturday to hear the report of the committee on twine, and adjourned to the next regular meeting, first Saturday in August.

A. R. Holston, in the Prohib-Alliance convention, is said to have remarked: "I am a prohibitionist in my heart." A granger remarked: "In your mind, you mean."

Gus Scheffer came down from Stephen to sell his lot in Clement's second addition to Crookston to the railroad company. We are told the consideration was $185 cash.

Mr. Jorgenson took possession of his new store last week and Fred Durand will soon be in where he was. Tom Morris will have a portion of the front for his jewelry store.

Rev. Noyes delivered an excellent sermon on Congregationalism on Sunday evening. Mr. Noyes, though a young man, is a powerful preacher, and is deserving of hearty support.

D. D. Williams returned from his western trip last Friday morning very much refreshed by his outing. He is convinced that Polk County is not the worst place in the world after all.

If you did not insure last week, now is your time before that hail storm comes. The Minnesota Storm Association is a solid company able to pay any and all losses. Be sure to catch on.

J. G. McGrew has bought the M. B. Hayes house and concluded to make his home in Crookston. After searching all over the world he concludes Crookston is a good place to tie to after all.

On Saturday morning last the news reached this city from England that Mr. Rickett would build the new four story hotel on the corner of Main and Second Streets, the work to commence as soon as possible.

Will Wilkins, a Becker County old-timer, was in the city over Sunday. He is now a resident of the new state of North Dakota, living about 25 miles from Fargo. He was interested in a case in court.

Prof. Casey has been busy on school matters outside of the city this week. By the way, the Professor always is busy on such matters. He has been a good and faithful servant and deserves a second term.

M. W. Jenson was down from McIntosh last Friday to attend the convention. Says the new grist mill there is doing royal work. With good wheat to handle, that mill will make a record that can't be beat.

Cashier Ellington tells THE JOURNAL that deposits in the Scandia American Bank are as heavy now as they were in January, which is always supposed to be the best month in the year. This speaks well for our city.

Isaac P. Lovetien was brought down from the town of Queen on Thursday of last week for examination before Judge Christianson and being adjudged insane was sent to St. Peter. Constable Holt went down with him.

Charlie Westler, an old time resident of the city, was looking us over the latter part of last and first of this week. Charlie says he now has unbounded faith in Crookston since he has seen what is going on this summer.

Everybody goes to St. Paul this week to take a hand in the making of a republican State ticket. Appearances indicate the nomination of the present incumbent, W. R. Merriam, still you can't most always sometimes tell. It is the unexpected that frequently happens, and Nelson is in the field.

W. J. Nickle was up to attend the convention on Friday last. W. J. seems to be on the high road to fame and fortune—he was last Saturday night elected school director and he has recently received a job at $3 per diem and found.

Uncle Daniel Cameron returned from Louisiana on Tuesday morning and intends to remain until October. He says: "If a man is well fixed in this country I would not advise him to go south. That country has its drawbacks as great, if not greater, than this."

Somebody has sent us a copy of the Enterprise, published at South Bend, Washington, by our oldtime friend W. F. Wallace, formerly of the Kittson County Enterprise of Hallock. In it we see that a railroad is projected to Chehalis, the place where Wm. Box has his saw mill, and another road from South Bend somewhere. The Enterprise gives evidence of a liberal patronage and W. F. speaks of putting in a new steam plant as though it was an everyday occurrence. Well, W. F. is a good boy and THE JOURNAL heartily wishes him unbounded success.

On Monday some of Mr. E. E. Lommen's hired men observed a man in the road acting rather queerly and he did not seem inclined to move so they went over where he was and found that he was nude, except a shirt. Upon their approach the man addressed them in Norwegian and asked them if they loved the Lord, saying that he would fix them if they did not. Thinking him crazy, they secured him, clothed him and brought him to the city for proper care. Here he was recognized as Chris. Hovey, and taken before Judge Christianson, who held him until Tuesday to give time to have his brother summoned from Fertile. The man appeared to be as crazy as they make 'em and required a strong arm and constant watching. He was sent to St. Peter on Tuesday evening.

Fisher Bulletin: "The Prohibition Shoe netted the people of Crookston $42. Not bad."

Not bad if true, but the facts are that the expenses came out of that, which left the net sum very diminutive. Taking everything into consideration, the ladies are nothing ahead, financially, but everybody is well pleased with the entertainment, voting it a perfect success.

Large stacks of hay are seen in every direction, and we rejoice to know that all kinds of stock will have nice sweet hay the coming winter.

The annual school meeting of district 53 was called to order by the clerk, and D. C. Hallock was elected moderator. W. J. Nickle was elected director by an unanimous vote. D. C. Hallock and D. McMillan were candidates for clerk and Hallock got the majority of votes. D. T. Herriott, the treasurer, resigned and his place was filled by the election of E. W. Johnson, our present efficient town treasurer. F. B. Dykeman was elected librarian for one year. It was voted to raise $460 for the expenses of the ensuing year, $10 of it being for an addition to our library.

Sheriff Paterson was here Thussday attending to his official duties. John has many friends in this community, and they are not all democrats, either.

EDNA.

The city Republican caucusses were held at the usual places on Wednesday evening of last week. In the first ward Geo. O. Buhn, John Alderman, Fred Anderson and H. E. Cooke were elected delegates to the convention on Friday. In the second ward E. C. Davis, S. L. Collins and Wm. Marin were elected delegates. In the third ward R. J. Montague, L. D. Marshall. In the fourth ward John Cromb Felix Fournet, A. D. Stephens, Hans Larson and P. J. McGuire, and in the fifth ward E. D. Childs.

In the first ward the following gentlemen were elected ward committee viz:

I. U. Jennings, chairman,
D. E. Hatlestad,
Geo. Buhn.

D. E. Hatlestad was elected a member of the city Republican Committee.

In the fourth ward the ward Committee elected was:

P. J. McGuire, chairman,
Will Arnold,
J. W. Wheeler.

Other wards have not reported.

A Question Of Religious Liberty Going Through The Courts.

Tennessee puts Itself on Record.

About one year ago a farmer by the name of King, living in Obion County, Tenn., was complained of for working on his farm on Sunday, brought before a justice, tried, convicted and fined three dollars and costs, amounting in all to about thirteen dollars. Mr. King being a member of a church which observes the seventh day of the week (Saturday) as the Sabbath, thought he had a right to labor at least upon his own premises, on the other six days of the week in accordance with the command, "Six days shalt thou labor." The result of the trial before the justice, however, did not appear to change his mind, as he continued to cultivate his farm on Sunday betimes, as occasion and necessity seemed to require. It was not long before he was complained of again, this time before the grand jury at Troy. A true bill was found against him, the indictment alleging plowing on Sunday to be a nuisance. His trial came off in the Circuit Court, last March, at which time he was fined seventy-five dollars and costs. The case was appealed to the Supreme Court of the State, which has just rendered its decision, sustaining the action of the lower Court. It is now proposed to take the case to the Supreme Court of the United States and test the rights of American citizenship. The case is in the hands of the National Religious Liberty Association, an organization of comparatively recent origin, and is attracting considerable attention because of the question of religious liberty it involves. It would seem that a man has the right, and should have the privilege of using his time upon his own premises as he sees proper, and not be compelled to conform to the religious ideas and customs of those around him. "Essential freedom," says Ridpath, "is the right to differ." Second only to its political freedom, the United States is famed for its liberty in religious matters. The King case, it seems, will test whether such liberty can be secured at the court of last appeals under the federal government.

[First publication July 24th, 1890.]

STATE OF MINNESOTA, COUNTY OF POLK—ss. In Probate Court, Special Term, July 18th, 1890.

In the matter of the estate of Peder Benson, deceased.

Letters of administration on the estate of said deceased being this day granted unto O. C. Bergland, of said county.

It is ordered, that all claims and demands of all persons against said estate be presented to this Court for examination and allowance, at the Probate Office, in Crookston, in said County, on Tuesday, the 13th day of January, 1891, at 10 o'clock a. m.

It is further ordered, that six months from the date hereof be allowed to creditors to present their claims against said estate, at the expiration of which time all claims not presented to said Court, or not proven to its satisfaction, shall be forever barred, unless for cause shown further time be allowed.

Ordered further, that notice of the time and place of the hearing and examination of said claims and demands shall be given by publishing this order once in each week, for three successive weeks prior to the day appointed for such examination, in the POLK COUNTY JOURNAL, a weekly newspaper printed and published at Crookston, in said county.

Dated at Crookston the 18th day of July, A. D. 1890.

By the Court: C. O. CHRISTIANSON,
[14-16] Judge of Probate.

U. S. LAND OFFICE. Crookston, Minn., July 17th, 1890.

Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before Register or Receiver U. S. Land Office at Crookston, on Oct. 2d, 1890, viz: THOR HALDORSON, Hd. 11,281, for the nw¼ se¼ e½ nw¼ and lot 2, Sec. 33, Tp. 149, R 43. He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: Harald Johnson, of Mentor, Polk Co., Minn., Gulbrand Pederson, of Dugdale, Polk Co., Minn., William Manton, Otto Camp, of Mentor, Polk Co., Minn. Any person who desires to protest against the allowance of such proof, or who knows of any substantial reason, under the law and the regulations of the Interior Department, why such proof should not be allowed, will be given an opportunity at the above mentioned time and place to cross-examine the witnesses of said claimant, and to offer evidence in rebuttal of that submitted by claimant.

Fisher Bulletin:—We received a call last Saturday from Gautier de St. Croix of the firm of St. Croix, Walker & Co., grain commission men of Duluth. The firm are about to erect a farmers' warehouse at Freeman's siding on the N. P. Railroad, two miles north of Fisher. The bins in the warehouse are leased to the farmers, and each farmer holds the key to his bin which is under his sole and exclusive control during the time he rents it. The lessee has free and complete access to the use of his bin for the purpose of unloading grain and shipping the same at all times between sunrise and sunset, but not before 6 o'clock a. m. nor after 6 o'clock p.m. during the entire term of this lease; provided that if other bins in said warehouse are in use in unloading or shipping grain, such right of use and access for such purposes, always given the order of application therefor, all lessees of bins to be served in rotation, in the manner customary with elevators and warehouses.

Next State Fair.

The Outlook Encouraging—Some of the Features.

Col. Leggett, Secretary of the State Agricultural State Society, reports the outlook for the forthcoming Fair as most encouraging.

Already exhibitors of the finest blooded stock in the land have applied for all the stalls on the ground, and other accommodations will have to be supplied. The list of attractions have not yet been fully made up, but among them will be the chariot racing combination of A. McDonald & Co., of Chicago.

There will be two races daily by this aggregation, one of four horses and the other of eight, a lady driving the latter. A ten mile race by lady riders is also on the programme, and every day there will be some special attraction that in itself will be a good show.

We don't believe that Dr. Fish is sulking in his tent. He is not built that way.

Norman County elected five Nelson delegates to the State convention at St. Paul.

A nomination this year is not equivalent to an election. If victory is any object to the Republican party great care must be observed in the selection of its ticket.

It seems thas the Prohibitionists are not entirely satisfied with the fusion ticket, and talk of putting up a simon pure prohibition ticket. So says one of their number.

It is sometimes as well to pay attention to what the people want when you are making a gubernatorial nomination. A nomination this year does not carry the election.

The State daily papers are saying that Mr. Donnelly will sulk in his tent, and do nothing to aid the alliance ticket. We do not believe that of Mr. Donnelly. He was opposed to the independent action but after it was so unanimously voted by the alliance he accepted the situation and will no doubt do all he can to aid the cause. He will if he is the man we take him to be.

The convention that meets in St. Paul to-day has need of all of the wisdom contained in the Republican party if the party would save defeat at the polls next November. The people of the State demand the selection of the Hon. Knute Nelson and, whatever the cause of this may be it will be the part of wisdom on the part of the leaders to recognize it and act accordingly. Will they do it?

Was it the part of design or an oversight that the convention on Friday failed to appoint a committee on resolutions? We had a resolution prepared endorsing the actions of Congressman Comstock but were afforded no chance to use it. The friends of Governor Merriam were, no doubt, bitterly disappointed in not having an opportunity to resolute on his business administration and distinguished services. And then too, the Republicans in the county who were not there will look to the account of that committee to see what kind of a platform the party will present to the people and they will be disappointed by its absence.

The Times very kindly volunteers a great deal of gratuitous advice to THE JOURNAL, fearing that the farmers' cause will result "disasterously" (whatever that may mean). We wish to return our thanks to our little neighbor for as much as his distorted views are worth, and to assure him that the farmers are all right and that the object they seek will not result disastrously, by any means, though they may not accomplish their object as soon by independent action as they could have done had they been content to remain in and control the actions of the old parties, and hundreds of farmers endorse these views. THE JOURNAL has consistently advocated this policy and is willing to abide the test of time as to its soundness. On the 16th day of July the Farmers' Alliance decided to enter the field as a new political party and they put in nomination for Governor the strongest man in the state, next to Hon. Knute Nelson. This action renders it necessary for the Republicans to nominate the strongest men in their party if they would prevent a Democratic victory. The Democrats are fully aware of this fact, and hence their extreme anxiety to see the Republican party make as miserable a mistake as possible, as this would furnish the only chance the Democrats ever did, or ever will have of success. They are starving for the offices and hence their eagerness to see the alliance enter the field and then have that followed by wretched blunders on the part of the Republicans.

Some political shysters are doing their best to try to make out that the demand for a free and open wheat market that THE JOURNAL makes is incompatible with the principles of the republican party. We do not understand this to be the attitude of the republican party, the party which has ever championed the cause of the lowly and the downtrodden, and we know that all who do not believe this to be true are not in sympathy with the great underlying principles of their party. We challenge any of these loud-mouthed howlers to prove the contrary. The best interests of this country demands what THE JOURNAL has ever been fighting for—a free and open wheat market, and the great mass of people who compose the republican party to-day are fully in accord with that sentiment. THE JOURNAL has consistently urged the farmers' alliance to work in harmony with that dea in the only practicable way in which, in our judgment, this can best be obtained, and our only object has been the best interests of the people of the country. We consider this object of more importance than the success of aspiring politicians, or of parties, even. Farmers could manage to live if every aspiring politician in the State was defeated, but they cannot live without a free and open wheat market. Had we been an aspirant for some fat office, or seeking to get a $2,500 insurance job like Hodgson and others who have taken such a deep (?) interest in the cause of the down-trodden farmers, our motives might be impugned, but we have not, and we challenge any one to show wherein we have been untrue to the interests of the party or the people. We do not expect demagogues, office-seekers and men actuated by selfish motives to endorse our idea, and they do not, we are glad to notice. And we are proud to observe that all who have any corrupt, underhanded jobs to carry out do not seek the aid of THE JOURNAL to accomplish it. That the alliance has made serious errors, we believe, and while we deeply regret this fact we are confident that time will justify our position. With the deep interest we have in the attempt to secure a free and open market we cannot see how we could have done less in the effort to secure it, and in reviewing our work we cannot see how we could have done more. It will not do for some to sneer at the efforts of farmers to secure relief, as they are now openly doing. That will never win the game, and time will prove that true, also. For the present we can only say that we are confident the republican party will have common sense enough to take proper action on this subject, and we confidently believe that they will make suitable nominations in the State convention to-day.

The Polk County delegates to the State convention will present the name of P. J. McGuire for State Auditor, and they will be supported by Kittson, Marshall, Norman and Otter Tail Counties, and probably Clay and Becker. Mr. McGuire has been auditor of Polk County for ten years and doubtless could retain the office for years yet if he was so disposed, but several weeks ago he decided not to be a candidate for re-election. He has for several years been calculating, at the proper time, to be a candidate for State Auditor. With the announcement of Capt. Braden that he would not be a candidate for re-election McGuire's opportunity came and he is now in the field. The most pronounced opponent he has is Hon. J. C. Flynn, of Little Falls, who is backed by Senator Buckman and a few leading politicians. Mr. Flynn has the call on the senatorship in his district and does not seem to be so anxious to enter the swim as his friends seem to be for him to do so. At present writing it looks as though McGuire could call the turn, and should he be nominated and elected the county would have no occasion to be ashamed of its representative, as Mr. McGuire is every way well qualified for the position. He would draw a large vote in Polk County from every party, as his friends are legion. We have heard prominent democrats declare that if McGuire is nominated they will vote for him and also pull off their coats and work for him.

The Farmers' Alliance met at St. Paul in extra session on Wednesday, July 16th, and decided by a large majority to put an independent State ticket in the field. The following is the ticket: For Governor, S. M. Owen, of Hennepin Co., for Lieut. Gov., J. O. Barrett, of Traverse Co., for Sec. of State, M. Weisenberg, of St. Louis Co., for Auditor, P. H. Rahilly, of Wabasha Co., for Treasurer, Eric Mattson, of Lac qui Parle Co., for Att'y General, M. Burlingame, of Steele Co., for Clerk of Supreme Court, Frank W. Kohn, of Le-Sueur Co. The nomination, so far as the head is concerned is a very strong one and if the republican party does not wish to suffer defeat this fall great care will have to be exercised in the selection of a candidate for Governor. It will not do to nominate a weak man and depend upon the prestige of the party for success as the alliance is composed of men who will vote for those whom they consider the best men. S. M. Owen is a life long republican, a man who believes as the farmers do in the tariff and other questions that affect their interests and these interests he as ably advocated through his paper, Farm Stock and Home, ever since it was established. He is an able man, in every way qualified for the position of Governor and he is a man who would no more be led about in the interest of corporations than is the farmer Governor of Wisconsin, W. D. Hoard. Had the alliance exercised the same good judgment in the selection of the balance of the ticket it would have been an exceptionally strong one.

For several years Wide Awake has from time to time given some beautiful stories of a highly fanciful nature from the pen of Miss Mary E. Wilkins; one of the best appears in the August number, entitled "The Princess Rosetta and the Pop-Corn Man," with seven illustrations by Garrett. Another charmingly fanciful story in the same number is by Susan Coolidge and is called "Three Little Candles." As a contrast come "The Hat of the Postmaster," another Nassau story by Mrs. Fremont, "Cy Hops's Victory," the story of a Canadian Indian boy at school, by H. C. Chipman, and Miss McLeod's Acadian tale, "The story of Bloody Creek." Perhaps one of the best things in the number is a short paper by Louise Stockton, "A Game of the Senses," in which she suggests the development possible to the senses through the using of them. The "helpful article" is by Mrs. Sallie Joy White, on "The Visiting Mender," though the small girl of the household may prefer "Home-made Furniture for Doll Houses" by Mrs. Shaleigh. There is a fascinating group of Lily articles: "The American Water Lily" by Grant Allen, "The Queen Lily" by Amanda B. Harris, and a poem, "Water Lilies," by Frances L. Mace. "The Last of the Wampanoags" by Pamela McArthur Cole, gives an account of a family directly descended from Massasoit, that lives in Lakeville, Mass., with the portrait of the Princess Teweelema." "The Confessions of an Amateur Photographer," by Alexander Black, relates to "Dark Deeds;" the photograph, "A Lake Party," by Prof. Newton, is very beautiful. A delightful illustrated literary paper is contributed by Mrs Frances A. Humphrey, entitled "Early Days of Lady Anne Lindsay," the author of "Auld Robin Gray." Mr. Ward's Serial, "The New Senior at Andover," which is attracting so much attention, is worthy the interest it excites; while the extravaganza. "The Quest of the Whipping-boy," is good "light reading." "Men and Things" as usual gives good original anecdotes and talks, and the "Margaret-Patty Letter" is worth the while of young people who are careless of grammer and spelling in conversation and letter writing. The Prize Anagram. "The Perplexities of a Crymangle," is translated in this number.

Wide Awake is $2,40 a year. D. Lothrop Company, Publishers, Boston, Mass.

Norman County Index: J. P. McGuire, Polk County's auditor, is mentioned for State auditor. He would be an exceedingly popular candidate in this vicinity.

Report of committee adopted and committee discharged. On motion A. N. Hixson was invited to represent the town of Lowell.

The committee on permanent organization recommended that the temporary organization be made permanent. Adopted.

A. D. Stephens moved that the convention proceed to elect eight delegates to the State convention at St. Paul, and proposed the names of P. J. McGuire, K. S. Aker, H. E. Ives, Henry Wight, Lewis Lohn, John Cromb, Dr. A. Nelson and Gunder Krostue. After a little skirmishing the motion to elect by acclamation prevailed. The following gentlemen were then elected delegates to the congressional convention at Little Falls Sept. 8th, viz: Frank Hunt, Felix Fournet, C. C. Knappen, A. D. Stephens, John Ellington, A. Kaiser, A. Gilmour and R. J. Montague.

Moved that the chair appoint a county central committee of seven. Carried.

On motion adjourned.

Political.

Glyndon News: S. M. Owens, edtor of Farm, Stck and Home, the semi-monthly farm Journal at Minneapolis, was yesterday nominated by the Alliance convention at St. Paul, for the governorship of Minnesota. This result is a compromise between the Donnelly faction and ther opponents in the Alliance; these opponents at times voted for Knute Nelson, President Hall of the tate alliance, on scattering. The choice of Owen is a discreet, non-sensational act, a happy soltion of a very perplexing problem which has confronted the alliance since the hour it set out upon the course of independent political action. The labor element in the convention may be credited largely with Owen's successful candidacy. The result bodes danger to the Republicans if they renominate Merriam; is of substantial encouragement to the Democrats, and will be recognized as almost the finger of Destiny to our party bidding it choose between Knute Nelson and the loss of the head of the ticket! With Merriam against Judge Wilson, for instance, and Owen in the fiele, The News prophesies a Democratic governor. Mr. Owens' name and record are an excellent basis for a campaign; it can be said with truth that he is a better and abler leader than Gov. Merriam. But it's a farewell to the reform legislature scheme.

Silver Coinage.

The Western Rural.

Congress has been agitating itself over the question of free coinage of silver and the old army of silver opponents are making as big fools of themselves as they ever did. We recently noticed that a Chicago paper said that if silver was ever coined free it would soon take a handful of it to buy anything. Same old story; same old stupidity; same old lie. According to these financial mossbacks the present silver dollar was to cause irreparable disaster before this, but it has done nothing of the kind. Our silver money has shown a remarkable "vigor of constitution." It has been opposed by all the banks and Shylocks of the country and by the government itself. But it is still in the ring and acquitting itself with dignity. The opposition to the free coinage of silver is a part of the conspiracy against the masses that seeks to put into the hands of the few the circulating medium of the nation. Money is the means of exchange; it is meant for circulation and nothing else. But the banks and money-loaners and money grabbers generally insist upon making it solely an article of commerce and by reducing the supply enhance its value.

Gold and silver stand upon an equality in our circulation. One is just as good as the other for practical purposes. Then why should one be coined free and the other not? The only reason that can possibly be given is that gold is so scarce that even with free coinage it amounts to little in the way of enlarging our circulation. But that reason is not acceptable to the people who are suffering partly because there is little money in circulation. In fact it is no reason at all why silver should not be admitted to free coinage, but is a good reason why it should be. Senator Jones, of Nevada, closed a very powerful speech in favor of free coinage by properly predicting that the restoration of silver to its birthright will mark an epoch in the history of this Republic. It will place in circulation an amount of money commensurate with our increasing population. It will give assurance to our languishing industries that the volume of our circulating medium is not to continue shrinking, and that the tendency of prices shall no longer be downward. It will increase the wages of labor and the prices of the products of labor; it will reduce the price of bonds and other forms of money; it will lighten, but not inequitably, the burden of the mortgagors; it will increase largely, though not unjustly, the debtpaying and taxpaying power of the people. It will loosen the grip of the creditor from the neck of the debtor.

By the remonetization of silver, money will cease to be the object of commerce, and will again become its beneficent instrument. Activity will replace stagnation; movement will supplant inertia; courage will banish fear; confidence will dispel doubt; hope will supersede despair. The lifting up of silver to its rightful plane by the side of gold will set in motion all the latent energies of the people. It will banish involuntary idleness by putting every willing man to work. It will revive business and reanimate the heart and hope of the masses. Capital no longer fearing a fall in prices will turn into productive avenues. The hoards of money lying idle in the bank vaults will come out to bless and enrich alike their owners and the community at large; while the millions of dollars now invested at low interest in gilt-edged securities will seek more profitable investment in the busy field of industry where they will be utilized in the payment of wages and the consequent dissemination of comfort and happiness among the people. And this it will accomplish not for the United States alone, but for civilization.

Duluth and the Governor.

Duluth Daily Times.

The Republican state convintion will be held at St. Paul on the 24th inst. The choice of candidate for governor is one of the leading questions to be determined by that convention, and in this matter Duluth is vitally interested. The Times to-day presents a series of interviews on the gubernatorial question. They are the expressions of opinion of men of all shades of political faith, but they are singularly unanimous for a change. The feeling in Duluth that Gov. Merriam has not done as he should in relation to this city is a deep one. While many Duluth republicans, who feel bound to support the regular nominee of their party, would doubtless fall into line should Mr. Merriam be renominated, a large number of them feel no such allegiance, and what has always been the banner Republican county of the state is likely to change its vote this fall.

The Republican party of the state is confronted with a serious problem. The governor has secured a large following among the delegates, but his candidacy inspires no enthusiasm even among his friends. He is met at the outset with a determined opposition from two of the largest cities of the state; with the party disrupted by differences on national questions; with the strongest element of the party about to form a political party of its own, and put in nomination a complete state ticket.

Can the party afford to renominate Mr. Merriam? If it does, it hazards its chances for success and opens wide the door of opportunity to those who are opposed to its reign.

Money to Loan

On More Reasonable and Better Terms than Ever Before Offered In the Northwest.

We are now prepared to loan money in any amount from $250 up to $10,000 on well improved farms where title has been perfected, and U S. patent is on record or has been issued.

Our terms are 8 per cent. interest, with a small commission to cover expenses and cost of making the loan.

Where the security is satisfactory we can make loans for five or any greater number of years, interest payable annually on the first day of January, and will allow the borrower, after two years, to pay any part of the principal, in sums of $100 or upwards on any interest day named in his notes. So much for straight loans.

We are the agents for the Union Central Life Insurance Company, of Cincinati, Ohio, a company of great strength, and a public record for probity and fair dealing unsurpassed; and can write life insurance in connection with loans with great profit and advantage to the borrower, which, taken in connection with the loan for ten years, pays the loan by yearly payments, which is more fully shown by the following statement: A, aged 25 years, of sound health, applies for a loan of $1,000 on his farm, at the same time he applies for $1,000 insurance on the 10 years annual payment stock-endowntent plan. He pays as follows:

Each year on his insurance	$88 44
Each year on his loan for interest	80 00
Total yearly payments	$ 168 44
Total for ten years	1684 40

which pays up for the insurance, and the insurance pays the loan in full.

If the borrower dies during the ten years his insurance becomes payable and due at once and pays his loan in full, leaving his farm clear and free of all encumbrances, for his family.

NOTE THE DIFFERENCE.

If the borrower effects a loan of $1,000 on the plan usually followed, he must pay interest at the rate of ten per cent. and may be stated as follows:

$1,000 for five years, annual interest	$ 100 00
At the end of the loan he pays interest in the sum of	500 00
When the loan is due he pays	1000 00
Principal and interest paid in 5 years	1500 00

As much within $184.40 as he pays in ten years with insurance with us.

If he makes such a loan for ten years he pays:

Interest	$1000 00
Principal at end of 10 years	1000 00
Total	$2000 00

or $315.60 more than he would pay with us; besides on the 10 per cent. plan he is not insured against death, and if he dies during the life of the loan the "Old Detestable Mortgage" still hangs over the heads of his defenceless wife and children.

D. 1886, duly execute and deliver to The New England Mortgage Security Company, of the County of Windham, State of Connecticut, their mortgage bearing date of 17th day of July, A. D. 1886, whereby they mortgaged to said mortgagee the following described lands situated in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, to-wit: The southeast quarter of southeast quarter of Section 24, Township one hundred and forty-eight (148) Range 45; also lot 4, in Section 19, and lots 1 and 2 in Section 30, Township 148, Range 44 west, containing one hundred and sixty-three and 99-100 acres, to secure the payment of the sum of six hundred and fifty dollars, with interest thereon, according to the conditions of one certain promissory note, with interest coupons attached, bearing even date with said mortgage, and made by said mortgagors to said mortgagee, or order, which said mortgage was on the 27th day of July, A D. 1886, at 3 o'clock p. m., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Polk, in book 27 of mortgages, on page 213; and

Whereas, default has been made in the payment of the sum of forty-five and 50-100 dollars due as interest upon said mortgage on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1888, and on the further sum of forty-five and 50-100 dollars due as interest thereon on the first day of January, A. D. 1889, and on the further sum of forty-five and 50-100 dollars due as interest thereon on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1890, and the said interest is still unpaid and due; and

Whereas, it was stipulated by and between the parties to said mortgage, that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants therein contained on the part of the mortgagors, to be kept and performed, that then and from thenceforth it shall be lawful for the said mortgagee, or its assigns, to consider and declare the whole sum secured thereby as immediately due and payable without notice to said mortgagors or any other party; and

Whereas, The New England Mortgage Security Company has exercised its option to consider and declare, and does hereby consider and declare the whole sum of money secured by said mortgage to be due and payable; and

Whereas, there is now due, and claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of eight hundred twenty-six and 45-100 dollars, and no proceedings have been instituted at law or otherwise to recover the same or any part thereof.

Now, therefore notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained and therewith recorded, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the land therein described, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the City of Crookston, in said County and State, on the 26th day of July, A. D. 1890, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay the sum due on said mortgage, together with taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty dollars attorney's fees therein stipulated to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as provided by law.

D. 1889, duly execute and deliver to the Minnesota Loan and Trust Company of Minneapolis, Minnesota, a corporation as Mortgagee, their mortgage bearing date the 8th day of March, A. D. 1889, whereby they mortgaged to said Mortgagee the following described land situated in the County of Polk, and State of Minnesota, to-wit:

The South-east Quarter of Section One (1), in Township One Hundred and Fifty-three (153) North, of Range 44 West, containing One Hundred and Sixty (160) acres, to secure the payment of Seventy-four and Seventy-five One-hundredths Dollars ($74.75) according to the conditions of one certain promissory note payable in nine (9) semi-annual installments, said note bearing even date with said mortgage, and made by said Mortgagors to said Mortgagee or order; which said mortgage was, on the 8th day of March, A. D. 1889, at five o'clock and ten minutes P. M., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said Polk County, in Book "41" of mortgages, on pages 495 to 498 inclusive.

And whereas, The Minnesota Loan and Trust Company did for value received, on the 10th day of April, A. D. 1889, duly assign the aforesaid note and mortgage and the debt secured thereby, to Halvor Steenerson and Geo. J. McManus, partners as Steenerson & McManus, of Crookston' Minnesota, which said assignment was in writing under seal and duly acknowledged, and was thereafter on the 19th day of June, A. D. 1890, at three o'clock and thirty minutes P. M., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said Polk County, in Book "53" of Mortgages, on pages 366 and 367.

And whereas default has been made in the payment of the sum of Seven and Fifty One-hundredths ($7.50) Dollars, due as the second installment on said note on the 1st day of June, A. D. 1890, and said sum is still unpaid and due,

And whereas it was stipulated and agreed by between the parties to said Mortgage, that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants therein contained on the part of the Mortgagors to be kept and performed, then and from thenceforth it shall be lawful for said Mortgagee and its assigns to consider the whole sum thereby secured to be immediately due and payable witeout notice to said Mortgagors or any other party

And whereas Halvor Steenerson and Geo. J. McManus, assignees of said Mortgagee, have exercised their option to consider and declare, and do hereby declare the whole sum of money secured by said mortgage and still unpaid, to be due and payable.

And whereas there is now due, and claimed to be due upon said Mortgage at the date of this notice, the sum of Sixty-three and seventy-nine One-hundredths (63.79) Dollars, and no proceedings having been instituted by law or otherwise to recover the same or any part thereof,

Now therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale in said mortgage contained, and therewith recorded, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed by sale of the land therein described, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court-house in the City of Crookston, in said County, on the 15th day of August, A. D. 1890, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash; to pay the sum due on said mortgage, together with the taxes, if any, on said premises, and Twenty-five Dollars ($25) attorneys' fees therein stipulated to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law subject to redemption at any time within one year, from the date of sale as provided by law.

Dated, June 26th, A. D. 1890.

HALVOR STEENERSON AND GEO. J. MCMANUS, partners as Steenerson & McManus,
Assignees of Mortgagee.

NEWSPAPER LAW.

1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for the payment.
2. If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscriptions, the suit may be instituted where the paper is published.
4. The Courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers or periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid for, is prima facie evidence of intention to defraud.

Entered at the Post Office in Crookston as Second Class matter.

The Duluth and Lake Superior of Europe.

Duluth Daily Tribune.

The farmers having returned to their respective homes confident that all has been done that can be accomplished by way of mending matters in state politics, had better get a little rest by observing what fate is doing for their amelioration abroad.

The extraordinarily mild winter of the arctic has sent afloat veritable detached ranges of ice glaciers, so massive and numerous, as to be able to resist the gulf currents far beyond the period when they usually melted. This has not only constituted a very dangerous feature of ocean navigation during the whole of the past season, but it has lowered the North Atlantic temperature to such an extent that the month of June in the British isles has proved as unpropitious for the crops as if it has been March.

So serious has the crop outlook become in the agricultural regions of England, that the highest church dignitaries have ordered a regular season of petition on the part of the church for the restoration of crops by divine interposition. It is to be hoped that the prayer for sunshine on the part of bishop and priest may be answered. Nevertheless, indication, point strongly to the contingency that the farmers of the sunlit vales and plains of Minnesota will be the gainers by the dense fogs and incessant rain storms that have prevailed in England all the spring and summer.

Another and more distant factor, but more potent in influence on the world's grain market, is the situation in the "Balkans" of Southeastern Europe. The enormous war indemnity due from Turkey to Russia, the legacy from the last Russian-Turkish war and guaranteed to her under the treaty of Berlin, in 1878, is due. The czar demands the "pound of flesh," which in this case means the money, or the surrender of Constantinople. Between Russia and Turkey on her southeastern border lies the Balkan peninsula. Under direction of Russia its prime minister demands a formal recognition from Turkey of Bulgaria's independence, which she can grant only at the certain risk of having the province of Macedonia do the same, and immediately see that province become part of Greece.

In the meanwhile the czar is having his navy of the Black Sea put in first class fighting trim, and well he may, for on Lake Superior of Eastern Europe will be fought some of the most savage battles of the war that is all but inevitable. And right here is where our interests come in.

The first result of the coming war will be the blockading of Odessa, the Duluth of Russian grain fields. The consequences on the European markets are instant and far reaching. From the present outlook across the Atlantic there is every reason for believing that the slowly melting icebergs of the Arctic and the probable explosion of European tinderbox in the Balkans will do vastly more for the "Farmers' alliance" than good farmer Owen at much less expense and worry to the farming community.

We take the following article from The Northwestern Farmer and Breeder: "The farmers went to the front in 1860 to put down the rebels; 72 per cent. of the rank and file of the army were farmers. When they were away putting down the Southern Confederacy, there was a confederacy of manufacturers and bankers forming in the north, that has ever since been trying to down those very farmers. Already two thirds of all they possessed has been taken from them, and the McKinley bill shows very plainly that the object is to relieve the granger of the remaining third."

Economy.

The Western Rural.

The charges of extravagance on the part of the farmer which are so frequently given, as the cause or his misfortunes, are no doubt well founded in many instances. In a letter from an esteemed friend of The Rural, the writer cites a case of reckless farm management upon the part of a young man, and of extravagance in the purchase of carriages, bonnets, etc., which is by no means an isolated case. The Rural desires it to be distinctly understood that it never for a moment thought that all the misfortune of the masses was attributed to a cause outside of themselves. The great question of the rights of labor involves a vast deal more than is usually touched upon in the discussion of the question. It is a generally admitted fact that outside conditions are not just to the producing classes, and there is so much to say upon that branch of the subject that perhaps other features do not receive the attention that should be given them. In the several industrial department of this journal, however, we have always earnestly endeavored to secure the adoption of intelligent and scientific methods that the cost of production might be cheapened. This is an important part of the question of how to restore prosperity to agriculture. But we have not to be told that there is much wast in our methods of farming, and that thousands are more extravagant than they should be. The abuse of animals, the purchase of machinery which they could get along without and not suffer much in consequence; the exposure of farm implements and machinery to the weather and consequently to destruction; loose methods generally, and the "keeping of too many hens which lay no eggs"—an expression which covers a multitude of errors in management—are the reverse of economy. It is a fact that many of our rich men are what the world calls mean and stingy. Did you ever stop to inquire why this is so? The reason is that in order to become rich they compelled themselves to suffer privation until it has become second nature with them. They saved while others spent; they walked while others rode; they lived on the plainest of food while others lived on the best.

Men accumulate fortunes because the masses are extravagant. There would not be a rich brewer in Chicago to-day, if men did not stand at the bar, and spend their money freely. It is the man who fills himself full to overflowing with beer who makes the brewers rich. He builds palaces for them while perhaps he lives in a hut; he furnishes them with elegant equipages, while he trudges along on foot; he clothes them with the finest fabrics while he wears the cheapest of material and perhaps wears rags. The man who spends twenty-five cents a day for drink wastes enough in a year to buy as fine a suit of clothes as any man in America wears. It amounts to pretty nearly a hundred dollars per anum, and it is the twenty-five cent pieces going over the bar that make millionaire brewers. We frequently say that prosperous farmers make a prosperous nation, and we say it because prosperity enables the farmer to buy all he wants and much more than he needs. It is our duty to be economical and close in the management of our business, and there are few of us who cannot find by investigation of our methods places where we could save many dollars.

But having admitted all this, and urged economy upon the part of the people, the fact nevertheless remains that the farmer is the under dog in the present fierce conflict between classes and classes and interest and interest. As we have repeatedly said the farmer cannot grow oats for fifteen cents a bushel or corn at ten, twelve and fourteen cents a bushel; he cannot produce beef at the prices which have been prevailing for a few years. It matters not what the cause of low prices is, he simply cannot produce these things at such prices. It is certainly not his fault that prices are low, unless we allow the claim that there is great overproduction, and that is not the kind of fault that is attributed to him when he is charged with fault. There is no sort of economy that meets a condition of things which causes the farmer to lose upon nearly all he produces. He cannot possibly lower the cost of production that will enable him to produce profitably while the general market is as it has been. Now are there any outside conditions that might be changed, without injustice to others, in the interest of the farmer? How about the railroad? There is not a railroad of prominence in the West that is not making money? There is not a single line that has not been making big money for the last decade and longer. Even the roads that have been driven into bankruptcy—without a single exception—have made fortunes for somebody, and they are thrown into the hands of a receiver simply because indirectly that course would be the most profitable to those who had control of their management. To use an old idea that we have frequently advanced, is there the slightest reason why a railroad should be permitted to earn ten per cent dividends upon its stock when the larger part of the money comes from farmers who are not making a red cent upon the most that they produce? Now there is a clear cut sense of justice among the American people and to such a people we appeal for an answer to the question: What is the sacredness about railroad capital that should entitle it to the right to assess our present comparatively unprofitable farm capital in order to earn splendid dividends to itself.

Then comes the old matter of watered stock for consideration. All these roads are loaded down with watered stock. They have found that their earnings were sufficient to pay such dividends upon their stock that it would never answer to let the people know that they were earning so much and hence have issued watered stock to absorb these dividends, or perhaps they have been forced to do so because the law—is with the case of the New York Central—does not allow them to pay but so much for maxmum dividends. The money for this stock has gone into the pockets of a few, and the farmer must pay dividends upon the stock. Appealing again to the American sense of fairness, is there anything fair about this? What can the farmer do in the way of economy to meet such an injustice anyhow? And what have his habits of management to do with an outside injustice anyhow? It makes no difference what a man does, it gives another no right to rob him. He may do an injustice to himself or even to society, but society has no right to encourage an injustice upon him.

Affects the Farmer.

The Tariff Bill as It Appears to the Chicago Tribune.

It is not likely that England will change the policy of many years standing and re-enact the corn laws, but it is in the power of the government to hamper greatly by unfriendly legislation the importation of Amerian meat products. The continental states are all wedded to the protective policy, and it will involve no change of front on their part if they shut down utterly on the products of this country. It is true that there has been for some years next to no market for American meats on the continent. A regard for the farmers of the West would dictate that a policy be pursued which would open the market, not close it beyond hope. But with breadstuffs it is different. In 1887 the farmers shipped abroad $90,000,000 worth of wheat. Of this $33,000,000 worth went to England and $84,000,000 worth to the continent—to Belgium, France, Germany, Spain, Italy and the Netherlands. Will the McKinley bill be much of a boom for the Western farmer, if at one blow it deprives him of a market for $30,000,000 worth of surplus wheat? What good will cheap sugar be to him if he have no money to buy it with?

The total value of American exports in 1888 was $683,000,000. Of this $221,000,000 consisted of cotton. That left $462,000,000, of which $257,000,000, or more than half, was made up of the four items of breadstuffs, animals, meat products, with butter and cheese and tobacco. Therefore, if a commercial war comes it will be the farmers chiefly of the West who will have to stand the brunt of it. Judging from the tenor of the speeches at their meetings they are not prepared for it and in no mood for it. They are complaining of their poverty. They will hardly relish a scheme to make them poorer. They say they have not markets enough. They will not fancy being deprived of some of those still left them.

Whether the McKinley bill was or was not meant by its authors for the good of the farmer, Mr. Blaine, who is now in a position where he hears quicker than any one else the sentiment of the political and commercial world beyond the seas, perceives that if the bill were to pass it would not benefit the Western farmer, but the ryot of India, the peasant of Russia and Hungary, and the cattle growers of the broad plains of the Argentine Republic. Having strong American feelings, he prefers that what is done be done for the good of his fellow citizens, and not for their injury and the profit of foreigners.

The building up of two Chinese walls is a game that two can play at. No matter how high Maj. McKinley may rear his, the powers of Europe can build still higher. This wall building may amuse the architects, but where does it leave the American farmer? If he knows his interests he will side with Mr. Blaine.

Chronic Violation of Law.

The Western Rural.

The railroad monopoly is a great corporate, unconverted, criminal and practical anarchist. It lives in almost constant defiance of law, and violates law as deliberately as a thirsty man takes a drink of water. There is enough crime against the laws committed by the railroad management of the country, which if reasonably distributed would fill all the penitentiaries in the world chuck full, if it were punished as it deserves. The study of railroad management is how to get round the law and rob the people. The gentlemen who are paid ten thousand, fifteen thousand and twenty-five thousand dollars a year to be presidents, are paid to do this kind of work. Recently all these gentlemen met in Chicago, and for what? To adopt some plan by which the law could be violated with impunity. That is the explanation in a nutshell. About the first thing these corporate anarchists say about a law is that it is utterly impractical to obey it. Judge Cooley, the chairman of the Inter-State Railroad Commission, batted some of these gentlemen soundly over the head recently upon this feature of railroad anarchy. He said to them in effect, that the law was made for their guidance and they must obey it.

There is a whole volume of truth in those few lines and the castigation that is given is decidedly refreshing. It is a very bad, unruly, headstrong and wayward boy you have hold of, Mr. Cooley. Spank him again, and keep on doing it until the idea begins to creep through his brain that a rascal as a manager of a railroad is just as much a rascal as the man who gets a smaller salary. The railroad must be taught that it is just as answerable to law and justice as the private individual is and if there is no other way to teach it, wring its neck until it cracks.

State Fair Notes.

September 8th to 13th Inclusive.

There is a general waking up all over Minnesota this year regarding her state fair. Farmers are taking an interest in it because the management is taking an interest in them and their interests. It is to be an agricultural fair, and, of course, agriculturists will not be so conspicuous for their absence as they were for the last two years.

The cattle barns will be full; all breeds will be well represented, and for the first time in the history of the fair a fine herd of Duch Belt cattle will be exhibited, a rare curiosity to many.

The horse exhibits will be of unusual size and attractiveness.

There will be the grandest display of sheep ever seen in Minnesota.

The hog delegation will be without a parallel for size and variety.

Expert judges are secured for all kinds of stock, and awards will be promply made, and with the minimum of trouble and annoyance to exhibitors.

"Dock," the celebrated trotting dog, will be a great attraction. He trots against horses, bicycle riders, etc., and makes lots of fun.

One of the most thrilling scenes ever witnessed on a fair ground is the chariot races of Mr. and Mrs. McDonaly, each driving four magnificent horses. These races will be a daily feature.

L. H. Wilcox, aided by able assistants, is working hard to make the bee and honey exhibits a great feature of the fair. Honey making and bee handling in plain sight!

In its new and larger quarters the dairy exhibit will be something to remember for a life time, and will furnish many instructive lessons in butter and cheese making.

W. A. Gates, manager of the poultry department is delighted with the better quarters assigned to his pet birds, and proposes to make the poultry exhibit surpass all former ones.

The high-class farmer's institutes under the management of Supt. Gregg, to be held in the fine and comfortably seated Art Hall will be interesting, instructive and restful adjuncts to the fair.

The state press is doing patriotic and effective work for the great fair.

Theo. Louis, editor of F. S. & H.'s swine department, and agreebly known to thousands of Minnesotians, will judge the hog, and will be glad to "talk hog" with multitudes of his friends.

Railroad fares will be half price.

Cost of entertainment of man and beast will be made low as possible.

The horticultural department proposes to out-do itself this year, which assures a magnificent exhibit.

It is believed that an opportunity will be offered at this fair to see the largest crowds of people ever assembled in the state.

Space forbids our saying more in this issue but "the half has not been told." Other announcements will be made hereafter.

Free Rides.

The Western Rural.

An officer in one of our Chicago courts a few days ago was endeavoring to find free transportation to an Eastern point. He said that he did not know how to obtain it. If some railroad had a case before the court in which he was an officer, he said there would not be the slightest trouble in getting transportation. "They are always very mellow," he said, "when they have a case in court." This is precisely what The Rural has always declared was the character of this free pass business. The roads never act from charitable motives. If they give anything they get something in return or expect to, if conditions should require it. Yet legislators and other officials whose pockets are bulging with free transportation have the hardihood to declare that the giving or acceptance of a free pass means nothing. It means that the railroad believes that for this insignificant favor it will stand a pretty good chance of securing the influence of the official, if it should ever stand in need of such influence. The roads believe that at least in the majority of cases the official can be bribed and bribed mighty cheaply. We do not pretend to say that every official who accepts a pass is bribed or can be bribed. But that is the intention in this free transportation business and every public officer ought to be free from the slightest taint of suspicion.

Killing the Goose.

The Western Rural.

The Western Rural for years has warned this magnificent nation against doing or permitting any injustice to agriculture—the goose that lays the nation's golden egg. Every wrong that is inflicted upon this foundation industry points not to prosperity but to ultimate national adversity and indeed to national ruin. The Free Methodist sends an excellent article upon the subject. Among other things it contains are some valuable statistics. It says that according to the last census of the United States, the number of persons engaged in farming was 7,670,493. This cannot include the wives and children of farmers, though they do a good share of the farm work, for the whole number of farms in the United States was 4,008,907. So that less than two persons for a farm was returned as the number of persons engaged in agriculture. The value of the farms was $10,197,096,776. The value of farming implements and machinery was $406,520,055. The value of the live stock on the farms was $1,500,464,609. The cost of fertilizers purchased for one year was $28,586,397. This makes the total of capital invested in farming in the year 1879, $12,132,667,837. The estimated gross value of all farm productions for that year was $2,213,402,564. This includes all that was sold, all that was consumed on the farm and all that was on hand.

The gross product for the labor of each person engaged in farming was $288.56 for the year—two hundred eighty-eight dollars, fifty-six cents! This does not, as we understand it, include their board, nor the cost of seeds sown and planted, nor the interest on the capital. But the interest alone on the capital invested in farming, amounts at six per cent to $94.90 for each person. Deduct this and we have $193.66 as the gross product of the labor of each person engaged in farming! This amounts to not quite sixty-two cents a day! Out of this is to come the board and clothing! Is it any wonder that farming does not pay?

The number of persons engaged in manufactures in the United States for the same year was, males above sixteen years, 2,019,035. Females above fifteen years, 531,639; children and youth 181,921. This makes a total of 2,732,595. The capital invested was $2,790,272,606. The gross product of the manufactories was $5,369,579,191. From this deduct the value of the matirial used, $3,396,823,549. This gives a net product of the manufactories, of $1,972,755,642 for one year. This is, for each man, woman and child engaged in manufacturing, the sum of $721.93 as the product of his or her labor. Deduct the interest on the capital invested, which amounts for each person to $61.26, and we have as the net product of the labor of each person engaged in manufactures, for the year, $660.67. This amounts to $2.11 a day.

These statistics we presume are correct, and if the condition of affairs which they represent does not awaken farmers to the necessity of coming boldly to the front and standing together for their own rights, we do not know what will do it. Among the remedies which our contemporary suggests is to enact such stringent laws against trusts as will make their formation impossible. That is good and just what The Rural advocates, and what we shall yet do. We are getting there.

City clerk Carruth and wife, and W. C. Kelso and sister returned on Saturday from a trip to the Red Lake Country. W. C. informs our reporter that the trip, though rough, was very enjoyable.

Tim Donovan goes east for goods for Fontaine & Anglim. He will go, or return, via the great lakes so as to mix a little pleasure with the business. They will lay in an immense stock for the fall trade.

The Bulletin says that Hugh Thompson will go on a trip to the great lakes about Aug. 5th, and will return home about the 25th. His many friends will rejoice at this and trust that his recovery is permanent.

Big weights and small prices—that's Holmboe's motto. [14-27]

There seems to have been an unusual number of hail storms in Minnesota this year. Many who were not insured are now regretting that they neglected this important duty. There is yet time to cover much wheat.

Sunday was a scorcher. Many farmers were apprehensive that very much of such weather would settle the wheat question in the wrong way. This is the critical period for wheat and the next ten days decides whether we get any wheat or not.

On Sunday evening about 9 o'clock the fire bell rang out its wild alarm, startling our citizens from their peaceful abodes or the sanctuary as the case might be. The alarm was caused by the knocking down of three lamps at the M. E. church. A children's concert was in progress and a young Miss, carrying a banner, knocked a lamp to the floor. Frightened at the catastrophe she fled along the aisle to the door, and while passing under the chandelier the flag staff knocked out two lamps which greatly added to the panic. A few level-headed persons went to work to extinguish the blazes and succeeded in doing so before any material damage was done. When the department reached the edifice the fun was all over and the excitement dying out. Several of our good citizens indulged in a large-sized untamed fright however.

Robert Street begins to hum right lively. See our new ads in this issue.

Oh, no, that aint Sullivan. It is only Tom Morris on deck for business at the new stand.

E. D. CHILDS & Co.

On Monday our base ball club, accompanied by a goodly crowd, went over to Grand Forks via the N. P. R. R. to cross bats with the G. F. club. They crossed, and the home team lost the game by a score of 6 to 18.

E. D. Childs?—You need not be scared about wheat. The damage is small as yet, while we may have some shrunken kernels and not as many kernels on the head as usual, yet wheat is all right. I have examined many fields.

Lawrence, Mass., has had a regular cyclone which destroyed much property and killed eight people. Heretofore our good Massachusetts brethren have been advising their people not to come to Minnesota on account of cyclones and sich. What will they say now?

During the storm on Monday lightning struck the chimney on J. B. Roome's residence, in the town of Roome. Nobody hurt, but Mr. Roome, who was getting ready to come to town, was somewhat shook up and complained that his head felt "kind o' queer all the afternoon."

Fred Durand:—"You may say that we are here by a large majority—on deck with both feet, though the lightning flashed and the thunder rolled, we were not phazed a hair's breadth. You may tell everybody to call and see us at the new stand—one door west of Uncle Sam's P. O. D."

Mayor McKinnon and wife went to St. Paul last week. The mayor was down to see about building material for the new block and incidentally dropped into the convention to see what the prospects were for building material for the hopes of the democratic party. Judging from the size of the smile that spread over his benign (7 be 9) countenance after the nomination of Merriam, we judge that he found lots of material.

What did you say? "Andy Stephens can't speak in meetin'?" Well, you just ought to have seen him mount his sorrel-headed Pegasus and charge the cohorts in that convention last week. Everybody just craned his neck to see him and hundreds asked "who's that? Didn't know they had so much bottled eloquence in that neck of the woods!" Andy was presenting the name of McGuire for auditor, and he did it splendidly.

Mr. Frank Bivins built a bridge last week and then fell off of it. Whether he did this as a test or only for fun he does not say, but from his present appearance we should say there was no fun in it. He took a drop of 17 feet which was just one drop too much and came near wrecking his anatomy. Though not a third party prohibitionist he is a strictly temperance man and says that henceforth he will never take another drop—not if he can help it.

County Central Committee.

Pursuant to the Republican County Convention held at Crookston on July 18th, 1890, I hereby appoint the following as the county central committee:

A. D. Stephens, chairman, Crookston.
E. M. Hoff, St. Hilaire.
A. Kaiser, Fosston.
Dr. A. Nelson, Fertile.
Hugh Thompson, Fisher.
Robert Coulter, Mallory.
A. A. Miller, Crookston.

JOHN CROMB,
Chairman Republican Convention.

It seems sad to think that you will find the densest ignorance in a community among a board of school officers.

We are all pleased with the nomination of P. J. McGuire for state auditor if he gets as many votes in every township in the state as he will in Reis he will be elected by an overwhelming majority.

Hip, hip, hurrah for McGuire!

LETTER FROM THE BLACK HILLS.

HOT SPRINGS, June 15, 1890.

ED. JOURNAL:—As I promised to give you a pen picture of my trip, I will now endeavor to do so to the best of my ability. We started from Pierre on the 9th day of June, 1890. Our company was a jolly one, composed of mixed nationalities, mostly Norwegians, and from all parts of the country. There were nine of us in two conveyances. We traveled through some very fine country and some that was not so fine, but I must say that I found it much better than I expected. The reservation is much like the rest of Dakota, mostly open prairie, but more broken with ravines or small creeks, many of which have springs of water in them, and along the creeks more or less timber is found. In some places there would be from six to ten acres of timber on a quarter section, enough to furnish building material and fire wood for a lifetime. The timber is mostly cottonwood, elm, ash and cedar, cottonwood and cedar predominating.

This country furnishes an abundance of proof of Noah's flood, or of another one just as great. I went out on an exploring expedition from Cheyenne City and on the top of some of the highest hills, many of them 800 feet above the valley below, I found pieces of petrified fish and sea shells. I think this part of the world must have had a thorough shaking up at some period in its history, as the hills are all standing up edgeways. After looking over the country in the neighborhood of Cheyene, and the boys deciding not to locate there, we returned to Pierre by another route. On arriving there we replenished our "grub stake" and started for the Black Hills. On this trip we saw much fine farming and grazing land. About the head of Bad River and some of its branches the country is very fine, the soil rich and an abundance of good water. We struck no settlement until we crossed the Cheyene River, on the old Pierre and Deadwood road, except a few ranches, owned by Frenchmen. After crossing the above named river, we come into a settlement that has been developing for the past eight years and reaching a distance of 65 or 70 miles. The farming in this settlement is mixed, the farms are nearly all fenced and the stock runs at large. The farmers show some indications of hard times and some of the farms are abandoned, but most of them are occupied by thrifty farmers, who seem to be getting along very nicely, and there is no reason why they should not. There is a good market here for all kinds of farm products at good prices. Butter is worth from 15 to 25 cents, eggs are worth 15 cents. This is by far the best farming country in Dakota. There are flour mills in every town in the Hills, and some of them have two, all run by water power. Rapid City is the largest city in the Hills, or at least it appears so to me. There are a number of other small towns. Fort Mead is a charming little place, beautifully located, and as it is a government post it is nicely laid out and has every convenience for the comfort of the soldiers. Deadwood is not by any means a pretty place, but it is the brains and energy of the Hills country; every railroad is heading for that dirty town. We did not visit the Homstake mines as our time was limited.

We returned to Rapid City, and after resting a few days, started out again, following the Fremont, Elkhorn & M. V. R. R. south of Buffalo Gap. We were not so favorably impressed with this country, and from Buffalo Gap we proceeded westward ten miles where we are now located, and will be for some time to come. We are in camp on the Fall River, about four miles from the hot springs. It is a beautiful place and the scenery is grand, surpassing anything I have ever before seen. The river is not large but it has some very nice falls over rocks and bottoms, and the cliffs are almost perpendicular, and crowned with pine and cedar. Some fine specimens of petrified moss are to be found hereabouts. I suppose I am more struck with the beauty of this place than people would be who have been used to such scenery, but it has been so long since I have seen anything like it, I can appreciate it.

Buffalo Gap, on the Fremont, Elkhorn & Missouri Valley R. R. is located in the Beaver Creek Valley, two and one-half miles southwest of the Gap, the natural gateway to the Hills country. The town is bounded on the northeast, south and southwest by as good an agricultural country as can be found anywhere, which fact is substantiated by the abundant crops that reward the efforts of the farmers in this favored section of country. Lying contiguous to the mountain range, which is covered by dense forests of pine timber, the acknowledged regulator of the rainfall, the soil never lacks for the necessary moisture that insures good crops, while the numerous springs of crystal water emanating from the Hills, furnish nature's beverage in inexhaustible quantities. The country is being rapidly settled and the time is not far distant when every foot of the farm land in this vicinity will have been subdued by the energetic farmer. There are many choice tracts yet to be had under the homestead, pre-emption and timber culture acts, but delays are dangerous. The rapid rate at which settlers are coming in demonstrates that the home-seeker who procrastinates must ere long go farther west. The immense stone quarries that have gained for Buffalo Gap the appellation of the Stone City, must be seen to be appreciated. The works of the Dakota Quarry and Mining Company are situated two miles from the depot. Their quarry consists of the finest brown building stone in quantity inexhaustible, and of a formation that will furnish single blocks that will constitute a carload. The Elm Creek variegated quarry is a few miles farther south, and consists, as its name implies, of a quality of building stone in which all the resplendent hues of the rainbow are reproduced and is unexcelled for artistic building. The product of the Odell quarries is a clear white, and a grey stone, capable of fine polish, and is also a magnificent building material. In addition to the rock interests, traces of gold, silver and tin have been found near here and will undoubtedly be developed in paying quantities. Immense ledges of fine marble are to be found within a few miles from here. The Hot Springs branch of the F., E. & M. V. R. R., now being built, and which will be in operation by the first of September, will tap these quarries and furnish an outlet for that industry.

In point of healthfulness this section is unsurpassed, the altitude being 3,200 feet above sea level, which insures immunity from malarial diseases; it is, in fact, a paradise of health. The winters are mild; stock of all kinds feed all winter on the naturally cured grasses and are in good condition in the spring. All branches of the trades and professions are represented and all the business men in the mercantile line are prospering. We have, at present, one bank, one flouring mill of twenty-five barrels capacity, two general stores, two grocery and provision stores, two drug stores, two hardware and implement stores, two first-class hotels, two restaurants, two blacksmith shops, one shoe store, one lumber yard, one clothing store, one barber shop, two temperance halls, four land and loan offices, two physicians, three attorneys, one newspaper, three churches, Congregational, Methodist and Episcopal, with resident pastors, and good schools nine months in the year.

(SEAL.) JOHN CROMB, A. E. FLANDERS, JOSEPH KELSO, } Directors.

Northwestern Miller: I. E. Baker, head miller of the La Grange mill at Red Wing, came up here Saturday and spent the day. His mill is running full time and has all the orders for flour that it can fill. Mr. Baker has been advised that his family is in a fair way of soon coming into possession of a large fortune reverting from his paternal grandfather. The latter's name was Seigler, and his estate is said by the New York World to amount to $3,000,000. This is in the shape of bank stock and real estate in the heart of Philadelphia. It seems that until recently the record of the line of family descent was incomplete, from the lack of a bible of Mrs. Elizabeth Baker, the deceased grandmother of Mr. Baker, but this has now been found, and no further trouble is anticipated in establishing the right of the Baker family to the estate. There were three children in the family of Elizabeth Baker, one of whom was the father of Head Miller Baker, now dead. This would bring one-third of the estate to Mr. Baker and his brothers and sisters, of whom there are ten. J. K. Baker, a millowner of Bath, N. Y., is one of the number, and it is through his efforts that the case has been worked up. The numerous friends of "Ike" Baker will be much pleased to hear of his fine prospects.

The Republican Ticket.

For Governor,
W. R. Merriam, of Ramsey County.
For Lieut. Governor,
Gideon S. Ives, of Nicollet County.
For Secretary of State,
Fred P. Brown, of Faribault Co.
For Auditor,
Peter J. McGuire, of Polk County.
For Treasurer,
Joseph Bobleter, of Brown County.
For Attorney General,
Moses E. Clapp, of Otter Tail County.
For Clerk of the Supreme Court,
Chas. P. Holcombe, of Washington Co.

The above ticket is the result of the Republican State Convention held in St. Paul on Thursday, July 24th. It contains four new names; G. S. Ives, F. P. Brown, P. J. McGuire and C. P. Holcombe. Mr. Ives is one of the most prominent Republican politicians in the State and if elected to preside over the body he has so long been an efficient member of will be a credit to the position and to the State. F. P. Brown is an entirely new man, little known outside of his bailiwick but is said to be a good man, well qualified for the position for which he has been selected by his party. P. J. McGuire is one of the foremost of Polk County's prominent young men. He has been for ten years auditor of this county and W. W. Braden, the State Auditor, says Mac is the best county auditor in the State. He will go out of Polk County with a bigger vote than any other man on the ticket and THE JOURNAL would like to see him elected. The candidate for Clerk of the Supreme Court we do not know, but he is said to be in every way fitted for the position. Some seemed to think the present incumbent J. P. Jones should have been elected on the grounds that he has had but one term but as the length of the term for Clerk of Court is double that of any other office we can't see the validity of that argument providing the other man is as well qualified. The Attorney General, Moses E. Clapp is one of nature's noble men—a man of the people, and if he could have the right kind of backing he could and would bring the railroads to terms right lively. Mr. Clapp did all in his power to lead the party into the right course for the campaign, urging the necessity for the selection of strong, popular men as leaders and should it be defeated he will have the consciousness of having done what he could to prevent it.

Hon. S. G. Comstock has introduced a bill to authorize the secretary of agriculture to establish a uniform grade for all kinds of grain bought, handled, transferred or shipped from one state or territory to another, or to foreign countries.

The Great West gives the Farmers' convention a scathing write up in its issue of July 25th. This state of things only confirms the position of THE JOURNAL that the time for independent action is not ripe. Mr. Donnelly, the father of the alliance in Minnesota, the strongest, the truest friend it has, was sacrificed to blind prejudice and partizan hate, which could never have happened in a body of men so fully and thoroughly drilled as to be able to be and act in perfect harmony on the main question. THE JOURNAL has held the position that the importance of the movement and the raw condition of the troops offered a golden opportunity for the fine Italian hand of the demagogue to get in its work, and this has proven true almost to the tearing asunder of the alliance as a party. Old party office-seekers, who failed to capture the plums they sought, rushed in; demagogues, who saw the opportunity of a lifetime, caught on; all these recognizing that their schemes would be fruitless under the eagle eye of the great head of the alliance, at once and with one accord began the attempt to "down Donnelly." And that became the watchword and the main idea. Corporate power that for the last 25 years has been engaged in the same laudable effort, saw its opportunity and contributed money and brains. That the effort attained as much of success as it did, is due wholly to the new recruits who were novices in this fight, who had not drilled with the Old Guards long enough to be thoroughly posted. All such were naturally meat for the ravenous wolves, sheep for the vultures to pluck. One great trouble was lack of confidence in Donnelly, which trouble would not have existed had the troops been ready for the fray. Mr. Donnelly, whose long experience in the work gave him a far better opportunity for knowing all about it than the raw recruits could have, saw the dangers of the situation and urged moderation on the independent idea, urged the alliance to pursue a course that would insure success. This did not suit the schemers, so fearing lest Mr. Donnelly should win, they called in the labor element to aid in downing Donnelly, thus dividing the alliance against itself. Had the alliance followed the course originally mapped out, success could have easily been secured, and so far as legislation could have cured the evils the farmers have to endure, they could have accomplished it. By taking independent political action before they were fully organized they took the only method by which defeat might be accomplished.

Battle Lake Review:—Rev. I. Tharaldson and family, of Chippewa Falls Wis., were in our village and called upon their friends here the first of the week. They are visiting Mrs. Tharaldson's parents, in Fergus Falls.

HAIL INSURANCE!

NOW IS THE TIME to insure your crops against loss by hail, in the Minnesota Alliance Storm Association. Members sustaining loss to their growing crops by hail shall be entitled to compensation as follows, which shall be net: When the loss is entire the price per acre shall in no case exceed the following established prices, the amount to be determined according to stand:

Wheat	$8.00	Rye	$6.56
Oats	6.50	Barley	6.00
Corn	7.00	Flax	7.00

In cases of partial loss the following prices per bushed will be used in adjusting; providing, however, the price shall in no case exceed the above established limit per acre:

Wheat	50 cents	Corn	23 cents
Oats	20 "	Flax	75 "
Barley	25 "	Rye	33 "

Losses shall be due and payable within sixty days after adjustment, but in case of excessive losses the Directors shall have discretionary power to defer a portion of the payment until November 15th. Insure with the

MINNESOTA ALLIANCE STORM ASSOCIATION.

This Company has already insured FORTY THOUSAND ACRES in Southern Minnesota, which already insures a large business. The following is a list of agents in Polk County:

M. E. Bartlett,	Crookston P. O.	Simon Kjelhaug,	Fosston P. O.
C. A. Johnson,	Rockstad "	W. A. Marin	Melvin "
A. Boddy	Edna "	A. P. Toupin	Brooks "
J. O. Stortroen,	Neby "	Otto F. Buse	St. Hilaire "
C. L. Lanmon	McIntosh "	K. Rollag,	Gossen "
Owen Nelson,	McIntosh "	W. G. Hunt,	King "
P. W. Johnson	Valley "	Walter Latta,	Buffington "

With the present prospect this company will be enabled to insure for you at at an expense very much inside of ten cents per acre.

This is not the year to depend on party prestige—men and principles are wanted, and the men who will do what the farmers need, and the principles they represent, will be the men the average farmer will vote for. It is true that the alliance party made some bad mistakes, mistakes that have rendered the accomplishment of their object doubtful for the present campaign as they tend to alienate many farmer votes from the alliance ticket, but these same votes are by no means sure for one party or another—they are liabble to go for the best men regardless of party lines. This campaign calls for an entirely new method, and the party which first recognizes and adopts this method will be the winner. The votes are with the farmers to use for the advancement of the best interests of the country, and those men only who represent those interests are entitled to them, and those alone will get them.

Was It a Put Up Job?

In its last issue the Great West says: "It will be remembered that Dr. Fish emphatically declared that the convention could not proceed to nominate candidates for office to be voted for in cities of over 10,000 inhabitants until the officers and tellers had been sworn. He insisted upon this, but was overborne by the officials. * * * * Now, gentlemen, what shall we do? Will you leave out your ballots in all the cities—or hold another convention? Perhaps some day the Hall crowd will grow wiser and take a hint or two. It will be utterly impossible to get the present ticket into the large cities of Minnesota."

If the position of the Great West is correct, there can be no doubt that the schemers purposely put up a job to defraud the alliance ticket of the labor vote, for it is not possible for them to plead ignorance in face of that warning. Then, too, they must have known the law, otherwise they were unfit for leaders. THE JOURNAL has insisted all the while that they were unfit, to be leaders in so important a matter, and this is one of the many reasons why we feared the independent movement. With such rank demagogues as T. C. Hodgson, et al at the head of the concern, we wonder that any honest farmer could hope to see his cause prosper. Such leaders as that don't want it to be successful, for if it was, it would let them out of a job. The fat job is what they are after without regard to anything else. The loss of the labor vote in the large cities is a loss that means easy defeat to the ticket, and these demagogues knew it, and events seem to indicate that they deliberately planned it. It is a crying shame that the advice of the conservative leaders did not prevail—with that, success would have been sure, and a free and open wheat market would haye as surely followed, but the idea that the alliance is obliged to conquer the whole world, "East Grand Forks and Mike Jeffers," in order to succeed, is all bosh.

TOTALLY UNFIT

Princeton Union:—S. M. Owen, the Farmers' Alliance nominee for governor is a well-informed, honorable and conscientious gentleman. He is the editor and part owner of Farm, Stock & Home, one of the ablest and best-conducted agricultural journals in the country. It is hardly probable that Mr. Owen will be elected, but he may develop a strength at the polls that will surprise some of the old politicians. However, a great deal depends upon the action of the Republican and Democratic State conventions. Mr. Owen's colleagues on the ticket are unknown nonentities.

THE NEW PARTY.

An Authoritative Announcement of "The Alliance."

What Is Proposed to Be Accomplished and Who Are Included.

Farm, Stock and Home.

The new independent political party in Minnesota has been christened "The Alliance." The name, Farmers' Alliance, will continue to designate the farmer organization, but the new party is not composed of farmers alone, so the word farmer is not incorporated in the party name. The name adopted signifies an alliance of all citizens who are opposed to making the possession of wealth the measure of fitness for puplic offices; who object to the political spoils system; who regard the intervention of the caucus in legislation as destructive of true representative government; who favor lower and more equitably distributed taxation; who are in favor of reduced tariff schedules; who desire honestly and economically administered government—National, State and municipal; who would banish from our economic system the over-capitalization of corporate monopolies, who would destroy capitalistic conspiracies formed to control in their own interests the prices of necessaries of life; who believe in fiscal legislation in the interest of the masses instead of the classes; who believe that the rights of man are paramount to the rights of party, and who believe that law makers owe their first and highest duty to their constituents and not to King Caucus, or to their party bosses. The Alliance platform is broad enough to hold all, and just enough to tempt all to mount it. Under various names farmers in nearly every State in the Union are mounting such a platform and the signs now are that by 1892 all of them will be crystalized under one name and on one platform into a party that will sweep the country like a cyclone. A new party, to be dominated by industrial and ligitimate business interests, is an imperative need of the times.

WHO ARE IN IT.

There seems to be a misunderstanding on the part of the city press regarding the complexion of the late independent political convention. The press persists in calling it the Farmers' Alliance Convention, and says that the movement it presented was purely a farmers' movement. But this is not true. The convention was inspired and called by the Farmers' Alliance; its members decided by an almost unanimous vote upon independent political action, and invited all industrial classes—whether in shop or store—to join them. In response to the invitation the labor element of the cities came into the convention with duly accredited delegates and acted with it throughout. The ticket selected will be as loyally supported, probably more so, by the laborers—and even many small tradesmen of cities and towns—as by farmers. The determination to act with political independence is rapidly asserting itself in the industrial classes of nearly every State in the Union; not among farmers alone, nor among the poor or ignorant farmers, either, as is asserted, but among the very best farmers, and the workers in other industries. The present movement is a ground swell of the masses for purer administration, for more wholesome laws, for the substitution of patriotism for partisanship in legislation, for relief from vicious economic and financial systems and practices, for the elimination of the power of mere wealth from our political system, and for the ultimate destruction of laws and customs which have proven to be machines for the centralization of the wealth of the nation in the hands of a favored few of our citizens. This is not a narrow, nor a class movement, but is broad, popular, and with a foundation of equal and exact justice to all men!

Wheat Inspection.

Farm Stock and Home.

As we have a state wheat inspection law, and it seems to be considered the one law enacted especially for the farmer's benefit which has not been declared unconstitutional by the highest tribunal in the land, I was a little curious to learn in what way we farmers are benefited by it.

In selling wheat to local buyers I could not see that the inspection law made any difference, for local buyers seemed under instructions from headquarters not to grade above a certain standard, and to dock to a certain extent because the state inspection docked so heavily on every car shipped. So it seems that local buyers use the state inspection law as a shield and an excuse to bleed the farmers.

While in Minnapolis recently I visited the yards and witnessed the inspection of 45 cars of wheat, and can truthfully say that the dockage I saw did not justify the claim of local buyers that state inspection makes heavy dockage by them necessary. The car inspected would average in dirt and foul seeds with most of the wheat sold here; yet the heaviest docking done that morning was two pounds to the bushel. I recognize in our present mode of buying and grading wheat, so far as we farmers are concerned, no encouragement to raise good wheat, or to clean wheat for sale. The man raising the poorest quality of wheat and offering it for sale in the worst possible condition receives nearer its true value than the man who raises the best quality and offers it for sale in the best possible form.

I decided a few years ago that the farmer who raised the best wheat and offered it for sale in the best possible condition would have least cause for complaint. Acting upon that decision I purchased of Mr. Wellman, at the state fair, four bushel of his prize wheat, thinking I was getting the best wheat offered for sale in the state, and have been raising that variety ever since. Last fall I cleaned up a load and took it to the elevator; it was graded No. 1 Northern, with two pounds off for dirt, as was said, but on geitting the weight I found I was one bushel short.

If our laws in regard to wheat inspection, etc., do not encourage the raising of better wheat and putting it upon the market in the best possible shape, then in the name of common sense what are they for? Have heard a great deal from wheat buyers in regard to hard varieties of wheat containing more gluten than soft varieties; the soft varieties containing principally starch, etc. Now, I get no more flour or bran at the mill than the neighbor having the soft varieties of wheat. Some of my neighbors say I am foolish to raise hard wheat, when the soft will yield more and bring just as much on the market. I raise the hard wheat on principle, and am ever striving to produce the best, and any law or system which does not encourage that should be done away with I for one would not mourn if the whole inspection system was abolished, as it seems that the miller and commission men at present virtually dictate what the grade of wheat shall be. If there is any kicking on the part of buyers as to grade established by state inspection, there is a re-inspection ordered, with a view, I suppose, of thoroughly satisfying the buyer; but if a farmer ship a car of wheat and is dissatisfied with the grading, is there any re-grading done for him?

What difference can it make to the swindled farmer whether it is done openly or he is led to believe he is fairly treated under a state law but finds he is swindled all the same, only it is under the cloak of law, to administer which he is heavily taxed!

HAMLIN V. POORE.

Farm Stock and Home: "Farmers, economize." Certainly, why not? Farmers are compelled to take an unpleaseat amount of economy in theirs now; and that is largely the reason why about 1,000,000 laborers in skilled industries in this country are now idle. Let us all pray for a speedy coming of the time when farmers can be more extravagant in matters of necessaries and of some of the milder luxuries.

The Alliance North and South.

Duluth Weekly News.

While the farmers are stirring up political affairs in Minnesota, their brethren in South Carolina are creating still greater consternation among the politicians of their state. The trouble in both states seems to be the same—dissatisfaction with state legislation and administration. When it comes to specifications the complaints are not definite but refer in a general way to high taxes and general corruption. The South Carolinian's have a Donnelly among them—a man of the name of Tillman who is the choice of the Alliance for governor. The regular Democratic organization stands in about the same attitude as the Republican machine in Minnesota, its principal object at present being to attack Tillman personally and to encourage the belief that the Alliance movement will not amount to anything. But so far from succeeding in the latter attempt, they have only made the campaign more violent and bitter, especially in the rural districts where the farmers are becoming more and more hostile to the plans of the politicians in the city.

It will not be surprising if Minnesota and South Carolina should both make this a noted year in their political history. There is but little of the old-time enthusiasm for party existing, and it is going to be harder work than usual to keep up the regular organization of the majority. The effects of those in power in both states are chiefly directed to the selfish purpose of perpetuating themselves in power, while the interests of the public in general are ignored in the greedy race of individuals for office.

Few Facts and Figures.

Northwestern Farmer and Breeder.

One constantly hears the remark made that this tariff business is a very complicated question, that not one man in a thousand understands it. Now, can any one tell why our government should have a financial policy that an ordinary man cannot understand? If the government is for the people, by the people, etc., we should have a system of taxation that these same people can comprehend. It is estimated that a tax of $5.00 a piece would provide all the money needed to run the national government. It would be better to levy a direct tax of $5.00 a head, so we would know exactly what we are paying. Then, if it appeared that the millionaire manufacturers in Pittsburg and other eastern towns needed assistance, levy another direct tax and pay them cash. We would at least be able to understand the working of such a scheme, and all which would be necessary then, would be to show the justice of taxing one class for the benefit of another, to make everything serene. But here we have a complicated system of tariff taxation, requiring a huge army of high salaried officials to conduct—that takes two hundred and fifty millions of dollars in cash through the custom houses; that costs the people one thousand millions a year by increasing the costs of the necessaries of life; that enables trusts to bleed the farmers; that puts a duty of 10 per cent. on diamonds and other things that are only indulged in by the rich, and 80 per cent. on a wool shirt that a poor man must have; that fully one half of the people in the country believe is down right robbery, and a majority of the other half admit few can understand; and all we have in return is a doubtful theory that somehow or other this wholesale robbery is good for us! In 1860 the farmers owned one half the wealth. Now, after 30 years of "protection" the farmers own just one-sixth of the wealth. There is one cold fact that goes a long way toward knocking out the finest protectionist theory.

Low Priced Harness.

Farm Stock and Home: A recent serious runaway, in which a woman and child were badly injured, was occasioned by the breaking of a new harness that the husband and father had just before made a "great bargain" in buying. Good substantial harness is cheap these days, quality considered, but there are grades of harness sold at phenomenally low price which are likely to prove the most extravagant purchases imaginable; they may cost large doctor's bills, great suffering and possibly human life. Economy, getting the most for the money, is commendable, but it is not safe to look for it in the direction of a shoddy harness that will prove treacherous at the instant of all others when reliability is most essential.

Good Times.

The Western Rural.

An article in a contemporary, by Mr. S. M. Knox, which is sent to us marked, endeavors to tell the farmer what to do to be happy and prosperous. He gives the following remedy for hard times: "First, industry, Second, frugality. You can find everywhere some people who have been industrious all their lives, and in their habits of living have been frugal. On the farms of these people you find no mortgages. On their goods and chattels are no chattel mortgages. They have made it a rule of their lives to live within their income; they never contract a debt unless they know just how they can meet it at maturity; they never buy anything unless they absolutely need it; they draw a line between real and imaginary wants; they attend strictly to business; they are diligent. Diligence is the master of good luck, and God gives all things to industry."

It is every man's duty to be industrious and frugal. But the average farmer is industrious enough is he not? He works fourteen hours a day part of the season. That ought to be enough to satisfy the demand for industry. And the average farmer is frugal. Farmers as a class are not extravagant and never have been. But suppose he works twenty hours a day and lives on bread and water and wears clothes that he begs, how are these things to make him prosperous when outside conditions have crowded down the price of his products, until he cannot get for them what it costs to produce them? That is what we cannot understand. The farmer may have no mortgage on his farm and may be out of debt, but how can he keep out of debt if he runs behind every year? That is what we would like to have answered.

Mr. Knox said: "It seems to me that too many people in the United States, and particularly among the native born, have abandoned all, or many of the old land marks, and the safe rules that governed our forefathers, and hence launched out in the sea of speculation and extravagance; they want to become suddenly rich. The old fashioned industry and frugality has gone out of style, with too many of them. After the breaking out of the rebellion, and the issuing of greenbacks in 1860 and making of them a legal tender, etc., price of everything produced from the field and factory advanced in price. Everyone that had anything to sell, got fabulous prices for it; many that were in debt soon found themselves out of debt and on the high road to wealth. It is not necessary for me to go into a minute detail of the history of the country for the last twenty-five years, to follow prices from gold at par to 250 and 285, but suffice it to say that as the country went back gradually from these great heights to a specie basis; back to the point left in 1862, when green-backs were made a legal tender, prices have been tending downward and it is said, and that is my observation, that real estate is the last to rise and the last to decline. When personal property commences to advance, you may look for a rise in real estate, and same when personal property commences to decline, real estate is sure to follow down. During this period of great inflation, when prices of everything were going up with gold, and all were apparently getting rich, plenty of money everywhere, people became speculators and began to form habits of extravagance. They indulged in luxuries, and these luxuries soon became necessaries; they ran many times heavily into debt, expecting prices to advance and hoping to realize handsome profits; but, alas, it is as all ought to know and should have known from the history of all countries and all times, that such times are very dangerous times. They ought to know, that it would be only a question of time when the country will, and must return to the specie basis, and when the return is made and the solid basis reached, alas for the ones that are in debt at such times and under such circumstances. Then the 'hard times' is a reality. People who supposed they were rich are poor in fact, all faded away, vanished hopes blasted. But in all this we find no intimation of how a man can keep on growing fifteen cent oats and twelve cent corn and make a living. It does not account for railroads making more this year than they did last, while the farmer is getting poorer. It is a mistake to say that farmers as a class are speculators. They are not, never were and never will be.

Sizing Them Up.

Northfield News: A group of Republican politicians were setting in a lobby of one of the St. Paul hotels the other evening and were discussing the relative efficiency and ability of our five Congressmen. A gentleman who has been at Washington during the present session of Congress and has watched legislation, stated: "I rate our Congressmen in the following order: Comstock, Hall, Lind, Snyder and Dunnell." On commenting on this statement the Minneapolis Tribune prints the following:

"This remark caused some surprise among those present. The gentleman went on to explain that Dunnell was placed at the bottom of the list because while he was formerly a strong man in Congress he now poses too much on the same previous record, in fact he is what may be called a 'back number.' Comstock and Hall were declared to be quiet men who do little talking, but secure the passage of measures they advocate. On sizing up the situation the company agreed that Dunnell is the only one of the quintette who will have to make a hard fight for re-nomination and re-election.

Money to Loan

On More Reasonable and Better Terms than Ever Before Offered in the Northwest.

We are now prepared to loan money in any amount from $250 up to $10,000 on well improved farms where title has been perfected, and U. S. patent is on record or has been issued.

Our terms are 8 per cent. interest, with a small commission to cover expenses and cost of making the loan.

Where the security is satisfactory we can make loans for five or any greater number of years, interest payable annually on the first day of January, and will allow the borrower, after two years, to pay any part of the principal, in sums of $100 or upwards on any interest day named in his notes. So much for straight loans.

We are the agents for the Union Central Life Insurance Company, of Cincinati, Ohio, a company of great strength, and a public record for probity and fair dealing unsurpassed; and can write life insurance in connection with loans with great profit and advantage to the borrower, which, taken in connection with the loan for ten years, pays the loan by yearly payments, which is more fully shown by the following statement: A, aged 25 years, of sound health, applies for a loan of $1,000 on his farm, at the same time he applies for $1,000 insurance on the 10 years annual payment stock-endowment plan. He pays as follows:

Each year on his insurance	$88 44
Each year on his loan for interest	80 00
Total yearly payments	$ 168 44
Total for ten years	1684 40

which pays up for the insurance, and the insurance pays the loan in full.

If the borrower dies during the ten years his insurance becomes payable and due at once and pays his loan in full, leaving his farm clear and free of all encumbrances, for his family.

NOTE THE DIFFERENCE.

If the borrower effects a loan of $1,000 on the plan usually followed, he must pay interest at the rate of ten per cent. and may be stated as follows:

$1,000 for five years, annual interest	$ 100 00
At the end of the loan he pays interest in the sum of	500 00
When the loan is due he pays	1000 00
Principal and interest paid in 5 years	1500 00

As much within $184.40 as he pays in ten years with insurance with us.

If he makes such a loan for ten years he pays:

Interest	$1000 00
Principal at end of 10 years	1000 00
Total	$2000 00

or $315.60 more than he would pay with us; besides on the 10 per cent. plan he is not insured against death, and if he dies during the life of the loan the "Old Detestable Mortgage" still hangs over the heads of his defenceless wife and children.

MORTGAGE SALE.

[First publication July 3d, 1890.]

WHEREAS ANDREW J. BOHLEEN, AND Eva Bohleen, his wife, as Mortgagors, did on the 8th day of March, A. D. 1889, duly execute and deliver to the Minnesota Loan and Trust Company of Minneapolis, Minnesota, a corporation as Mortgagee, their mortgage bearing date the 8th day of March, A. D. 1889, whereby they mortgaged to said Mortgagee the following described land situated in the County of Polk, and State of Minnesota, to-wit:

The South-east Quarter of Section One (1), in Township One Hundred and Fifty-three (153) North, of Range 44 West, containing One Hundred and Sixty (160) acres, to secure the payment of Seventy-four and Seventy-five One-hundredths Dollars ($74.75) according to the conditions of one certain promissory note payable in nine (9) semi-annual installments, said note bearing even date with said mortgage, and made by said Mortgagors to said Mortgagee or order; which said mortgage was, on the 8th day of March, A. D. 1889, at five o'clock and ten minutes P. M., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said Polk County, in Book "41" of mortgages, on pages 495 to 498 inclusive.

And whereas, The Minnesota Loan and Trust Company did for value received, on the 10th day of April, A. D. 1889, duly assign the aforesaid note and mortgage and the debt secured thereby, to Halvor Steenerson and Geo. J. McManus, partners as Steenerson & McManus, of Crookston Minnesota, which said assignment was in writing under seal and duly acknowledged, and was thereafter on the 10th day of June, A. D. 1890, at three o'clock and thirty minutes P. M., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said Polk County, in Book "53" of Mortgages, on pages 366 and 367.

And whereas default has been made in the payment of the sum of Seven and Fifty One-hundredths ($7.50) Dollars, due as the second installment on said note on the 1st day of June, A. D. 1890, and said sum is still unpaid and due,

And whereas it was stipulated and agreed by between the parties to said Mortgage, that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants therein contained on the part of the Mortgagors to be kept and performed, then and from thenceforth it shall be lawful for said Mortgagee and its assigns to consider the whole sum thereby secured to be immediately due and payable without notice to said Mortgagors or any other party:

And whereas Halvor Steenerson and Geo. J. McManus, assignees of said Mortgagee, have exercised their option to consider and declare, and do hereby declare the whole sum of money secured by said mortgage and still unpaid, to be due and payable.

And whereas there is now due, and claimed to be due upon said Mortgage at the date of this notice, the sum of Sixty-three and seventy-nine One-hundredths (63.79) Dollars, and no proceedings having been instituted by law or otherwise to recover the same or any part thereof,

Now therefore notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale in said mortgage contained, and therewith recorded, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed by sale of the land therein described, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court-house in the City of Crookston, in said County, on the 15th day of August, A. D. 1890, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash to pay the sum due on said mortgage, together with the taxes, if any, on said premises, and twenty-five Dollars ($25) attorney's fees as stipulated in said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as provided by law.

Dated, June 26th, A. D. 1890.

Plain Talk is a republican paper, published at Vermillion, South Dakota, from which the following leader, under the caption, "The Farmers' Movement," is extracted:

Attention has been more or less directed of late to the farmers' movement in the Southern States and to its probable disastrous effect on the fortunes of the democratic party in the South. The tribulations of the late confederates would be sufficient cause for republican rejoicing were it not true that the same agencies which are chafing the democrats down South are menacing the peace and ease of the republicans up North. The Farmers' Alliance is preaching precisely the same political gospel North and South, East and West, in no less than twenty-nine states of the Union. Right here in South Dakota they are teaching the same principles among republicans that they are promulgating among the democrats of South Carolina. Their work in Nebraska is along exactly the same lines as in Alabama and Arkansas. If the democratic party in the South is in peril at their hands, how is it with the republican party in the North? Here in South Dakota these people have gone farther and more fully disclosed their purposes than in any other state. The independent party was organized and named at Huron on the 6th inst. Their convention was very large and very enthusiastic. This new party means to harm the republican party of South Dakota. Its speakers and leaders declare that this is only the beginning, and that the new party under this name will be organized rapidly in many other states, North and South. They profess to believe that the time is ripe, the conditions auspicious, and that their principles are commendable to a large majority of the people in all the agricultural regions. They even flatter themselves and threaten all others that the independent party will hold the balance of power in the next Congress and carry the presidential election of 1892. All this may be taken with many grains of allowance; nevertheless the movement is a fact which can neither be ignored nor bluffed out. On the 9th of June, only three days later than the Huron convention, the new party held a ratification meeting at Mitchell, which is said to have been the largest political gathering ever held there, if not the largest ever held in the state. Whether this be true or not, it is certain that in numbers and enthusiasm they created a profound sensation. The central doctrines of the new party are:

1. Full legal tender money, to increase in volume with the increase of business, and to be issued to productive industries by the General Government without the intervention of banks of issue.

2. Government ownership of railroads, telegraph and telephones, and service at actual cost.

3. Free and unlimited coinage of silver.

4. An absolutely secret system of voting.

These propositions are of such a character that, just at this time, they are attractive to a great many people. Unless squarely met and fairly answered no man can safely undertake to say how many recruits the independents will call to them and enlist under their banner. The problem of meeting these people and these propositions is first presented to the republican leaders of South Dakota. Right here is the initiative. The responsibility is grave and weighty. We have a peculiar people. A large majority have heretofore been radically republican, but a large majority of the Huron convention have been republicans heretofore. And it has become a saying that, here in South Dakota, "it is not safe to bet against anything that gets loose." Prohibition "went," and there are plenty who believe that equal suffrage will "go" at the next election. What may not "go?" The new party is not made up of farmers alone. The Knights of Labor are hand in glove with them in this state, and the relation between the farmers and the labor organizations in all parts of the country is close and intimate. How will the republican party in South Dakota meet the issue? How can the party safely meet it? Last year the State convention was largely influenced by popular sentiment. It adopted a platform and made certain nominations which the leaders would not have had so but for the pressure of public opinion. Representing popular sentiment the party went to a grand success at the polls. If it pursues a sufficiently liberal course this year, it may repeat the history of last year. Popular feeling will not justify the party this year in any back up or side tracking. The principles of the new party are generally popular with the masses. The republican party must be the exponent and champion of popular ideas or it must be the wise teacher to satisfy the people that public sentiment is at fault and wrong. The republicans of South Dakota should adopt such a liberal platform as will satisfy the people that it is a better, wiser, safer reform party than any other party, new or old. And more, it must nominate candidates who are able to go upon the stump and everywhere demonstrate this fact. The new party is already thoroughly organized in a large majority of the precincts of the state. It has been four years organizing. Its members are full of active energy. For the next four months they will lose no time to proselyte. They carry on their work in the homes of the farmers and laborers. They have prepared for a thorough canvass of the state by able speakers. Their converts will need no "drumming" to get them to the polls. They are already making formidable headway. No such spirit of activity and devotion prevails in the republican ranks. As to platform and candidates the republican party must place itself on a level with the spirit of the times. Given—a broad, progressive, liberal platform, and candidates who have thought all along the line of the new departure and are able to go before the people and discuss the new issues with the independents and prove that there is no good reason for republicans in this "off year" to wander away in pursuit of experiments—a republican victory sure and complete may be achieved next fall. But if, instead, there be "monkeying with the machine," the republicans of South Dakota are liable to get sand in their eyes before the end of the season.

Is it Vanity or Ignorance?

By J. H. Hand. In National Economist.

It is a matter of suprise as well as mortification that a very considerable part of the press, all of which claims to be devoted to the advancement of the interests of humanity, should make indecent haste to assail the first proposition originating among the people, asking to be placed by the Government on equal terms with other classes of citizens. Knowing that we bear more than our just proportion of the burdens of the Government, we had reason to expect that the press would be our ally and advocate; but instead, we find them arrayed against us. The bill now before Congress, H. R. 7162, in the Senate 2806, to establish a system of sub-treasuries and for other purposes, is a measure "of the people, by the people, and for the people," not solely in the interest of a class, but in the interest of all classes except the bankers. It is a reasonable presumption that the laboring classes have a better opportunity of knowing their situation and needs than other people can possibly have. Dire necessity has driven them to seek the causes that have conspired to reduce them from affluence to extreme poverty. Having ascertained the causes, they are as capable of suggesting appropriate and efficient means of relief as any one else. The bill to establish a system of sub-treasuries is the first and most important measure. It has been thoroughly considered in all of its details and practical operation. It does positive injury to no one; that it will restrain the usurer and the monopolist, and limit the operations of the speculator in money and the necessities of life, is not denied. While the press is largely dependent on its subscription list among the working classes for a living, it is a matter of surprise and regret to us, and may be to the editors before this matter ends. Have they investigated the principles of the bill, or have they tried to comprehend the practical operation of the measure from which we expect relief from our present financial distress? The first effect would be a difference in the price of money of about 14 per cent per annum. That portion of the currency issued through the national banks, comes to us heavily laden with taxation for the support of three or four non-productive classes, hence we have to part with one dollar and fifteen cents worth of produce for one dollar. The banks are charged 1 per cent per annum; the bankers supply agents at from 4 to 5; the agent speculates with it, and makes from 8 to 15; or it is loaned to manufacturers at 6 to 8 per cent; commission houses borrow paying a good per cent, and then loan to retail dealers at 6 to 10 per cent. The whole amount of taxation levied by the various operators through whose hands it has passed ranges from 15 to 30 per cent before our products are purchased. By this process our produce is reduced in values to the amount of 15 to 20 per cent. Under the sub-treasury system the money used to purchase our products would come directly from the sub-treasury department free from the tariff levied by the intervening non-productive classes. Let us see how this would work out when applied to the purchase of the cotton crop. Place the cotton crop at 6,500,000 bales weighing each four hundred and fifty pounds, would be 2,925,000,000 pounds. We sell this cotton at an average price of nine cents per pound, for money that has been taxed fifteen per cent, furnished by the banks, aggregate value of the cotton crop in the bank currency is $263,250,000. Fifteen per cent on this sum is $37,487,500, a loss to cotton growers, due to the national banking system, or the loss would aggregate that sum, if the bankers had succeeded in withdrawing all the greenbacks and controlling all the national currency. Now if this should represent the loss of the cotton planters alone, what would the sum amount to when estimated upon all the products of the great industries of the country? It would not fall below $200,000,000 annually. This sum does not go to the government, but falls into the coffers of the non-producing speculating classes. If the system of sub-treasuries is adopted, it will furnish money free from burdensome taxation, not to the agriculturists alone, but to all classes of industrial pursuits. The banker and usurer would lose the "power of money to oppress." The financial legislation of the government has aided in making millionaires by the thousand and paupers by tens of thousands. Seeing these facts in the light of common sense we have been urged to ask. is it venality or ignorance on the part of a portion of the press of of the country that has led them to the ridiculous and shameless assaults, both as to the measure and the persons who favor it? The most charitable construction that is admssible in their case is that it is attributable to their ignorance. But the attempt on the part of some of the members of the press, to ridicule both the measure and its movers into disfavor, by resorting to low burlesque and billingsgate, suggest venality rather than ignorance as the moving cause. It is a deep mortification to the intelligent yeomanry of the country to see levity manifested on the part of their senators and representatives, toward the measures of relief offered at the solicitation of men laboring under "burdens grievous to be borne." If they permit mercenary motives to control their actions they are not capable of making desirable representatives of our interests. They should not make sport of our misfortunes when their acts brought them upon us. "By their fruits ye shall know them." It is not surprising that bankers and their henchmen, whether they be in Congress or among the members of the press, should throw every obstacle that ingenuity can devise in the way of this measure of relief. But it is mortifying to know that the statesman and leaders of neither of the political parties of the country have the independence and manliness to champion the cause of the productive class who carry the burdens of government on their shoulders.

Forty Millions.

The Western Rural.

The Union Stock Yards Company is in some sort of a state of organization. It has been claimed that an English syndicate is purchasing the stock, as such syndicates have purchased other profitable industries in this country. However that may be, those who are interested in the new deal have issued a circular in which they state that the plant is worth forty millions, and that the business is exceedingly profitable, a fact that every reader of this journal has the misfortune to know without being told. The value of these yards as claimed in this circular is not an over-estimate. They are worth every cent of forty millions; and nearly all that value has been contributed by the farmers and stock raisers of the West. A few men here erected a gate between our farms and the market for the live stock of the farm. Our sheep and cattle and swine must go through this gate, and upon every animal an enormous extortionate tax is laid. During the years that these yards have been in existence, the company owning them have been waxing richer and richer, until its possessions are valued at forty millions; and this does not include, the reader will remember, the large private fortunes that have been made from the business.

But what of the men who have grown and fed the animals that have gone through these yards and that have been the means of building up such a valuable plant and of making fortunes for the managers and some of the stock holders? Well, they have made no millions. Thousands of them are hopelessly in debt to-day. None of them are making any great profit, though the stock yards are doing a splendid business. Corn and hay at a hundred per cent more than it is worth makes good profits to the Stock Yards Company, but they are luxuries that the stock raiser can ill afford to let his stock enjoy. And yet it has never been possible to get an Illinois Legislature to see the injustice of this thing. The legislative committees have never been able to see more, when visiting these stock yards, than the rare wines and fragrant cigars that were set before them by somebody. A legislature can not be elected too soon that will be true enough to the farming interests of Illinois and of the West and sufficiently friendly to square, honest business methods, to bring this soulless conspiracy against the agricultural interests of the country to a sense of decency and honor.

The Natural.

The Western Rural.

"It is natural for every man to look out for his own interests." We hear this expression until we grow weary of the constant reiteration of human selfishness. The general trend of man's conception of man would seem to be that he is a savage unfeeling brute, that for momentary satisfaction would trample upon and devour his kind; and it is too true that the history of the world goes to prove that tendency. But is it a fact that mankind, as a rule, is heartless and brutally selfish. We do not believe it. The human heart is tender and considerate. There are men and women by the thousands who have sympathy with misfortune and are ready to stretch forth the hand of love to a fallen or discouraged brother. There are lips by the millions that are laden with kind words, and souls by the million that are filled and sparkling with the spirit of sacrifice for the good of mankind. But such people do not make the most noise in the world and their work is not so rasping as to call unusual attention to it. The selfish are pushing, energetic and emphatic. They attract so much attention that the world thinks that they are representative of the human race. One grasping, dishonest, brutal millionaire, who would as soon rob a widow as anybody, receives more attention than a thousand gentle men whose lives are to the world like the sweet sunshine upon the earth, and who would not for all the wealth the earth has to bestow do a fellow creature a wrong or cause a tear to scorch the cheek.

Sometimes men are selfish through sheer thoughtlessness. A farmer once wrote The Rural that if the liquor traffic was prohibited, many farmers, would go to the poorhouse, for there were millions of bushels of grain annually converted into intoxicating liquor. We presume that some would say that this was a natural feeling. We do not believe it. It was a thoughtless expession that did that farmer a greater injustice than any one else would ever have thought of doing him. It is not true that the liquor business keeps farmers out of the poor house, but if it did, a thoughtless man would never advocate the traffic. The saloon fills our alms-house and our prisons. Its destroying power does not stop with the unfortunate victim of appetite, but it winds its chains about perfectly innocent and utterly helpless women and children, and crushes their hearts and their lives as the hungry brute of the forest crushes the bones of its defenseless victim. The tear stained, tear worn cheeks and aching hearts of the great army of drunkards' wives and the pinched faces of the hungry, ragged children of the victims of the dram shop, cry out in pitiful, eloquent, pathetic appeals to heaven and noble manhood for sympathy and protection. Can there be a right-thinking human man in all the world, who would ask to be kept out of the almshouse by such ruin as this? Would he not rather live and die in the poorhouse than that innocent people should be cast into a living, horrible death that he might prosper?

We believe in humanity. We believe that after all these centuries of humane training, the vast proportion of the human race believes that the race is a brotherhood and that a Christian civilization is not polished savagery. We do not believe that the average man, in this age and country, is a theoretical cannibal, eager to devour children and women. The helpless always successfully appeals to full developed manhood for protection and assistance. Men stop upon the streets to inquire the cause of the tear that glistens on the cheek of the child. It would be brutal if strength did not bend to shield weakness and if experience did not throw its protecting power about inexperience. And yet men will do themslves the injustice to say that they are willing to step on the babe in the cradle and to crush a woman's heart in order to keep themselves out of the almshouse. We do not believe that such a man knows what the import of his words is, and we know it is not natural.

National Economist: Reports from many sections are coming in that the census, so far as the mortgage indebtedness is concerned, will be perfectly unreliable. This is in strict accord with a fixed purpose among money owners. The true situation of the borrower must not be known, for in that case the occupation of the lender would be destroyed. It is safe to assume that all attempts to ascertain who is responsible for this treachery to the people will be a failure. No matter how strong the law may be made, if the construction of it is left in the hands of the unscrupulous politician or timeserver, it can be manipulated to serve their purpose. The executive committee have called the farmers attention to this matter.

Getting Together.

The Western Rural.

No one who is a careful observer of the trend of political affairs in this country can fail to see that steadily, though perhaps a little slowly, the people, the common people, the men whose hands are rough from toil and whose clothing is not of the finest texture or of the latest fashion, are coming together for mutual protection and for the preservation of the best interests of the country. It has taken long years to awaken the public to a sense of their danger. The greed and conscienceless methods which the few have shown and adopted have been like the spider's web woven slowly but tightly about the fly. Years ago this entire American people were unconscious of responsibility. Nothing seemed to disturb or burden them. The government sat so lightly upon them, that they scarcely realized that a government existed. Commerce appeared to be governed, and indeed was governed to a remarkable degee by the laws of equity. But our civil war burst upon us, and with its splendid results there were mingled results that were averse to the general welfare of the people, and these results are still manifesting themselves.

War is always demoralizing. As a people we have great reason for gratitude that our war was no more demoralizing than it was. But it was sufficiently so, to cause every true lover of his country and of humanity, greatly to regret that the good results of that conflict have been marred by the inevitable shadows that stream across the most brilliant victory that armies ever won. During the four years of the continuance of that war, a vast deal of rascality was developed, and the greed of the human heart was greatly stimulated. Men became rich easily; they became rich dishonestly; and when the war closed and the army was mustered out of service, there was plenty of money in the country, and as grand a spectacle as the early return of our soldiers to the various industries, was, there was a time when great masses of men were indisposed to do much, but to spend money, speculate, and lead a useless life. In a word the character of our people seemed to have experienced a thorough change, though the change was not as real as it seemed to be. But among the classes of restless, persistent men, who by their excessive activity, appear to represent the character of the entire people, there was a wonderful change. The age of greed—about which The Rural has said so much—fairly dawned when the war closed. The wild rush for wealth commenced and the love of money has been growing stronger and more oppressive ever since. To look back upon the history of the accumulation of great fortunes in the United States, and the gradual enslavement to the people in consequence, the whole thing appears like a dream. We can hardly realize that during the short period of a quarter of a century, millionaires have multiplied so rapidly, and that in consequence of their methods of accumulation of wealth the farmers of the country—the men who are at the head of our greatest, grandest, most important industry, are practically ruined. It staggers belief that so great a change in the condition of a people should be wrought in so short a time.

Yet no intelligent man believes for one moment that present conditions are at all necessary. No one would dare assert that if certain classes had not been given certain privileges, to which they had no right, that agriculture would be where it is to-day and that there should be in the country practically a favored class which is really as distinctive in its character as the aristocracy of Europe. The European aristocracy is created and sustained by unjust laws. It has nothing else to stand upon. The American aristocracy of capital rests upon precisely the same basis—class legislation and the favoritism of government. It is true that it may properly be said that back of the class legislation that sustains the aristocracy of Europe is the stupidity, sheer stupidity of the people; and the same thing may be said with reference to our own aristocracy. Congress and our legislators create our favored classes and hedge them about with protection; the administrators of law are lenient with them, and of a truth the whole country appears to run for the sole benefit of a lot of well-clothed, smothed talking, influential, rich rascals who are popularly styled our leading business men. But the people elect men to office who thus run the country.

At last, however, the people are awakening. They are getting together and are asserting their right, and they will yet assert their power to elect men to official positions who will faithfully represent their interests. The old political leaders will naturally cry treason and wield the party lash with stinging effect. But if disaster comes now or at any future time to present political organizations it will be the result of only one thing, the treachery of partisan leaders to the interests of the people and their subserviency to the will of men whose regular business is robbery.

CROOKSTON, MINN., AUGUST 7, 1890.

'Round Home.

Wheat, 1 Hard, 82 cents.

This is excellent weather for wheat.

A. Noble was up from Beltrami on Tuesday.

Don't make any reckless bets on the election this fall.

C. T. Lanman was down from McIntosh on Tuesday.

Halvor Steenerson took a run down north on Tuesday.

The offices will not go begging this year for lack of applicants.

Ed. Schreader is able to be about on crutches, and is doing nicely.

Plenty of hay on the market now a days. More hay than price for it.

Gautier de Ste Croix has been up several days looking after his grain houses.

That Warren base ball club is a dandy. Our boys only beat them by one last week.

Conductor Fred Flint and wife were rusticating in Grand Forks early this week.

The handsome phiz of Col. W. H. Topping was seen on our streets on Tuesday.

M. E. Bartlett wants a few good harvest hands. Call at residence on Sec. 9, Fairfax.

Miss Conley, of Menominee, Wis., is visiting her friend, Miss Jennie Miller, in this city.

The sewer work progresses rapidly. Barring accidents, the work will be completed on time.

Chris Steenerson was up from the west side on Tuesday. Reports crops looking nicely.

On dit that Pat will Russel for the nomination for auditor. We are not betting on that.

Barley harvesting is well along. Wheat harvest will commence in earnest next week.

W. C. Andrew, representing Wright, Barrett & Stilwell, passed through, bound south, on Tuesday.

S. L. Collins says wheat is undoubtedly injured somewhat, but he thinks not so badly as last year.

Mrs. Streeter, Miss Miller and Miss Conly and Rev. Mr. Noyes went down to Fosston last Saturday.

On Monday morning Bjorn & Austin began to tumble brick into the new cellar, preparatory to building.

Robert Pierce, Pillsbury's buyer, goes away Thursday and a new man will take his place before the season opens.

Will Carlton thinks that the farmers up his way are not entirely suited with the Prohib-Alliance county ticket.

Judge Mills completed the court cases last week winding up one of the largest calendars ever tried in the county.

Millions of blueberries from Fosston and St. Hilaire find a ready market in this city and points west in Dakota.

Oats cut on the Corser farm this week were found to be somewhat affected by rust. They were better than last year, however.

Louis Fontaine and Tim Donovan left for New York on Tuesday evening to purchase the fall stock for Fontaine & Anglim.

The work on the sewer is progressing rapidly along Second street. The pipe is laid along Main to the intersection with Second.

Prospects are bright for a good price for wheat this fall. The weather, so far this week, has been excellent for maturing the wheat.

E. J. Grefthen, the Prohib-Alliance candidate for school superintendent, was in the city last week looking after his political fences.

Harvesting well commenced this week. A few pieces of barley were cut last week. Oats bid fair for a good yield so far as heard from.

Andrew Eiken is on the turf for Register of Deeds. Andrew has been a good official, proving his efficiency by his deeds—as it were.

Bricklaying on the new McKinnon block commenced on Tuesday morning. The building will be ready for occupancy before snow flies.

Reports indicate that the alliance vote will be a large one in Polk County this year. The "frost" will not kill it nor the blight affect the grade.

Rev. Mr. Noyes went out to Buffington to preach last Sabbath. This, with his regular church services here, made it a pretty busy day for him.

Rev. S. H. Barteau reports wheat looking splendidly between here and Red Lake Falls, which city he visited last week. He saw no signs of blight.

If legislation can effect the price of wheat then it is clear that the most important thing for the farmers to do is to secure the right kind of a legislature.

The game between the Phats and Leans last week was hotly contested—won by the Phats by 38 to 31. The Leans pinned their faith to hot weather, and got left.

Collins & Creamer report good sales of the Minneapolis binder this season, and are now busy supplying extras. They have sold two threshing rigs already and are right on deck to supply everybody in this line.

T. G. Thompson is the happy father of a bran new boy. Friday morning—12 pounds. T. G. was busy Saturday passing out the cigars.

The probability is that very much No. 1 Hard will be on our market this year. With a good price assured, farmers have every reason to be very hopeful.

Great attractions on the ball grounds for next week. Fargo, Grand Forks, St. Cloud, and a team from St. Paul, it is expected, will try conclusions with our boys on the diamond.

Barley harvest was pretty generally commenced last week and this week will witness commencement on the wheat. We shall very soon know now "what will the harvest be?"

"Oh, how nice!" That is what everybody says when they see Mrs. Rose' new dining hall on Second street. And everybody, for once, is right. There are no flies on that dining hall—nor in it.

S. L. Collins predicts a boom in farm lands. Says he knows of nine men who are looking for suitable farm property. Send 'em around to us, S. L., we know of several choice farms that can be had at a low figure.

Hugh Thompson returned from his sojourn at Battle Creek on Saturday morning, looking very much better than when he went away. He has had a very severe siege, but with care will undoubtedly pull through all right.

Miss Edith McGrew and Willie returned from their visit to Benson on Wednesday last. Mr. McGrew has taken possession of his new residence property. Mrs. McGrew is expected home the latter part of this month.

Among the heavy contributors to the hotel subscription were: Fontaine & Anglim, $500; Geo. Q. Erskine, $500; T. B. Walker, $500; Hack & Gallasch, $250; Rosenthal & Wile, $250; N. Rapin, $200, and Geo. W. Peake $200.

The hay crop this year is not extra heavy. We have reports of cases where the mower runs all day to secure a cut of two or three tons. Low lands, of course, have a heavier swath, but the average yield does not promise to glut the market.

H. C. Tatro was in from Maple Lake on Saturday. He informed THE JOURNAL of the death of his sister, Mrs. Gus Felsing, which sad event occurred on Friday from child-birth. Mrs. F. was a young woman, highly respected by all who knew her.

Will Carlton was down from Angus on Tuesday. Drove a fine span of two year old colts that are large enough to be horses. He reports that wheat appears to be somewhat injured, to what extent cannot be ascertained until the grain is threshed.

The premium list of the State Fair shows that a great deal of attention has been paid to the encouragement of agriculture. All who can possibly do so should arrange to go down and attend what promises to be the best State Fair ever held in Minnesota.

Ole Hanson has received his appointment as deputy revenue collector, in place of T. K. Torgerson, and enters upon his new duties this week. T. K. was a good and faithful servant, his only mistake being of a political nature. Ole will wear his new honors right royally.

Mr. D. T. Herriott was up from Beltrami on Saturday looking at the damaged twine from the warehouse fire in Minneapolis. Mr. Herriott says that some wheat is undoubtedly injured by blight, but to what extent is problematical. The threshing machine alone will reveal the full extent.

A special meeting of the council was held on Saturday for the purpose of considering a proposition to continue the sewer from Second to Fletcher street, and from Main to Broadway along Robert. The council was favorable to the proposition and the work will be done, providing the money is to be had.

Crookston Alliance, No. 648, held an interesting meeting on Saturday last. Four new members were received. Twine and kindred matters were fully discussed. Vice President, Jas. E. Greenhalgh, presided with grace and dignity. The meeting adjourned until the next regular day, the first Saturday in September.

The subscription committee reports only $100 short in the $5,000 required to build the new hotel and the hotel may be considered positively secured. The plans show a magnificent four story structure. In securing this hotel our citizens have shown commendable public spirit and have builded wiser than they knew. The work of clearing the site will soon begin.

Theodore Greenhalgh received a letter from his father who is now on the Pacific coast, in which Mr. Greenhalgh speaks of the boom as a thing of the past and advises Theo. and all others who are doing reasonably well to let well enough alone and stay where they are. It would seem that Greenhalgh Sr. is not entirely captivated with the new State of Washington.

The State Fair, which will be from Sept. 8th to 13th inclusive, bids fair to be the best one ever held in Minnesota. No pains nor expense have been spared to make it profitable to the farmer patrons, and the list of attractions is a large and attractive one. Every farmer should make calculations to go this year. The railroads will give reduced rates, about one fare for the round trip, and at this rate no one can afford to miss it. Send to Sec. Liggett, at Hamline, for catalogues.

Good Demand for City Property.

Two weeks ago Tom Stahl advertised in these columns a house and lot for sale on Main street. We have had no less than two dozen inquiries about that property, which shows that people are on the lookout for bargains in city realty.

Pass It Around.

We have been very patient so far, in the hopes that our city fathers would, some time in the present or the next decade, move that unmitigated nuisance, called the city market, to some other quarter. If that is among the impossibilities, we should be very much obliged if the city authorities would clean up the debris at least once a month. To say nothing of the danger from fires, the hay and stuff allowed to accumulate is an unmitigated nuisance. Let some other locality enjoy it awhile.

Good Enough.

John E. Tice writes THE JOURNAL from Mentor, under date of August 2d: "I have to-day finished cutting a piece of wheat that I sowed on millet stubble, unplowed. It was as fine a piece of wheat as could be wished." Good enough. THE JOURNAL hopes that all of John's wheat will pan out No. 1 Hard and $1 per bushel, and also that of every other hard working farmer in Polk County. They amply deserve better luck than they have been getting.

Progress on the new sewer is rapid.

The Main Street well boasts of a new pump.

Watermelons by the carload daily arriving.

M. P. Losey was in from Euclid on Monday.

Saturday's train on the old Pioneer line was two hours late.

The new elevator in Jerome's addition is nearly completed.

Bro. Sibley, of the Fertile Journal, was in the city on Sunday.

D. LeDuc is fixing up the old Markham building for a meat market.

Sunday night was a pretty cold one. Not cold enough for a frost, however.

The grade on Jerome's addition is completed ready for the ties and rails.

Who says Crookston is dull? Everybody busy and work enough for many more.

Heaps of twine gone out into the field this week. Almost every farmers wagon contained from two to twenty bales.

If you want value for your money in the boot and shoe line call at Holmboe'. New goods arriving every week. [14-27]

E. E. Lommen has gone to the farm for a few days preparatory to taking the field as candidate for State Senator. Lommen will make a good square fight and poll a large vote.

Once more we have escaped the clutches of the twine octopos. By the burning of the large warehouse in Minneapolis a large quantity of twine has been thrown upon this market and those lucky enough to catch on, get a bonanza. Next year Minnesota will make her own twine and then we can snap our fingers at the twine trust. There will be big money in wheat in the near future, and we have the land that can grow the wheat.

Wilfred Farley, son of Dr. F. X. Farley, left on Tuesday evening for Detroit, Mich., where he goes to accept a position in a merchant tailoring establishment. Mr. Farley has grown to manhood in our city where he has been employed as clerk in various establishments, and leaves a host of friends and well wishers. He is a sober and industrious young man and will no doubt do well in his new vocation. THE JOURNAL wishes him abundant success.

Best water white kerosene only 15 cents per gallon at A. Holmboe's, Robert street. [14-27]

The subscriptions to the $5,000 fund for the new hotel grow encouragingly, and there is no doubt the amount will be raised. This is a subject of interest to every patriotic citizen of Crookston, as it will do much toward rendering permanent every other enterprise. Upon this hotel project depends other buildings, so that an investment there undoubtedly helps the city at large more than one would think at first glance. Let the good work go on. THE JOURNAL will do all in its power to aid it.

Farmers, don't sell your hogs to shippers when you can get double of the price by having them cured at the packing house. [f-tf]

There seems to have been some foundation for the rumors of some damage to wheat that were going last week, though how serious it will be cannot be estimated before the wheat is fully matured. Some samples exhibited showed about one quarter of an inch on the top entirely dead, with no berries, while the balance of the head might be all right, and might not, though by appearance it would shrink before ripened. Some stalks seemed to be dying from the bottom while others were apparently all right. No signs of rust were visible except on the leaves, but that something ailed the wheat, was unmistakable. The samples shown were the product of seed that was not perfect and may have been from that cause. We are inclined to the belief that a thorough change of seed is necessary in the Valley. That there will be much good wheat we have no doubt, but that there is some damaged wheat seems just as true.

Prof. Moore returned from his summer vacation this week.

Mrs. Bucknam entertained a large party of friends at cinch on Tuesday evening.

That manilla twine went off like hot cakes. Double the amount could have been sold.

W. J. Nickle was up from Beltrami this week renewing old acquaintances. Nick is a brick.

Farmers are saying nothing but the amount of wood they are sawing beats any summer's record yet.

Tom Morris is putting up some nice shelves for clocks and sich like. Tom is bound to be in style, anyhow.

A. D. Stephens went to St. Paul on Tuesday evening to attend the meeting of the Republican State Central Committee.

Reports from the wheat fields this week are very encouraging. Good grades and good prices would make things hum.

Schmidt, the painter, comes out with a stylish rig. The buggy, evidently built for business, is a handsome affair, however.

Judge C. O. Christianson went down to his farm on Saturday last. Says the farmers for miles around were in Fertile after twine.

Ed Walsh must be going into politics again. He begins to look young and handsome. That genial smile always means business.

It is said that Reed, the restaurant man, will go to Grand Forks to open a restaurant. Failure to find a building is the alleged cause.

John Paterson is sawing lots of wood in those days. John is grooming for democratic candidate for sheriff and John has lots of friends.

We read of big hail storms over in Dakota during the past two weeks. This side of the Red River seems to have been extremely fortunate this year.

Sam Wilkinson says: "I tell you what, the alliance party is bound to win this fall." Well, it depends somewhat on who a man is working for what is meant by that assertion.

John Looken says he weighs ten pounds more than before the convention. You will have to look out, Andy, if he keeps on like that he will be a heavy weight by November 4th.

A carload of unglazed hemp twine now ready for delivery at Carman. Fully guaranteed.
E. D. CHILDS & Co.

Arne Grundyson, alliance candidate for sheriff was in the city for a few days feeling of the public pulse. Arne is confident that the alliance ticket will make a great impression this fall.

Prof. T. Casey will be a candidate for re-election to the office of county superintendent of schools. The Professor has been a faithful official and deserves to be elected. That he will be continued in office is quite probable.

Perhaps not much of a boom, but everybody busy and business excellent is Crookston's record this summer. Not much building, but all solid, substantial brick. Every day sees farmers on the street after help in the hay fields and for harvest hands.

Big weights and small prices—that's Holmboe's motto. [14-27]

East Grand Forks Courier:—Tuesday last a couple of men from Northwood, N. D., dropped into the sample room of the Hotel Dacotah and called for a drink each of Simon pure whiskey. They got it, and then swore out a warrant charging the bartender with unlawfully selling whiskey. Deputy Sheriff Mike O'Connor arrested the bartender, who was brought before Justice DeVoy, and held in the sum of $300 to the district court. This is the first violation of the prohibition law in Grand Forks which has received official notice.

Rev. Mr. Davis was down from Fosston visiting with Rev. F. B. Noyes this week.

Mrs. Barber and daughter departed for their home in Wisconsin on Tuesday evening.

Services at the Congregational church on Sunday next at the usual hours. Topic for the morning: "The story of my faith." In the evening, "Every life a Sermon."

It is said that kissing goes by favor—so does office. Hib. Palmer did big work during the last campaign and would not object to a nomination for clerk of court. Hib. is not rich in this world's goods but has every other qualification. Will he capture the bakery?

For several years St. Paul and Minneapolis have thought very favorably of being united and they have been diligently seeking a name by which to call itself when the happy deed shall have been accomplished. In view of the recent census what's the matter with Padopolis?

W. N. Godfrey was in this week buying twine for his alliance. He reports a hail storm that damaged some crops slightly. Says the crops look splendidly and promise well. No cases of blight that he has heard of. Thinks if prices are good farmers will be able to pay out pretty generally, which prospect encourages them wonderfully.

Rev. Mr. Noyes has taken hold of the church work with a vim, and if aided by all who are or should be interested he will build up the Congregational church, which, since it has had no regular pastor has suffered a sort of a decline. He seems to be the right man for the place and should receive the hearty support of all concerned. The services are fairly well attended but several more could find seats.

LINDSAY, Aug. 5, 1890.

At a meeting of the Hill River Farmers' Alliance, No. 735, held August 2d, 1890, the following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, A certain member of this alliance has proved himself false to the principles of this alliance, be it therefore

Resolved, That we deplore the action of him (John Petterson) as our delegate, who represented us at the Alliance County convention, in going as a delegate to the Republican County convention, and that we call the attention of the republican party to the fact that his credentials as a republican delegate were not regular and in due form (and were also contested at the convention), but were, at the instance of three men, two of whom were members of the alliance, who called a private caucus after the regular caucus had adjourned without electing any delegates; and further

Resolved, That these facts be spread on the records of this alliance, and also to have them published in THE POLK COUNTY JOURNAL and Red River Dalen.

O. J. MATSON, Sec.

Red Lake Falls News: It is reported that the steamer Monitor, of Thief River Falls, which was plying on Red Lake, went down in a gale last week. The boat was being used for towing logs for P. & J. Meehan across the Lake to Red Lake River. A storm come up which was more than the steamer could stand and it went down a LaMcGinty, together with its whole crew. Fortunately there was only four feet of water in the place and the crew was saved.

Warren Sheaf: Thomas Cleary, a former well-known resident of the town of Angus, died at Spokane Falls, Wash., July 14th, and was buried with Masonic rites on the 16th. His death was caused by tumor of the face, a disease which more than a year ago deprived him of the strength to labor. Last November he went to Minneapolis for special treatment and for several months anxious friends were hopeful that at least the progress of the disease might be arrested and that his line of life would not so soon run out. He returned in April but it soon became evident that vitality could not long withstand the drain upon it. He gradually grew weaker until the disease wore him out. He leaves a widow and eight children to mourn the loss of a kind, faithful and loving husband and father.

Warren Sheaf: The Warren boys lost the game of base ball Wednesday through their inability to get enough scores to win. It was a very pretty exhibition from start to finish. The principal feature of the game was the phenomenal work of Walker in the box, striking out eighteen of the Crookston sluggers. Score 6 to 5 in favor of the visitors.

Some old roosters are trying to look wise while they say: "I don't believe it will be much of a shower after all!" They better take their rubber coat along all the same.

If the democrats put up Judge Lochren for Governor and Bierman for auditor there will be fun and lots of it. But they will not do it. The masses never have the say so.

If everybody imagines that any one of the political parties has a walk away he does not read the signs of the times aright. The only one sure thing about it is that but one party can succeed.

The State Central committee was called to meet at St. Paul on Wednesday of this week to organize and map out a plan of campaign. Joel Heatwole will be chairman and Tanis Bixby, secretary.

It is said that Baxter will be the democratic nominee for Congress in the 5th District. Better so than an endorsement of Halvorson though Baxter is no doubt the strongest man they could put up.

Princeton Union:—Will Merriam be elected? Yes, we think he will be elected, but by a small majority. For there is no use of attempting to disguise the fact that this is going to be a rocky year, politically, in Minnesota.

It is said that Tim Byrnes has got back from Washington, complacently looked over the field (in Minneapolis) and now promises an old time majority for the ticket. Tim should extend his investigations a few miles into the State before he sums up the case.

The demand of the farmers is simply for a free and open wheat market. The party that will guarantee him that would secure his vote. Like everybody else, he has a personal object in this matter and he has made up his mind to vote it out on this line whatever befalls.

Mat. Cornelius is mentioned for county auditor to succeed P. J. McGuire. Mat. has had sufficient experience in that office to be a good, efficient auditor should the mantle descend on his shoulders. Mat. is not pushing his canvass to the extent of making a scramble for the office.

It is an old saying among farmers "jokes are free in harvest and threshing time." It is now harvest time, so the following little joke the farmers have on Governor Merriam is appropos The farmers say that the Governor is paying cash now but after election the Governor will be Owen.

It is said the "kids" are kicking vigorously at lack of representation in the State Central Committee. It was thought that Sam Nichols would have a place on that committee and had there been any virtue in solid substantial work he doubtless would have had. He was one of the hardest workers in the last campaign and always has a way of getting what he goes after.

A few weeks since we noticed in a Brainerd paper an account of an organization among railroad employes of an association for purposes of a political nature. It was said that the attitude of the Farmers' Alliance, demanding government control of railroads, was the occasion and that the object of the Association is to vote only for such men as are opposed to the alliance idea. THE JOURNAL is informed that a similar association has been formed in Crookston.

The Great West says that Mr. Donnelly is doing no sulking in his tent, but that his coat will come off and he will do good work for the farmers cause in the coming campaign. All who know Mr. Donnelly will be prepared to vouch for the truth of this. That Mr. Donnelly was disappointed was only natural but that he can go back in his life work is wholly unnatural and he will not do it. If the Alliance had more such friends they would be better off.

Judge Montague's distinguished services in the late republican convention, his valiant fight to have none but the Old Guards on deck, was deserving of recognition by an appointment on one committee, at least—in fact as mover of the resolution to have the chair appoint a county central committee, he was entitled to the chairmanship of that committee. But, alas, poor Yorick! He must learn to labor and to wait.

The Globe announces that Daniel Buck will not be a candidate for Governor on the democratic ticket. The democrats have the chance of a lifetime to elect a live Governor, but with their usual facility for blundering, they will miss it. The masses would like to endorse Owen, and if that should be done he would be elected, but Jim Hill and the leading democrats don't want any Owen in theirs and so, of course, he cannot be endorsed.

"To be or not to be," a candidate for clerk of court is the question that is puzzling the genial Henry Wight these days. Whether twere better to suffer the evils that do exist in an unofficial condition or by one fell swoop to end them—in the soup. Ah there's the rub. If but the nomination were equivalent to an election as in the good old days of yore, twere a simple matter but the reliance to be placed in the alliance if it should pan out a mes-alliance? Oh the pity of it? To run into the soup may be, a ridiculous Muss at least.

When a voter just naturally gets up on his ear and declares by yimminy he won't vote thus and so you might just as well accept that and begin to figure what you are going to do about it. It is always the part of wisdom to look cold facts in the face and prepare for it even though unpalatable they may be. There will be a heap of stubborn facts in the field this fall.

FIXING MATTERS UP.

Hope That the Duluth and Winnipeg Will Start Work Quickly.

Duluth Herald, July 31st.

Vice-President W. H. Fisher, of the Duluth & Winnipeg, is in the city to-day. He is still suffering from the injury to his knee received on July 4th, and is obliged to use crutches, but is again able to be about and attend to his business. In speaking of the recent trouble and the cessation of work, Mr. Fisher said that he expected to have matters arranged with satisfaction to all within the next two weeks, but meanwhile 2,000 laborers are thrown out of employment.

The track has been completed to the line of the Winnibigoshish reservation, thirteen miles west of Grand Rapids, and there they were obliged to stop on account of orders from the government. Mr. Fisher said he did not expect any trouble, and with the idea that permission had been granted to cross the reservation, had filed maps of the proposed route together with the location of stations, as required by the government.

There is no opposition on the part of the Indians themselves; on the contrary they seem anxious to have the road built and have expressed a willingness to sign a petition to that effect.

This delay will prevent the completion of the road this year as had been originally intended, but as soon as matters are arranged, the work will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Northfield News: The farmers should not be in a hurry to part with their wheat to speculators this year. The advices are that there is a short crop in Europe and that the scarcity extends to India. The price has already advanced in Liverpool to a point higher than has been reached since 1884. From France comes the announcement that the money which was to have been used for the celebration of the fall of the Bastile, a day as important there as the Fourth of July is here, was given to farmers who lost their harvest by the excessive rainfalls. Unless all advices are at fault the American farmer will have a good wheat market.

No Virtue in False Estimates of Opposing Forces.

The Minneapolis Journal.

The Pioneer Press and other Republican organs are busy pooh-poohing the Farmers' Alliance movement in Minnesota. It is admitted that that movement is assuming alarming proportions in many other sections. In Tennessee, Texas, Arkansas, Missouri, the Carolinas, Kansas, Michigan and other states the farmers have already won victories and bid fair to upheave things generally next fall. The danger of all this is pointed out to lie in the visionary and impracticable aims of the organization, like the sub-treasury scheme. This fantastic notion that the United States shall set up receiving warehouses for all farm products, giving negotiable certificates for the same at market rates, certainly has the Alliance endorsement in a number of states. And it is, of course, an absurdity on its face.

But it happens that the Alliance platform in Minnesota deals very little with these vagaries.

That document is on the whole quite conservative. The impelling motive of the movement here lies in other causes—in matters largely local.

Further, the number of farmers who are concerned in Minnesota is considerably greater than Republican organs will admit. The nomination of Mr. Owen was a level-headed piece of business.

The alliance cut loose by that act from the Cheap John politicians, who were trying to use them for selfish purposes. The loss that may be sustained from that source will be more than offset by gains from others.

The Alliance ticket is a good one. The platform is more moderate than in many other states. And Republicans might as well face the fact that the alliance will cast a large vote next fall in Minnesota. They might as well face the further fact that if the Democrats were capable of so good politics as the indorsement of Owen's nomination their chances for success would be such as to justify most serious concern on the part of the Republicans.

There is nothing to be gained in any controversy by underestimating the strength of one's opponents.

Essential to Success.

Professor McLouth:—No trade or business can thrive which does not furnish employment more than one-quarter of the working year. The shoemaker of Lynn or the weaver of Manchester who is reduced to "half time" is in a precarious condition; what, then, could we expect of a Dakota wheat farmer who, with his teams and his tools and his lands, is reduced to less than "half time"? There is a law here as inflexible as that of gravitation. There may be rare exceptions, but they are accidental and temporary, and only go to prove the rule. Your farming must be such that when you cannot plow, or sow, or cultivate, or harvest, you can be employed with your stock; when your grain, or your roots, or your hay, or your fruit cannot grow, your cows, your sheep, and your swine shall still grow and yield their increase. This is the philosophy of thrift, and this is safe and profitable farming.

HAIL INSURANCE!

NOW IS THE TIME to insure your crops against loss by hail, in the Minnesota Alliance Storm Association. Members sustaining loss to their growing crops by hail shall be entitled to compensation as follows, which shall be net: When the loss is entire the price per acre shall in no case exceed the following established prices, the amount to be determined according to stand:

Wheat	$8.00	Rye	$6.56
Oats	6.50	Barley	6.00
Corn	7.00	Flax	7.00

In cases of partial loss the following prices per bushed will be used in adjusting; providing, however, the price shall in no case exceed the above established limit per acre:

Wheat	50 cents	Corn	23 cents
Oats	20 "	Flax	75 "
Barley	25 "	Rye	33 "

Losses shall be due and payable within sixty days after adjustment, but in case of excessive losses the Directors shall have discretionary power to defer a portion of the payment until November 15th. Insure with the

MINNESOTA ALLIANCE STORM ASSOCIATION.

This Company has already insured FORTY THOUSAND ACRES in Southern Minnesota, which already insures a large business. The following is a list of agents in Polk County:

Farm Papers and Politics.

Farm, Stock and Home.

A few years ago rarely an agricultural paper could be found that paid any attention or devoted any space to the discussion of questions not directly pertaining to agricultural matter and methods. The accepted mission of such journals seemed to be to tell the farmers how to plow and sow, to reap and mow, and—economize; and that they could by any possibility owe a higher or broader duty to their readers probably never occurred to them. All questions that by any possibility could be made to assume a political complexion were shunned and feared as the devil is said to shun and fear holy water. The agricultural journals were all "independent in politics," but with them "independence" was synonymous with silence, and so they never raised a warning signal, nor gave a cry of admonition or caution to their readers, no matter what was being done by legislation or custom to injure the great interest they stood the theoretical champions of.

It is a pleasure to note, however, that a change is now heard in the tone of hosts of good agricultural papers; better now than ever, because they recognize that their constituents are by far the most important part of our citizens, and that none are more vitally interested in matters of public policy and governmental administration. Some of the papers yet handle very gingerly those questions which have become partisan issues, as the tariff; but such subjects as ever increasing an unequally distributed taxation, money in politics, monopolistic abuses and extortions, over-capitalization of corporations, currency coinage, grain gambling, and other correlative wrongs and abuses are handled ably, fearlessly and effectively. The agricultural press now has a splendid opportunity to mould public opinion and to influence legislation in connection with its present splendid work along the lines of practical agricultural education; and the opportunity is being embraced by very many of the oldest, most conservative and wisest representatives of the guild. There is in the changed and changing tone of such papers much to encourage farmers in their present crisis.

"Cinnamon Beans."

Farm, Stock and Home.—We understand the "cinnamon bean" fiend is abroad in the land. He has got some ordinary colored beans on which a cinnamon oil has been sprinkled. The beans "grow beautifully, yield profusely, and produce the cinnamon oil of commerce." This is the story; the price is from $20 to $40 a bushel, according to the quality bought and the gullibility of the buyer. A note can be given if desired, "payable out of the first crop of oil," but that part of the contract cuts no figure with the "innocent purchaser" of the note, who will have it in his posession a day or two after it is given. The scheme is a very gauzy one; still, with a slick talker behind it not a few victims are found. A good dog, a shot gun loaded with bird shot, or a pair of stoga boots vigorously applied are good remedies for the cinnamon bean fraud.

True Economy.

Farm, Stock and Home:—Economy does not mean to pinch and be stingy in order to grow rich in worldly possessions. It does not demand a denial of moderate luxuries and the pleasures of a comfortable existence, so that dollar upon dollar can be laid aside. That would be parsimony. One may practice strictest economy and yet have plenty and be liberal. Prudence and a judicious management of capital at hand, never making an expenditure recklessly, without reduction—this is what constitutes true economy. It is not so much the amount paid out, as for what purpose that sum, however small, has been spent. The great secret of success in practical economy lies in a careful consideration of petty expenses, and a rational distinction between what is essential and what is superfluous.

Bounty on Wheat.

Farm, Stock and Home.

An esteemed correspondent from Bay City, Mich., sends us a letter of some length in which he advocates the paying of a bounty on all exported wheat. This, he claims is the only kind of a tariff on wheat that will benefit the farmer, which is correct; and therefore he advocates it as an advantage to the farmer commensurate with the advantage to the manufacturer from the tariff on such articles as we import. In other words, if the farmer is to be benefited by a protective tariff on the stuff he raises for export it must come in the way of bounties, and in this he is unquestionably right. This correspondent, unintentionally—for he is evidently friendly to protection—admits the absurdity of the claim that our present system is of any advantage to the farmer as a seller; he also furnishes another evidence that the "times are out of joint" and that he is one of those who expect to cure the body politic by applying counter-irritants, anæsthetics or soothing lotions.

It is urged that if bounty paying to ships and sugar is right, so it is to wheat; yes, and it might be added, to beef, butter, cotton, corn, and every other agricultural product we export. But the fault in this logic lies in the fact that it is not right to pay bounties to ships and sugar. Bounty paying is a delusion at best. The money that pays them must come from productive industry, and if such industry gets it back again it is an even thing; if it does not it gets left.

There are great forces at work robbing productive industry of a large share of the fruits of the toil; those forces must be destroyed and then no thought will be given of bounty paying to agriculture. Nothing will so degrade a nation as to make a beggar of its agriculture. Let us lift from it the loads that weigh it down and it will be too proud to ask alms of anybody.

JOHN CROMB,
Attorney-at-Law.
SECOND STREET. CROOKSTON.

[First publication Aug. 7th. 1890.]

STATE OF MINNESOTA, County of Polk—ss. In Probate Court, General Term, Aug. 4th, 1890.

In the matter of the estate of Aslak Bjornson, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of T. D. Osd, administrator of said estate, setting forth the amount of personal estate that has come into his hands, the disposition thereof, and how much remains undisposed of; the amount of debts outstanding against said deceased, as far as the same can be ascertained; the legacies unpaid, and a description of all the real estate, excepting the homestead, of which said deceased died seized, and the condition and value of the respective portions or lots thereof; the persons interested in said estate, with their residences; and praying that license be to him granted to sell all of said real estate at private sale. And it appearing by said petition that there is not sufficient personal estate in the hands of said administrator to pay said debts, the legacies or expenses of administration, and that it is necessary for the payment of such debts, legacies or expenses to sell all of said real estate.

It is therefore ordered, that all persons interested in said estate appear before this court on Tuesday, the 23d day of September, A. D. 1890, at two o'clock p. m., at the Probate Office in Crookston, in said county, then and there to show cause (if any there be) why license should not be granted to said administrator to sell so much of the real estate of said deceased as shall be necessary to pay such debts, legacies and expenses.

And it is further ordered, that this order shall be published once in each week for three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing, in THE POLK COUNTY JOURNAL, a weekly newspaper printed and published at Crookston, in said county.

Dated at Crookston, the 4th day of August, A. D. 1890.

By the Court: O. O. CHRISTIANSON,
Judge of Probate.

The Silver Question Means The Money Question.

Northwestern Farmer and Breeder.

What is money?

It is a creature of law; its use is to facilitate the exchange of wealth; to make easy the settlement of balances in trade.

What is "barter?" It is the direct exchange of one product of labor for another product; as the giving of wheat for oats; or pounds of butter for pounds of sugar, etc., etc.

All "trade" or exchange, with the use of money, if carried out to its last explanation is nothing more or less than "barter."

Money, then is a measure of value. One dollar of "United States" money is supposed to represent the value of one day of common labor.

There can be, really, no standard of inflexible value.

Even an ounce of silver does not always represent the same value. It will at different times buy more or less of gold, wheat, coal, etc., etc.; for the value of all things vary with plenty and scarcity.

The farmer very well knows that all things which he buys or sells, have fluctuating values.

The only thing that causes a piece of silver to become "money," is the stamp of the Government.

And its value as money is because of the Government stamp, and not because of its commercial value.

For when 72 cents worth of silver is stamped "one dollar" by the United States Government, its purchasing power, and its debt paying power is 100 cents, and not 72 cents.

So when a bit of paper, worth commercially one tenth of a cent, is stamped by Government "one dollar," its purchasing power is that of 100 cents.

When money is plenty then all products are higher in price. When money is scarce, merchandise is relatively lower.

The purchasing power of wheat and other farm products is regulated in the same way, by the natural laws of supply and demand.

Money is a result of civilization. Savages and primitive people exchange their labor products directly.

Fifty years ago I lived on the "frontier." To exchange the produce of my labor for a labor product of civilization was often difficult.

If there had been plenty of silver "money," in small pieces, it would have been easy.

Silver stamped by Government is more desirable than unstamped pieces; the latter is only wealth; the former is money and wealth.

But coined or stamped silver is no better for the purpose of "money" than stamped paper, or "dollar bills."

Persons wishing to purchase silver, or gold, or wheat, or any other product of labor can always do so with United States paper money.

For several years, during and after "the war" of "61," stamped paper was the only money in circulation.

During this time a "money panic" took place in England, and so the English bankers sent over here and purchased with our greenbacks and bonds many millions of our gold coin. As the coin formed no part of our "circulation" at that time, not even a "flurry" in financial circles took place, for it did not reduce the volume of our circulating medium."

Gold or silver are never sent out of this country as "money," but only as so much merchandise, "bullion." And this bullion is always sold by weight, and not by count.

The silver producers, or silver mine owners wish the Government to purchase all the silver they may choose to offer, and have the Government issue paper certificates for it; otherwise paper dollars; or coin the silver for them, and thereby make their silver a legal tender.

The silver mine owner wishes to have a ready market for his product.

The farmer would like to have a ready market for his wheat, and has just as good a right, and just as good reasons for demanding of Government the purchase of his wheat at a dollar per bushel, as the silver miner has to demand for the Government the purchase of his silver at one dollar per ounce.

But the Government won't do that for the farmer because he is poor; but will, very likely, do it for the silver man because he is rich, and influential.

Free and unlimited coinage, without the issue of certificates is a practical purchase of the silver, for it then becomes the "money" of the people; the Government.

However there are sufficient reasons for farmers, (under the present social conditions) to oppose "the silver bill."

The effect of "free coinage" will be to increase the volume of money in the country.

The volume of money now in circulation is about 22½ dollars per individual.

To keep it at this standard, requires an increase of about 25 millions per year at present.

If this volume should be increased to 50 millions or more per annum, then merchandise, of all kinds, will advance in price; farm products, and mill products.

It will not benefit the farmer who is out of debt. It will very much benefit the farmer who is in debt, for he can pay his debts with cheaper money, or with a less number of bushels of grain.

The rich men of the East, who have loaned their money in the West, will use all their influences in Congress to defeat the increase of the currency; for they desire the interest and principal of their loans to be paid in scarce and dear money. But it should be "their turn" now to suffer, for they played the same trick on the farmer about 1876 by making the money of the country scarce and dear, by reducing the currency volume about 70 millions of dollars in one year, thus compelling farmers who had borrowed cheap money in "greenback times" to pay the debt in money having double the purchasing power. Otherwise in being compelled to give two bushels of wheat where they had agreed to give one bushel.

About 1864 money was very cheap.

A bushel of wheat in Iowa would buy 275 cents worth of "greenbacks."

The most of Iowa farms were heavily mortgaged.

The farmers easily paid off their debts with this cheap money. It ought never to have been made dearer, by law.

It is better for exchange of products, "trade," to have plenty of money in circulation. Now if the farmers wish to increase the "money" to 50 dollars per capita, instead of keeping it at 22½, let them say so, in emphatic words or deeds. But when the increase is once made it must never go backwards.

It is a cruel, unjust and wicked thing for Government to legislate for a particular "class."

HENRY S. CHASE.

St. Louis, Mo., June 13, 1890.

Money to Loan

On More Reasonable and Better Terms than Ever Before Offered in the Northwest.

We are now prepared to loan money in any amount from $250 up to $10,000 on well improved farms where title has been perfected, and U. S. patent is on record or has been issued.

Our terms are 8 per cent. interest, with a small commission to cover expenses and cost of making the loan.

Where the security is satisfactory we can make loans for five or any greater number of years, interest payable annually on the first day of January, and will allow the borrower, after two years, to pay any part of the principal, in sums of $100 or upwards on any interest day named in his notes. So much for straight loans.

We are the agents for the Union Central Life Insurance Company, of Cincinati, Ohio, a company of great strength, and a public record for probity and fair dealing unsurpassed; and can write life insurance in connection with loans with great profit and advantage to the borrower, which, taken in connection with the loan for ten years, pays the loan by yearly payments, which is more fully shown by the following statement: A, aged 25 years, of sound health, applies for a loan of $1,000 on his farm, at the same time he applies for $1,000 insurance on the 10 years annual payment stock-endowment plan. He pays as follows:

Each year on his insurance.......$88 44

Each year on his loan for interest....................80 00

Total yearly payments...$ 168 44

Total for ten years.........1684 40

which pays up for the insurance, and the insurance pays the loan in full.

If the borrower dies during the ten years his insurance becomes payable and due at once and pays his loan in full, leaving his farm clear and free of all encumbrances, for his family.

NOTE THE DIFFERENCE.

If the borrower effects a loan of $1,000 on the plan usually followed, he must pay interest at the rate of ten per cent. and may be stated as follows:

$1,000 for five years, annual interest....................$ 100 00

At the end of the loan he pays interest in the sum of.......... 500 00

When the loan is due he pays.. 1000 00

Principal and interest paid in 5 years....................1500 00

As much within $184.40 as he pays in ten years with insurance with us.

If he makes such a loan for ten years he pays:

Interest....................$1000 00

Principal at end of 10 years..... 1000 00

Total....................$2000 00

or $315.60 more than he would pay with us; besides on the 10 per cent. plan he is not insured against death, and if he dies during the life of the loan the "Old Detestable Mortgage" still hangs over the heads of his defenceless wife and children.

Whereas, default has been made in the payment of the sum of twenty-eight dollars due as interest upon said mortgage on the first day of January, A. D. 1889, and the further sum of twenty-eight dollars due as interest thereon on the first day of January, A. D. 1890, and the said interest is still unpaid and due; and

Whereas, it was stipulated and agreed by and between the parties to said mortgage that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants therein contained on the part of the mortgagors to be kept and performed, that then and from thenceforth it shall be lawful for said mortgagee, his heirs, administrator, executors or assigns, to consider the whole sum thereby secured as immediately due and payable without notice to said mortgagors or any other party; and

Whereas, the mortgagee Caroline B. Wheeler, has exercised her option to consider and declare, and does hereby consider and declare the whole sum of money secured by said mortgage to be due and payable; and

Whereas, there is now due and claimed to be due upon said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of four hundred sixty-eight and 77-100 dollars, and no proceedings have been instituted at law or otherwise to recover the same or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale in said mortgage contained and therewith recorded, and pusuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the land therein described, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of Polk County at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Crookston, in said County and State, on the 9th day of August, A. D. 1890, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash to pay the sum due on said mortgage, together with taxes, if any, on said premises, and twenty-five dollars attorney's fees therein stipulated to be paid in case of foreclosure and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as provided by law.

MORTGAGE SALE.

[First publication July 3d, 1890.]

WHEREAS ANDREW J. BOHLEEN, AND Eva Bohleen, his wife, as Mortgagors, did on the 8th day of March, A. D. 1889, duly execute and deliver to the Minnesota Loan and Trust Company of Minneapolis, Minnesota, a corporation as Mortgagee, their mortgage bearing date the 8th day of March, A. D. 1889, whereby they mortgaged to said Mortgagee the following described land situated in the County of Polk, and State of Minnesota, to-wit:

The South-east Quarter of Section One (1), in Township One Hundred and Fifty-three (153) North, of Range 44 West, containing One Hundred and Sixty (160) acres, to secure the payment of Seventy-four and Seventy-five One-hundredths Dollars ($74.75) according to the conditions of one certain promissory note payable in nine (9) semi-annual installments, said note bearing even date with said mortgage, and made by said Mortgagors to said Mortgagee or order; which said mortgage was, on the 8th day of March, A. D. 1889, at five o'clock and ten minutes P. M., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said Polk County, in Book "41" of mortgages, on pages 495 to 498 inclusive.

And whereas, The Minnesota Loan and Trust Company did for value received, on the 10th day of April, A. D. 1889, duly assign the aforesaid note and mortgage and the debt secured thereby, to Halvor Steenerson and Geo. J. McManus, partners as Steenerson & McManus, of Crookston Minnesota, which said assignment was in writing under seal and duly acknowledged, and was thereafter on the 19th day of June, A. D. 1890, at three o'clock and thirty minutes P. M., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said Polk County, in Book "53" of Mortgages, on pages 366 and 367.

And whereas default has been made in the payment of the sum of Seven and Fifty One-hundredths ($7.50) Dollars, due as the second installment on said note on the 1st day of June, A. D. 1890, and said sum is still unpaid and due,

And whereas it was stipulated and agreed by between the parties to said Mortgage, that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants therein contained on the part of the Mortgagors to be kept and performed, then and from thenceforth it shall be lawful for said Mortgagee and its assigns to consider the whole sum thereby secured to be immediately due and payable without notice to said Mortgagors or any other party.

And whereas Halvor Steenerson and Geo. J. McManus, assignees of said Mortgagee, have exercised their option to consider and declare, and do hereby declare the whole sum of money secured by said mortgage and still unpaid, to be due and payable.

And whereas there is now due, and claimed to be due upon said Mortgage at the date of this notice, the sum of Sixty-three and seventy-nine One-hundredths ($63.79) Dollars, and no proceedings having been instituted by law or otherwise to recover the same or any part thereof,

Now therefore notice is hereby given that, by virtue of the power of sale in said mortgage contained, and therewith recorded, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed by sale of the land therein described, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court-house in the City of Crookston, in said County, on the 15th day of August, A. D. 1890, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash; to pay the sum due on said mortgage, together with the taxes, if any, on said premises, and Twenty-five Dollars ($25) attorneys' fees therein stipulated to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as provided by law.

The National Economist.

If Mr. Windom's estimate of the amount of money in circulation be as correct as he claims it to be, it is still subject to a very material reduction on account of what has been lost, worn out, exported for recoinage, and coin converted to other uses, because he takes the gross amount coined or issued and subtracts what is in the treasury, and calls the balance in circulation. It is plain that these amounts should be subtracted in order to get the actual amount in circulation. Money melted into some other form or lost, destroyed or worn out, is not in circulation. If only an average of four million dollars per year has been withdrawn from circulation for all these purposes for the last hundred years, the gross amount now in circulation and hoarded by banks and by individuals, according to Mr. Windom's own figures, is about one billion dollars. The interest at six per cent on alien investments in the United States is now admitted by the most conservative to be not less than $250,000,000 per annum. If this be true, it will be just four years until the foreign invasion now going on in this country shall amount to a practical and complete conquest, because it will absorb every dollar of the money of this nation, and thereby control all the property, and by that means enslave the people. In the American vernacular, this contracted volume is a "soft thing" for the alien investor who contemplates conquest; and little as the common people think about it, the American plutocrat would rather see alien conquest with the establishment of an aristocracy or empire of plutocracy, than to longer strive to maintain the unjust supremacy of wealth by the expensive corruption-fund methods now forced upon him by the discontent of the "inconvenient multitude." The intelligence of the people is now the only hope.

The Silver Bill.

National Economist.

The Baltimore Sun, of July 14, says of the compromise silver bill, as it passed both branches of Congress, that "it is a saner measure than might have been expected of this Congress. It is foolish and unjust in that it causes the Goverment an unprofitable investment in the product of one class of mines. The Government might buy coffee or wheat or iron with as much propriety as silver." Why, then, don't the Sun say the bill is unconstitutional? It quotes with approval the speeches of men it styles statesmen, who says the Alliance sub-treasury bill is unconstitutional. But, says the Sun, the bill staves off the great folly of free silver and a depreciated currency, and for this the counrty may be thankful. Alliance men will stick a pin here. The Sun says the Government may with equal propriety buy wheat as silver, and if wheat. also the other staples named in the sub-treasury bill. If, then, the sub-treasuay bill is unconstitutional, so is the silver bill, as The Economist has always maintained. Colonel Jones, the Democratic candidate for Governor of Alabama, in what the Sun styles a manly answer to Alliance inquiries, opposes the sub-treasury bill. Yes, he does it like a man, as inexpedient, in his opinion; he does not stultify himself by saying it is unconstitutional. There are objections, and great objections, to the silver bill, and the greatest of them probably is that it "staves off" the undoing of that most villainous of financial crimes, the demonetization of money of the Constitution, as a part of a scheme of which this silver bill is also part and parcel, to wit, to make the war debt, contracted on the basis of depreciated greenbacks, payable in appreciated gold. "Staves off" is the right phrase. When the people are heard from again on the question it will be found that there is something else behind this silver movement than a silver bullion syndicate. It is, it will be found, a movement of the people, to right a mighty wrong, Senator Sherman to the contrary notwithstanding, surreptitiously put upon them. Sane or insane, this is a movement of the people, and when a matter comes before the American people they know right from wrong. Neither "force bills" nor party whips nor thongs can drive the Alliance movement from its purposes; nor can its attention be drawn away from vital questions by shouting for all sorts of so-called reforms.

Northwestern Farmer and Breeder: As an instance showing the success of creameries in the northern region the editor of the Moorhead News says of a recent visit to one at Hawley, Minn. This creamery is turning out now one thousand pounds per day and shipping the bulk of the product direct to New York city. The quantity of cream which is gathered by the drivers of the Hawley creamery was a surprise to us. They cover a wide territory and it is a section of small farmers thickly inhabited and all have cows. The enterprise promises great success and there can be no doubt whatever that it will prove advantageous to both farmers and owners as well also as to the merchants of Hawley.

Devils Lake News: Miss Edith Copeland, of Crookston, and Miss Agnes Kops, of Grand Forks, who for the past two weeks have been the guests of Miss Minnie Benham, of this city, returned to their homes last Sunday. These charming young ladies added much to the social enjoyment of the young people while here, and their departure was much regretted. They were very much pleased with the entertainment they received and promised to come again.

Farmers' Alliance.

What the Press of the Country Thinks of the New Party.

The Philadelphia Times has caught on very neatly to the drift of political affairs in this section. It says:

The ticket of the Farmers' Alliance in Minnesota promises to be a very disturbing factor in the politics of that state. The Alliance ticket is headed by S. M. Owen, Republican, for governor, and three other Republicans are on the ticket with two Democrats. Owen is editor of the Farm, Stock and Home, and Wesenburg, another Republican on the ticket, is a Swede and editor of the Duluth Scandinav, the organ of the large Swede population in the state, all of which is Republican.

The Alliance movement in Minnesota, with an organized vote of nearly 40,000, and many other thousands sympathizing with it, is certain to hold the balance of bower between the old parties, and a general uptumbling of politics in that state may be expected, not only in state officers but in congressman and the legislature. It looks as if there would not be any supporters of the McKinley bill returned to congress in Minnesota.

The New York Times is responsible for the following: "It is charged against the Farmers' Alliance of Alabama that it has been the cause of the 'decline and fall off' of the Hardshell Baptist church in Alabama. This church opposed the Alliance and fought it tooth and nail, acting in accordance with its general doctrine that secret societies are the invention of the devil. The farmers were given their choice between Alliance and excommunication on the one hand, and no Alliance and communion with the saints on the other hand. Being of the earth, earthy, they generally cleaved to the Alliance."

The Oshkosh Times says: "The Minnesota farmers have decided that it does not pay them to put mortgages on their farms to enable them to pay high protective duties on the clothes they wear and the utensils they use. In pursuance of this idea they propose electing state officers to look out for their own interests and not to be driven by a tariff scare to look out for the interests of a few protected monopolies and a few selfish politicians at the expense of the farmers."

The Detroit Free Press looks at it in this light:

The denunciation of the McKinley bill by the Minnesota farmers is a vigorous piece of work; and coming as it does from a state where the Republican majority is due to the agricultural vote, it ought to have some effect in checking the demand that the bill in question be passed as a party measure. The Pioneer Press, of St. Paul, has been telling the party leaders as plainly as it could without putting the statement into words, that the passage of the bill would imperil the party's hold on Minnesota, but the leaders have sneered at the suggestion as unworthy of attention. Perhaps they may pay more heed to it now that it has been voiced by the most numerous and important part of their constituency in the state.

The complaint of the farmers that the war tariff discriminates against them is a general one, but it might easily have been given with a bill of particulars. The Massachusetts labor bureau, in its latest issue, has furnished such a bill, which the Minnesota farmers and all others interested would do well to read. The volume, like all those issued by the Massachusetts bureau, has been carefully prepared and is unquestionably trustworthy. Although compiled under the direction of Republican officials, it is apparently free from partisan bias. It certainly furnishes a mass of facts which make very strongly against the protection policy of the Republican party.

Ottawa Journal:—The farmer does not want the earth, but he does want a living show upon it. In order to have it, the board of trade must go down, railroad monopolists be taught that there are other people in this country as powerful as they, the government so adjust the tariff that all are equally protected and also pass the loan bill. With such help as this the farmer would get on his feet once more and hard times be a thing of the past.

A great many of the farmers about here have been "settling up" with the holders of their mortgages. They deed their property for the face of their debt, and receive a contract from the mortgage holder to redeed to them within a given time on payment of the original debt, with cost and interest added—provided the property has not been sold before the expiration of the time named in the contract. We know of eleven farmers in one township which have been deeded in this way.

In the matter of the estate of Aslak Bjornson, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of T. D. Ose, administrator of said estate, setting forth the amount of personal estate that has come into his hands, the disposition thereof, and how much remains undisposed of; the amount of debts outstanding against said deceased, as far as the same can be ascertained; the legacies unpaid, and a description of all the real estate, excepting the homestead, of which said deceased died seized, and the condition and value of the respective portions or lots thereof; the persons interested in said estate, with their residences; and praying that license be to him granted to sell all of said real estate at private sale. And it appearing by said petition that there is not sufficient personal estate in the hands of said administrator to pay said debts, the legacies or expenses of administration; and that it is necessary for the payment of such debts, legacies or expenses to sell all of said real estate.

It is therefore ordered, that all persons interested in said estate appear before this court on Tuesday, the 23d day of September, A. D. 1890, at two o'clock p. m., at the Probate Office in Crookston, in said county, then and there to show cause (if any there be) why license should not be granted to said administrator to sell so much of the real estate of said deceased as shall be necessary to pay such debts, legacies and expenses.

And it is further ordered, that this order shall be published once in each week for three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing, in THE POLK COUNTY JOURNAL, a weekly newspaper printed and published at Crookston, in said county.

Dated at Crookston, the 4th day of August, A. D. 1890.

By the Court: C. O. CHRISTIANSON, Judge of Probate.

Why not Living and Steady Prices?

The Prairie Farmer.

There is just now great depression in business, compared to what it should be, and it seems to the writer all on account of the low prices given to farmers for their productions. We believe that no man can say truthfully that such is not the fact.

What is to be done to rectify this state of things? First of all, compensatory prices for farm products. Add to nearly all of them 50 per cent. Some may be a little lower, but the most of them should be a greater per cent. Wheat and its flour should be based on 2 cents a pound, or $1,20 a bushel. Corn should bring, at St Louis, and all Mississippi ports, one cent a pound or 56 cents a bushel. Oats 1 3-8, or 40 cents a bushel. At Chicago wheat as above; corn 60 cents: Oats 45; other grains in proportion. Cattle on foot, 4 cents the lowest and 7 cents the very best. Hogs on foot, 5½ cents the lowest and 6½ cents the very best. Hay $10 and $12 per ton.

These prices should be from year's end, to year's end, and should provide for all other things; one steady fixed price for everything, to farmers. the transporter's profits to middle-men and others, can be approximately established by first of all finding what is just, and then strictly live up to it.

Let the above prices be given for the products named, with other things in proportion to them, and there will be prosperity—such as has not been of late; and asking of reductions by railways for cartage will not be heard.

The crop prospects of 1890, from reports of all papers coming to hand, are not of the most flattering kind. Therefore it behooves the farmer to be wise and not sell or offer for sale anything for some time. Keep your products for a while, till wanted at prices approximating those above named. Let that now gone forward be used up before selling. Don't be in any hurry about threshing, but if you are, store your grain at home, or in your nearest elevator. Better stack your grain, and be in no hurry.

The enhancement of farm products to prices named will not greatly raise the price to consumers, and will give middle-men a reasonable reward for time and use of capital in their business, if the advice were taken out of them.

Monopolies, big syndicates and big factories should be controlled; and a greater number of smaller cities and manufacturing establishment established nearer to the farmer would be found more profitable to every one. Transportation charges are low enough, but the price of that to be carred, is what is wanted.

The Prairie Farmer certainly can be profited by the advocacy of this sort of thing for the farmers and others; so can all other agricultural journals, the great metropolitan daily papers and especially the country weeklies.

Try this plan, gentlemen, for a while, and see if an old farmer's predictions do not come true.

J. M. GALE.

COMMUNICATED.

I have had an occasion to look over the minutes in full of our County Board of Equalization a part of which is published in this issue and from its columns of figures and body of writing I should judge that the Board has been very painstaking in adjusting the valuation of the property on a basis that will cause all concerned to share in an even measure the burden of taxation.

It matters very little to a community whether the valuation of their property is placed high or low, when such corporate communities under our present state of government are obliged to raise money for public good by taking their property—that it depends in the equality of taxation to bring about an even and just taxation. A placing of a high value of our property necessarily lowers the rate of taxation or vice versa a low valuation creates a high rate of levy, but the result is nevertheless the same. For such reason I pay no more taxes on the value at $10.00 per acre than I do at $1.00 per acre—not a bit more. So when we complain of high taxes we should not necessarily blame the Assessor the town or County Board, but rather ourselves because we are the ones that has pluged our towns and School Districts into such a heavy debt—a fact which we never trouble ourselves to think of when we are called to pay tribute to our public institutions.

Look for instance at the expenditures that most of our loans have made. Every town managed to acquire possession of a grader regardless of its utility, and the consequence was a $1000 Bond. As the towns most generally never possessed the sufficient number of horses to run a grader, the next step was to give another mortgage on the town, for the purpose of making some impossible ridges—known as highways—creating a nuisance and an obstruction to the natural flowage of the water etc.

I know of towns which are bonded for from 5 to 8000 dollars bearing 10 per cent for 20 years causing a yearly interest of 5 to 800 dollars for the town to pay.

Again, as we go along we are steadily increasing in numbers as the late census will prove to you, and although the absence of a crop was redeemed by a corresponding increase in our families and school houses and school madams—even in the most sparsely settled localities, was a necessity to bring about the education of our rising generation; it is but natural that the taxes—particularly in the new organized localities have been on the rise and unavoidable be so if we think we can afford to make use of the best commodities and obtain the best of results.

Hail, Tornado and Cyclone Insurance

THE MINNESOTA

Alliance Storm Association

The Minnesota Alliance Storm Association, organized April 21st, 1890, is now in the field ready to insure crops against loss or damage from Hail, and detached farm buildings against loss or damage from Cyclones. This Company is made up exclusively of members of the Alliance and practical farmers. Its officers are as follows:

President—DAVID P. LISTER, Lac qui Parle, Minn
Vice President—HARVEY E. COOKE, Crookston, "
Secretary—ROBERT ECKFORD, Dexter, "
Treasurer—H. P. BJORGE, (Treas. of the State Alliance), Underwood, "

Its Board of Managers is as follows:

DAVID P. LISTER, Lac qui Parle, Minn.
HARVEY E. COOKE, Crookston, "
ROBERT ECKFORD, Dexter, "
H. P. BJORGE, Underwood, "
HAMLIN V. POORE, Bird Island, "
A. L. STROMBERG, Forest Lake, "
IGNATIUS DONNELLY, Hastings, "
JOHN LATHROP, Dawson, "
HENRY PLOWMAN, Luce, "
SETH BOTTOMLEY, Nashville Center, "
HANS B. IMSDAHL, Big Woods, "

Among these gentlemen, out of eleven managers, six are members of the Executive Committee of the State Farmers' Alliance; the President of the Association is Vice President of the State Farmers' Alliance, and the Secretary was the former Superintendent of Insurance of the State Alliance.

We promise the farmers honest treatment, an economical administration and prompt settlement of all losses. A full report of this Association will be made to the State Alliance at each annual meeting.

Those Farm Mortgages.

The Western Rural.

The farm mortgage question bobs up in one shape or another nearly all the time. At one time an editor with a great head on his shoulders solemnly states his belief that these mortgages principally represent purchase money, and that therefore—inferentially—they are not worth considering. Unfortunately a farm mortgage is a mortgage whether it represents purchase money, a new team or a rum bill. There may be room to find fault with the cause of a mortgage, but so far as the mortgage itself is concerned, there it is, firm as a rock, exacting as a Shylock and sleepless as the sun. If it represents a rum bill, the chances are that it never will be paid, under the most favorable conditions, unless the owner of the farm ceased his friendship for the bar room. But if it represents anything else, purchase money, teams, machinery or clothing, it ought to be paid. That is the mortgagor ought to be able to pay it sometime, if he is a reasonably judicious manager. But what we complain of is the condition that utterly prevents the vast majority of mortgagors from lifting the mortgages on their farm. Nobody can relieve his farm of a mortgage indebtedness if he has no bank account, and is scarcely making enough from his business to support his family. He certainly cannot do it if he is actually running behind every year.

Then will come another editor who will declare that the aggregate of farm mortgage indebtedness is small as compared to the value of farms in a given State. That is poor comfort to the man whose farm is mortgaged and who cannot get money enough to pay it. There may be twenty farms in a section of country that are worth in the aggregate say $100,000. Ten of them, worth $50,000, may be unencumbered. Five, worth $25,000, may each be mortgaged for $1,000. Five others, worth $25,000, may each be mortgaged for $4,000. Here is a mortgage indebtedness of only $25,000 among a lot of farms that are worth $100,000. But what signifies that to the men whose farms are mortgaged for nearly all they are worth. They have expended upon these farms one, two, or five years work, perhaps and if they have been judicious they ought to have an opportunity to clear their farms of the burden. Have they that opportunity? No, and never will have while railroads and monopolis and combines are permitted to rob the farmer right and left. If he does not grow a crop, of course he has nothing to sell. If he does grow a crop, he cannot get anything for it. In a visit to Michigan, the other day, a gentleman said to us that he could go into the country and buy hay for anything he had a mind to pay. There is plenty of hay and no market. the wheat crop will be excellent, and now we may look for low prices. If all this were legitimate we would make no complaint. If there is any good substantial reason why a farmer should be in his present unprosperous condition, we will recognize the fact. But we know and every intelligent man knows, that the lack of agricultural prosperity is largely traceable to conditions outside of himself and outside of legitimate causes. Nobody is finding fault with the fact that there are farm mortgages. But every thinking man is finding fault with the unjust condition of affairs that makes it impossible to pay these mortgages.

Just now an Eastern paper is rejoicing over the alleged fact that the enumerators of the census in Maine have found that there is no such number of farm mortgages as has been alleged. We should not suppose that Maine farms would be plastered with mortgages to any great thickness, for the money loaning Shylocks of the East can get a good deal better interest on Western farm mortgages, and they send their cash out here for investment. Whatever the mortgage indebtedness of Maine farms may be, we have plenty of it out here, and it is crushing the life out of some of the best men in the world.

Walter Lee Sundayed at the lake.

Hon. H. Steenerson went to St. Paul last week.

No injury from frost as yet, because why, no frost.

Al. Kaiser spent a few days in the city last week.

Frank Hertz, of Tacoma was in the city on Tuesday.

Sam. Rosenthal sent his family out to the lake on Tuesday.

Last week men were in great demand for the harvest field.

Alderman and Mrs. I. U. Jennings rode up to Euclid on Monday.

If you are looking for work come to Crookston. Lots of men wanted.

A lot of new threshing machines arrived this week for McKinnon Bros.

Mrs. John Hart, who has been very sick for a week or so, is convalescent.

Heavy rains on Monday night. Just what potatoes need to help them out.

Wheat took an upward whirl of four cents on Tuesday reaching 88 cents for 1 Hard.

The sewer is completed to Broadway and hurrying along on the home stretch.

On Monday Bjoin & Austin took up their sidewalk preparatory to putting up the new brick block.

Every sample of wheat we have seen this fall shows No. 1 Hard. The yield will not be large, however.

Work on the new N. P. depot is being pushed right lively. Henry Nolan is at the helm, which means business.

Ed. Walsh moved his house on Fletcher down to Ash street. It is the house that Geo. McDonald used to live in.

Comrades Fontaine and Larock will be the only representatives from Col. Cobham Post at the Boston re-union.

With good weather hundreds of acres of wheat will go into shock this week. Appearances indicate a good opening price.

Bert and Mrs. Bivins and Miss Cora went out to the lake last Saturday. Bert returned on Monday leaving the ladies for a few days enjoyment.

The game between Grand Forks and Crookston advertised for Wednesday failed to materialize owing to the fact that G. F. failed to show up.

Rev. Gerberding, of Fargo, will conduct services at the Scandinavian Lutheral church on Sabbath next at the usual hours, 11 a. m. and 8 p. m.

Ed. Walsh says the report of his new brick block is the largest kind of a fake. He has no intention of building this summer, what he may do next is a question.

The Misses Celia and Anna Cromb accompanied the Misses Hartshorn on their return to their home in Minneapolis from a pleasant visit with old friends in this city.

Moe & Buhn have the new steamer at Date's Landing for the use of pleasure parties. M. & B. are sparing no pains or expense to render their guests comfortable and happy.

Lots of hay on the market these days. Sells for about what you can get with no regular established price. Appearances indicate that hay will bring a good price before another season.

H. W. Bowman and wife, of Berlin, Ont., arrived on Saturday last on a visit to Mr. and Mrs. John Ziegler. They are out to Maple Lake this week. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Bownan will go to Rochester to visit friends there.

Grand Forks has always rather prided herself upon her high-toned entertainments. Last Saturday night her citizens paid 50 cents apiece to see a fight to a finish between a bull dog and a wild cat. After a ferocious combat the cat yielded the point and its life.

Reports of great damage to wheat by frost come from Manitoba. The crops there were not as far advanced as ours. It is said that a severe frost singed crops in the vicinity of the Turtle Mountains, N. D. A few more days will place our wheat beyond the danger of frosts.

Since his arrival from Battle Creek Hugh Thompson does not get away from Fisher, preferring to remain quietly at home until his health is fully established. This is wise, for, although he is doing nicely, he is obliged to exercise much care least a relapse should set in. A. D. Stephens and other Crookston friends go down frequently to see and cheer him up.

Last week, being hurried with his haying, Peter Cornelius consented to allow his little daughter to try her hand at raking hay. A steady team was given her and she got along nicely until one of the horses took fright at something and started to run. The girl was thrown off in front of the rake and rolled about promiscuously for a few minutes, but but fortunately received no serious injury beyond a large sized scare. The pole of the rake was broken and one of the horses got a bad cut in the foot from a rake tooth, which will lay it off for awhile.

The Herald says that C. DeBruyn Kops, who has been quite ill, is convalescent.

Miss Edith Copeland has gone to St. Paul to visit friends and relatives in the saintly city.

The Democratic committee met on Tuesday evening and issued a call for their convention on Sept. 3d.

The work of laying rails on the new road was nearly completed on Tuesday only a rod or two remaining.

From all accounts the potato crop will be a light one. The farmer who has a large crop to sell has a bonanza.

The Episcopal Sunday School picniced at the bridge six miles east of the city on Friday. A grand good time is reported.

Mrs. I. U. Jennings has rented a portion of Mr. Jorgenson's store on Robert Street and moved her millinery establishment therein.

Big weights and small prices—that's Holmboe's motto. [14-27]

R. A. Wilkinson was up from St. Paul on Tuesday. Speaking of politics Wilk says he don't care a continental darn which way the toad jumps.

Hon. H. Steenerson spent the day, Monday, at Detroit and Oak Lake, in Becker County, on his way home from St. Paul, arriving on Tuesday morning.

The second carload of that damaged twine from the burned warehouse in Minneapolis did not go off so rapidly as the first but it got there just the same.

C. Snyder reports 53 acres of wheat in shock on Saturday last. Says he has the boss crop this year. All the wheat in that neighborhood is reported to be extra.

The powers that be acted upon our suggestion last week in so far as cleaning up the hay market is concerned. Now, if they would order its removal they would do a better thing.

Tom Adams talks of going west soon with a view to locating. Tom is one of the best engineers on the old pioneer line and the boys would all hate to see him go.

If you want value for your money in the boot and shoe line call at Holmboe'. New goods arriving every week. [14-27s

Owing to ill health, I. E. Baker has resigned his position as head miller of the La Grange mills, Red Wing, and will go on the road as agent for mill machinery. He expects to visit Crookston this fall.

Rev. F. B. Noyes, went to Iowa last week to visit a former parish and Rev. S. H. Barteau supplied the pulpit at the Congregational church on Sabbath day. He is expected back by the coming sabbath.

Directly the festive wheat buyer will be on the market trying to make you think that No. 1 Hard wheat of yours is only No. 3 Northern. The best way will be to ship it yourself. Then, at least, you will get all "the system" will allow you.

The scarcity of corn will have a tendency to boom the price of wheat. Moreover it will help the cattle market of the future as the lack of corn is sending thousands of cattle to the block. It looks like the dawn of a prosperous era for farmers was at hand.

Best water white kerosene only 15 cents per gallon at A. Holmboe's, Robert street. [14-27]

Pete Bouchemin was down from Argyle last week visiting friends and relatives. Pete is making preparations to go to South Bend, Washington, where he has secured a situation in a real estate office at a good salary. Pete will leave hosts of friends in the "Ould Dart" who will all the time do be wishin him lots of luck.

Red Lake Falls News:—J. W. Howes denies in the Crookston Times that his steamer Monitor went down in Red Lake as we stated in a previous issue. No one would make the correction more cheerfully than the News and we are glad to know the rumor we heard was not authentic. We gave the details as they came to us.

C. J. Kops was over from Grand Forks last week rustling in the interest of Kops Bros. This firm sells more musical instruments in the Northwest than any other concern, because why they are a jolly lot and moreover they make it an object for all who want goods in their line to deal with them. Write them for particulars, at Grand Forks, N. D.

Farmers, don't sell your hogs to shippers when you can get double of the price by having them cured at the packing house. [f-tf]

Prof. Casey was notified on Monday to be on the look out for a 15 year old son of W. C. Nash of East Grand Forks. The lad had signed the declaration of independence and gone forth into the cold cold world in quest of fortune and of fame; so, of course W. C. inferred the boy had gone to Crookston. He was right about that and his letter to the Prof. resulted in the capture of the boy, who had began to weary with fortuneseeking. When the evening freight for the west arrived on Monday the boy mounted a box car and started for home astride a brake wheel. He had been figuring upon a trip to Montana but wisely deferred it until some more convenient season.

Tom Erwin declines to run upon the Prohib-Alliance ticket in a letter to the Fisher Bulletin in which he says:

FISHER, Aug. 5, 1890.

To the Editor:—I have been apprised of the action taken by the Prohibition-Alliance convention in naming me as a candidate for the legislature from this district, and have had the matter under consideration for some time. It seems that our Farmers' Alliance in this county has allowed itself to be controlled by the prohibition party and that element appears to have dictated the policy of the Alliance. Why or how the Farmers Alliance in this county has allowed a mere handful of prohibitionists to obtain control of their organization, I am at a loss to know. It would seem to me, that there are several questions of greater moment to us farmers, than the prohibition question, and which the farmers desire settled as speedily as possible, without intervening this prohibition question. If the prohibitory legislation contemplated is introduced in the next legislature, it will undoubtedly precipitate a very bitter fight, which will retard the progress of the more urgent legislation demanded by the farmers of this section of the state.

Being a farmer myself, I am of course deeply interested in every measure tending to better the agricultural interests of our county, and while I am ever ready to further such interests to the best of my ability, and am deeply sensible of the compliment implied by tendering me the nomination to that high office, yet, I am convinced that the action taken by the Alliance, will not tend to promote the aim desired by its membership generally, and am therefore compelled to decline the nomination to said office.

THOMAS ERWIN.

Kittson County Enterprise: Mr. Wm. Keiver has this week purchased of Ed. H. Love a full blood Holstein-Freisian heifer calf, which is as handsome a speciman of that breed as is often found. The mother is of the Aggie family and is one of the greatest two year old milkers we have seen: The sire Mooie 2nd is of a great milking family which makes a strong combine for both milk and butter. Mr. Keiver is to be congratulated on his purchase.

Heron Lake News:—In placing Hon. P. J. McGuire, of Crookston, on the state ticket the Republicans of Minnesota made no mistake. He is one of the brightest young men in the state, and his popularity will add strength to the ticket. The News is pleased to see the section and the nationality he represents recognized by the Republicans.

St. Paul Globe: Hon. Halvor Steenerson, of Crookston, is registered at the Merchants'. His large law business is occupying so much of his time at present that Mr. Steenerson declares that he has no time to think of, much less talk, politics. Owing to the fact that Mr. Steenerson's acquaintance and practice is confined principally to Northern Minnesota and North Dakota, few people in this section of the state know much about his education and ability. Last evening one of the best lawyers in St. Paul pointed down the lobby of the Merchants' to Mr. Steenerson and said: "There sits one of the ablest lawyers in this state. Few people down here are aware of his ability as a lawyer and know of him only as a politician. He is one of the hardest working men in the profession in the state, and is rapidly making both a name and a fortune."

We have purchased and refitted the Date Place on Maple Lake including all boats, 2 sail boats and 5 row boats, and are now ready to receive customers and respectfully invite a share of the Crookston patronage. Only 2 miles from Mentor station. J. O. BUHN, manager.

Moorhead News.

So far as Clay county and Moorhead are directly concerned the fact that Congressman Comstock's residence is therein has been a positive disadvantage to them. Every other locality at once howls if Moorhead requests for a political favor, that it has the congressman, and our mouths are at once stopped and our demands withdrawn. The News does not say this in a spirit of complaining, but for the purpose of contrasting the disloyalty of St. Louis county's delegates whose locality has been so much benefitted by Mr. Comstock's services, to the loyality of Clay's delegates whose locality has received nothing at his hand so far as the News has been able to discern.

Well, it will be a consolation to see how lonesome the St. Louis delegates will be in the Little Falls convention, when they flock all by themselves and the delegates of all the other twenty-seven counties will be set over against them on the other side of the hall—every one a Comstock man..

State Auditor Braden.

His Tenure of Office at the Capitol Depends Upon the Time he may be wanted by the Great Northern.

St. Paul Dispatch.

State Auditor Braden has returned from making a short visit in Fillmore county. He had his usual cordial greeting this morning for the reporters, and, in answer to an inquiry of the Dispatch representative in reference to his tendering his resignation at an early date, he replied: "At present I am not able to tell what I will do. I may serve out my term or I may hold my office only until my successor is selected. I should not think of resigning before that time. My successor could then be appointed and take office at once."

The auditor's resigning depends upon how soon his relationship with the Great Northern road will demand it. He said he was going with this road, but he was not prepared to state what position he would take.

CHICAGO, special to Minneapolis Journal, Aug. 11:—Melville E. Stone's return from Europe has given rise to an interesting bit of gossip. It is rumored in certain quarters that Mr. Stone is at the head of a syndicate which has in view the publication of penny morning newspapers in seven of the largest cities of the United States. Mr. Stone is an ardent admirer of Grover Cleveland. The story is that he and other gentlemen have agreed to subscribe $2,000,000 toward making the enterprise a success. Mr. Stone's head quarters, it is said, will be in New York, and he will have associates in each of the cities where the Cleveland penny papers are to be published. It is proposed to publish these papers in New York, Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia, Washington, St. Louis and Cincinnati. It is intended that each one of these cities shall have a morning publication that will be devoted entirely to advancing the political aims of Grover Cleveland.

Money to Loan

On More Reasonable and Better Terms than Ever Before Offered in the Northwest.

We are now prepared to loan money in any amount from $250 up to $10,000 on well improved farms where title has been perfected, and U. S. patent is on record or has been issued.

Our terms are 8 per cent. interest, with a small commission to cover expenses and cost of making the loan.

Where the security is satisfactory we can make loans for five or any greater number of years, interest payable annually on the first day of January, and will allow the borrower, after two years, to pay any part of the principal, in sums of $100 or upwards on any interest day named in his notes. So much for straight loans.

We are the agents for the Union Central Life Insurance Company, of Cincinati, Ohio, a company of great strength, and a public record for probity and fair dealing unsurpassed; and can write life insurance in connection with loans with great profit and advantage to the borrower, which, taken in connection with the loan for ten years, pays the loan by yearly payments, which is more fully shown by the following statement: A, aged 25 years, of sound health, applies for a loan of $1,000 on his farm, at the same time he applies for $1,000 insurance on the 10 years annual payment stock-endowment plan. He pays as follows:

Each year on his insurance	$88 44
Each year on his loan for interest	80 00
Total yearly payments	$ 168 44
Total for ten years	1684 40

which pays up for the insurance, and the insurance pays the loan in full.

If the borrower dies during the ten years his insurance becomes payable and due at once and pays his loan in full, leaving his farm clear and free of all encumbrances, for his family.

NOTE THE DIFFERENCE.

If the borrower effects a loan of $1,000 on the plan usually followed, he must pay interest at the rate of ten per cent. and may be stated as follows:

$1,000 for five years, annual interest	$ 100 00
At the end of the loan he pays interest in the sum of	500 00
When the loan is due he pays	1000 00
Principal and interest paid in 5 years	1500 00

As much within $184.40 as he pays in ten years with insurance with us.

If he makes such a loan for ten years he pays:

Interest	$1000 00
Principal at end of 10 years	1000 00
Total	$2000 00

or $315.60 more than he would pay with us; besides on the 10 per cent. plan he is not insured against death, and if he dies during the life of the loan the "Old Detestable Mortgage" still hangs over the heads of his defenceless wife and children.

A Grand Old Man.

Despite the slights and slurs and insults put upon him by those who should be his warmest friends, Ignatius Donnelly declares his intention to take the field in behalf of the Alliance ticket. Verily, his patience is sublime.

The Farmers' Friend.

The Pioneer Press just now is crying down the grade of wheat, trying to make out that there will be no No. 1 Hard wheat to speak of in the Red River Valley. The only effect this can have will be to depress the price of wheat. The facts are that while the yield will not be large, the grade will be of the very best, as a rule. We have examined hundreds of samples and have yet to see the first sample of off grade wheat that the Pioneer Press tells about.

Consistency.

Jim Baker, who was raised upon the milk of the government cow, is the Alliance candidate for Congress in the Second district. At the March meeting of the State Alliance it will be remembered that Jim climbed to the top of his eloquent voice in opposition to the sub-treasury bill, a plan that would do more good for the agricultural interests than any other yet suggested, and now the farmers in the Second district say that they want him to go to Washington where he can do more to kill the measure than he ever could at home. Jim is one of those kind of farmers (?) who are terribly afraid of doing something "impractical" in their efforts to secure relief—something so very "impractical" that railroad and elevator men cannot endorse. He seems to think that farmers must devise measures that will protect, not only their own interests, but also those of the rest of mankind. Now, he would be a daisy to go to Congress and rare and rage around like a bull in a China shop against the sub-treasury-bill, wouldn't he?

A Tribute From Abroad.

The Press, of Pueblo, Colorado, says:

Mr. Ignatius Donnelly played a magnanimous as well as an important part in the convention of the Farmer's Alliance in Minnesota a few days ago. On the first ballots he led as a candidate for the nomination for governor, and withdrew his name on the ground that some of the leading members of the organization were hostile to him, and he did not think if nominated he could poll as large a vote as some other candidate could. His ground was so well taken that his leading opponent felt constrained to also withdraw from the contest, with the result of giving the nomination to a new man and one whom is supposed has no personal enemies. Mr. Donnelly is a brilliant man and as scholarly as he is brilliant. He rises immensely above the ordinary mob of place seeking politicians, and acting on the impulses of their small natures the mob have combined to ridicule, defame and destroy him. They are unable to appreciate his scholarship his oratory and his genius, but feel he is different from them, and that his wide sweep of thought and splendid powers of rhetoric are a reflection upon them. His strength is his weakness in a political sense, and his eminence above his fellows the cause of his ill-success.

The Kittson County Enterprise speaks about the failure of the alliance in that county to get twine as an evidence that the alliance movement is a failure. One swallow does not make a spring, neighbor, and one failure does not prove that the alliance as a business movement is a failure. This is the first instance of the kind we have heard of and from what the Enterprise says we should judge that the agents were more to be blamed than any one else. We know that the alliance has been the means of cheapening twine in this county as well as to get the price of binders down $45 or $50 each, to say nothing of other machinery and other things. That they have made mistakes is only natural and we believe that those very mistakes will have a tendency rather to draw them closer together than otherwise. As to the experiment of forming an independent party the coming campaign will no doubt show the fallacy of that method and demonstrate the proper course to be pursued hereafter; but that the alliance will be wrecked we do not believe any more than we believe other business organizations will be wrecked. Why should it? Are not the same vital interests at stake as though no errors had been committed? Is it not the fact that mankind has generally had to learn by experience more than in any other way? The Enterprise states a very strong reason why the Farmers' Alliance should grow stronger instead of weaker, in an item in which it says: "On Monday a carload of machinery was received by Westerson & Johnson from Chicago. The freight from Chicago to Minnesota transfer was $39.87, and from there to Hallock it was $98.49." Watered stock is all that ails that freight bill and that is one of the things against which the farmer is kicking. At present it does not look as though that question would be settled and until it is the Farmers' Alliance will have a mission to fulfill. Never before have the farmers been so fully alive to their interests and they must not be discouraged if they do happen to make a few mistakes. It would be singular if they did not but in the end what they seek—a free and open market—will be accomplished and by themselves. There is no one else so vitally interested and they must do the work themselves and they will do it never fear.

John Boyle O'Reilly, the famous Irish poet and patriot, died suddenly at Nantasket, Mass., on Sunday morning. He was subject to insomnia and it is said that his death was due to an over-dose of chloral.

John Boyle O'Reilly was born at Castle Dowth, County Heath, Ireland, June 28, 1844. His father, William O'Reilly, was a distinguished mathematician and scholar. John received his education from his father. In 1863 he was a compositor on an English journal, but gave up his position to return to Ireland, where he enlisted in the Tenth Hussars, his intention being to spread republican principles among the men. The government discovered the insurrectionary movement on June 27, 1866. He was convicted on a charge of high treason and transported to West Australia to serve a term of twenty years. February 28, 1869, he escaped on a New Bedford whaler and was taken to Philadelphia. In 1870 he came to Boston, where he has been working on the Pilot ever since.

WHAT THE BOYS SAY.

CLASS LEGISLATION.

Alexandria Post: The Farmers' Alliance has been called, perhaps rightly, a class party. The Post takes a position different from other papers on this subject when it says that all parties are class parties after a time, if not from the beginning. What is a party that favors the tariff except a class party, the manufacturing class? What was a party that favored extension of the territory of slavery except a class party? Why should it be considered a sneer to say class party when the term is applied to the majority of the people asking for relief from a few who have legislative power and use it for class legislation?

NOT TRYING TO SAVE THE PARTY.

Montevideo Leader: There was a large degree of harmony observable in the Republican State Convention, and the ticket nominated is declared to be a strong one. However, it is evident that there will be a good deal of independent thinking and possibly a considerable amount of independent voting this year. The issues are not fully made up, as yet, and the voters are too busy just now "saving the crop" to devote a large amount of attention to saving the party.

BOODLEISM DOOMED.

Spring Valley Vidette: Quayism in Pennsylvania and boodleism in Minnesota appear to be doomed. Sidney M. Owen, the Alliance candidate for Governor of Minnesota, fought for the flag in the Union army, and the 25,000 G. A. R. boys in the state can elect Comrade Owen Governor if they will pull together. The time has arrived in our state history when manhood must assert its sway, or be lost, and lost forever.

A VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN.

Little Falls Herald: Although the Merriam organs all over the state say that the Farmers' Alliance will not cut any figure whatever in Minnesota politics this year, and that the party is about to break up, the Alliance Central Committee met in St. Paul this week and made extensive preparations for waging a vigorous campaign against the man who was "born in a bank."

FRIENDLY TO JOEL.

Midway News: The suggestion of Mr. Heatwole's name in connection with the United States Senatorship has brought out much comment from the state press, most of which is of an exceedingly friendly nature, but some who are opposed to Mr. Merriam in state politics strive to work that gentleman injury by seeking to array the friends of Mr. Davis against him.

MUD SLINGING WILL NOT WIN.

Pipestone Star: A campaign of abuse and mud slinging will not win this year. The people are now studying their own interests instead of the interests of one office-seeker over another. There may be some who will not awaken to a realization of this fact until it is too late.

A NEW NATIONAL PARTY.

Windom Citizen: That the Alliance may be the initial movement in the formation of a new national party, which may materially change the aspect of the old parties, as did the old anti-slavery movement, in the formation of the Republican party—is among the possibilities.

DEMAGOGUES TO THE REAR.

Verndale Journal: Any attempt at political dictation this year should be heartily discouraged by every citizen. The voters will do their own thinking, and political demagogues may take a back seat.

ENTHUSIASM LACKING.

Anoka Herald: The state ticket seems to be well received by the newspaper fraternity. The element of enthusiasm is lacking, however. It may develope before election.

The Condition of Crops.

The Average of the Cereals as Reported by the Agricultural Department.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—There was a reduction of the condition of all cereals as reported by the statistician of the department of agriculture. The decline from the first of July to the first of August is from 93.1 to 73.3 in corn; from 94.4 to 83.2 in spring wheat; from 81.6 to 70.1 in oats; from 88.8 to 82.8 in barley. The condition of potatoes is reduced from 91.7 to 77.4. A fall of twenty points indicates the disaster which has befallen the corn crop within thirty days. The cause is the abnormally high temperature of central maize districts, with an insufficiency of rain fall. Returns of drouth which cover a broad area, and severity of effects produced, are more general and depressing than the signal service record of temperature appears to indicate. One factor in the blighting of vegetation is evidently the hot winds that have scorched the lower basin of the Missouri valley and Ohio valley. The change from drought to daily saturation by repeated and heavy showers has been too sudden and extreme in those regions where the drought has been relieved by seasons of moisture.

Iowa and Nebraska are nearly in the status of the Ohio valley, while Minnesota makes the highest average of all the states. Wisconsin suffers slightly and Michigan still more from drought. There has been considerable reduction in the condition of spring wheat, amounting to fully eleven points. It is less in the Dakotas than in other spring wheat districts. The average of the condition is 80 in Wisconsin, 80 in Minnesota, 87 in Iowa, 71 in Nebraska, and 88 in the Dakotas. The latter is a decline of seven points, owing to hot southern winds, which affected late sown more than early. The oat crop is certain to be one of a very low yield, and probably poor quality. Another crop of great importance, potatoes, has also been much damaged by drought. A low rate of yield is certain.

The editor of the Waseca Radical, being accused of "flopping into the Farmers' Alliance" replies as follows:

As for "flopping," that depends upon what you understand by the word. If you mean saying and doing just what you think to be honest and right, then we have for some years "flopped," but if you mean supporting the Democratic party, or the Alliance party, blindly and eternally, right or wrong, as you and many editors do the Republican party, then there is no "flopping," and no preparing to flop. See! We propose to say in our paper just what we deem right and fair, even if it doesn't tally exactly with the latest Republican or any man's doctrine. On the great principles upon which the Republican party was founded, we think we are just as sound as we ever were, and we never expect to "flop" from them; but when it comes to prostituting that great party and principles to a slimy, low-down scramble for office, as is done in this state and this county, we hope to be allowed the liberty to "slosh around" like others of the boys, some of whom, so-called leaders in this county, have been known heretofore to support even Democratic candidates for governor, and oftentimes Democratic candidates for county office. See, John?"

Pioneer Press: The Farmers' Alliance people have started in with the preliminary work of organizing in Minneapolis. A few evenings since Mr. Owen, the gubernatorial candidate, met a number of gentlemen who are interested in the alliance cause. It is proposed to have a general committee of fifty to represent each ward in the city. A committee of five, consisting of J. B. Dukes, J. H. Paul, A. H. Nelson, Thos. Lucas and Dr. A. E. Clark was named. This committee will select the other forty-five members. The representatives on the committee from each ward will see that a club is organized in their bailiwick. M. Dukes said last evening: "We expect a good vote in Minneapolis. There will be a good many working people to vote the alliance ticket, but it is from business men that we expect our greatest vote in Minneapolis. These business men recognize that there is something radically wrong in the way things are run."

Farmers' Elevators.

Fargo Argus.

The Argus is not disposed to take advantage of the present opportunity to taunt the farmers of North Dakota with disregarding or failing to appreciate the admonition it has so often indulged in with regard to the building of elevators of their own, but had they followed The Argus' suggestion the present hardship would not now be staring them in the face.

It is important that the farmers should have a convenient and safe place in which to store their grain, both for protection and that they may obtain advances upon it when money with them is scarce and prices are low. If they have not these facilities they are losers and sufferers, not only for the time being, but it may be for many seasons to come, as it is not an easy matter to recover from financial distress in a single season. The farmer, along with the balance of mankind, has learned long ago that experience is a dear though most effective teacher, and their experience in years gone by, together with that of the present, which promises to be such that they could not forget it if they would, may arouse them to the importance of heeding and adopting a plan for their protection and well-being in the future. This remedy seems still to lie in the direction so often pointed out by The Argus, which is that the farmers of North Dakota should take the matter into their own hands and build elevators, and thus be free from the domineering, autocratic and arbitrary institutions which are claimed to now largely control their destinies by controlling the movement and prices of what they produce.

It seems to The Argus that this may be done by farmers owning and controlling their own elevators, and it would appear as if the attitude of the elevator companies at this critical juncture would go far toward arousing the farmers of the state to a sense of their need and inspire them to immediate action, and by another season be independent of any and all agencies which now are disposed to profit by the helpless dependence of those who are at their mercy. Farmers may erect their own elevators, and in them store their produce, get advances on the same and leave it in store until such time as they see fit to dispose of it, and not be forced to sell when the market is demoralized and prices are ruinously low, as frequently happens now.

Many wide-awake and progressive farmers have come to realize the advantage and importance of negotiating for the disposal of their own product, and the results have proven very encouraging. Instead of paying local elevator agents a premium for placing their grain on the market, they have turned that premium into their own pockets by a little energy and careful observation.

With the private elevator system, such operations might be carried on quite extensively, and thus the profit of tilling the soil would not all go into the hands of middle men, as is often the case under the corporation elevator system. If there is one thing that The Argus desires more than another, it is to see the farmers of this state prosperous and happy, and now, as in the past, believes it sees at least one avenue leading to this important consideration, namely, the elevator system that enables the farmer to own his own storehouse independent of railroads, middle men and "bashaw bazouks."

Is The Sub-treasury Bill Desirable.

The National Economist.

Having attempted to show in my former article the constitutionality of the proposed sub-treasury bill, I will in this give some reasons why I think such legislation is, at this time, desirable. The legal-tender quality of the national treasury notes was adopted as a war measure, and the necessity of the occasion seems to have great weight with the Supreme Court in upholding the legislation. To me the present depressed condition of the agricultural classes of the whole country is a danger no less alarming than war. The sub-treasury plan, I at first thought too cumbersome; but upon mature reflection, I am of the opinion that it is a scheme well adapted to the conditions of our country. No one supposes for an instant that the whole crop of the country would in any contingency be placed in warehouses. No; only that portion of it that was intended for market, and at no time would all of the crop intended for market be so placed. All the crops that are intended for sale have to be carried to market any way; and these warehouses would naturally be located in the market towns, or if not, a market would be created by the location, and this of itself (the accumulation of large quantities of produce in one place), would enhance the prices by drawing purchasers, and increasing competition between buyers. The deposit at agricultural products in warehouses, and the issue of certificates of deposit thereon, which would have the character of money, would give us an elastic currency such as no other suggested system would. Say, that in any given community, $1,000,000 worth of produce was deposited, there would be issued and thus put in circulation $800,000 worth of certificates of deposit or money in that community; then, if when the be $400,000 of this currency, or some other kind of currency returned to the Treasury of the United States, and the price was favorable, say $500,000 worth of this produce was sold, there would urrency of that community would be contracted just that much. Thus we see that by this system we would have an elastic currency capable of contracting or expanding to suit the actual exigencies of trade, and we would not be liable to those artificial contractions or expansions caused by the scheming of speculators, nor the unnatural surplus in time of business stagnation, and stringency in times of active business movements, such as the moving of the crops and such like occasions that we now have. If $1,000,000 worth of silver is sold to the Government, and $1,000,000 of money paid therefor, these $1,000,000 of money are in circulation for all time, and it follows that if it is not too much for the dull season it is not enough for the active season. Hence, these unnatural but necessary fluctuations in prices of produce; hence, the necessity it may be of the Secretary of the Treasury having to come to the relief of the dealers so often.

I am free to confess that under the provisions of the sub-treasury plan I do not see how there could be a sufficiency of currency in any given community in a year of bad crops. There would, it seems to me, have to be some additional legislation, by which to provide for short crops, such as the deposit of other personal property or real estate securities. The fact is, as money is only a representative of value, I see no real reason why every dollar of value should not have it representative. As it is the duty of the General Government to furnish a currency to the country, and as the present currency is based upon the debt of the Government, and as the debt is being rapidly extinguished, it follows that some other basis must be found upon which to rest the currency. I know that we instinctively turn to gold and silver as a basis for currency, or currency itself; but the business of the world and its population are rapidly increasing, while the supply of silver and gold is rather diminishing in its annual supply. It seems to me, therefore, that we will in a short while have to look elsewhere for our basis of currency. The farmers in council suggest the sub-treasury plan. Who will suggest a better? Gold nor silver neither have any intrinsic value, such as corn or cotton. You can not eat either, and neither will warm you. It is their use as representatives of value that makes them so useful. In the American Cyclopedia there is a very interesting article on money, from which we make the following extract:

Further, on the testimony of Thomas Baring, we are assured that it was found impossible during the crisis of 1847 in London to rais any money whatever on a sum of $60,000 of silver. During a similar crisis in Calcutta in 1864 it was equally impossible to raise even a single rupee on $20,000 of gold. The former was not a legal tender above forty shillings, while the latter was not for any sum whatever.

For fear of growing too long, and not being read, and, therefore, not passing current, I will close with the intention of returning again to the discussion of this subject if the occasion permits.

HAIL INSURANCE!

NOW IS THE TIME to insure your crops against loss by hail, in the Minnesota Alliance Storm Association. Members sustaining loss to their growing crops by hail shall be entitled to compensation as follows, which shall be net: When the loss is entire the price per acre shall in no case exceed the following established prices, the amount to be determined according to stand:

Wheat	$8.00	Rye	$6.56
Oats	6.50	Barley	6.00
Corn	7.00	Flax	7.00

In cases of partial loss the following prices per bushed will be used in adjusting; providing, however, the price shall in no case exceed the above established limit per acre:

Wheat	50 cents	Corn	23 cents
Oats	20 "	Flax	75 "
Barley	25 "	Rye	33 "

Losses shall be due and payable within sixty days after adjustment, but in case of excessive losses the Directors shall have discretionary power to defer a portion of the payment until November 15th. Insure with the

MINNESOTA ALLIANCE STORM ASSOCIATION.

State Normal Schools

—AT—

WINONA, MANKATO, ST. CLOUD AND MOORHEAD.

These schools are organized for the training of teachers for the common schools of the State.

ORGANIZATION.—Each school comprises two departments—the Normal Department and the Training department or Model School. The Normal Department embraces:

(a) An Elementary Course, for teachers of rural schools and elementary grades.

(b) An advanced course, for teachers of advanced grades.

(c) A Professional Course, for teachers who have completed the required academic work elsewhere.

(d) A Kindergarten Training Course, (at Winona.

ADMISSION.—Graduates of high schools and colleges, and teachers holding County Superintendents' first and second grade certificates are admitted without examination. All others are required to pass an entrance examination.

EXPENSES.—Tuition is free to all who pledge themselves to teach in Minnesota. Text books are furnished at a rental of three dollars a year. Provisions are made in each school for economical living. The average cost of furnished room with board is about $3.00 per week.

The next school year opens Sept. 1st, 1890.

For particulars concerning the several schools send for catalogues to the Presidents as follows:

IRWIN SHEPARD, Winona.
EDWARD SEARING, Mankato.
W. B. MITCHELL, Director, St. Cloud.

The Chairman was authorized to procure mill wood for the county jail and court house.

Board adjourned to July 21st.

Board met pursuant to adjournment. Members present, Kirsch and Johnson. No quorum being present an adjournment was taken to 2 o'clock p. m.

Afternoon session—present, Johnson, Kirsch and Rinehart.

The petition of citizens of McIntosh and vicinity for incorporation as a village, was presented, and, on motion, an election was ordered held at Solberg's Hall, McIntosh, on the 30th day of August, 1890. For judges of election the Board appointed O. E. Stourn, Charles T. Lanman and K. O. Norsving, of McIntosh.

Board adjourned till Tuesday, July 29th, at 10 o'clock a. m.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

The west half of Sec. 4, and all of Secs. 5, 6, 7, 8, 16, 17 and 18, Tp. 157, R. 40, were detached from school district No. 142, and organized into a new district to be know as district No. 197.

The e½ and nw¼ of Sec. 10, and all of Secs. 1, 2, 11, 12, 13, 14 and 15, Tp. 157, R. 40, were detached from district No. 142, and organized into a new school district, to be known as district No. 198.

Hearing having been set at this meeting on the petition of Joseph Laframboise and others in the matter of detaching certain tracts from district No. 45 to district No. 191, and no one appearing against the prayers of said petitioners, it was ordered that Sec. 25, and the s½ of Sec. 24, and se¼ Sec. 23, Tp. 150, R. 45, be detached from district No. 45, and the same attached to district No. 191.

The s½ of se¼ and se¼ of sw¼, and the nw¼ of Sec. 2, Tp. 152, R. 44, were detached from district No. 102 and attached to district No. 24.

Sections 16, 17, 20, 21, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32 and 33, Tp. 153, R. 49, were organized into a new school district, to be known as district No. 199.

Hearing was set for the next session of the Board in the matter of the following petitions:

From Otto Amundson, asking to be detached from district No. 102 and attached to district No. 24.

From resident freeholders in school district No. 181 asking to be detached from the east half of said district for the purpose of organizing a new school district.

From K. K. Knutson asking to detach his farm in Sec. 4, Tp. 150, R. 49, from district No. 4 to district No. 93.

All of Sections 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 17, 18, 19, 20, 29 and 30, in Tp. 153, R. 45, were attached to district 180 for taxable purposes.

The application of Peder Olson and Mrs. Olene Olson Hoff, of Grand Forks Tp., for abatement of taxes, were rejected.

The following resolution was offered and passed:

Resolved, That the sum of $300 be appropriated out of the road and bridge fund to assist the village of Thief River Falls and the town of North in building a bridge on the Kretzschmar mill dam in said village, said sum to be paid on the completion of the bridge, and the execution by Anna Kretzschmar and Carl Kretzschmar of a contract between them and said village and town, to allow the use of said bridge and approaches thereto to be used as a public highway forever from date of said contract.

The fractional township 150, R. 40, was organized under the name of Chester. The election of officers to be held on the 16th day of August, at the residence of James Phalen. Judges, Anton Olberg, O. J. Watson, James Phalen and H. C. Berg. John Hynes was selected for clerk of said election.

The application of Hack & Gallasch for a refunding of penalty paid on taxes was rejected.

The Board granted the application of Severt E. Jordal to refund him $3.90, the amount paid in duplicate on ne¼ of ne¼ Sec. 25, Tp. 149, R. 49, for the year 1888.

Application of J. Lederer for abatement of taxes on lots 1, 2, and 3, block 5, Hurlbut's Addition, was granted.

The petition of Nere A. Skeieon behalf of Mrs. C. Wecklund, of Edna Tp., was rejected for the reason that the Board has no authority to make the expenditure.

The tax application of E. M. Walsh was granted, as decreed by the court.

All road and bridge petitions presented before the Board, were laid over.

The following report from the auditing Board was accepted and placed on file:

Mortgage Sale.

[First publication August 14, 1890.]

WHEREAS, EDWIN P. CAPEN AND MATtie C. Capen, his wife, of Polk County, State of Minnesota, as mortgagors, did, on the 4th day of August, A. D. 1885, duly execute and deliver to The American Freehold Land Mortgage Company of London, (Limited) of London, England; their mortgage bearing date of June 20th. A. D. 1885, whereby they mortgaged to said mortgagee the following described lands situated in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, to-wit: All of fractional Section 3, Township 148, Range 47 west, containing 632 96-100 acres, to secure the payment of the sum of twenty-five hundred dollars, with interest thereon, according to the conditions of one certain promissory note, with interest coupons attached, bearing even date with said mortgage, and made by said mortgagors to said mortgagee, or order, which said mortgage was on the 10th day of August, A. D. 1885, at 1:20 o'clock p. m., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Polk, in book 26 of mortgages, on pages 480 to 483 inclusive; and

Whereas, default has been made in the payment of the sum of two hundred dollars, due as interest upon said mortgage on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1890, and on the further sum of ninety-four and 40-100 dollars due as interest thereon on the 20th day of June, A. D. 1890, and the said interest is still unpaid and due; and

Whereas, it was stipulated by and between the parties to said mortgage, that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants therein contained on the part of the mortgagors, to be kept and performed, that then and from thenceforth it shall be lawful for the said mortgagee, or its assigns, to consider and declare the whole sum secured thereby as immediately due and payable without notice to said mortgagors, or any other party; and

Whereas, The American Freehold Land Mortgage Company of London (Limited) has exercised its option to consider and declare, and does hereby consider and declare the whole sum of money secured by said mortgage to be due and payable; and

Whereas, there is now due, and claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of twenty-eight hundred thirty-two and 52-100 dollars, and no proceedings have been instituted at law or otherwise to recover the same or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained and therewith recorded; and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the land therein described, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the City of Crookston, in said County and State, on the 27th day of September, A. D. 1890, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay the sum due on said mortgage, together with taxes, if any, on said premises, and one hundred dollars attorney's fees therein stipulated to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as provided by law.

MORTGAGE SALE.

[First publication July 3d, 1890.]

WHEREAS ANDREW J. BOHLEEN, AND Eva Bohleen, his wife, as Morgagors, did on the 8th day of March, A. D. 1889, duly execute and deliver to the Minnesota Loan and Trust Company of Minneapolis, Minnesota, a corporation as Mortgagee, their mortgage bearing date the 8th day of March, A. D. 1889, whereby they mortgaged to said Mortgagee the following described land situated in the County of Polk, and State of Minnesota, to-wit:

The South-east Quarter of Section One (1), in Township One Hundred and Fifty-three (153) North, of Range 44 West, containing One Hundred and Sixty (160) acres, to secure the payment of Seventy-four and Seventy-five One-hundredths Dollars ($74.75) according to the conditions of one certain promissory note payable in nine (9) semi-annual installments, said note bearing even date with said mortgage, and made by said Mortgagors to said Mortgagee or order; which said mortgage was, on the 8th day of March, A. D. 1889, at five o'clock and ten minutes P. M., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said Polk County, in Book "41" of mortgages, on pages 495 to 498 inclusive.

And whereas, The Minnesota Loan and Trust Company did for value received, on the 10th day of April, A. D. 1889, duly assign the aforesaid note and mortgage and the debt secured thereby, to Halvor Steenerson and Geo. J. McManus, partners as Steenerson & McManus, of Crookston Minnesota, which said assignment was in writing under seal and duly acknowledged, and was thereafter on the 19th day of June, A. D. 1890, at three o'clock and thirty minutes P. M., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said Polk County, in Book "53" of Mortgages, on pages 366 and 367,

And whereas default has been made in the payment of the sum of Seven and Fifty One-hundredths ($7.50) Dollars, due as the second installment on said note on the 1st day of June, A. D. 1890, and said sum is still unpaid and due,

And whereas it was stipulated and agreed by between the parties to said Mortgage, that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants therein contained on the part of the Mortgagors to be kept and performed, then and from thenceforth it shall be lawful for said Mortgagee and its assigns to consider the whole sum thereby secured to be immediately due and payable witcout notice to said Mortgagors or any other party.

And whereas Halvor Steenerson and Geo. J. McManus, assignees of said Mortgagee, have exercised their option to consider and declare, and do hereby declare the whole sum of money secured by said mortgage and still unpaid, to be due and payable,

And whereas there is now due, and claimed to be due upon said Mortgage at the date of this notice, the sum of Sixty-three and seventy-nine One-hundredths ($63.79) Dollars, and no proceedings having been instituted by law or otherwise to recover the same or any part thereof,

Now therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale in said mortgage contained, and therewith recorded, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed by sale of the land therein described, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court-house in the City of Crookston, in said County, on the 16th day of August, A. D. 1890, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash; to pay the sum due on said mortgage, together with the taxes, if any, on said premises, and Twenty-five Dollars ($25) attorneys' fees therein stipulated to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as provided by law.

Dated, June 28th, A. D. 1890.

The Silver Bill.

National Economist.

The Baltimore Sun, of July 14th, says of the compromise silver bill, as it passed both branches of Congress, that "it is a saner measure than might have been expected of this Congress. It is foolish and unjust in that it causes the Government to make an unprofitable investment in the product of one class of mines. The Government might buy coffee or wheat or iron with as much propriety as silver." Why, then, don't the Sun say the bill is unconstitutional? It quotes with approval the speeches of men it styles statesmen, who say the Alliance sub-treasury bill is unconstitutional. But, says the Sun, the bill staves off the greater folly of free silver and a depreciated currency, and for this the country may be thankful. Alliance men will stick a pin here. The Sun says the Government may with equal propriety buy wheat as silver, and if wheat, also the other staples named in the sub-treasury bill. If, then, the sub-treasury bill is unconstitutional, so is the silver bill, as The Economist has always maintained. Colonel Jones, the Democratic candidate for Governor of Alabama, in what the Sun styles a manly answer to Alliance inquiries, opposes the sub-treasury bill. Yes, he does it like a man, as inexpedient, in his opinion; he does not stultify himself by saying it is unconstitutional. There are objections, and great objections, to the silver bill, and the greatest of them probably is that it "staves off" the undoing of that most villainous of financial crimes, the demontization of the money of the Constitution, as a part of a scheme of which this silver bill is also part and parcel, to-wit, to make the war debt, contracted on the basis of depreciated greenbacks, payable in appreciated gold. "Staves off" is the right phrase. When the people are heard from again on the question it will be found that there is something else behind this silver movement, than a silver bullion syndicate. It is, it will be found, a movement of the people to right a mighty wrong, Senator Sherman to the contrary notwithstanding, surreptitiously put upon them. Sane or insane, this is a movement of the people, and when a matter comes before the American people they know right from wrong. Neither "force bills" nor party whips nor thongs can drive the Alliance movement from its purpose; nor can its attention be drawn away from vital questions by shouting for all sorts of so called reforms.

American Farmers.

Prof. Walker says: "Vigorous in body, strong in character, striking in individuality, lovers of home, massive in common sense, fertile in resources, devout believers in Providence, the farmers of America will never allow themselves to be overwhelmed by the fate that sunk the tillers of the soil in India, in Egypt, in Europe. From all parts of this land farmers are coming together. Organization and co-operation are the wonderful ideas that have awakened them as never before. They are grasping hands with a grip that means something, comparing ways and means, uniting upon ends to be gained. They insist upon a fair share of the profits of American industry, claiming that no state can long exist in which the tillers of the soil bear most of the burdens and share little of the blessings of advancing civilization."

Grand Forks Herald: There was disquietude in the McLaughlin family last evening. Little Michael, seven years of age, had wandered away from home nor was any traces of him had until early this morning. His father, Phil, after a fruitless night's search, found the little fellow asleep on the steps of the Odd Fellow building.

New York Tribune: It is proposed to empower the President to impose again the revenue duties on sugar, coffee, rubber and hides imported from countries which do not within a limited time admit agricultural and manufactured products from this country on favorable terms, or which persist in export duties on articles admitted free by the United States. There is also a suggestion that importations of products from countries which arbitrarily discriminate against or exclude American products may by presidential action be suspended. It is easy to see that these propositions are not antagonistic to the protective policy, but would in fact broaden and strengthen it, and render it more effective. The revenue duties which are not needed for protection of any home industry can be taken off or put on according to the advantage which may be obtained for American industries and consumers in negotiations with foreign powers. As to such duties, large discretionary power, within limits defined by Congress, can safely be intrusted to the executive. It does not yet appear how far these suggestions have enlisted support of republican senators and representatives, who will have to consider their practicability and their adaptation to the state of public opinion. But an important step forward is taken when it is made clear that the duties which are or may be imposed for revenue only, and not for the protection of home industries, can be employed with great effect to secure advantages for American agriculture and manufactures in negotiation with foreign powers.

Winter Wheat Short.

The Farmers' Review Says It Is Below the Average in Six Important States.

CHICAGO, Ill., July 22.—The Farmers' Review this week will say: "Our prophecies of a shortage in the winter wheat crop are confirmed by the late reports of our correspondents relative to yield and condition of the grain. The reasons are not far to seek. Winter killing and the ravages of insects reduced the crops in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Missouri and Michigan. In Kansas drouth prevented the perfect development of the berry, while the wheat fields of the Pacific coast, as also those of the southern and eastern states, were drowned out by the excessive rainfall experienced during the early spring months. The condition of the crop at the date of harvesting in the six states covered by our report has been thus summarized: Illinois, 70 per cent; Missouri, 75; Kansas, 83; Michigan, 88. According to the latest report by the statistician of the department of agriculture the average condition in the nineteen other states wherein winter wheat is growing is 82 per cent. It may safely be estimated that the average condition of the entire crop when harvesting commences was 20 per cent below the average. According to all reports by the department and others, the area seeded to winter wheat in the fall of 1886 was larger than that of the year previous, but the damage to the crop this spring was so severe in many localities that hundreds of acres were plowed under in Illinois, Indiana, Missouri, Kansas, California, Alabama and Texas, reducing the total acres (according to the department's figures), to 91.2 per cent of the acreage harvested in 1889. Allowing for this reduction in acreage, we make the following estimate of the winter wheat crop in the six states covered by our report, based on a summary of the averages of yield reported by our correspondent:

	Acreage.	Crop.
Illinois	1,805,655	20,756,032
Indiana	2,493,604	26,182,942
Ohio	2,898,750	35,851,250
Missouri	1,524,079	19,818,027
Kansas	1,831,200	27,468,000
Michigan	1,451,153	21,773,445
Total		151,983,569

Assuming that the crops in the nineteen other states in which winter wheat is grown will be equal to that in 1889, allowing for the decrease in acreage the amount would be 120,460,840 bushels. This, added to our estimate of the crop in the six states named, would make a grand total of 278,344,436 bushels as the entire winter wheat crop of the United States. Considering the low condition of wheat at harvesting time the merchantable product will be considerably less than the above figures.

Northwestern Agriculturist: Farmers are still buying anything that looks like a sheep, and those who have to sell are making money. It is not, however, a good time to change from other stock to sheep, as other stock rules low and sheep are high. It is never wise to rush out of any business because it does not pay. At such a time, others are rushing out and prices are down. All branches of business have ups and downs, and when in the downs, it is always best to wait for the up which is sure to come.

Republican Apathy.

Minneapolis Journal.

The activity of the Democrats throughout the state in perfecting their organization for the campaign is extraordinary. They have never before in the history of the state shown such tact, determination and confidence. They are taking advantage of the break in the solidarity of the Republican party, which, whether it will handicap the latter at the polls or not, is a fact, today.

In the meantime the Republicans have been doing little else since the convention except to laud the excellence of their ticket and boast that it will "sweep the state." They seem to be so enamored of the mere ticket that they can't attend to the essential business of organizing and aggressively campaigning through the state. This over confidence in a ticket, which is palpably defective, will result badly for the party which has controlled the destinies of this great state for a generation past so well and faithfully. The leaders have chilled the enthusiasm of the Scandinavian element by neglecting to place satisfactory representative of that element on the ticket. And the manner of fixing the convention date excited the hostile criticism of many influential members of the party.

These things, however, as obstacles, could be overcome if the managers would show a strong inclination to roll up their sleeves and do some earnest work. This campaign is not going to be a pretty bannered dress parade. The Republicans can win only by the hardest fighting from one end of the state to the other. The Alliance isn't a mere bogey. It is a reality of flesh and blood and votes. The Republicans cannot afford to delude themselves with the notion that when the polls are open the Republican members of the Alliance will flock back to the party fold. These men are not going to be won back except by earnest effort.

What is the Republican party doing in the way of this missionary work? What are the pronounced party organs doing to promote the success of the Republican ticket?

Literally nothing.

Then there is the Scandinavian drift to prohibition. this movement is taking on a strength which cannot be despised or ignored. There are Scandinavian societies favoring prohibition organized in many counties of the state. Many of their members are Republicans. What is the Republican management doing to keep these people from aligning themselves with the Pinkhamites?

Nothing.

If the Republicans want to win and maintain their control of the state, which has grown to such superb proportions in every sense under their influence, they must get up and do some very lively hustling, and do it quick.

"Peterson" for September opens with a beautiful engraving "A Letter from Home," and the full page wood illustration "In the Sunset," is a poem as well as a picture. The illustrated paper "A Giant Grass and Its Uses" is very amusing, and gives much useful information in regard to bamboo, also various designs of the pretty and artistic furniture made from it. "Ransom's Aimless Journey" by James K. Reeve, is a wonderfully realistic episode and Alice Maud Ewell follows it with the first instalment of "Jackey and the Princess" which promises to be a capital novelet.

"Autumn Leaves" is a seasonable paper, giving clear directions for preserving their brightness unimpaired. "Their Mutual Mistakes," by Frank Lee Benedict, will afford all the more pleasure because of the happy ending. The other stories are full of interest. "Things Worth Knowing" contains an excellent article on "Choosing Meats." The household department is overflowing with good recipes and suggestions, and the fashion and needlework designs will delight the ladies. Terms, Two dollars a year. Address, Peterson's Magazine, Philadelphia.

Profits of Sheep.

Alert, Jamestown, N. D.

In December, 1887, B. J. Holcomb, of Foster County, N. T., bought in Wisconsin 250 sheep, which cost him, with freight, $625. From this flock he sheared in 1888, 1,700 pounds of wool; in 1889, 2,500 pounds; and in 1890 over 2,500 pounds. The wool clip for 1888 and 1889 brought him $700; that of this year is estimated to be worth $450; making a total of $1,150 realized from the wool clip. In addition he has sold 105 head and slaughtered for his own use 25 head. He has sold wool and sheep from the original flock, and increase, amounting to nearly $2,000 in less than three years. His original flock of 250 has now increased to 314 sheep and 110 lambs.

The Demand for Reform.

The National Economist.

The difficulties which surround the proposed tariff legislaton appear to be on the increase. Secretary Blaine has written a second letter on the subject of reciprocity, which has spread consternation in the camp of the ultra protectionists, and is being made the excuse for an attempt to read him out of the party. Without presenting a single argument against the correctness of his propositions, the foolish have begun preparations for his political demise. It seems almost impossible to convince the average politician that this is an era of progress; that politics is simply public policy, which must conform to the ever changing conditions of an advancing civilization. Mr. Blaine has taken one step in advance of the party, and as a result must stand the reproach, vituperation and insult of those less informed and more thoroughly imbued with narrow partisan ideas.

Mr. Blaine is aware of the hollow-heartedness of the demand for tariff reform as evidenced by the socalled Mills bill, and also mindful of the wickedness and absurdity of the McKinley tariff measure. Realizing this, he is making an effort to save for the American farmer a market for a portion of his products. Such action is deemed rank heresy and inimical to party success. Nearly every measure looking toward the relief of agriculture is considered by the present leaders of both old parties as unnecessary and bothersome. This doctrine of protection to home industry has been extended far beyond the limits laid down by Alexander Hamilton, and outside the objects for which he considered it adapted. To such an extent has this proven true, that at the present time it is one of the strong weapons of monopoly, an engine of oppression instead of a measure for relief. Because of this Senator Plumb considered it his duty to offer the following amendment to the bill.

If, upon the proceeding hereinafter provided for, it shall appear to the satisfaction of any circuit or district court of the United States that the manufacture, production or distribution of similar articles of domestic production or of the articles of domestic manufacture and production with which an imported article comes into competition is controlled by a single corporation, firm, or individual, or by any combination or agreement between corporations, firms, or individuals engaged in the manufacture, production, sale, or distribution of such domestic article, so as to produce either of the following results, namely: The establishment of arbitrary and prescribed prices for such articles of domestic manufacture or production, or the arbitrary and artificial restriction and limitation of the production or sale of such articles, or the suspension of competition in the sale, distribution, manufacture, or production of such domestic articles—then the importer of such competing articles shall be entitled to receive his goods at a rate of duty one-half that imposed by law.

Of course this amendment may be defeated, and Mr. Blaine driven from his party, but in either or both cases the people will have the benefit of whatever discussion may arise. One of the most certain events of the future is a radical change in the commercial and financial methods of this country, and those politicians who fail to recognize this fact will, no doubt, be relegated to obscurity. The people are no longer content with promises of returning prosperity though either high or low tariffs alone; they are rapidly coming to belive that other factors equally potential enter into the economic weal or woe of the nation.

National Economist:—The people of Charlestown, Mo., sadly need a Government warehouse, as attested by Dr. J. M. Rowe in a newspaper interview:

It is this: That the farmers of this county build warehouses for the storage of the wheat grown here for disposal to the local mill. The mill has a wareroom of 25,000 bushels capacity, and it will use up six times that amount of wheat during the year. Now it is full of home-grown wheat, probably, and the proprietors will buy no more until it is empty two months hence. In the meantime, most of the wheat will have been shipped out, and the mill will be forced to go elsewhere for its supply. By means of local warehouses half the crop grown at home—usually it will average about 300,000 bushels per year—could be kept at home and freight now paid two ways would be saved, a large portion of it at least in the pocket of the grower. This saving in freight alone would in one year amount to enough to build the necessary warehouses. I believe if the farmers understood the matter thoroughly and how economical the move must prove to be, besides furnishing them a sure market for their grain without the endless trouble and expense involved in exporting it, they would take hold of it and put it through. Give them a chance to investigate anyway.

State Normal Schools

—AT—

WINONA, MANKATO, ST. CLOUD AND MOORHEAD.

These schools are organized for the training of teachers for the common schools of the State.

ORGANIZATION.—Each school comprises two departments—the Normal Department and the Training department or Model School. The Normal Department embraces:

(a) An Elementary Course, for teachers of rural schools and elementary grades.

(b) An advanced course, for teachers of advanced grades.

(c) A Professional Course, for teachers who have completed the required academic work elsewhere.

(d) A Kindergarten Training Course, (at Winona.

ADMISSION.—Graduates of high schools and colleges, and teachers holding County Superintendents' first and second grade certificates are admitted without examination. All others are required to pass an entrance examination.

EXPENSES.—Tuition is free to all who pledge themselves to teach in Minnesota. Text books are furnished at a rental of three dollars a year. Provisions are made in each school for economical living. The average cost of furnished room with board is about $3.00 per week.

The next school year opens Sept. 1st, 1890.

For particulars concerning the several schools send for catalogues to the Presidents as follows:

The Duty of the Educated Farmer

BY PROF. C. S. WALKER.

Heretofore in all parts of the world the farmer has been no match for his adversary. He has never held his own against the soldier or the priest, against the politician or the statesman. In ancient times he was the slave; in the middle ages the serf. In the nineteenth century he is the slave, the serf, the peasant, or the proprietor, according to location. American farmers are face to face with a crisis. They have subdued a continent and furnished the raw material for our factories, bread for operatives and manhood for our civilization. From all parts of this land farmers are coming together. Organization and co-operation are the wonderful ideas that have awakened them as never before. They demand for themselves and their children an education equal to the best. They insist on a fair share of the profits of American industry. But they are in danger of making mistakes in the struggle that shall turn back the progress of the movement. They demand leaders. To supply this demand is the imperative duty of the educated farmer.

Northwestern Agriculturist: Very few farmers succeed well with barley in the Northwest, and this season's crop is no exception to the rule. It was thin on the ground and not even a fair crop. This failure is due partly to a want of knowledge of the requirements of the crop, and partly to the fact that our harvests are generally too showery to permit of the curing of the grain in shock without staining. Barley needs a strong, rich loam, but it does not do well on soil to which barn-yard manure has just been applied. After a crop of corn which was well manured, it does well, if the seed bed is well worked and the manure is well rotted. If the ground is rich in spots, the grain will grow uneven and the rankest will ripen latest and the grain will be uneven. It is important to sow it as early as possible, as it yields and ripens better, and is out of the way before the wheat and oats come on and demand attention, and the best seed is none too good. The Manshury succeeds best in the Northwest, and pure seed can now be had at moderate prices. Two bushels is the standard quantity of seed per acre. If cut too early the grain is "steeled" and the price is dropped. The time to cut is when most of the heads have turned down, and the sooner it can be cured and stacked or housed the better, if it is to be sold for malting purposes. If to be used as feed, staining does not impair its real value, though bright grain always brings a better market price. In this climate is is difficult to save barley free from stain without capping the shocks. In threshing the cylinder should be run at low speed as, if the straw is in condition, barley shells easily and too high a speed breaks the kernels and bruises the germ. It should not be threshed until, like wheat, it has gone through the sweating process. As it is important to have as great variety of crops as possible, barley ought to be the subject of patient experiment, until the secret of success is mastered, and another profitable cash crop added to the list.

AT LAST.

IT IS A BIRD.

Work Upon the New Hotel to Commence at Once.

MAKING THE PLANS.

THE JOURNAL is pleased to be able to announce on the authority of Mr. A. A. Miller that at last the new hotel project is fully assured and work upon the plans commenced. Mr. Glasgow and Mr. Miller went over to Grand Forks on Monday and looked the hotel Dakota all over for pointers. Mr. Miller informs us that the work of clearing the site will be commenced at once, and it is hoped that everything will be ready for the bricklayers inside of thirty days. Whether it will extend over the C. O. D. store depends upon how solid the walls of that store are. They will be examined by an expert to decide. The structure will be four stories high, with basement, containing all of the modern improvements, and will cost not less than $75,000.

Halvor Steenerson: "I notice just now the papers are busy hunting up a name for the proposed new city composed just now of St. Paul and Minneapolis and "Twincite," "St. Pad," "Padapolis," &c. &c., are suggested. Well, if they will allow a lawyer to shy his castor into the ring I would suggest "Paddington" as very appropriate under the circumstances."

That's good, Halvor, but why not cater to the universal practice of conciliating the Norwegian vote, and call it Paddingson? St. Paul and Minneapolis would rather be dead than out of the fashion.

Miner Rood was down from Maple Lake on Monday with some sweet corn for the Crookston market. Miner has a plan for establishing a first-class summer resort at the lake which cannot fail, just as soon as he can get it to work. He originated it himself, therefore it is entirely original. He first applied to A. D. Stephens for a loan of $5,000 with which to build a hotel, purchase the steamer "Saucy Kate," or somebody, but Andy, while perfectly willing to advance the cash, showed Miner how impracticable it would be, because loan companies are obliged to charge so much interest that the hotel man would not be able to save up much from one year's end to the other—advised him not to have much to do with such grinding monopolies, thus proving his title to the sobriquet, "The Farmers Friend," but to apply to the government for a subsidy for the steamship line. Mr. Rood decided to do so, and, in order to protect the government will have the money deposited in bank, not to be used all in a chunk, but gradually along as necessity dictates. Having unlimited confidence in cashier Sawyer he has decided to transact the business through the 1st National bank. The necessity for some kind of a watering place has long been painfully apparent at the lake, a long felt want that even Date's far famed catamaran failed to supply, upon occasion, and this new scheme will be hailed with delight, as it is perfectly feasible, all that is necessary is to show to Uncle Sam the necessity for the improvement of waterways and obtain an appropriation under the rivers and harbors bill. Thus reasons Miner, and we are told that he has secured the services of Henry Wight as solicitor, who, with a prominent attorney of Grand Forks, will at once commence to develop the scheme. Mr. Rood has certainly the grounds and the water for a first-class business, and when Uncle Sam furnishes the sand—(or the rocks, as you might say,) the combination will be complete for a truly romantic resort, not the least of which features is the method of starting it. How cheap Fred Date will feel when he realises how easily the thing is did, and Doc will be chagrined that he did not wait awhile before going way off to Seattle to make a living.

Best water white kerosene only 15 cents per gallon at A. Holmboe's, Robert street. [14-27]

Henry Steege was up from Duluth last week. He has sold his business in Duluth and is on his way west to interview Butte, Helena, Missoula and other points. Has not decided whether to locate out there or to come back here. Thinks it likely that he may return to Crookston to live.

E. D. Childs tells THE JOURNAL man that he expects to finish cutting his grain to-day and will start the thresher as soon as Monday next. He thinks his wheat will pan out far better than last year and the grade will be all No. 1 Hard. He thinks that grade will be universal throughout Polk County this year.

Hugh Thompson spent Friday in the city greeting his many friends who are rejoiced to see him looking so well. It is very interesting to hear him relate his experience in the sanitarium—some of the cures effected there seem wonderful. Mr. T., though very much improved is obliged to exercise great care and will have to do so for some time.

If you want value for your money in the boot and shoe line call at Holmboe's New goods arriving every week [14-27]

How the Deacon Got Sold.

The story goes that on Friday night as one of the good deacons of the Congregational church lay quietly dreaming away the early hours of night the wild alarum of the fire bell brought him up standing in the middle of his bedroom. In a trice he had his harness on and with a wild, ear-piercing whoop was off to the engine house. Upon arrival he found no stir, no excitement and everything hermetically sealed, so he waited patiently about for a half hour or so, then wended his way slowly back a very puzzled deacon, trying to figure out whether it was a car-bell or a dream. Deacon Arnold could tell you more about this affair, but he appears strangely reticent on the subject.

D. D. Williams will not be a factor in the coming election as he intends to go west and try to grow up with the country. Mr. W. has made a very efficient county attorney and could no doubt be re-elected should he desire it. The question now is who will inherit Williams' old shoes? Our friend Holston, of Red Lake Falls is the first applicant, he having sowed his crop of votes during the summer. If the frost—

Albert Helmeck had a severe experience in the hail storm last Friday. He was cutting grain, with five horses on the machine. When the storm came on he got down to unhitch, and while engaged in unhitching, a few hail stones caused the horses to plunge about rendering his position in front of the machine dangerous. In attempting to get out of the tangle he was hit by the reel, knocked down and struck in the right thigh by one of the guards, making a bad flesh wound. Dr. Bahnsen was called, who dressed the wound and Albert is now able to be about once more, though he is hardly as lively as a cricket. Everything considered, it was a wonderful escape and he feels thankful to get off so easy.

Geo. M. Swift drove in from Mentor on Sunday and got right back again as soon as possible on Monday. He has nearly completed cutting a splendid lot of grain. He is red-headed about those scribes who mis-represented his speech before the convention in St. Paul last June, and says that as soon as his affairs on the farm are in shape to leave he will take the field in behalf of the alliance ticket and proceed to make it rocky for schemers. Says this habit that trundle-bed trash has of making fun of old soldiers is becoming altogether too chestnutty to be entirely agreeable. He thinks that his services in the army fully entitle him to the right of free speech, and whenever or wherever he sees any attempt to belittle old soldiers, he proposes to sit down upon it, and sit down hard. From all we can learn from those who were present, we believe that the papers bore down on him harder than the facts warranted.

The new Ste. Croix & Walker Co. elevator on Jerome's addition is completed all ready to handle wheat. It is 26x40, 70 feet high, containing 29 bins capable of holding 28,000 bushels of wheat, and 30,000 can be put in if necessary. It is complete in every essential particular, and the plan upon which it will be operated seems to us to be a good one. The company do not intend to buy any wheat outright, but will rent bins to farmers who wish to ship their own wheat, or to track-buyers. The company will sell for any who desire them to do so, and the cost, including sale, will be two cents per bushel. This entitles the party to use of bin four days. If the shipper desires to ship to any other party the cost is 1½ cents per bushel for use of bin. Each bin is under lock and key and in the sole control of the party renting it, who takes care of the key while his wheat is in the bin. From what we have seen of this plan it strikes us favorably, as it seems to allow the farmer to place his wheat directly upon the market, either in Duluth or Minneapolis as he prefers. Any person using a bin can obtain money upon his wheat when stored. Mr. Ste. Croix informs us that his company will wire Duluth prices four times each day, which prices will be bulletined, thus enabling the farmer at any time to see just what his wheat is worth in Duluth. Many farmers have decided to try this elevator.

For Sale Cheap.
